Westfield, Jan. 13.—Six private detectives in the employ of the United States Express Company were here last night with the expectation of rounding up a gang of crooks that have been doing a lively business between the company's offices in Jersey City and a house in Westfield during the past two months. The house, situated in the Germantown district, has been "shadowed" for some time past by the Westfield police and when the detectives arrived at that place last night they were accompanied by Patrolman McNeiley, of the Westfield force.

Entering the place the force of law protectors found Thomas Sharkey busily engaged in sorting a bag of loot which had been recently transferred from Jersey City and took him in charge. Although considerably surprised by the sudden appearance of the detectives, Sharkey offered no resistance and talked freely with the men as they ransacked his apartment for circumstantial evidence.

Shortly after midnight the prisoner was taken to Plainfield in charge of Detective John Nolan, and was afterwards take nto Jersey City on board the train that leaves the North Avenue station in Plainfield at 2:10 o'clock. Sharkey refused to give out any information concerning his accomplices but it is thought that several other Westfielders were connected in the depredations.

ELEVEN ABOVE ZERO IN EARLY AFTERNOON

With the thermometer playing tag with the zero mark and a wind that at one time attained a velocity of seventy-four miles an hour sweeping across the city few ventured from the fireside last night and those who were not lucky enough to posses firesides huddled up in some protected corner to ward off as much of the cold as possible. The icy blast was the fiercest visiting this section in two years and was felt still more keenly because of the suddenness with which it swept down upon the populace.

Shortly after the sun went down the wind abated and a still biting cold set in and the mercury sank rapidly to within a few degrees of the zero mark. Few pedestrians ventured out upon the streets and the theatres in the business section of the town had the poorest Monday night's attendance in two years. Wrapped in fur coats and mufflers a few braved the storm and visited the places of recreation but those who walked to their homes afterwards indulged in a snappy run for the warm interior once more.

Local ice dealers welcomed the first real cold spell of the season and ice cutting apparatus was gotten in readiness in preparation for the harvest. Many unemployed visited the offices of the several ice houses today and registered as applicants for the two or three days' work at ice cutting.

In the poorer sections of this city and the borough the suffering was felt, although no cases had been brought to the attention of the hospital authorities up to noon today. The Charity Organization and other municipal societies were kept busy answering distress signals.

Late this morning the thermometer arose to thirteen degrees but at 1 o'clock this afternoon it had fallen back to eleven degrees with promise of still colder weather this afternoon and tonight. Ice, several inches in thickness, covers all of the water in this section, but few skaters take advantage of the excellent surface for skating because of the biting cold and cutting gale.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature report from The State Trust Company today is as follows: 9 a. m., 8 degrees; 11 a. m., 13 degrees; 1 p. m., 11 degrees.

PLEDGES OF PARTIES

Committees Named in Both Branches of Law-making Body—Beekman Addresses Assembly — Appointments Are Made.

Trenton, Jan. 13.—Having as its accompaniment a declaration from Acting Governor Leon R. Taylor that the people of New Jersey demand that progressive lawmaking be continued, the 138th State Legislature organized today and formally took up its work.

There were no hitches in the organization, and the Democratic majority in each house put through its slate without a crack. Senator John W. Slocum, Democrat, of Monmouth, was elected president of the Senate, and the Assembly elected Democratic Assemblyman Azariah M. Beekman, of Somerset, as speaker, the other officers were chosen, the Acting Governor's message was received and read, and the new session was ready for its lawmaking career.

The message of Acting Governor Taylor was probably the shortest on record in this State. This was due to the fact, he said, that he was only Acting Governor, and did not think it proper to outline policies or legislation. It appears in full in another column.

Governor-elect Fielder will be inaugurated in Taylor Opera House next Tuesday at noon.

Democratic Pledges.

A system of preferential voting at the primaries in order to secure majority candidates; thorough examination and rearrangement of State departments and institutions for greater economy and efficiency; proper application of State funds to prevent a State tax; municipalities to have freedom from legislative control; tax reform; extension of the agricultural interests and agricultural education; extension of good roads; conservation of natural resources of the State; a uniform system of accounting for municipalities and counties; enactment of fewer laws; prompt publication of all laws, instead of the present delay; submission of the question of women suffrage to the voters; conservation of the constitutional rights of labor and prevention of the issuing of injunctions in labor disputes when no property rights are involved, and when there is a proper remedy at law.

Republican Pledges.

A system of preferential voting and simplification of existing election laws; revision of the State constitution by constitutional amendments; reorganization and remodeling of State departments in the interest of greater economy and efficiency; strict economy in State finances and reform in the method of passing the annual appropriation bills; home rule in municipalities; tax reform; extension of industrial and agricultural training, as well as of general education; an improved law for railroad grade crossing removal; the short ballot; election of Assemblymen by districts within the counties; submission of a constitutional amendment for women suffrage to the voters; prevention of an insurance monopoly; upholding and extension of the principle of civil service; a uniform system of accounts for municipalities and counties; prompt printing and distribution of the laws.

The Republican platform has a plank which is an answer to the Democratic "seven sisters" anti-trust laws passed last winter. It provides for the solution of the corporation problem that "will result in the punishment of the guilty without punishing the innocent," and which will not drive business out of the State.

The organization of the two Houses was an impressive and picturesque event. The Senate and Assembly chambers were in gala attire for the event. Back of the respective presiding officer's chairs large American flags were draped, flanked by banks of palms and other potted plants. Palms and ferns also graced the front of the presiding officers' desks. Many of the members' desks in each chamber bore large floral pieces or bouquets, the gifts of admiring constituents. Hundreds of politicians and citizens from all sections of the State thronged the galleries and lobbies to witness the beginning of the session.

William L. Dill, of Passaic, the Democratic Secretary of the last Senate, called the Senate to order, after

As there is a science of stars called astronomy; a science of quantities called mathematics; a science of qualities called chemistry; so there is a science of business—as yet unnamed—which will illumine and clarify the value of Honesty and Fair-dealing.

Altho Benjamin Franklin said that "to see things by faith is to close the eye of reason," we are buying things on faith today more than we ever did before.

Our pre-eminence in selling "Most Things Men Wear" is not the result of our patrons' understanding of the merchandise, but of their faith in the Rothberg Store.

They know what we stand for—what we have stood for—and they know that we would rather retire from business than violate one little whit of that confidence.

STATE TO FIGHT THAW'S FREEDOM

CARMODY IS DETERMINED.

New York Fugitive, However, Is Confident—Bail Will Give Him Liberty, His Lawyers Declare—Will Remain In New Hampshire.

New York, Jan. 13.—Unless Harry K Thaw takes advantage of liberty under bail and flees to some country where he cannot be extradited he will find that the report of Judge Aldrich's commission that he is not a menace to the community or a dangerous person has not ended his troubles. William Travers Jerome, who as a special deputy attorney general is seeking the extradition of Thaw, asserts that the question of Thaw's sanity or his right to bail does not change the real aspect of the case, and if it is necessary the case will be taken to the United States supreme court.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 13.—Counsel for Harry Thaw say they have consulted with authorities on the federal laws and that the judgment of the federal court commission that Thaw is sane will insure him immunity from arrest by state authorities anywhere after he is admitted to bail by Judge Aldrich. In other words, a bail bond accepted by the federal court in this district will act as a safe passport for him anywhere in the United States, even in New York state, according to the understanding of his lawyers.

However, Thaw says that he will remain in New Hampshire pending the final determination of his appeal to the federal courts from the extradition warrant granted by Governor Felker of New Hampshire. His counsel have heard that the New York authorities will seek to cause his arrest in any federal district outside of this state. He has also been advised that it might be dangerous for him to go to New York, where he would probably be arrested on some technicality and be compelled to resort to habeas corpus proceedings to procure his freedom.

Thaw appears to be deeply satisfied over the decision of the commission that he is mentally fit this having been his contention for several years past.

Carmody Determined.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 13.—United States Circuit Court Judge Edgar Aldrich exceeded his authority in entertaining the present proceedings pending in New Hampshire for the release of Harry K. Thaw on bail, in the opinion of the New York state legal authorities. Attorney General Carmody declared that if Judge Aldrich permits Thaw's release he proposes to take an immediate appeal to the United States district court, and if necessary to the United States supreme court.

At the same time Mr. Carmody intends to institute proceedings which will stay any order that Judge Aldrich might issue under which Thaw might be given his freedom under bond.

Other steps will be taken by Attorney General Carmody to prevent Thaw from leaving this country. It is proposed to keep Thaw under close surveillance and if he attempts to leave Judge Aldrich's jurisdiction he will be placed under arrest by New York state authorities.

Future plans of the authorities of New York to bring Thaw back will be the subject of a conference between Attorney General Carmody and former District Attorney William T. Jerome later in the week.

Mr. Carmody regards as illegal the present proceedings before Judge Aldrich. It was pointed out at the attorney general's office that Judge Aldrich was conducting these proceedings in violation of two important provisions of the federal constitution. One of these, section 2 of article 4, provides that "A person charged in any state with treason, felony or other crime, who shall flee from justice and be found in another state, shall, on the demand of the executive authority of the state from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the state having jurisdiction of the crime."

UP TO THE PEOPLE.

If the people want to have Plainfield's policy limiting the number of liquor licenses continued it is up to them to sound a protest against any increase in numbers. They cannot afford to take anything for granted. The members of the Common Council are from "Missouri," as it were, and they should be "shown." That they will be governed accordingly goes without saying.

One year ago, under the auspices of the Federation of Church Men's Clubs and the Federation of Men's Bible Classes, a most remarkable meeting was held at the Plainfield High School auditorium. It was called for the purpose of entering a strong remonstrance against adding to the number of retail and wholesale liquor licenses. In fact, its purpose was to request the Common Council to "let well enough alone." On that occasion the Mayor and the Common Council were present. There were many other representative citizens at the gathering. Opportunity was given for all to be heard and the almost unanimous verdict was not to make any change in the then present situation. The will of the people as expressed there was obeyed.

Another year has rolled around and the scene has somewhat changed. The Common Council has agreed that there shall be no more retail licenses. No action has been taken as to the wholesale applications. There are five original petitions on file.

Members of the city's governing body as a rule, we believe, wish to abide by the will of the people. Generally, knowing Plainfield as they do and actuated only by what they consider its best interests, none desires to make any change as to the number of wholesale licenses. It is therefore incumbent upon all citizens to express opinion on this quite vital problem. An opportunity will be given on Friday night, January 23, at a mass meeting under the auspices of these two federations. If there be anyone who can show just cause why more wholesale licenses should be allowed, it is his citizenship duty to voice his opinion. There will be absolute freedom of speech and the views of all will be given due consideration.

Two days ago, three much esteemed members of the Common Council, Leighton Calkins, Richard A. Claybrook and Thomas F. Highlan, happened to be present at a meeting of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church Men's Club when this matter was discussed. The position of Mr. Calkins was well known for he threw his vote and influence against any increase in liquor licenses last year. His informal remarks on this recent occasion were of the tenor expected. Summed up in a nutshell, he said he assumed that Plainfield is well satisfied with present conditions and that he would not be prompted to aid in a movement for any change unless popular sentiment clearly showed that a departure from time-honored custom is demanded. Neither Mr. Claybrook nor Mr. Highlan was heard, but we feel safe in making the statement that their views coincide with those of Mr. Calkins.

As we said one day last week, the great danger of granting any one or more of the five original wholesale applications filed lies in the fact that the innovation would be an opening wedge. It might, and would likely, culminate in changing the established policy here. Plainfield, it must be granted, is well satisfied with the present policy of high license, strict regulation and limited number of permitted places.

Unless reason otherwise can be shown at the mass meeting announced for January 23, it is positive that no adidtional wholesale licenses will be granted this year. So far as can be learned there is no sentiment for any increase. The Mayor and the Common Council, it is presumed, will be present at this meeting and we are confident that they will be guided by the public expression there to be gathered.

Councilman Leighton Calkins has spoken in no uncertain terms as to his position regaring increasing the number of wholesale liquor licenses. We feel sanguine that Councilmen Claybrook, Highlan and Graves, of the license committee, also are working for the best interests of the city, and do not desire to have any change made. But it is all up to the people. Turn out on January 23.

When such specialists of world-wide eminence as Dr. Flint declare that Harry K. Thaw is an insane criminal and that he would not hesitate to slay if at large, upon those who give him his freedom more than upon himself will rest the moral responsibility if he takes another human life.

As a progressive newspaper, we always keep up with the drum major of improvement. Watch for our next "live wire" innovation.

There will be a rattling good contributed editorial in Saturday's issue.

T. C. VAIL RE-ELECTED CIVIC ASS'N PRES'T

The election of officers, the presentation of encouraging reports, together with a discussion of plans for the coming year comprised the principal business at the annual meeting of the West End Civic Association held at the Washington School, last night. There was a large attendance of members and considerable enthusiasm shown in the work of the organization.

The annual reports of the various officers and heads of committees showed that much had been accomplished during the past year and all came in for a large share of commendation on the part of the association. An amendment to the constitution was voted, changing the meeting night from the second Monday in the month to the second Friday to accommodate a number of members who cannot attend on the second Monday. The quorum was reduced from twelve to five. The association now has a membership of one hundred and a substantial balance was reported in the treasury.

These officers were elected for the coming year: President, Thomas C. Vail; vice president, W. W. Robison to succeed Thomas McMaster Muir; secretary and treasurer, William J. Boyd. Barton K. Davis was reappointed chairman of the press committee. Mr. Vail will announce his committees at the next meeting of the association.

In the discussion of plans for the coming year mention was made of a probable banquet and other forms of entertainment to increase the interest of the association. Plans were also considered for securing needed improvements in the West End of the city.

DUFFY DROPS DEAD IN LOCAL RESTAURANT

Borough Man Suddenly Succumbs to Heart Disease While Awaiting Meal.

While sitting in an East Second street restaurant at 7:30 o'clock this morning, waiting to be served with his breakfast, Michael Duffy, of Chatham street, suddenly fell forward. Believing he had fainted the proprietor of the establishment, Joseph Myers, assisted by Harry Winters and William Clark, two diners, bathed his face with water and Dr. Edward Rushmore, of Park avenue, was summoned. The latter at a glance said the man was dead, a victim of heart failure.

While efforts were being made to bring the man back to life, Dr. Albert Pittis and City Physician Norman H. Currie hastened to the restaurant and the police were also notified. County Physician Westcott granted a burial permit.

For many years, Mr. Duffy had lived in Chatham street with his two sons, Martin and Thomas Duffy. His wife died a number of years ago. When he left his home this morning he remarked that the cold weather was healthy and that it made him feel good. He was apparently in good health.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

which she had in New York. She visited a delicatessen store to make a purchase and noticed that the proprietor kept his can goods under a covered case, while the cooked meats, etc., were kept in the open. Asked for an explanation, the man replied, that if he kept his canned goods outside he would be compelled to dust them off, indicating that such was not the case with his foodstuffs.

The ultimate object of the league, Miss Dozier said was the co-operative store, a central place in which to shop. She said that in the past there were merchants who gloried in the fact that they were able to fool women as to weight, etc., but today the wide-awake merchant resorts to no such practice and on the contrary is showing his willingness to do everything possible to co-operate with housekeepers to solve the problem of high cost of living.

The plan to form a local branch of the league was received with so much enthusiasm that thirty of those present signified their willingness to join the national organization, thereby making themselves eligible for membership in the Plainfield branch when it is organized here on January 22.

SKLAREW IN TROUBLE.

Accused by Dr. F. W. French with failure to have lights on his wagon Saturday night, when the physician's auto and the vehicle collided at Duer street and Craig place, Jacob Sklarew, of Duer street, will be arraigned tomorrow morning before Recorder Fred Hand in the borough court. In the horse driven vehicle at the time of the accident were Mr. Sklarew's son and two other children. The horse ran away but the occupants escaped injury. The windshield on Dr. French's machine was broken and the doctor narrowly missed being hurt by the fusilade of glass occasioned by the crash.

NONAGENARIAN DIES OF SHOCK FOLLOWING FALL

Elizabeth, Jan. 13.—Mrs. Julia Augusta Drake, aged ninety-two years, is dead here as the result of shock from injuries, which she sustained when she fell down stairs at her home, 28 Morris avenue. Up to that time she had been unusually active for her years and retained all her faculties. Mrs. Drake was born in Woodbridge and resided there fifty years. She was the widow of Matthias Freeman Drake, and comes of an old New Jersey family. Her grandfather, Morris Reed, was killed in the Revolutionary War, her father of the same name, fought in the War of 1812 and a brother fought throughout the Civil War. Her son is the only survivor. The funeral will be held from Christ church today, with interment in the Presbyterian cemetery, Woodbridge.

CHARITY NEARLY READY.

Princeton, Jan. 13.—Work on the "Dorothea House," erected by Guy Richards McLane in memory of his wife, who was a daughter of Henry van Dyke, poet and preacher, which will be devoted to the interests of the Italian people of Princeton, is rapidly nearing completion. Miss Elinor Kennedy Purves, who has been working among the Italian population in Princeton, has been engaged as superintendent of the work, and in the management of it she will have the assistance of a board of managers appointed by the board of trustees. The work has been incorporated under the title of the Dorothea van Dyke McLane Association, the trustees of which have decided that no religious services shall be held in the building without their express permission.

MITCHEL OPENS AQUEDUCT

Fires Shot That Completed World's Largest Tunnel.

Standing in a dripping man made cavern more than 400 feet below the streets of the city, Mayor Mitchel of New York fired the blast which made continuous the longest tunnel in the world. A few minutes later the mayor was the first man to scramble through the jagged hole which connected sections 8 and 9 of the great Ashokan aqueduct, which is to bring daily 250,000,000 gallons of pure water from the Catskills to New York city.

"CLUB THE GUNMEN," IS MITCHEL'S ORDER

New York, Jan. 13.—Mayor Mitchel said very frankly that he wants the police to understand that they are free to use their clubs as much as they can on gangsters of the sort who killed Clerk of the City Court Straus in a gun fight in St. Mark's place on Friday night.

The mayor eyed narrowly news reports telling of another "innocent bystander" a woman this time, shot down as gunmen fired in a crowded street.

The mayor expressed high appreciation of the manner in which Police Commissioner McKay and his assistants have succeeded in running to earth the young toughs who participated in the battle.

Mr. Mitchel said that stories in the morning papers to the effect that he had picked a police commissioner to supersede Mr. McKay were without foundation.

"What do you think of the way the police have handled the gang fight of Friday night?" Mr. Mitchel was asked when he arrived at his office at city hall.

"It seems to me that the police have been doing very well," was his reply. "They are going along vigorously. That's what I told Commissioner McKay I wanted them to do—to go after the gangsters vigorously and unremittingly and keep right after them."

"Does your statement of Saturday mean that you are going to countenance the use of clubs by the police?"

"Yes; I hope they'll use their clubs on every gunman they can lay their hands on. I don't mean by any manner of means that I will relax the very excellent rule established by Mayor Gaynor against the clubbing of decent citizens. I should have no hesitation about sanctioning the use of clubs on men who start gun riots on the streets."

"MOTHER" JONES A PRISONER

Trinidad, Colo., Jan. 13.—"Mother" Martha Jones, strike leader, who was deported from the Southern Colorado coal fields Jan. 4 by the militia, returned to Trinidad from Denver. As soon as her presence was learned by the military authorities she was arrested and taken to the San Rafael hospital, where she was held incommunicado.

"Mother" Jones left the train at the outskirts of Trinidad and later appeared at a local hotel. She was arrested by a detail of state troops, hurried out of the hotel, placed in an automobile and whirled through the streets with a cavalry escort galloping at full speed in front and behind the machine.

MAY PROBE BRYAN "PLOT."

Representative Madden Would Look Into Alleged Conspiracy.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The charge made by friends of William J. Bryan that the "interests" have combined for the purpose of eliminating the secretary of state from the councils of the Wilson administration may be made the subject of an investigation by congress.

Representative Madden of Illinois, a Republican, expressed the opinion that the charges should be probed. No action was taken, however.

LEGISLATURE CONVENES

which prayer was offered. A certificate was next read from Secretary of State David Crater, designating the eight Senators-elect. These were Charles O'Connor Hennessy, of Bergen; John A. Ackley, of Cumberland; Charles M. Egan, of Hudson, and Isaac S. Smick, of Salem, Democrats, and Walter B. Edge, of Atlantic; Barton B. Hutchinson, of Mercer; Charles A. Rathbun, of Morris, and Thomas A. Mathias, of Ocean, Republicans. The new Senate is composed of seven holdover and four new Democratic Senators, a total of eleven; and four new and six G. O. P. holdovers, a total of ten. Last year the Senate stood 12 Democrats to 9 Republicans.

The Democrats nominated Senator Gaunt, Republican, of Gloucester, for president pro tem, and he was unanimously elected. Mr. Dill was made temporary secretary. The temporary president then administered the oath of office to the new Senators. Senator Slocum was nominated by the Democrats for president, while the Republicans named Senator Colgate, of Essex. Senator Slocum was elected by a strict party vote of 11 to 10. The new president was escorted to the chair and upon assuming the gavel made an appropriate speech.

President Slocum, of the Senate, upon taking his seat thanked the Senators for the honor bestowed, and referred to the similarity in the two party platforms. In speaking of legislation he said:

"We should not attempt too much. It is folly to legislate on the assumption of equality of mind, or morals. We cannot establish social justice by spasms of legislative enactments or meet all the just financial demands made for the wards of our State at one session. Our duty is to place these broad and important matters of the business, social and industrial world in their proper and relative positions up to our means,' and in an orderly systematic matter, see that there are advances in keeping with equal justice. We all realize that the changing circumstances of time make new laws necessary and that the Legislature must respond and do its full part. It is, however, as much our duty to prevent the enactment of wasteful, extravagant and unnecessary laws, as it is to adopt remedial legislation for existing evils.

"It is truthfully said that the important and progressive laws of the past three years have placed New Jersey in the galaxy of leaders in the march of progress, but in that same period there have been very unnecessary statutes. Each year too many hasty and ill-considered measures are enacted into laws and I ask, not only the co-operation of the chairmen of committees, but of every Senator, to check this reckless practice. Let us see that the beneficent legislation of recent birth is made effective and strengthened. Our pledges call for fewer and only necessary laws. I hope this branch of the law mill will grind more slowly and that the people may digest what is already on the statute books but as yet familiar to them. Our keynote should be fewer laws—better laws.

"Legislative carelessness needs supervision, and to meet defects in our imperfect method of considering and guarding important measures, we hope to establish a legislative reference bureau and a bill-drafting department for the use of the members of the Legislature. The plan has been found to work well in many States and is worthy of a patient trial with us. A joint committee of the Senate and House of Assembly have been studying the rules with a view of amending or adding to them so as to limit the time for the introduction of bills and to prevent ill-considered action on them. Their recommendations will be laid before you, and I trust appeal to you as interesting work in a field which needs improvement."

The permanent organization of the Senate was then completed by the election, by a strict party vote, of officers, all being Democrats.

A committee was sent to Acting Governor Taylor notifying him that the Senate was organized and ready for business. Following this, L. Edward Herrmann, the Acting Governor's secretary, appeared at the entrance to the Senate chamber, with the Governor's message, which was read by Secretary Dill. A communication was received from the Assembly that it had organized, after which President Slocum announced the appointment of the Senate Committees.

Assembly Organization.

Meanwhile, in the Assembly chamber that body was organizing. Of the 60 members of the House this year, 26 were re-elected, and some have served in former Houses. The new Assembly is composed of 37 Democrats and 23 Republicans, compared with 51 Democrats and 9 Republicans last year. Mark M. Phillips, clerk of the last Assembly, called this branch to order.

"This being the day designated for the assembling of the 138th Legislature of the State of New Jersey, this House of Assembly will come to order," said Mr. Phillips, who is an Essex county Democrat. Prayer was offered, following which the sixty members presented their certificates of election, and then took the oath of office. This was done simultaneously, all the sixty legislators standing at their desks and raising their right hands. After they had been thus sworn, each Assemblyman signed his name to the oath engrossed on parchment.

A resolution of Democratic leader Branegan, of Hudson, that the election of a speaker be proceedtd with, was adopted, and Assemblyman Azariah M. Beekman, of Somerset county, was nominated by the Democrats. He is a lawyer and is serving his second term in the Assembly. He was presented as a Democrat of independent tendencies, who supported Woodrow Wilson in his progressive crusade while Governor. There were no other Democratic nominations, as the caucus had agreed upon Mr. Beekman.

The Republican choice for the speakership was Assemblyman Hervey S. Moore, of Mercer. He was nominated by Assemblyman Edgar G. Weart, of Mercer.

Mr. Beekman was elected by the party vote of 37 to 23. Upon assuming the chair he addressed the members.

After greeting the members and thanking them for the honor bestowed upon him Speaker Beekman said that he looked for a gentlemanly and harmonious session and hoped that "nothing will occur to mar or interrupt our most cordial relationship." He spoke of the committee assignments as follows:

"In making assignments to the various committees, I regret that I did not have more intimate acquaintance with many of the new members, particularly those upon the Republican side. If I have overlooked any good material among new men who are capable and worthy, the sole cause is lack of information, which fact, I trust, will insure my excuse and secure your leniency and pardon."

Mr. Beekman then told of the great amount of work committee members are called upon to do, and urged close and conscientious attention to the various committee duties. He then said:

"The promises contained in the platform of the two great parties here represented are in some instances similar and in these rays of tolerant view and broader statecraft, with narrow partisanship in disrepute, it may not be too much to expect agreement independent of party lines upon some measures designed to make these promises good.

"Upon the Democratic side, however, falls the accountability which goes with power and to that party particularly may the citizens of our State look for a substantial execution of their desires and permit the suggestion that this responsibility not only includes the support of measures for proper and desired change, but opposition to needless laws as well.

"Perhaps the most important duty we have is to give vigilant care that the several measures of rational reform which have become a part of our statutes in the past three years shall remain substantial and intact and retain all their vigor and efficiency—that they shall not be rendered impotent in the name of correction and improvement.

"The positive undertakings which we have in hand are fairly stated in the platform adopted at the last Democratic State convention, which proposes a measure to promote economy in the business transactions of the State and its numerous municipalities; laws to foster and encourage thrift, industry and enterprise in every department of useful endeavor and to give relief from the intracacies and irregularities of taxation. It insures the dignity of labor and recognizes the rights of property, and commends the conservation and development of our natural and created resources. It is a declaration of feasible purposes designed along the lines of modern thought. It is a fair conception of the needs of our people and the possibilities of our expanding commonwealth.

"To correctly dispose of these matters which lie in our path is our mutual privilege regardless of political faith. In the exercise thereof it is well for us to regard the growing exactions of civic conscience which insist upon decent and capable public service. If we allow our purposes to become confused with motives of petty partianship, local selfishness or personal spite or ambition, the chance for result is hampered and diminished. If we maintain a single purpose and act with hearts and minds free from bias, jealousy and discord, it will require labor and intelligence to secure success, but the outcome will be quite certain and much more gratifying.

"We have notable achievements to imitate, brilliant examples to inspire us. We can look for aid to the higher branch of this lawmaking body and rely with confidence upon the leadership of the State's chosen Executive.

"Let us then approach our duties with a fixed and harmonious resolve to act and demean ourselves as the representatives of the high aims and expectations of the citizenship which has entrusted these matters to our temporary keeping, for today we have in our grasp one little page of unwritten history which we have yet the opportunity to keep clean and make bright and useful. May we act our relative part well, for therein and therein only the honor and delight of public office lies."

Speaker Beekman announced the appointment of Frank D. Schroth, a Trenton newspaper man and well-known Democrat, as his secretary, and Charles D. Hamilton, a Somerset county Democrat, as his assistant secretary. The organization was completed by the election of officers, the only ones from Union county being Assistant Journal Clerk, Thoma Roarke, and Assistant Sergeant-at-arms, Joseph E. Guinee.

A message was received from the Senate that it had organized and was ready for business and a committee was sent to notify the Acting Governor that the House of Assembly was ready to proceed to business. The Governor's message was read and ordered printed.

With Leader Branegan, of Hudson, as Democratic pilot, the necessary resolutions were offered and passed to prepare the way for the real lawmaking, the first steps of which will be taken next Monday evening.

In the Senate, W. W. Smalley, of Somerset county, has been a member of the committees on education, and State Village for Epileptics, while Carlton B. Pierce, of Union county, has been named to serve on the committees for the revision and amendment of laws, sanitorium for tuberculosis diseases and soldiers' home.

The Union county members of the Assembly have been named on the following standing committees: Appropriations, stationery, elections, taxation, William A. Leonard; bill revision, labor and industries, miscellaneous, Francis V. Dobbins; banks and insurance, railroads and canals, elections, John J. Griffin. Mr. Griffin has been a member of the joint committee on passed bills, Mr. Leonard a member of the joint committee on State Prison and Mr. Dobbins a member of the joint committee on treasurer's accounts.

HOW THE STATE FINANCES STAND

Trenton, Jan. 13—Showing that the State fiscal year closed October 31 last with a cash balance of $1,727,992.94 in the treasury, and that this balance was a decrease of $3,542,679.26 below that of the previous year, the annual report of State Comptroller Edward I. Edwards was submitted to the Legislature today. The report shows that in the State fund, from which all general State expenditures are made, the disbursements were $3,540,246.76 in excess of the receipts. The increase in disbursements for the year was $5,640,637.54, while the increase in receipts was $139,499.78.

There was an increase of $725,075.35 in the ordinary disbursements and the increase in the extraordinary disbursements amounted to $4,915,562.19.

The total receipts in the State fund for the year were $9,905,565.89 and the gross disbursements amounted to $13,445,812.65. The "overnight" balance carried over at the beginning of the year on November 1, 1912, was $5,270,672.20, and this alone prevented a big deficit and a State tax. As it was, the big excess in payments over receipts cut $3,542,679.26 off the balance at the beginning of the year, this accounting for the great decrease in the balance at the end of the year is $1,727,992.94. Explaining this decrease, Comptroller Edwards reports:

"The decrease is largely accounted for from the fact that the allotment of railroad taxes to counties for school purposes was included in the balance of last year, amounting to $2,827,611.11, of which sum $2,756,150.03 was paid out during this year, in addition to the current year's apportionment amounting to $2,950,015.86, making a total payment during the year on account of school purposes of $5,706,165.89.

"The fact that two payments of the allotment of railroad taxes to counties for school purposes would account for the large increase in disbursements."

The report shows that the extraordinary disbursements amounted to $6,988,949.65, so that the ordinary payments amounted to $6,456,863. The principal extraordinary disbursement was the double payment of the railroad taxes to the schools, already referred to.

The receipts for this fiscal year ending October 31 next are estimated by the Comptroller at $10,399,999.97, including the balance of $1,727,992.94 in the treasury at the beginning of the year. The obligations of the State are shown to be $6,825,191.36, the amount of the annual appropriation act now current and passed by the last Legislature, and $1,306,776.30 due on contracts carried forward from previous years.

This is a total of $8,131,967.66 which subtracted from the estimated receipts, leaves resources for the current fiscal year of $2,268,023.31.

The present Legislature will be called upon to pass the usual "supplemental" appropriation bill, carrying extraordinary disbursements in addition to the sum for this year in the regular appropriation bill. The State Comptroller points out that whatever amounts are included in a supplemental appropriation law must be charged against the above resource balance. In recent years the supplement appropriation bills have carried all the way from $700,000 to $2,500,000. It will be seen from this showing that the cry for economy in State expenditures is no idle one, particularly as the receipts from the corporations are decreasing.

CONGREGATIONALISTS "HOUSE WARMING"

Entertainment Marks Formal Opening of Church's Newly Erected Parish Bldg.

Spacious, light artistic and convenient, with open fire-place, soft hangings at the windows and pleasant indirect lighting, the new parish house made a brilliant setting for the "house-warming" at the Congregational church last night. The new building was "christened" to one of the most important of its many uses—social fellowship.

In front of a semi-circle of bay-trees and palms in the women's parlor, stood the receiving line, Rev. and Mrs. Charles L. Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Whiton, and Mrs. Charles A. Rice. They made welcome the guests of the evening, the pastors of the Plainfield churches with their wives, the Sunday school superintendents and their wives, retired ministers with their wives and the Seventh-Day Baptist people whose hospitality had made it possible to hold services during the construction of the building. The nearest out-of-town Congregationalists brought greeting in the persons of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. S. L. Loomis, of Westfield. Dr. Frank T. Clawson and Philip S. Suffern were the ushers.

Mrs. Rufus Pratt Lincoln and Mrs. D. Foster Updike presided at either end of the attractively appointed supper table while the Girls' Mission Club served. Miss Mary Decker presided at the table where fruit punch was dispensed.

At intervals during the evening an informal program of music was given, there being piano solos by Miss Elizabeth Martin, Miss Ruth Fuller and Miss Helen Weseman; vocal solos by Miss Kathleen Phillips, accompanied by Miss Margaret VanZandt and rousing songs by the Tuckabatchee Class and its leader, James McClymont, accompanied by Miss Alice Morgan. The soloists expected from New York were detained.

A feature was the presentation of tokens of appreciation to Mr. Weeks, chairman of the building committee, and John M. Whiton, superintendent of the Sunday school. These gifts had special significance as the handle of the silk umbrella presented to Mr. Weeks was carved by the pastor from a portion of the ivy which had long clung to the church walls. The paper-knife, which was given to Mr. Whiton with the inscription upon a silver plate, "From a Grateful School," was also carved from the ivy which had to be sacrificed to make way for the improvements. Alexander Millar and Philip Suffern made the speeches of presentation.

The decorations had the Christmas touch, bay-trees, palms and poinsetias, while the tables had a tone of yellow in candle-shades and jonquils. The entertainment committee consisted of Mrs. Thad Doane, Jr., and Mrs. D. Foster Updike. The committee on decorations was Miss Ethel Millar and Mrs. Thomas F. Hylan. Mrs. B. T. Barnes, the church organist, had charge of the musical program.

MOULTON ON SKATES BREAKS THROUGH ICE

It was quite a cold "bawth" Harry Moulton, Y. M. C. A. athlete, received yesterday, when he broke through some thin ice while skating on Tier's pond, in the borough. Accompanied by a party of friends, Moulton, gliding over the ice on skates following a puck in a game of hockey, suddenly swayed toward the "falls" where the ice was thin, and crashing through the frozen surface, found himself waste deep in water.

Shivering with the intense cold, he ran to his home in Chatham street, where he drank some hot beverages and wrapped himself tightly in warm blankets. Today he was none the worse for his experience.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 50.

LET'S have a smile at this gladsome season. Sometimes, you know, advertising contains a smile that wasn't intended as such by the advertiser. Here's a sample:

In an "up-State" New York newspaper there once appeared the following little notice:

My! I wonder if all the inhabitants of that place are goats.

Which reminds me: In the New York Herald there appeared the following Want Ad: HELP WANTED, MALE—Young men playing violin and piano, to join amateur orchestra. Apply Monday evening, with instruments, 23 W. 44th Street. . . . Golly; the pianists were up against a hard one, weren't they?

And while we're smiling, let me tell you that Franklin P. Adams, the "Always in Good Humor" man of the New York Evening Mail, says that he knows of a man, a retired liquor dealer, who calls his country estate "Alco Hall." Also, that another man, who has a Long Island bungalow which he occupies only two weeks during the year, calls it "Seldom Inn." Still another, a lawyer friend of the humorist, has a round sort of cottage on Cape Cod which he terms "Circuit Court."

That last paragraph hasn't anything to do with advertising. But those of us who read the ads. in newspapers and magazines and other media—and who doesn't read the ads., I'd like to know?—see some awfully funny things once in a while. One could write a book on advertising "bulls."

Sometimes a little bit of humor in an advertisement is a good thing. There's a limit, however—a danger-line where advertising intended to be funny or clever offends the reader. There is a lot of advertising done that isn't worth serious consideration as a business-producing force. But is there too much advertising? I think not. Let me bring this little wandering Talk to a close by quoting a writer in "Newspaperdom" on that subject.

"Is there too much advertising? No, there is too much mad-vertising, too much fad-vertising, too much bad-vertising, but there isn't too much advertising."

Of Interest to Women and the Home

The Housewife's Daily Economy Calendar

FRANCES MARSHALL

Make the Most of a Beefsteak.

Some persons insist that beefsteak is cheap, because it requires only a little heat to cook it and only a little time to prepare it. Moreover, it is appetizing, and so is relished and eaten eagerly. A heavy stew, on the other hand—say these exponents of cheap beefsteak—costs little to begin with, if it is made from a cheap cut of meat. But it costs much in the heat required for long cooking and much in the housewife's time and energy in preparing and cooking it. If it is properly cooked, it is, of course, appetizing. But it is easier to spoil a stew than a beefsteak in the cooking and so make it unsavory and so unappetizing that little of it is eaten.

Whether we agree with the person who argues that beefsteak is cheap or the one argues that it is expensive we must all agree with the one who argues that there are expensive ways of using beefsteaks, and cheaper ways.

To begin with, the steak must be cooked to a turn. It should, to be at its best, be broiled. The degree of cooking must depend on the taste of the persons who are to eat it, but it should never be dried up in an effort to make it well done. If a well done steak is desired, it should be broiled over a fire hottest at the beginning of the cooking and it should be frequently turned.

A Big Steak.

There is much so-called waste to steak—fat and gristle and bone. But all of this waste can be made useful. Hence a big steak is an economy, for the left-overs will be enough to be worth working over.

The left-over bits of the tender steak can be put through a meat chopper, and, if the steak is cooked rare, formed into little balls and browned quickly in bacon fat or butter and served for lunch. If the steak is not rare the chopped bits can be mixed with an equal quantity of rice, a little white sauce and plenty of seasoning and then formed into small croquettes, dipped in egg and crumbs, and browned.

The bone and gristle should go into the soup pot. If there are other scraps of meat and bones they can all be combined. If there are no other the steak bone and gristle can be put in a pot with a sliced onion, two diced carrots, two stalks of celery sliced, half a can of tomatoes, half a cupful of rice and three pints of water. This should be simmered until all the flavor is extracted from the bone and the vegetables—about an hour and a half—and then strained for soup.

The tough ends of the steak can be trimmed and cut into dice and stewed tender with a little canned tomato or diced green peppers and water. The stew should be slightly thickened when the meat is very tender.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

No. 8004 is a house dress which may be made with a high or square neck or a round collar. The sleeve is set-in, may be either full length with a band cuff or elbow length with a turned back cuff.

It is a design which is neat and attractive and well suited to the wash materials. Make it of a blue madras or percale, and let the trimming bands be of a contrasting color; the result will be highly satisfactory.

In finishing the seams of a house dress or a wash waist they may be pinked, French felled, or bound with a bias strip of the material. I have found the last to be most satisfactory with a garment that requires much laundering. Buttons should be selected also with an eye to the laundry; if a cheap pearl is used they are apt to break; a small smooth bone button is better.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes; 34 to 46.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Curtains and Color.

Silk of a color that harmonizes with the room and is of a light quality makes a charming finish as side drapery on the windows, but is not essential unless the room is very plain and hard looking, and the silk should not be extended over the window to exclude the light. The old style of having the drapery meet across the window at the top and held back halfway down by loops is out of date.

There are excellent designs also in a thin, silky madras that looks well on the windows, and many other cotton draperies that are suitable and will not keep out too much light cost a great deal less than real silk. Bought by the yard these are far less expensive than when bought made up in curtain form, and as the modern and very sensible fad is to have the curtains reach only to the sill of the window you do not have to buy very many yards.

Perfumes For Clothes Press.

Everybody is familiar with the custom of putting lavender bags in linen closets and clothes presses. At this time of year lavender bags are being made in great numbers. There are, however, other delicate perfumes for the same purpose that are not very generally employed. Two of them notably are rosemary and sandalwood. When the actual substances cannot be conveniently obtained a few drops of their essential oils on raw cotton will produce the same effect.

CHANGE IN FLORIDA BISHOPS.

Orlando, Fla., Jan. 13.—Lay and clerical leaders of the Episcopal church in the diocese of Florida gathered here today for their annual convocation. The session will last three days and will be of more than ordinary interest inasmuch as the occasion will mark the formal retirement of Bishop William C. Gray, who has been at the head of the diocese for more than twenty years. Bishop Gray is succeeded by Bishop Cameron Mann, who at his own request has been transferred to this diocese from North Dakota.

Recipe Notes

Some Recipes From a Recently Issued Cookbook.

The latest addition to culinary literature contains a recipe for brown bread, contributed by the former Mrs. Cleveland: "Take one bowlful of Indian meal, one bowlful of rye flour and one bowlful of sour milk, one large cupful of molasses, one teaspoonful of salt. Steam for two and a half hours and bake from twenty minutes to half an hour, depending upon the heat of the oven.

Mrs. William Jennings Bryan gives a recipe for strawberry conserve that sounds very good. Four boxes of strawberries and one pineapple are required. Crush the berries a little. Put pineapple through a meat grinder, using coarsest wheel. Place pineapple over slow fire until juice comes out; add berries. If there does not seem to be juice enough to keep fruit from burning add a little water. When the fruit is tender add sugar to taste. Boil down to the thickness desired. Stir constantly.

Mrs. Albert Sidney Burleson, wife of the postmaster general, is a native of Texas, and she has given a recipe for genuine Texas corn bread. She says:

"The best corn bread in the world is made of simple cornmeal, scalded with a little boiling water and thinned with cold water; salt and melted lard, two tablespoonfuls to a cupful of meal. Bake in a shallow pan inside the oven or on a griddle on top of the stove. We never eat corn bread made in any other way."

Very quaint are the recipes furnished by Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker of the house of representatives, for some of them date back to revolutionary days. Here is one: "To dress beef sufficient for two gentlemen, with a fire made of two newspapers.

"Let the beef be cut in slices and put on a pewter platter. Pour on water sufficient to cover the slices, salt and pepper to taste and cover with another platter, inverted. Place the dish upon a stool, bottom upward, the legs of such a length as to raise the platter several inches from the board. Cut the newspapers into strips, light with a candle and apply them gradually, so as to keep a low fire under the whole dish. When the paper is all done the steak will be done. Butter may be applied so as to make it grateful."

Mrs. Clark is also the happy possessor of Martha Washington's recipe for pear preserves:

"Ye pears should be very freshe. Washe and put yhem into boiling lye for a minute. Remove and place yhem in cold water. Next put ye fruit into a prepared sirupe of sugar and water. Use half a pound of sugar for everie pound of ye fruit; water to dissolve. Now cook for a quarter of an hour. Remove and put on plates to cool. Boyle sugar down to one-half its original quantetie. Put ye sirupe and pears into jars and add brandy. Seal while hotte."

Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, is a native of North Carolina, and she gives the recipe for the famous North Carolina white fruit cake. It is as follows:

Cream together one pound of butter and one pound of sugar. Add the beaten yolks of ten eggs, two grated cocoanuts, two pounds of citron, sliced thin and cut in little pieces; one pound of almonds, blanched and broken in small pieces. Dredge fruit with flour. Flavor with mace and nutmeg and a wineglassful of brandy. Fold in the well beaten whites of the eggs. Mix as for pound cake.

Scalloped Oysters.

Drain the liquid from a quart of stewing oysters and set it aside. In the bottom of a buttered bakedish strew a layer of crushed cracker crumbs; season with paprika and salt; dot with butter and wet with oyster liquor and milk in equal quantities. Next put a layer of oysters, seasoned in like manner, then more crumbs, proceeding thus until the dish is full or you have used up all the materials. The top layer should be crumbs with a double allowance of butter. Pour in the rest of the liquor, cover closely and bake. At the end of half an hour or when the surface begins to bubble remove the cover and brown lightly.

Date Suet Pudding.

Stone and cut into small pieces one pound of dates. Chop six ounces of fresh beef suet and mix with it three-quarters of a pound of fine bread-crumbs. Sprinkle a small cupful of sugar over the dates and then add them to the suet and crumbs. To one well beaten egg add one-half cupful of sweet milk and stir into it a half cupful of flour that has been sifted with one teaspoonful of baking powder. Mix all well together, flavor with a wineglassful of sherry, turn into a well greased mold and steam for three hours. Serve with a hot eggnog sauce.

Indian Cutlets.

Mix with quarter of a pint of milk a teaspoonful of coriander seed, the same of powdered ginger and a small onion, finely chopped. Take two pounds of tender veal, cut into neat cutlet shaped pieces and soak in the above mixture one hour. Then roll and fry a light brown. Sprinkle a little salt over each and squeeze a little lemon juice over them the moment of serving.

—Some store may be placing on "special sale" just now the article you have not felt like paying "regular" prices for.

Conventional Rose Design for Darning-stitch and Solid Work.

Darning-stitch is extremely simple and very effective when done with heavy rope silk or mercerized cotton. Care should be taken, however, to have all lines running parallel and in the same direction. This stitch introduces a note of color, but it does not make the design stand out as boldly as one which is developed in solid work and one will not tire of it as quickly.

These rose corners may be embroidered in shades of pink or rose for the flowers, with yellow for the centers, green for the leaves and brown for the stems. Solid work and darning may be used for developing this pattern which may bt accented with outline-stitch or very fine gold cord, couched on with gold colored sewing silk. If preferred, it may be developed entirely in shades of one color, blue, gold, brown or rose.

Four corners, each nine inches, are contained in pattern number 14450, suitable for use on table runners, sofa pillows, bureau scarfs, screens, table covers and bags.

This pattern will be supplied to readers of the Daily Press for 15 cents.

Some Cookery Suggestions

PUMPKIN GOOD THINGS.

MANY good things beside pies may be made with pumpkins. This useful winter food may be served as a dessert or as a vegetable.

Pumpkin Patties—Pare and cut into cubes enough pumpkin to make two quarts. Place in a steamer with a little water, season with a teaspoonful of salt and mixed spices and cook until tender. Then pass through a ricer, adding the whites of three eggs well beaten, a half cupful of whipped cream, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and a cupful of chopped raisins. Mix these until they form a cream and then put into patty cases. Place in the oven to heat and add the top of pastry. Serve with a dab of whipped cream on top of each.

A Novel Cake.

Pumpkin Shortcake.—Pumpkin short cake should be made with graham flour. To each cupful of stewed, drained and mashed pumpkin add one cupful each of oatmeal porridge and water, stir into this three cupfuls of graham flour, mix well and spread about an inch thick on baking tins.

Fried Pumpkin Mush.—Scald a pint of cornmeal, add a teaspoonful of salt and a teacupful of pumpkin, while hot. Pour into a shallow pan and cool. Cut into strips and fry a rich brown.

Pumpkin Souffle.—Take one cupful of milk, heat it and thicken with one tablespoonful of flour, rubbed with one-fourth cupful of butter. Take from the stove and add one cupful cooked and sifted pumpkin, two eggs, one-half cupful sugar, pinch of salt, one-half level teaspoonful each of cinnamon and ginger. Turn into buttered individual dishes and bake.

With Lemon Sauce.

Pumpkin Fritters.—For the batter take two cupfuls of flour, two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a teaspoonful of salt, a cupful of milk and a teaspoonful of baking powder. Mix well and stir in a teacupful of stewed pumpkin, which has been passed through a sieve. Fry in hot butter, sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve with lemon sauce.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Unwelcome Call of the Friendly Lion.

"It's rude of them," the lion growled.

DADDY laughed when Jack and Evelyn said that they wished that animals were all friendly like Shep and Tabby.

"My dear children, no doubt the poor animals wish that human folks would be friendly instead of getting after them with guns and traps or trying to shut them up in cages," remarked daddy.

"So I'll just tell you the story of the friendly lion. He lived once upon a time in a great big jungle, and he was the biggest and finest lion for miles.

"Mr. Big Lion had never been close to the men folk, as the jungle folks called human beings. His jungle was on the edge of a big sandy desert, and sometimes when wandering about Mr. Big Lion had seen a company of men on camels hurrying over the sands. Mr. Big Lion thought this haste was scarcely civil to him. He spoke about it to the monkey in the palm tree. The monkey said it was very rude, and he supposed that the men folk did not know any better.

"'Well, I know better,' said Mr. Big Lion. 'I will go and pay a visit to the men folk and tell them that we would like to be friendly with them. Then perhaps they may be more polite.'

"'Maybe,' replied the monkey, 'but between you and me I wouldn't try it.'

"But Mr. Big Lion said that it was his duty. He had no doubt they would be glad to see him. So he went off across the desert to visit the men folk.

"By and by he came to one of their towns. It was morning, and people were just getting up. When they saw a big lion strolling along the streets the people dived into their houses and shut the doors tight.

"Presently he reached the king's palace, and the gate was slammed shut in his face. Then high up in a tower some men began shooting at him.

"'Stop, stop,' roared Mr. Big Lion; 'I've come to call on your king!' And the king, who heard him roaring, crawled under the throne and wrapped his purple velvet and ermine robe around his head to shut out the noise.

"Well, the men went on shooting, and some of them could shoot quite well. One shot carried off a whisker and another a bit of Mr. Big Lion's handsome mane, of which he was very proud.

"'It's very stupid and rude of them!' the lion growled. 'But I don't care. I've done my best to be friendly. I'm going off home again.' And to show he bore them no ill will Mr. Big Lion carried off one of their biggest and fattest sheep which was grazing just outside the gate, and it made a very good luncheon, indeed.

"But he never tried to be friendly with the men folk again, and perhaps the men folk were just as well satisfied that he didn't."

THE CIRCUS IS HERE!

GET YOUR TICKETS

Eight hundred Plainfield girls took advantage of the offer made a few months ago by the Plainfield Daily Press through which they secured the "Mother's darling and Nurse Marie" paper dolls. The Press was complimented on all sides for furnishing that delightful family, and because of the great interest, the publishers have been seeking some other equally attractive cut-out for the young people. We have found it in the most original and attractive article of the kind that has ever been put on the market.

DING-A-LING CIRCUS comes on a big sheet of linen, and contains ALL OF THE WELL KNOWN ANIMALS found in the menagerie of the big circus, ready to cut out and paste so that they will practically be indestructible. Then there is a CIRCUS CAGE, drawn by two horses, TWO CLOWNS, and last but not least, TWO DOLLS, a boy and a girl, which can be cut out, sewed together, and then stuffed, so that they will stand up and view the animals which will make a

if they are spaced a foot apart. There are admission tickets, a big banner with the name of the circus, and natural history lectures telling all about everyone of the animals in the circus.

HOW TO GET THE CIRCUS

Cut out the admission ticket which will be found in today's Plainfield Daily Press, and bring it with only 48 cents, the actual cost of handling and distribution, to the Daily Press office, and get the two dolls, the parade wagon, all the animals, printed in life-like colors on everlasting cloth, all the admission tickets, lectures, and other things which go to make this the most remarkable offer ever made to the young folks by a Plainfield newspaper.

DOES "DACHS" TAKE AFTER HIS MOTHER? YAH-YAH, HE DOES IN THE SPORTING SPOTLIGHT

"MAC" SAYS

A GREAT COMBINATION.

Playing together as a unit for three successive years the Hope Chapel basketball team has at last come into its own and in winning the city championship has pulled down every conceivable honor that goes with it. Outplaying the rival aspirant in every department of the game and showing a speedier all around article of the popular court game the Chapelites left little or no room for doubt in the mind of the spectators as to their real ability and their wanderful mastery of the sport.

BEHIND THE SCENES.

Although he was not one of the players and was one of the inconspicuous features in the great triumph, much of the credit for the wonderful showing of the Hope quintet reflects on Jack Martin, the team's coach. To him must be handed the praise for the rounding out of the stellar combination and what he has done "behind the scenes" during weeks of careful polishing up has gone practically unnoticed in sporting chronicles.

INJURIES DID NOT DETRACT.

Despite the fact that the Y. M. C. A. team had the misfortune to have one in the lineup who was a detriment rather than a factor in the scoring work, there is little doubt but that Hope chapel would have won the game even had the Association team been intact. Hope was the conceded victor and there was nothing left but the shouting after the first few minutes of play.

THIRD GAME NEXT.

Seldom do two basketball rivals exhibit the genuine sportsmanship that the Hope Chapel and Y. M. C. A. teams have shown during their two years of battling for city title honors. Last year the Y. M. C. A. won two out of three games, this year the Chapelites took two straight and with the double series standing 3 to 2 in favor of Hope Chapel the two combatants will come together once more on the Y. M. C. A. court this season.

WRESTLING BREAKS THROUGH.

A new sport has been crowded in to Plainfield High School athletic circles and for the first time in many years a match was held in the school gym yesterday afternoon. Coach Ralph Patch is contemplating teaching the mat game to P. H. S. pupils on a systematic basis and his new idea has already met with a ready and general response.

RED BALL GOES UP.

Those who delight in gliding over an icy surface will be able to get their fill of the sport during the next few days if present weather conditions may be taken as a criterion. All of the ponds in this vicinity present a glassy surface and the winter sport has now soared to its zenith.

READY FOR WINTER.

Manager "Doc" Doyle, of the Holy Cross football team, has just placed his order for twenty "rough-neck" sweaters which will be presented to the members of the Holy Cross team within the next week. The sweaters are of the sporty variety and will probably make a big hit with the warriors and their friends.

GIVE HIM A CHANCE.

What's the matter with placing Connie Leick's name at the head of the Elks' League individual bowling averages when he sets up a double century average in one series? Looks as though someone was trying to hold him in check.

It's about time that Interscholastic Basketball League came to life again, isn't it?

Y. M. C. A. BASKETBALL TEAM WILL GO TO MORRISTOWN

The feature trip of the season for the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. basketball team will be held next Friday night, when the quintet and its friends from this city will be the special guests of the Morristown Y. M. C. A. officials at the opening of the new Morristown association's gymnasium. The trip to that place will be made by auto bus and it is planned to take twenty persons along at that time.

The new gymnasium at Morristown is one of the finest in this section and the locals will be put to a severe test when they lineup against the speedy basket tossers of that place. Morristown last Saturday night hung up a verdict at the expense of the Summit Association five, which plays the locals here during the next two weeks.

SECOND HALF RUSH SEWED UP THE GAME

Leal School Five Disposed of Somerville High School in Great Style.

Clamping down the lid on the Somerville High School forwards in the second half of their game on the Y. M. C. A. court yesterday afternoon, and at the same time flashing to the front with an abundant supply of field goals, the Leal School basketball five came through the argument with a comfortable margin of eight points and annexed a notable victory by the score of 24 to 16 at the expense of the Somerset county school-by quintet. Better passing, tighter guarding and better shooting won the encounter for the private school five and despite the fact that the score was separated but by a slim point at the end of the initial canto the final margin was decisive enough to convince the gathering of basketball followers present of the superiority of the home players over their rival forces.

During the first half the playing was nip and tuck, each team hanging up a string of field goals and when the session ended the score stood 13 to 12 in favor of Leal's. During the short intermission between halves the home players were given instructions to "stick," and during the entire second half they stuck like leeches, holding the visitors to a brace of field goals. During the second half the Leal boys managed to total up five more field goals and bagged one from the fifteen foot mark, bringing their total up to eleven for this half.

Krom was the leading scorer for the winners, getting ten points, while Moosebrugger was high man for the visitors with an even half dozen to his credit.

GRAND CIRCUIT.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 13—The stewards and secretaries of the Grand Circuit got together here today for their tenth annual meeting. Before the meeting adjourns it is expected that the schedule will have been arranged and all other preliminaries perfected in connection with the coming season of harness meetings along the "big line." The general expectation is that the circuit will be opened in Michigan as usual and that Detroit is likely to be restored to her old place as the initial link. From Michigan the line of march is likely to be to Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Buffalo and down toward the East through Syracuse, Hartford, Readville, Salem perhaps, Providence and then West again.

RAHWAY VS. P. H. S.

According to Manager Cottrell's schedule, the Plainfield High School basketball team will lineup against the Rahway High School aggregation at the latter place tomorrow afternoon.

M'ALLISTER PUT TO SLEEP IN SEVENTH

Mike Gibbons, a heftier man than the speedy young McAllister, pounded his way to a knockout in the seventh round of the scheduled ten-round setto in Madison Square Garden, Manhattan, last night. For four rounds the Pacific coast lad worked around the ring like a shadow. He dashed in and out, poking light blows to various parts of his adversary's anatomy. The blows did little damage and Gibbons was never in danger. He did a little execution on his own account, but it was not until the close of the fourth round, when McAllister was plainly tiring, that Mike began to fight in earnest.

The last two settos were decidedly unpleasant ones for the unfortunate Bob. He took the gruelling punishment. His speed had left him and he could not hold off the fierce-fighting Gibbons. The latter landed almost at will and danced around so cleverly that McAllister could not even run into a clinch. When he did get close Gibbons used an uppercut with awful effect and Bob simply had to wilt. For a few moments in the seventh he reeled about, desperately trying to stay on his feet, but Mike was not to be denied and soon crashed a blow to the jaw that floored the clever youngster.

WRESTLER FORCED INTO RETIREMENT

Morris Mann Found Guy Snyder's Grips Too Strong in the P. H. S. Gym.

The wrestling match between Morris Mann of the class of '15 and Guy Snyder of the class of '14, was held in the Plainfield High School gymnasium yesterday afternoon, before a crowd of over 100 people who turned out to see the contest. The first two throws were held between the halves of the class basketball game.

The first throw was secured by Mann after a little more than five minutes of wrestling. An intermission of three minutes was held. When Mann returned to the mat he seemed dazed, and instead of trying to throw Snyder he held him and then lay on his stomach. Snyder rolled him over for a fall after two minutes on the mat.

After the second half of the basketball game it was announced that Mann was ill and unable to return to the mat, forfeiting the match to Snyder.

SENIORS BOWED TO LOWER CLASS FIVE

Three Points Separated Two Class Teams in League Game Yesterday.

The Plainfield High School interclass basketball schedule was opened yesterday afternoon, when the Sophomore class team defeated the Seniors class five by the score of 29 to 17.

The game was closed and exciting from the beginning, the first half ending with the score at 10 to 8 in favor of the class of 1916. In the second half the Seniors started with a rush, bringing the score up to 14 to 12 in their favor, but a basket by Wheelan tied the score and then a foul goal by the Sophomore captain put his team in the lead, which they held to the close of the contest.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TWO-MILE MATCH RACE DECLARED OFF

James E. Sullivan, chairman of the Pastime Athletic Club Games Committee yesterday announced that after a conference with the president of the club, John J. McInerney, it was decided that owing to the fact that it was impossible for Columbia or Fordham to muster a two mile relay team to meet the Yale team, the proposed two mile special match relay race be called off. The games committee was anxious to stage this race as an added attraction to its long list of attractive and feature events which are to take place at the 71st Regiment Armory on Saturday evening next.

Among the entries received yesterday were the following prominent athletes: Hannes Kolehmainen, Billy Kramer, Abel Kiviat, Sid Leslie, "Mel" Sheppard, Ollie DeGruccy and Hugh Hirshon.

All the star flat floor bicycle riders are entered in the two-mile bicycle race, including Goodwin, Lake, VandenDries and Townsend.

Y. M. C. A. WON BY ONE FIELD GOAL

Another New Lineup Sent in to Replace One Battered by Hope Chapel Five.

GAME CLOSELY WAGED

Lincoln Five Playing on Home Court Gave the Locals a Big Scare in Basketball Encounter at Kearny—Final Score 28 to 26.

Appearing on the Arlington court in Kearny last night, the local Y. M. C. A. basketball team with another new lineup, nosed out the home team by a score of 28 to 26 in a fast and interesting contest featured by the uphill fight of the home five during the final minutes of play. Cherishing a lead of 13 to 4 at the completion of the first half, the visitors took things easy in the final half and a spurt launched by the Lincoln five brought the home tossers to within striking distance of the Association quintet when time was called.

The home team at this time claimed that a twenty minute half had been agreed upon instead of a fifteen minute period as was played and after a short argument the Plainfielders gave way and agreed to play five minutes longer. During the overtime period the visitors scored a brace of field goals and this brought them within two points of the Plainfielders' tally card.

Dunning, taking Gavett's place at centre, was the mainstay of the local team in the field goal department, getting a quintet of scores during the contest, while Moulton scored four field and four foul goals. Hetfield broke into the counting with a trio of three point scores. The Lincoln five was a set of the speediest basketball players the locals have had to contend with this year and the Plainfielders were forced to overcome the additional handicap of playing on a cement floor. Ross and Roberts were the leading scorers for the home team.

The Y. M. C. A. quintet went to Kearny via auto bus and a number of the teams' friends accompanied the players on the trip, which was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Moulton, parents of Harry Moulton, one of the Association players.

DOUBLE BASKETBALL BILL FOR N. P. H. S. FOLLOWERS

Basketball suporters of the North Plainfield High School will be treated to a rare double bill tomorrow afternoon in Saengerbund Hall, both managers having booked a team to appear. VanMater has arranged a game with an old time rival, Nutley High School, and although the local boys won the last time they met, the Newarkers have been beating some fast teams this season.

The girls will meet the team from Perth Amboy in the second game and are out to equal the winning streak of the boys.

CATCHER ARCHER MISTAKES HIS AUTO FOR RABBIT.

Jim Archer of the Nationals is the "goat" in the champion hunting story of the season. The Cub catcher leads all competitors in the "Mistaken" league. His unerring aim and erring judgment put him and his fellow huntsmen in a fine fix. Jim was hunting recently in the vicinity of Boone, Ia. With some friends he motored into the country, and coming upon a likely looking spot, left the car to pick up a few rabbits. After prowling around in the brush for awhile Archer thought he saw a cottontail. He gave the object both barrels, then saw his mistake. For some unexplainable reason he had mistaken the auto for a rabbit. The shot pierced the radiator in a dozen places. Long after darkness fell Archer and his companions were busy whittling match size pieces of wood to plug up the sieve-like radiator, previous to making a start for home. Archer deserves a prize for a perfect imagination.

WRESTLING TOURNEY.

New York, Jan. 13.—The international wrestling tournament to be held in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night promises a splendid treat for the lovers of the mat game. Champion grapplers from many countries will compete in the program, which will include matches at both catch-as-catch-can and Graeco-Roman styles. The tournament will be a sweepstakes affair, each entrant posting $100. This money, with a substantial purse offered by the management, will go to the winner, after deducting consolation prizes for the second and third men. Some of the best of the American wrestlers will take part in the tournament, while the foreign contestants will include such well known men as Larich, of Russia; Aberg, of Finland; Hansom of Norway; Alvarez, of Spain, Fristensky, of Bohemia, and Mamutoff, the Cossack.

COLUMBIA WANTS FOOTBALL.

That the Columbia University Athletic Association would not be supported until football returned to the campus, or until the members were treated as such and not mere subscribers who could not elect their own managers, were some opinions expressed in an editorial in yesterday's issue of the Spectator, which stirred considerable comment on the campus.

IN SESSION IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—The International Joint Commission which has been intrusted with the task of settling various waterway and other problems of mutual concern to the United States and Canada assembled for a session here today. The particular matters scheduled to be considered at the session are the application of the Michigan Northern Power Company for authority to build a dam for power purposes at Sault Ste. Marie, and a similar application of the Greater Winnipeg water district to divert water from Shoal Lake, west of the Lake of the Woods, for the purpose of a water supply for the city of Winnipeg.

NEW YORK SHIVERS IN BITTER COLD WAVE

Hundreds Cared For at Municipal Lodging Houses.

New York, Jan. 13.—A driving northwest wind and temperature which may fall as low as 5 degrees above zero are the conditions which New York faced today.

Conditions were extremely trying. Only those whom business compelled were about the streets. Even these persons chauffeurs, teamsters and others in like occupations took advantage of every opportunity to seek refuge from the driving gale and the biting cold.

The wind rose in the early morning and gradually increased in force until it reached a velocity of seventy five miles an hour for five minutes. It reached an average rate of sixty miles an hour thereafter.

The cold was so intense that several of the fixed posts were abandoned by the police department. Policemen in less exposed situations had to be relieved every half hour.

The benches in the parks and in the open squares were vacant. Homeless men and women by hundreds sought aid of charitable organizations. At the Bowery mission 400 men had applied for shelter.

Most of the cold and homeless, of course, drifted to the municipal lodging house, near the foot of East Twenty-fifth street. All records were broken. More than 2,000 of the city's homeless, men, women and children, were cared for by Superintendent York and his assistants.

The coldest place in the United States was Duluth, where it was 43 degrees below zero, and the winds of Duluth were whirring this way. The national soothsayers predicted sunny skies with "continued cold" today and "fresh to high northwesterly winds." The prospect looked that way to a plain cloud reader.

FAKE "BOMB" FOR JUDGE.

Only a Dry Battery Cell, It Proves After Soaking.

Hoboken, N. J., Jan. 13.—Some person placed a dry battery cell, crudely disguised as a bomb, under the bench of Recorder McGovern of this city. It was found by Mrs. Miller, a scrubwoman, who turned it over to Janitor Prendergast, and he gave it to the recorder.

"Better take this downstairs to police headquarters," said the recorder, after gingerly handling the package. It was put in a pail of water in Captain Nelson's office for a few minutes, and then the brown paper and picture wire with which it was bound were unwrapped and the innocent nature of the package disclosed.

NEW RULES FOR FRESHMEN.

Princeton, Jan. 13.—A new plan for more careful supervision of members of the freshman classes at Princeton University has been adopted by the faculty and will go into operation with the beginning of the second term in the middle of February. The new rule prescribes general uniform tests in all subjects at set times. The combined marks of the tests and the daily recitations of each student are handed in at the registrar's office and any deficiencies are immediately investigated by a summons to appear before a committee. Any student deficient in eight or more hours of his work will be put on probation, and will be debarred from extra curriculum participation, and if a student persists in neglecting his work he will be forced to withdraw from the university.

VILLA PREPARES MOVE ON CAPITAL

U. S. HAS MANY PRISONERS

Rebel Leader Denies Executing Any Federal Prisoners—Generals Orozco and Salazar Make Their Escape—"On to Mexico City!" the Slogan.

Presidio, Tex., Jan. 13.—Many federal officers from Ojinaga who came to this side of the river when the town was surrendered did not surrender to the United States troops, but are making an effort to escape.

Reports from Marfa say that the depot there is lined with Mexicans, many of whom are recognized as former federal officers in Ojinaga. Telegrams have been sent to El Paso and San Antonio to secret service agents of the United States to watch the trains and arrest all Mexicans suspected of being deserters from Ojinaga.

The capture of Ojinaga and the dispersal of the federal forces which defended it having given him undisputed command of northern Mexico, General Villa, the successful commander of the Constitutionalist forces, has prepared to march on Torreon and from there to Mexico City. Part of Villa's force was sent forward. A garrison will be left in Ojinaga.

"We are on our way to Mexico City," said General Villa. "We have 7,000 men here, and it will require a week to get the last of them out and on the way to where trains await them. Before going, however, we will make sure that there are no lurking bands of federals who might attempt to retake Ojinaga and use it as a basis from which to harass our lines of communication with the border. We will proceed to Torreon, which we believe will now be evacuated by the federals without a fight.

"At Torreon we will be joined by from 5,000 to 7,000 fresh troops from Durango and the Laguna district and then will begin a campaign against Monterey, Saltillo and San Luis Potosi, with Mexico City our ultimate object. By recruiting as we go we firmly believe we will have an army of 25,000 to 30,000 with which to attack when we reach the national capital, if it has not been evacuated by the time we get there."

Orozco and Salazar Escape.

It is believed here that Generals Orozco, Salazar, Rojas and Caraveo who escaped with 300 to 500 federal soldiers during Saturday night's battle, must be reckoned with before the trouble in northern Chihuahua can be said to be ended. Rumors were current here that Salazar and Orozco had been surrounded in the mountains west of Ojinaga, but there was no confirmation, and the reports were discredited.

Villa denied that there had been any execution of federal prisoners. All but a few of the prisoners have joined the Constitutional forces, he said, the greater part of the federal army having escaped to the American side.

Twenty-eight hundred federals, including six generals, six field pieces, and an immense quantity of ammunition, are now in custody of the United States troops along the border. Following the evacuation of Ojinaga and the short battle with the Constitutionalists the beaten federals swarmed across the border where 500 United States cavalrymen took charge of them and disarmed them. The federals, with many women and children, are encamped near Presidio. There is much suffering. The refugees have scant clothing and little food. There is a strong and biting wind blowing, and the refugees are without shelter. Major McNamee has applied to the war department for more soldiers and aid in caring for the federals.

The problem of handling the refugees seemed likely to be a difficult one. It was announced that the refugees would be taken to Marfa and detained there indefinitely. No plans have been made for their final disposition. General Bliss will have five troops of cavalry to superintend the work of moving the refugees.

PROHIBITIVE TAX ON OPIUM.

House Concurs With Senate on Bills to Stop Smoking of Drug.

Washington, Jan. 13.—In an effort to stop the practice of opium smoking in the United States the house passed two bills, one placing a prohibitive tax on opium manufactured in the United States for smoking purposes and the other prohibiting the importation of opium in any form capable of being refined into the smoking product.

On opium manufactured in the United States the internal revenue tax is raised from $10 to $200 a pound. Manufacturers must furnish a bond of $100,000, as against a bond of $5,000 provided for in the original act. A minimum penalty of $10,000 fine is also provided for violation of the law.

Representative Williams of Illinois, who reported the bill, said: "It may be charged that the government is seeking to legalize the manufacture of smoking opium. This is not true. The only way we can reach the manufacturers is by putting a prohibitive tax upon it."

BEAT TWO DOWN IN FLIGHT FROM JAIL

Bridgeton, Jan. 13.—Two youths, known in police circles as the "pink shirt" twins, sawed and fought their way out of the Cumberland County Jail here yesterday. They cut away two bars of their cell, and, using them as weapons, beat a guard and a "trusty" into unconsciousness. They then bound and gagged them and walked out of the jail.

The escaped prisoners are Harry Jordan and Edward Haight. They were recently paroled from the penitentiary in Philadelphia and were arrested here several months ago charged with burglary.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, nobody can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture though, at home is mussy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.—Adv.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning scalding sensation, or setting up a irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

PIERCE PROPOSES TAXING REFORMS

Bills Introduced in Legislature by Senator Pierce Would Bring About Changes.

FAVORS NEW METHODS

Would Abolish State Board of Assessors—All Power Vested in Board for Equalization of Taxes—Other Sundry Bills.

Trenton, Jan. 14.—Fifteen bills, which if passed will bring about a general revision of the tax laws of the State were introduced in the Senate yesterday, by Senators Pierce, of Union county, McGinnis, of Passaic, and Egan, of Hudson. Possibly the most important of the measures were introduced by Senator Pierce, who was chairman of the special legislative commission which investigated the methods of taxation last year. They provide a new method of assessing and collecting taxes; exempt household goods and wearing apparel actually in use from taxation; provide that all assessments shall be made as of May 20 and prescribes a method of appeal to the County Board of Taxation and requires the County Board to determine the appeals on or before November 1; gives the governing body of any taxing district power to submit the proposition of whether the maximum tax rate shall be exceeded by the taxes of that year; repeals the act of May 11, 1905, relating to the assessment and collection of taxes; provides for the taxation of shares of stocks of stock companies to be assessed against the shareholders of the taxing district where they reside; provides that the shares of stock in trust companies held by non-residents shall be taxable and assessed against the holder in the taxing district where the bank is located; prescribes a method of taxation upon shares of stock belonging to trust companies and provides such taxation shall be a lien upon the stock of the holder and that the bank may retain out of the dividends belonging to such holder, the amount paid for such taxes.

Another of Mr. Pierce's bills provides for the abolition of the State Board of Assessors and vests all the taxing power in the Board of Equalization of Taxes. Another permits municipalities to issue bonds to fund its floating debt and provides a manner of taxation for the payment of the principal and interest on the bonds.

SOMERVILLE BANKS ELECTIONS ARE HELD

First and Second National Institutions Choose Officers and Directors.

Somerville, Jan. 14.—The annual meeting and election of directors of the First National Bank was held at that institution yesterday. The directors re-elected were as follows: Theodore Allen, Lewis M. Codington, Nelson Y. Dungan, John G. Gaston, James L. Griggs, John J. Kline, William H. Taylor, Lewis A. Thompson, J. R. Vanderbeek. These organized by the re-election of the following: President, J. N. Van Derbeek, vice-president, John G. Gaston; cashier, William H. Taylor.

The election of directors at the Second National Bank resulted in the re-election of the old board, as follows: Charles Schwed, William H. Cawley, William H. H. Wyckoff, David P. Voorhees, Thomas H. Flynn, Charles H. Voorhees, James Q. Ten Eyck, Jacob Peterson, Daniel H. Beekman. After dining at the Ten Eyck House, the members of the board re-organized by the election of all the old officers, as follows: President, Charles L. Voorhees; vice-president, Charles Schwed; cashier, Alonzo H. Dayton.

ALL HOUSEHOLDERS WILL PLEASE HEED A WARNING

Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett makes a request to the householders of the city not to allow water taps to be left running, except where necessary to protect pipes which are in actual danger of freezing and then that as small a stream be used as possible to accomplish this result.

An investigation shows that owing to the extreme cold weather householders allow water to run to prevent pipes from freezing and that as a result the sewage system in the west end is overloaded. The warning from Mr. Gavett is intended to prevent damage. He says that additional work now being planned for will obviate this trouble in the future.

VETERAN CONSTABLE ASKS FOR A PENSION

Somerset Freeholders Also Receive a North Plainfield Township Complaint.

Somerville, Jan. 14.—At the meeting of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders, yesterday, application was made on behalf of David R. Moffett, of Bernardsville, for a pension. It was recited in the petition that Mr. Moffitt had been a constable in Bernards township for the past forty-five years, and it was thought that this lengthy service for the public should entitle him to a pension. The matter was referred to the counsel for report at the next meeting, as it was not known that there had been any law passed giving the freeholders power to pension anybody.

Application was made by residents of Warren township for the construction of about 700 feet of guard railing along the mountain road approaching a county bridge, as the road is very dangerous traveling at night in its present condition. The road mentioned is not a county road and the matter was referred to the counsel of the board to investigate the question that the guard could be claimed as an approach to the county bridge. It was claimed that only recently a horse was drowned in the brook by reason of the absence of the guard railing.

Complaint was made from a number of residents of North Plainfield township because of the digging away of the banks along the Green brook, which is the dividing line between Somerset, Union and Middlesex counties. This matter has been brought up in turn before the freeholders of the counties named, and also before the North Plainfield Township Board of Health in an endeavor to learn which body has jurisdiction over the matter. The Somerset Board disclaimed any jurisdiction, and the communication was filed.

The Board will meet on Monday in Bernards township, at which time the printing of the annual report will come up for discussion.

TRAMPS ARE COSTLY TO SOMERSET COUNTY

Freeholders Find 200 Were Sheltered and Fed in Jail During Last Month.

Somerville, Jan. 14.—The Somerset County Board of Freeholders, at its monthly meeting at the courthouse yesterday directed its jail committee to investigate the tramp nuisance and to look into the manner in which it is claimed that an excessive number of wanderers are being cared for by the keeper of the Somerset county jail, the board and lodgings being charged for at the rate of 35 cents per day.

This matter was brought up by the new director of the Board, Lewis E. Opie, who declared that 200 tramps in one month was excessive, and it was intimated that the same individual was being cared for almost every night. It was also learned that the warden of the jail was collecting 35 cents for each tramp entertained, although it was admitted that each person was allowed but one cup of coffee and a half loaf of broad given in the morning before being turned out.

The members of the Board were inclined to the opinion that the contract with the warden of the jail was to the effect that he was to receive 35 cents per day for the care of prisoners, and that this was not to be stretched arbitrarily to include the transient guests who only put up for a night's lodgings.

Deputy Sheriff Ross, when questioned by the members of the Board, stated that sometimes a tramp was given two meals, only on being admitted and another before being turned out in the morning, but that this was not the general practice.

The present arrangement was made with the warden of the jail some two years ago, and did away with the practice of some of the justices of the peace visiting the jail and making up a list of names from the list of tramps admitted into the jail and collecting 25 cents for each name thus secured.

Director Opie stated that over 200 tramps had been reported as being given shelter in the jail during the past month, for which a bill had been submitted by the warden of over $70, and this was considered excessive. The present arrangement with the warden of the jail runs until next June.

MERCURY DROPS TO FOUR BELOW

HIGH WIND PREVAILED

Coldest January Day for Years—Hope for Relief by Tomorrow Morning—Trouble to Keep Houses Warm—School Pupils Dismissed.

When the mercury in the thermometer dropped to four degrees below the zero mark shortly before midnight last night the wise acres shook their heads and solemnly declared that all previous winter records for January 14 had been smashed to smithereens but statistics compiled by Weather Sergeant John Nagle show that the thermometer registered ten below zero two years ago today. The suddenness with which the bitter cold swept across the State on the wings of a blustery wind made it almost unendurable and hundreds of those who were caught unawares in the grip of the gale presented a pitiful plight.

In the poorer sections of the city the suffering grew intense last night and early this morning numerous families having little fire and scant clothing came to the attention of the charity workers, some quite by accident and others voluntarily disclosed their conditions. The wind which swept through the country at a clip of seventy-one miles an hour yesterday abated somewhat by nightfall and a still, gripping, biting cold set in. A majority of those who had to be out rode in street cars and others in closed vehicles and those who could not afford this means of travel ran from one place to another.

Theatres and other business houses suffered considerably because of small attendances, few venturing out into the cold. Many were the stay-at-homes last night and the vaudeville and motion picture houses were once more frequented by a scattered few. Business was practically at a standstill yesterday afternoon and last night and necessity was the only thing that drove the few shoppers from the fireside, a majority being contented in "cleaning out the family cupboard."

Ice covered the ponds and lakes to a thickness of several inches and a big harvest within the next few days is anticipated by all of the local dealers. The old saying of "It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good" has once more asserted itself and the many family heads who have been out of work for some time past because of slackness in factories hereabouts look forward to a week or more of profitable employment in the ice harvesting work.

So intense was the cold in the Plainfield High School this morning that the temporary heating plant installed during the erection of the new addition was considered inadequate for the needs and school was dismissed for the day. Proprietors of large buildings in the heart of the city experienced great difficulty in getting up sufficient steam to keep the shivering occupants warm.

Nagel reports the lowest temperature since yesterday afternoon as four degrees below zero and although the temperature continued to drop all last night with an even chance of continued coldness today late this afternoon the mercury started to rise slowly and there is now some hope of a slight relief tonight or tomorrow morning. At 7:30 o'clock last night the thermometer registered one below. At 10 o'clock it was three below and between that time and early morning it dropped to four below. The lowest record for January 13 is eight below recorded in 1912 and the lowest for January 14 is ten below recorded in the same year.

HIS LETTER FIGURES IN AN ESTATE SUIT

Missive, 'Tis Said, Shows Animosity of Son Towards Departed Mother.

Newark, Jan. 14.—Vice-Chancellor Howell, before whom there was a preliminary legal skirmish yesterday on the return of a rule to show cause why Col. J. M. Hardy, of Plainfield, should not be given control of $250,000 worth of securities which have been kept in a safe deposit box at The Plainfield Trust Company rented by his late wife, Mrs. Hannah M. Hardy and himself, as "joint tenants," has promised an early decision on the question of whether or not to tie up the securities pendent lite.

Late yesterday afternoon there was an adjournment at the request of Ralph E. Lunn, counsel for Henry V. A. Parsell, Mrs. Hardy's son by a former marriage, who wants more time to present additional evidence. Charles A. Reed, of the firm of Reed & Hetfield, of Plainfield, represents Col. Hardy, and in his efforts to show animosity on the part of Mr. Parsell toward his client, the following letter written by the son to his mother was put in evidence:

"We visited the Spicers about a month ago, and they returned the visit a fortnight ago next Sunday. Mary says she wrote to you twice since she received your letter and wonders why she did not hear from you again. This is additional confirmation of a belief that I have had for some years, that those who have assumed the responsibility of controlling or rather trying to control your person and your property, permit only such letters to reach you as they deem expedient or merely friendly and intercept those which they deem incompatible with their own selfish schemes.

"This is not meant in any spirit of malice, but rather with a feeling of deep sorrow that there are those who are so blinded by the desire for immediate present and worldly benefits that they do not see that these things are but transient and not to be compared with the real and permanent treasures and blessings who rightfully inherit the Kingdom. It is a matter of continual wonderment to me how you can continue to live in an atmosphere so antagonistic to the aspirations to your evolving soul.

"Now that the superficial clamors of mere romantic sentiment has passed away and you find your consenting relationship a mere skeleton devoid of true, mutual respect and love I cannot believe you feel it was in any way incumbent upon you to continue in this unholy relation to the end of your earthly days."

SUFFRAGISTS BUSY WITH LEGISLATURE

"Votes for Women" Introduced in Both Houses and Mrs. Feickert is Hopeful.

Trenton, Jan. 14.—With a delegation or ardent suffragists present as sponsers for the launching, the women suffrage resolution was started on its way in the Legislature yesterday afternoon. In order to make sure of early progress, the women had the measure put in each House. Senator Egan, of Hudson, put in on the Senate calendar, and Democratic Leader Branegan, of Hudson, put it in the Assembly. It provides for the necessary amendment to the State Constitution to give women the ballot.

"We are extremely confident of its success," declared Mrs. E. F. Feickert, of Plainfield, president of the New Jersey Women Suffrage Association and the leader of the delegation. "More than a majority of the members of each branch of the Legislature have assured us of their support, so it looks as if the resolution would surely pass."

Besides Mrs. Feickert, those in the delegation were: Miss Esther G. Ogden, president of the Elizabeth Suffrage League; Miss Elizabeth Pope, of Jersey City, chairman of the press committee of the State Association; Mrs. James Billington, of Jersey City; Mrs. Frank H. Sommer, of Newark; Mrs. R. T. Newton, of Nutley, and Mrs. S. Norris Craven, of Trenton.

IN POLICE COURT.

Arrested yesterday by Patrolman Mernagh, James Cavenaugh, of Mt. Holley, was released this morning on a suspended sentence when arraigned before City Judge DeMeza. The defendant said he was cold and took several glasses of whiskey to warm himself up. He caused a disturbance in the vicinity of Front street and Park avenue.

SESAME CLUB MEETING.

The Sesame Club will meet at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at the home of Mrs. Frank L. Holt, 941 Kensington avenue.

CHANCE FOR ALL TO EARN RICHES

HONESTY IN WEALTH

No Need to Be Poverty-stricken and Fortune Hunters Do Not Have to Go Out of Their Own City to Gain Wealth According to Speaker.

Outlining in a graphic way the economic side of the nation's life and driving home his thoughts by means of vivid illustrations, Rev. Dr. Conwell, pastor of the Baptist Temple, Philadelphia, held spellbound an audience that packed the parlors of the Park Avenue Baptist church last night while delivering a two hours' discourse on "Acres of Diamonds." He said in part:

"There is no excuse for the twentieth century person to be without wealth and every man if he exercises his powers to their best advantages can obtain his share of this world's goods. There is no evil in being wealthy if money is used judiciously. Ninety-eight out of every hundred so-called rich men in the world are honest and the ones exposed in publicity chronicles as takers of graft and possessors of illegitimate fortunes are the two dishonest characters in each hundred. The poor have no right to be poor. Capital is not needed to secure a fortune. Experience is the watch word and this experience must be judiciously applied by the individual.

"There are a number of farms in the oil districts of Pennsylvania which were sold by their owners because they were considered a barren waste and someone has purchased these properties with a view to speculation and are now owners of oil fields that are worth millions of dollars. Farmers who were at one time poverty stricken have exercised their experience and have come into a fortune. Every man gets what he is worth out of this life and no individual has a right to conduct a business enterprise unless he receives sufficient return.

"Be honest with yourself. You have no right to sell without profit and if you do you are a thief to yourself. The theory 'to live and let live' should be practised more widely. A notable example of this is the recent announcement of Henry Ford who has distributed "Acres of Diamonds" to his employes and is paving a road to the future. We live in deeds, not years, and the man who inherits money is not as fortunate as one who is poor and earns a title to wealth honestly. Common sense is what the world calls for today and if you combine this with your talent and what money you have you will make a fortune. Wealth is too near you, so near in fact that you glance over its head and far above it. There are great men in Plainfield, as in any other municipality, but they are so plain and simple they are never recognized as the equal of a fellow being.

"Abraham Lincoln's greatness was brought about by concentration of the mind and although he had no capital and little opportunity he used common sense and mounted to the top notch of fame. A majority of people think that they have to invade the commercial world of some big city in order to be a success, but such is not the case. There is opportunity here in Plainfield and the fortune seeker does not have to go to New York."

MRS. MATTHEW LOUGH DIES OF COMPLICATIONS

Mrs. Matthew Lough, aged about 79 years, died of complications this morning at her home, 159 East Front street, following an illness of more than a year. She was a native of Toronto, Canada, and had lived in Plainfield for a number of years. Mrs. Lough was a member of the Brethren, which has a meeting place on East Front street, and until her illness prevented was a regular attendant at the services. She possessed a strong Christian character and was beloved by all who knew her for her many excellent qualities.

There survives two daughters, the Misses Amy and Ida Lough, and four sons, Walter, Percy, Gerald and Hector Lough, all of this city. The announcement of the funeral will be made later.

FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert N. Holder, of Orchard place, celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding at their home, Monday night, when they entertained a few friends in honor of the occasion. The couple were married by Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, late pastor of the First Baptist church, the bride being Miss Ella Milligan, daughter of Mrs. S. W. Milligan. Mr. Holder is a draughtsman in the employ of Arthur E. Smith.

STRENGTH IS SHOWN IN THE DIRECTORATE

The annual meeting of the shareholders of The Plainfield Trust Company for the election of directors was held yesterday afternoon, at which tim the following were re-elected: J. Herbert Case, Frederick Geller, Augustus V. Heely, James W. Jackson, Edward H. Ladd, Jr., Charles W. McCutchen, Henry A. McGee, Harry H. Pond, Charles A. Reed, Isaac W. Rushmore, Frank H. Smith, Samuel Townsend, Cornelius B. Tyler, Lewis E. Waring, Orville T. Waring. These constitute a board of exceptional strength and their names and connections have given the company much of the prestige which it enjoys in its home city and throughout the State.

With the exception of Mr. Geller, who is a prominent New York lawyer, every member of this board makes his home in Plainfield and each takes an unusually active interest in the company's affairs. Included in the list are five prominent New York bankers and the president of a New Jersey banking institution and there is not a name on the list that does not represent some important business activity. To its directorate, as well as to its conservative policy, is largely due the high place which the company occupies in the public confidence, an evidence of this confidence being its deposit line of nearly four and a half millions of dollars.

Since its organization in 1902 with a capital of $100,000, the institution has accumulated a surplus and profit account of $273,000, or nearly three times the amount of its capital.

The official management is now in the following hands: O. T. Waring, president; A. V. Heely, Henry A. McGee and J. H. Cass, vice-presidents; DeWitt Hubbell, secretary and treasurer; F. I. Walsh, assistant secretary-treasurer, and Adele H. Kirby, assistant treasurer.

TWO HUNDRED ENJOY FINE TURKEY DINNER

First M. E. Church Ladies' Aid Society Provides An Excellent Menu.

Under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the First M. E. church, one of a series of dinners was given in the basement of the church last night, following a business meeting of the society at 5 o'clock. There were about two hundred turkey dinners served from 6:30 to 8 o'clock and all agreed that the menu was one of the best yet given by the society. Sociability was a marked feature of the affair.

Mrs. Herbert E. Parker was chairman of the committee in charge, the women whose names begin with L, M N, O, P and Q comprised the general committee, as follows:

Mrs. I. H. Marvin, Mrs. A. M Most, Mrs. A. B. Meredith, Mrs. Maurice B. McGrath, Mrs. Arthur McVoy, Mrs. Percy McVoy, Mrs. H. R. Moyer, Mrs. C. A. Martin, Mrs. John M. Lewis, Mrs. Arthur H. Osmun, Mrs. J. C Peck, Mrs. William Vreeland, Mrs Henry A. McGee, Mrs. Harry L. McGee, Mrs. Nelson A. Miller, Mrs. Fred Lynn, Sr., Mrs. James L. Pope, Mrs James L. Love, Mrs. Russell Perrine, Mrs. Harry Littell, Mrs. O'Neill. These women were assisted by about thirty young women of the church who served the dinner.

MEN ALSO INVITED.

The men of Plainfield are especially invited to attend the lecture to be given by Rev. Dr. Samuel M. Zwemer, of Cairo, Egypt, on the "Fullness of Time for the Moslem World," at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening at the First Baptist church. Dr. Zwemer is a lecturer of such wide repute that the Federation of Women's Missionary Societies, under the auspices of which he comes to Plainfield, engaged him for the evening so that the men of the city might have an opportunity of hearing him speak.

PLANNING ANNUAL DINNER.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the annual banquet of the Board of Trade to be held on Monday night, February 23, has appointed A. E. Force and Eugene M. Laing to secure a place for holding the banquet and to engage a caterer and report to the general committee at a later date.

—Although the thermometer is hovering around the zero mark, Neuman Brothers are offering a splendid line of fresh vegetables such as are usually prevalent in the market during the summer months. The display at their Watchung avenue market is the finest they have ever presented at this time of the year.—Adv.

SUE A. C. WADLEY FOR BIG DAMAGES

Mrs. Greene, Victim of Collision, Asks $10,000 and Husband Demands $5,000.

CHAUFFEUR SUES, TOO

Driver of Car Wants $2,000—Claim Wadley Had No License to Drive Car Which Crashed into One in Which Mrs. Greene Was Seated.

Albert C. Wadley, of 1025 Central avenue, has been made the defendant in a joint action for damages brought by J. Harry Greene and his wife, Mrs. Katherine M. Greene, through their counsel, Reed & Hetfield, as the result of an automobile accident at West Seventh street and Central avenue, on December 4, when it is claimed that a machine being driven by Mr. Wadley ran into one in which Mrs. Greene was riding and which was driven by her chauffeur, Abner Hancock, who also seeks damages to the extent of $2,000. Mrs. Greene seeks $10,000 damages, while her husband's action is for $5,000 for expenses, etc., incurred as a result of injuries to his wife.

Mrs. Greene's automobile was traveling through Seventh street, at the time, while Mr. Wadley was driving along Central avenue, the cars meeting at the corner. It is the contention of counsel for the Greenes that Wadley at the time had no license for driving his car, but simply a permit which gave him permission to go out with a licensed driver, and was therefore violating the State automobile law. Accompanying him in the car on the day of the accident was his brother, Alfred R. Wadley, of Chicago.

CLERGYMAN ASKS $10,000 DAMAGES

Rev. William S. McCoy, formerly rector of Holy Cross church, North Plainfield, through his counsel, Reed & Hetfield, has begun a suit for $10,000 damages against Jacob A. Fass, and his chauffeur, William Davis, colored, in which he will seek to recover for injuries received by him on May 2 last, when an automobile owned by Mr. Fass struck him, inflicting injuries from which he claims he is still suffering.

Mr. McCoy has since resigned the rectorship of Holy Cross church, which, it is claimed, was compulsory because of his present physical condition. The former rector is still residing here, his plans for the futue being undecided.

At the time of the accident, Mr. McCoy was about to step into J. W. Moledezky's stationery store at 205 West Front street, when the automobile, which had been standing in front of the owner's place of business, suddenly shot across the street, crashing into J. W. Wirth's bakery, joining the stationery store, and knocking Mr. McCoy down.

It was claimed that William Davis, the chauffeur, had cranked up the machine with the clutch in, causing the auto to start off. At the time Davis, it is said, made the assertion that some boys had thrown the clutch in for a joke. Mr. McCoy was removed to his home, and for a long time was under the care of a physician and finally was obliged to go away for treatment.

BOROUGH PINOCHLE CLUB ATTENDED THE BANQUET

The winners of the tournament were presented with boxes of cigars, a gift from Mr. Feaster, who enjoyed the evening with the merrymakers. The banquet room was decorated in red and green.

STYLE RELIABILITY

As there is a science of stars called astronomy; a science of quantities called mathematics; a science of qualities called chemistry; so there is a science of business—as yet unnamed—which will illumine and clarify the value of Honesty and Fair-dealing.

Altho Benjamin Franklin said that "to see things by faith is to close the eye of reason," we are buying things on faith today more than we ever did before.

Our pre-eminence in selling "Most Things Men Wear" is not the result of our patrons' understanding of the merchandise, but of their faith in the Rothberg Store.

They know what we stand for—what we have stood for—and they know that we would rather retire from business than violate one little whit of that confidence.

WILLIAMS NOMINATED.

Senate Expected to Confirm Him For Currency Post.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The first and in fact, the only nomination sent to the senate by President Wilson was that of John Skelton Williams of Virginia to be comptroller of the currency. Mr. Williams is now assistant secretary of the treasury.

Senators who had been looking longingly in the direction of the White House for a batch of long deferred appointments in their respective localities were not happy when they discovered that the only nomination sent in was this one, which is certain to raise a storm of disapproval. There is a belief that Williams will ultimately be confirmed if the president desires it, but there will be delay.

Williams was Secretary McAdoo's choice for the post. Under the new currency law the comptroller of the currency is possessed of vast influence and responsibility.

ARTHUR A. M'LEAN.

Pleads Guilty of Accepting a Campaign Contribution.

Arthur A. McLean, treasurer of the New York state Democratic state committee, prominent in politics for many years, pleaded guilty before Justice Davis in the criminal branch of the supreme court to a violation of section 44 of the general corporation law, which makes it a misdemeanor to accept a campaign contribution from a corporation. There were two indictments against him charging this offense. The first charged him with accepting a check for $1,000 from Matthew Van Alstyne, secretary-treasurer of the Shaughnessy Construction company of Albany, on Oct. 29, 1912. The second indictment charged him with receiving a check for $400 from Harold V. Owens of the Dale Engineering company on Nov. 1, 1912.

BIG FIRE ENDANGERS MONTREAL CATHEDRAL

Firemen Work In Temperature of 25 Below Zero.

Montreal, Jan. 14.—A fire which raged through the wholesale district here for a time threatened the famous Cathedral of Notre Dame, but was put out after a hard fight, with a loss of $200,000.

The firemen were handicapped by the bitter cold, the temperature being 25 degrees below zero. Two of the men had their hands badly frozen. Gasoline burners had to be used to thaw out the fire plugs before the engines could get into action.

Driven by a high wind, the blaze swept through a wholesale hardware warehouse, where it started, and soon took hold of other structures near by. The cathedral was thought to be in serious danger for awhile, but hard work by the firemen stopped the flames before they reached the historic pile.

Earlier in the day a fire started in the Robertson Oliver Grain company storehouse. Owing to the extreme cold the firemen had the greatest difficulty fighting the blaze. Water froze before it reached the building, which was partially destroyed with $50,000 loss.

For a time the fire threatened all property surrounding the grain storehouse. Two or three other buildings were badly damaged. After the fire was under control tons of ice were coated over the building. More than 200,000 bushels of grain and a great amount of hay was in the storehouse.

Weather Forecast.

SEEK LINER LOST WITH 150 ABOARD

Sends Wireless Call For Aid.

IN THE BAY OF FUNDY

Korth German Lloyd Liner Is Near.

WAS BOUND FOR ST. JOHN

Position Is Uncertain, but Cobequid Is Believed to Have Struck the Rocks.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 14.—The Royal Mail Packet steamship Cobequid, driven by a gale which piled up mountainous seas, struck on the rocks in the Bay of Fundy.

Wireless messages for help, which were cut off abruptly, were picked up by the Cape Sable station and flashed to ships in the neighborhood, and all day a fleet of revenue cutters and tugs felt their way through the fog looking for the wrecked ship, but without success.

It is feared now that she crashed into one of the reefs which hedge Grand Manan, an island at the entrance to the bay, and that, caught by the tide, which rushes seventeen feet high through the bay, was dragged off and sank.

The Cobequid, bound for St. John from the West Indies, is supposed to have carried between 100 and 150 persons, including her crew of eighty-seven and Captain Howson. There were five first cabin passengers—L. S. Navarra, L. Botta, W. C. Zoller and his wife and child. J. Allsopp of England, a representative of the Royal Mail Packet company, was also on board. Her second cabin was filled with negroes going to Canada for domestic service.

The only messages picked up from the Cobequid direct were received at the Cape Sable wireless station. She flashed word that she was on the rocks off Brier island, with her forward hold filling with water and a bad list. Then the spark of communication flickered and went out, and the Cape Sable operator was unable to reach her again.

Lloyd Liner Is Near.

The message was relayed to the department of marine and fisheries and then sent out over the storm whipped seas to whatever ships happened to be near. The North German Lloyd liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie was one of these. Down from St. John's, Halifax and from other ports little tugs and government steamers put out, and the marine and fisheries department got into communication with the light keeper at Brier island. He said that he had seen nothing of the ship, and it is now thought that Captain Howson was driven out of his course in the snow and mistook Grand Manan for Brier island.

The tug J. L. Cann of Westport worked her way carefully down as far as Northwest ledge and then was forced to return. She saw no sign of the Cobequid and will be sent out again today by her owners. The government steamer Lady Laurier, which left Halifax on buoy service in the morning, was intercepted by wireless and ordered to help in the search. Late in the afternoon she reported very heavy weather, but no sight of the Cobequid.

The American government sent out two revenue cutters, one from Eastport and the other from Portland. They will probably confine their search to the vicinity of Grand Manan. The government steamer Tyrian, Captain Dixon, which was near Grand Manan, and the steamer Lansdowne, which put out from St. John, are also feeling their way along the coast, their officers hoping to get a glimpse of the ship through the drifting curtain of snow.

Made First Trip Dec. 5.

When the Cobequid sailed away from Halifax on Dec. 5 with a large cargo and passenger list the captain and officers were in high hopes of a successful inauguration of the new service, a hope shared by the whole mercantile community.

The ship had a fine run to Bermuda and down through the West India islands and on to Demara, and everywhere the people expressed pleasure at what promised to be a new era in transportation between Canada and the southern islands.

Captain Howson is a man of exceptional ability as a navigator and is held in the highest esteem by his employers. Captain Howson is a native of England and about forty-three years of age. He has a very successful record as a master mariner.

MO-JO White Chewing Gum

Talk No. 31

WHEN a young man hands his sweetheart a box of MO-JOs he rises in her esteem.

He stamps himself in her eyes as a man of discrimination—a man thoughtful enough to protect her from what might be unclean.

He knows the pedigree of MO-JO. He knows it comes from thoroughly clean crude gum.

He knows it is clean and white through and through—that its makers guarantee these qualities and that he can prove them for himself.

About other gums he is not so certain!

THE CHICLE PRODUCTS CO., NEWARK, N. J.

N. P. H. S. NOTES.

Miss Edith Dalley, '14, who has been ill for the past week, returned to her studies yesterday.

The business managers of the A. A. play are having some trouble in selecting a date for the play. The time set at first was February 20, but the hall could not be secured for that time, and the nineteenth was proposed. As this is a schoolday the authorities would not allow it and now it is a question as to whether to hold it on the twenty-seventh or postpone it until April. Nothing definite has yet been decided but the first rehearsal was held yesterday afternoon.

The report cards were given out yesterday morning and the marks were for the most part very high. The midyear examinations will begin on January 28 and extend over a period of one week, one examination a day. The exemption mark is 85 per cent., and to be free from the examination an average 85 per cent. for the four months must be attained. Many of the students will be wholly or partially free from the bore.

Herbert Stine, '11, who has been ill for the past two weeks, has returned to Springfield Training School, where he is a freshman.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Boys' A. A. yesterday it was finally decided to drop the annual play for the present and give it some time in April. The probable date for the entertainment is April 17.

Charles Roll, '16, who has been detained at his home with chicken pox for the past week, returned to school today.

LINCOLN RELICS.

New York, Jan. 14—Collectors and dealers from many parts of the country were on hand today at the opening in this city of the sale of the famous Lincoln collection owned by the late Major William H. Lambert, of Philadelphia. The sale will continue for several days. The collection embraces hundreds of books, manuscripts, letters, personal mementoes and other objects associated with the memory of President Lincoln. The interest of collectors centers largely in the manuscripts and personal letters, of which there are many of great importance, not only throwing light on the inception and growth of the political ideas back of the emancipation of the slaves but also many that have a remarkable interest as bearing upon Lincoln's personal character.

DAZZLING EVENT.

New York, Jan. 14.—The imagination falters when it attempts to foretell the grandeur and magnificence of gold lace and bubbling spirits which will be seen at the Old Guard ball in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. The interior of the big building will be transformed into an immense military tent, brilliantly illuminated for the occasion. Delegations representing the veteran military organization of Boston, Philadelphia, Hartford and other cities will be among the guests. The spectacular feature of the ball, as in previous years, will be the grand military march at midnight, when, to the stirring music of the Old Guard band, a thousand or more officers in the full uniform of their respective commands will pass in review before State and city officials and the great throng assembled to greet them.

Plainfield, N. J., January 14, 1914

ANNEXATION.

We have learned from their respective presidents the aims and objects of the Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce. The former desires to see the annexation of North Plainfield to Union county while the latter's chief ambition is to witness the formation of a new county with Plainfield as its centre. The idea of the Trade Board head is much more practical and more to be wished. The scheme for a new county is beautiful in theory and that is all.

THE PRODIGAL RETURNS.

Harken unto the prodigal son, Col. George Harvey, who first named Woodrow Wilson for the Presidency: "There has never been a more representative administration than the present one. There is the President who cannot be matched by any other man in the party or by any other President who has filled the office." Surely the scholarly editor of the North American Review is a political penitent.

President Wilson will be at his desk in the White House again today. We hope his well-earned rest has not given him so much vigor he will decide to resume his campaign against 'Big Business'—Asbury Park Times.

Mr. Wilson has no grievance against "Big Business." His fight is against dishonest business and there is quite a difference.

Postmaster Bird well deserves the enconiums received by him at the annual banquet of the Letter Carriers' Association the other night. If left to a vote of the people, the present efficient incumbent would be returned to that post indefinitely, but as "to the victors belongs the spoils," he must submit to his fate at the end of his present term within a short while.

A Housewives' League is the latest thing for Plainfield. They have them in many cities but the idea has just been introduced here. Most people do not have an understanding of its purposes and for their benefit let it be said that the plan is to insure purity of foodstuffs, full weight and measure and no exhorbitant prices.

Have you put that date down—Jan. 23? That's when the citizens will meet to declare unto the Mayor, the Common Council and other civil authorities that they desire to have no change made in the number of licenses or as to the ordinances pertaining to the sale of liquor.

All who have the pleasure of his acquaintanceship regret that Rev. Arthur E. Wilson has been prompted to resign as pastor of All Souls' church because of ill health. During his short residence here he has made many friends.

The New York Sun is prone to poke fun at William Jenings Bryan, the Secretary of State, but we imagine that the "Boy Orator of the Platte" would rather read the Sun than say Life, Judge or Puck.

Lost, strayed or stolen—The Big Stick. Last heard of about two weeks ago in South America. Reward. Address city editors of all American daily newspapers.

Talk about following in the footsteps of the great, didn't our Acting-Governor emulate the example of our President in making his a nutshell message.

Distance may lend enchantment to the view, but not to the taxicab ride—Newark Star.

But it does to this blixen weather.

"Brevity is the soul of wit." It is also the commendatory feature of Acting-Governor Taylor's message to the Legislature.

Beginning with tomorrow's issue a special weekly feature will be a Christian Endeavor Society column.

Anyway, the cold snap gives the plumber a "snap."

MRS. ELIZA WOODEN HAS PASSED AWAY

Mrs. Eliza Ann Wooden, aged 82 years, wife of the late William T. Wooden, one of the oldest residents of this city, died late yesterday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank S. Wells, 916 Grant avenue. Although she had been gradually failing for the past year, her illness did not become critical until quite recently.

Mrs. Wooden was a native of Plainfield, where she lived during the early part of her life. Later she went to Illinois, where she married. Afterwards she returned to Plainfield, where she continued her residence with three daughters. She lived in Plainfield altogether about forty years. Her birthday anniversary was on Thursday, January 8. Mrs. Wooden was one of the oldest members of the Seventh-day Baptist church.

There survive three children—George Wooden, of South Plainfield; Mrs. Luther D. Morris, of West Front street, and Mrs. Wells, wife of Dr. Frank S. Wells, of Grant avenue. The funeral will be held at the home of her daughter on Grant avenue, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Edwin Shaw will officiate and the burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

DR. HERRING SPEAKS AT EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

The first of the series of evangelistic services, being a continuation of the union week of prayer services of last week, was held at Trinity Reformed church, last night, the congregations of the First Baptist, First M. E. and First Presbyterian churches uniting. Considering the extremely cold weather the attendance was good and there was considerable interest manifested.

Rev. J. Y. Broek, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, was in charge of the service. Rev. Dr. Phillip B. Strong, of the First Baptist church, offered prayer and Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, read the Scriptures.

Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, made the address, his subject being, "Called to be Christs," in which he emphasized the importance of right living on the part of Christians, and pointing out to them some of their duties as followers of Christ. The talk was of an evangelistic nature. The service tonight will be at the First Presbyterian church and Rev. J. Y. Broek will speak.

DANIEL C. NOLAN NOW IS MANAGING EDITOR

Daniel C. Nolan, a native of North Plainfield, has just been made managing editor of the Yonkers, (N. Y.) Daily News, and vice-president of the Yonkers News Publishing Company. During his younger days, Mr. Nolan was employed at the local branch store of the Union Pacific Tea Company, and later was made manager of the branch. In March, 1889 he was transferred to Yonkers, where he had charge of the company's store. Afterwards he became circulation manager of the Yonkers Herald and then became connected with the Meadow Brothers Press Company, owners of the Gazette Press.

Mr. Nolan then organized the Yonkers Daily News Company. He is an Elk, a member of the Republican Club of New York and the Yonkers Corinthian Yacht Club.

SUNDAY AMUSEMENT BILL IS INTRODUCED

One of Sixty-three Proposed Laws Finds Its Way Into the Legislature.

Trenton, Jan. 14.—Bills of prime importance were among the sixty-three presented to the House at the opening session. Mr. Kirkpatrick introduced the chancellor jury commission act of 1913 without the referendum feature. This is the same act which passed both houses of the last legislature, was submitted to the voters and adopted by popular vote and declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. The court's objection was to the referendum, and Mr. Kirkpatrick has removed that feature.

Not a bill, but a resolution amending the Constitution to admit of female suffrage, was the offering of Majority Leader Branegan to redeem pre-election promises. It consists of the insertion of the words and "female" at every point where the word "male citizens" appears in section 3 of the Constitution. That is the section providing for the extension of suffrage to all male citizens of the State.

Local option in applying the Sunday law governing indoor and outdoor amusements on that day is sought by a provision that the Board of Aldermen, Common Council, Township Committee or other governing body of any municipality in the State, or camp meeting associations shall have power to adopt ordinances to regulate and prohibit the act made unlawful by the first four sections, and the eighth section of the vice and immorality act.

The amendment ratifies the law and propose to amend it so that it can be applied locally as the citizens think fit.

Another important bill presented by Mr. Bloom provides for optional forms of government by popular vote. Briefly, it allows for the adoption of any of three kinds of local government—Federal, which is by common council or aldermanic board, commission government, or government by a city manager. It provides for a system of voting at election by which the voter makes a first, second and third choice.

TRIED TO THAW PIPES HIS HOUSE SET AFIRE

William Clark forgot to take the precaution to let the water drip from the faucets in his home at Pearl street and Watchung avenue last night, and this morning, finding the pipes clogged up with frozen water started to thaw them out with improvised lighted torches made of newspapers. Beginning at the cellar, he held the blazing paper far up into the space between the partition where the water pipes "run" up into the kitchen. As is usually the case the wooden flooring and studs caught fire and Joseph Farley, a passerby pulled fire alarm box No. 141.

The borough fire apparatus arrived quickly on the scene and saved the house from ruin. Although the blaze had spread a considerable distance behind the plastered walls of the kitchen, Lieutenant Albert Fritz and Driver William Hogan, of the fire department, soon ran the chemical hose to the cellar and extinguished the flames after a few minutes hard work. The damage is estimated at $50.

MISSIONARY'S WORK IN SIAM HER THEME

Mrs. Duncan Bulkley, of New York, addressed the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue church yesterday afternoon, telling of some of her experience while on a visit some time ago to her son, Dr. L. Constant Bulkley in Siam. The latter is engaged in work as a medical missionary in Siam, where he has met with considerable success.

Mrs. Bulkley told of the new conditions in Siam, of the advancement of the mission work, emphasizing the fact that the king is a young man of the progressive type and that through his influence, the missionaries found it much easier to carry on their work among the native people. Dr. Bulkley expects to come home on a furlough in the spring. After the meeting an opportunity was given those present to personally meet the speaker of the afternoon.

BORO' FIREMEN MEET.

At the meeting of the borough firemen held last night, Fred Krausse, of Company No. 1, and Clinton Conover and Claude Hand, of Company No. 2, were elected delegates to the convention of the Firemen's Relief Association. Fire Chief William McCullough presided. Following the transaction of business matters, cards were played and refreshments were served.

CHOIRMASTER SMITH PROVIDES A PROGRAM

The members of the Bryant-Lincoln Parent-Teacher Association met in the Bryant School auditorium last night and were entertained by S. Frederick Smith, choirmaster of Grace Episcopal church, and his choir boys. Previous to the musical program rendered by the entertainers Mr. Smith explained the object of the choir work and described the need for physical exercise for the youth of today.

He outlined the relation of deep breathing and physically perfect bodies to the quality of the product and the means he employs in securing soloists in his choir. Mr. Jones, of the Recreation committtee, also gave a short informal talk on "Efficiency," explaining the local movement to turn school houses into public recreation centers and the good that this branch of work is doing for the growing young man of the time.

DR. FRANK DUMOULIN RAISED TO BISHOPRIC

Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, was among those present at the consecration of Very Reverend Frank DuMoulin, LL. D., Dean of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, as bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Ohio, on Thursday, the imposing ceremonies being held at Cleveland. Bishop DuMoulin is a brother of Rev. Walter DuMoulin, who has been preaching at Holy Cross church, this borough, for several Sundays, and he himself has officiated on a number of occasions at Grace church. He is a warm friend of Rev. Dr. Stevenson.

Bishops and priests of the United States, Porto Rico and Canada, two crucifers, college representatives and lay members of the standing committee formed the procession which advanced down the east aisle and up the centre of the cathedral as Trinity's choir sang the processional litany.

Following the very imposing ceremonies, a luncheon was given at the University Club, in Cleveland, and Mr. Stevenson was among the guests present on that occasion. Bishop DuMoulin is widely known throughout the east, as was his father who was Bishop of Niagara.

MISS EUGENIE LADENBURG

Friends of Miss Eugenie May Ladenburg were much concerned when they learned for the first time that she is in St. Luke's hospital, New York, suffering from a cold which she contracted early last summer. Miss Ladenburg is twenty years old. Her friends had been told that she and her mother were traveling in the west, when as a matter of fact they had rented a private lodge at Saranac, where Miss Ladenburg was placed under the care of Dr. Trudeau. During Christmas week Miss Ladenburg's condition became alarming, and Dr. Trudeau advised that she be brought to New York for treatment.

Record In Metropolis Is 6 Below Zero.

New York, Jan. 14.—Intense cold which has not been equaled since 1899 and which bade fair to reach a point which would take the wiseacres back forty-three years before finding a parallel, was New York's portion in the cold wave which swept the eastern states and seaboard.

The total record of deaths in the metropolitan district from exposure or otherwise directly to be attributed to the cold was an even dozen, and reports were still coming in.

The distinction of being the coldest spot in the continent, however, fell to White River, Ont., on the north shore of Lake Superior, where the official report placed the mercury at 48 degrees below zero. But there were a number of other points on the map which were in the running. Syracuse, N. Y., shivered under 22 below, while Sault Ste. Marie went the up state city 4 better. Albany and Rochester appeared with 14 and 10 below respectively, while Boston chimed in with its best offering at 6 below. All of these cities reported high wind but there was little snow.

Additional reports gave Saranac Lake in the Adirondacks and Remsen, N. Y., which is in the foothills of the North woods, the lowest temperature in New York state. Both reported the mercury registering 42 degrees.

The prowlers who roam up and down beneath the Park row elevated pillars of a summer night had all disappeared like coyotes in their burrows. Here and there on the east side policemen on patrol found what appeared to be bundles of rags curled up behind doorways, but even the hardest hearted of them could not order the vagrant sleeper to "move on."

Up at the municipal lodging house in East Twenty-fifth street Superintendent W. B. Yorke reported that 1,081 men, women and children had made application for lodging.

PINCHOT FOR SENATOR.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 14.—A rally of Pennsylvania Progressives, marking the opening of the Washington party's United States senatorial and gubernatorial campaign, began here today and will continue over tomorrow. County chairmen and other party leaders from all over the State are in attendance. Interest in the gathering is increased by the probability that the rally will be made the occasion for the formal launching of the candidacy of Gifford Pinchot for United States senator.

CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN AT ONCE, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

In One Minute Your Stuffy Nose and Head Clears, Sneezing and Nose Running Cease, Dull Headache Goes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it. Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Adv.

ELOPING GIRL IS TO RETURN HOME

PARENT STILL LOVES HER

Nurses Her Dad In Mobile Hotel When He Is Unable to Sleep—Will Return to Her Home In Pemberton After Preliminary Hearing of Millionaire Companion.

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 14.—Delilah Bradley, the girl who eloped from her home at Pemberton, N. J., with Joel M. Foster, a millionaire, of Brown's Mills, N. J., will return home after the preliminary examination of Foster on a charge of white slavery before United States Commissioner Richard Jones, Jr., tomorrow. She will go with her father, Harry E. Bradley, who is here.

"I will go back home with you," said the girl to her father when they met in the office of the United States district attorney's office. The father was weary and worn, but he smiled at his daughter and caressed her.

"I love you as much as I ever did," he said. "You are still my daughter. Your place is at home with your mother."

Miss Bradley was called to the office of the United States district attorney to talk over the case with those who will prosecute Foster. While she was there her father was brought into the room.

"Papa!" she cried.

"Yes, Delilah," he said, "and I am here to take you back home."

Father and daughter had a long talk in the district attorney's office.

Mr. Bradley was on the verge of a nervous collapse when he reached Mobile.

"I have not slept a wink since I left my home," he said.

The young woman was very much worried over her father's nervous condition, and after he had retired she called at his room a number of times to learn "if he was all right." When he answered he was not sleeping and was unable to rest she went to his room with sleeping powders.

"Take these, papa," she said as he opened the door. "They will settle your nerves and help you to sleep." He did so.

RETURNS AFTER THREE YEARS

Boy Goes Back to Parents In Passaic. Father Made Fruitless Search.

Passaic, N. J., Jan. 14.—Missing from his home nearly three years, Walter Thomas Darby, fifteen years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald C. Darby, returned to his home here of his own accord. He has been living on a farm in Pennsylvania.

Without telling anybody of his intentions young Darby left Passaic May 8, 1911. Despite the efforts of the police throughout the country he succeeded in hiding his identity, and after spending a month in the hands of the authorities at Easton, Pa., he went to live with a farmer at Bath, Pa. Over a hundred clews were run down by his father, who spent much of the three years in a fruitless search. Worry caused Mrs. Darby's hair to turn gray, and it was feared she might not recover from her grief. Overjoyed at his return, they will celebrate with a party.

FIND BOY FROZEN TO DEATH.

Father Lay Unconscious From Exposure In Boat—Struck by Gale.

Millville, N. J., Jan. 14.—An oyster sloop sighted an open boat adrift on the Delaware bay, in the bottom of which Dunham Earl was found unconscious from exposure, and beside him lay his sixteen-year-old son, Charles, frozen to death.

The two were tonging for oysters in the Maurice river cove when a heavy gale struck their small craft and drove them toward the Delaware shore. They were drifting seaward when picked up. The boat was towed into the Maurice river and physicians are making every effort to restore the man to consciousness. Earl is a native of Delaware, where his wife and family reside at Bowers Beach.

BRIEF STATE ITEMS.

The boy killed on the Jersey Central railroad drawbridge in Bayonne was identified as Alexander Rosenburg, eight years old, of New York.

Fire in the cellar of the Roseville Tea company's building in Newark drove the bank examiners who were going over the books. No papers were destroyed.

Building Inspector Edward Gilbertson's annual report shows that the improvements in Bayonne in 1913 cost $1,397,594, the second largest amount invested in a year in the history of the city.

Members of the Ministerial union created a vice commission, consisting of three ministers and twelve laymen, to investigate the police and to endeavor to end violations of the law in Atlantic City. They also opposed local option.

The Rev. Arthur E. Wilson, who has been pastor of All Souls Unitarian church in Plainfield for the last year, has resigned because of ill health and will return to his former home, near Boston. His resignation takes effect on Feb. 1.

PRESIDENT HUERTA.

Announces the Interest on Bonds Has Been Suspended.

Alleging as its excuse that the pacification of the country is the first duty facing the Huerta government, formal announcement was made that the semiannual interest payment on Mexico's internal and external bonded debt due this month will be passed. It was said that all available funds will be applied in financing the army, buying arms and ammunition and paying the soldiers. The principal internal and external loans of Mexico are held for the most part in the United States, Great Britain, France and Germany.

HUERTA TO DEFAULT ON MEXICAN DEBT

Dictator Reaches Decision After Long Conference.

Mexico City, Jan. 14.—After a long cabinet meeting President Huerta published a decree suspending the semiannual payment of interest on the bonds representing the government's internal and foreign debts. Foreign Minister Moheno has been instructed to notify the nations of the world of this action.

The Huerta regime is in the most serious financial straits. It is believed that the government's desperate need of funds was the subject of yesterday's conference between the provisional president and Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires.

Huerta is straining every nerve to stop the exportation of gold, which is bought here at a premium of 12 per cent in Mexican bank notes, which enables the buyer to make a good profit in the United States.

The commission which was to arrange the guarantee under which the banks will be permitted to issue notes to the extent of three times their specie reserve has not yet been formed, and its formation is still indefinite.

Huerta feels that he must at any cost obtain money for his troops. The disaffection among the unpaid soldiers is spreading daily in spite of the execution of many who were suspected of trying to incite their comrades to revolt.

The recent activities of the rebels within a few miles of Mexico City have caused consternation in government circles. Ozumba, about thirty miles south of the capital, was the scene of a bloody battle. About 1,800 Zapatistas captured the town and ransacked the houses. At Atlixco they repeated their operations, burning a number of houses. Federal troops were sent after the rebels and succeeded in catching up with them. Over 200 rebels were killed in the ensuing fight.

CURLEY BOSTON'S MAYOR.

Elected Over Kenny by Approximate Plurality of 5,000.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 14. James M. Curley, Democratic congressman from the Tenth district and a resident of Dorchester, was elected to a four year term as mayor of Boston by a plurality over Thomas L. Kenny of South Boston, his only opponent, being in the neighborhood of 5,500. Curley is a direct descendant of Mayor James Lynch of Galway, Ireland, who in 1493 tried, sentenced and hanged his own son for the murder of a fellow student.

Mr. Curley's victory was a notable one. He made his fight in the face of what appeared to be overwhelming odds, practically the entire press of the city, most of the Democratic ward leaders, the Republicans and the reformers being lined up against him.

HUMAN WASTE IN WAR.

Macedonian Male Population Reduced From 175,000 to 42,000.

Sofia, Jan. 14.—The cost of human life in military conquests is strikingly shown in the census just taken of the territorial additions which the Balkan war gave to Bulgaria.

In the portion of Macedonia allotted to Bulgaria there were before the war 175,000 male inhabitants. There are now 42,500.

In Bulgarian Thrace the number was reduced from 494,000 to 225,000.

Of 32,000 males in Mustapha Pasha before the war only 4,000 remain.

THOUSANDS KILLED BY VOLCANO

Many Die In Japanese Eruption.

TOWNS ARE WIPED OUT

City of Kagoshima Is Completely Destroyed.

LAVA BURIES HUNDREDS.

Catastrophe Most Disastrous Since the Eruption of Mount Pelee.

Tokyo, Jan. 14.—According to dispatches received here, thousands are dead in the Sakurashima volcano disaster.

With the first eruption of the volcano the island of Sakurashima, in the bay, was enveloped in masses of flame. Its three villages were entirely wiped out, and it is believed that most of its 15,000 people perished.

The city of Kagoshima, on the mainland, with 64,000 people, has been totally destroyed in much the same manner as Pompeii and Herculaneum were obliterated by Mount Vesuvius.

Thousands of fleeing people who escaped the burning city and villages were trapped in the blazing forests to the north, set ablaze by the white hot rocks belched forth by the volcano and were burned to death.

Details of the Disaster.

Tokyo, Jan. 14.—The city of Kagoshima, on the mainland of Kiushiu, was totally destroyed by the eruption of Sakurashima volcano, according to latest dispatches reaching here.

Kagoshima had a population of 64,000, most of whom were employed in the manufacture of the famous Satsuma pottery. It is believed here that many thousands of the men, women and children of the city perished.

Many of the inhabitants of the stricken island and of Kagoshima who escaped the lava streams and the showers of rocks and ashes perished in the blazing forests, which were set on fire by the incandescent rocks.

The entire countryside was devastated.

The telegraph operator who sent the last message out of the doomed city said over the wire that he was the only living person remaining in the town. Because his message was cut off in the middle of an unfinished sentence it was presumed that he died at his post.

Fugitives Put Death List High.

Terror stricken fugitives reaching the mainland of Kiushiu island from Sakurashima today said that fully 5,000 men, women and children must have perished as the result of the continued eruption of the volcano on the small island. They said that more than 10,000 persons remained on the island in the harbor after the 150 earthquakes gave warning of danger, and of these about half are supposed to have perished.

Sakurashima volcano, which has been dormant for 130 years, continued today to belch forth lava and hot rocks interspersed with fire and ashes, and the surrounding country was deluged.

Late reports said that another volcano in the center of Japan was in active eruption, destroying life and property. No attempt was made to estimate the casualties and the extent of the damage.

Enormous rocks, white hot, were hurled twenty miles and more into the interior and set the forests on fire. For a distance of eight miles north of Kagoshima the railway lines were blocked by volcanic rocks and destroyed by fire. Trainloads of refugees were cut off and had to flee on foot.

The disaster in Kagoshima bay is probably the worst volcanic demonstration since the French island of Martinique was destroyed in 1902 with the loss of 30,000 lives.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 50.

LET'S have a smile at this gladsome season. Sometimes, you know, advertising contains a smile that wasn't intended as such by the advertiser. Here's a sample:

In an "up-State" New York newspaper there once appeared the following little notice:

My! I wonder if all the inhabitants of that place are goats.

Which reminds me: In the New York Herald there appeared the following Want Ad: HELP WANTED, MALE—Young men playing violin and piano, to join amateur orchestra. Apply Monday evening ,with instruments, 23 W. 44th Street. .... Golly; the pianists were up against a hard one, weren't they?

And while we're smiling, let me tell you that Franklin P. Adams, the "Always in Good Humor" man of the New York Evening Mail, says that he knows of a man, a retired liquor dealer, who calls his country estate "Alco Hall." Also, that another man, who has a Long Island bungalow which he occupies only two weeks during the year, calls it "Seldom Inn." Still another, a lawyer friend of the humorist, has a round sort of cottage on Cape Cod which he terms "Circuit Court."

That last paragraph hasn't anything to do with advertising. But those of us who read the ads. in newspapers and magazines and other media—and who doesn't read the ads., I'd like to know?—see some awfully funny things once in a while. One could write a book on advertising "bulls."

Sometimes a little bit of humor in an advertisement is a good thing. There's a limit, however—a danger-line where advertising intended to be funny or clever offends the reader. There is a lot of advertising done that isn't worth serious consideration as a business-producing force. But is there too much advertising? I think not. Let me bring this little wandering Talk to a close by quoting a writer in "Newspaperdom" on that subject.

"Is there too much advertising? No, there is too much mad-vertising, too much fad-vertising, too much bad-vertising, but there isn't too much advertising."

The Useful Piece Bag.

A piece bag or rag bag can be made in orderly storehouse of useful odds and ends, if it is properly cared for. And in reality it takes no longer to put the pieces away properly than to pile and push them in ahit-and-miss fashion.

To begin with, the most convenient sort of piece bag is not one bag, but several. There can be a big one, with half a dozen pockets, with draw strings in the top, stitched on it. Or there can be a door bag for the pieces, with a big lower section and six or eight smaller pockets at the top.

The big part of the bag should be for white scraps. They should all be smoothly folded. These can be called on for linings, window cloths, patches for sheets and underwear and for dolls' clothes.

Colored cotton scraps of all sorts should go into another section. Each sort should be tied in a neat roll by itself, so that if it is needed for mending it can be got at easily. It is a good plan to have two sections for colored scraps—one for those which are of no further usefulness for mending, because the frocks which they match are worn out, and one for those still possibly needed for mending. Occasionally the colored rolls should be sorted and put in the section to which they belong.

One of the little bags should be reserved for woolen pieces. These can be used for mending; they can also be used for lining coats and waistcoats and ironing holders, and they can be used for polishing and cleaning cloths.

Odd pieces of lace can be put in another section of the bag. These can be used for trimming underwear and lingerie of all sorts.

Silks can be put in still another section. These can be called on at Christmas time when they can be used for various little knicknacks—bags and sachets and cushions. They also prove useful for linings of various sorts and for trimmings. Bits of chiffon and net and crepe de chine can also be placed in this section, and these can be used for small roses with which to trim negligees and fancy work.

Ribbons should be put in another section. Used ribbons can be washed and ironed, under a piece of tissue paper, and put in the bag, for they will be found useful. They can be folded and overhanded in short lengths to serve as hangers for skirts and coats, and they can be used in many places to cover raw edges of seams and hems.

New ribbons can be used for fancy work and for facings and, in this day of combination, for trimmings.

By Alice Gibson

It is sometimes difficult to think of an appropriate gift for the "new" baby, something that will be useful as well as ornamental.

No. 6741 is a tiny garment that would meet this requirement perfectly. It is a carriage wrap that will protect and prevent the little one from catching cold when taking its daily, out of door sun bath. One of the light, warm flannels is an excellent material to make it of or eiderdown. The edges may be bound with ribbon or finished with a hand embroidered scallop in a contrasting silk.

The wrap opens down the front, but is closed at the bottom like a bag. There are no sleeves, and this prevents cold hands, as it is not easy to keep gloves or mittens on such small fingers.

The pattern is cut in but one size and requires 2¼ yards of 36 inch flannel or eiderdown, with ½ yard of ribbon for the edges.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and inclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Some Cookery Suggestions

HOT CREAM SOUPS.

ANY soup is excellent to serve in cold weather, but the ones appended have special value because of their richness. Rich foods add to the fats or heat making forces of the system.

Cold Weather Soups.

Cream of Potato Soup.—Take three quarters of a cupful of milk, two cupfuls of water, four or five small potatoes, a small onion, a tablespoonful of butter, a half teaspoonful each of ordinary and of celery salt, together with a dash of pepper.

Pare and cut the potatoes into small pieces and boil in water until well done. Put through a ricer, then put back on the fire. Add butter and seasoning, then stir in milk until a creamy consistency. It requires about one-third as much milk as strained pulp. Let come to boiling point after adding milk; then serve with croutons.

Cream of Vegetable Soup.—This soup may be made with left over vegetables, meats, soup and gravy. Put these into a saucepan with two cupfuls of hot water and a dash of onion juice. Stir well together and heat thoroughly. Rub a teaspoonful of butter with a teaspoonful of flour and when smooth add to the soup. Mash the vegetables and pour through a strainer. Add a teaspoonful of chopped parsley just before serving.

Cereal Soup.

Cream of Barley Soup.—Take a teacupful of barley, wash and add it to a couple of quarts of chicken or veal stock which has been placed in a saucepan on the fire. Add a chopped onion, a small piece of mace and a piece of cinnamon stick. Let simmer for two hours. Strain through a sieve, then return the stock to the saucepan, adding one ounce of butter. Beat two yolks of eggs with half a pint of milk. Remove the pan from the fire; strain the milk and eggs into the soup. Add pepper and salt.

Cream of Toast Soup.—Place a heaping tablespoonful of butter in a deep frying pan, break two slices of dry bread in pieces and let them brown in the hot butter. Then add one small tablespoonful of flour. Stir the flour in the pan till it is brown. While stirring pour in one quart of boiling water and one pint of hot milk, add one teaspoonful of salt and three dashes of pepper. Add two well beaten yolks of eggs and pour into a soup tureen.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Mrs. Leap Frog's Emerald and Diamond Necklace.

The Frogs Listened Breathlessly.

"ONCE," said daddy, "a great many frogs built a little frog city in a swampy and low field which they called Frog Hollow. They all lived there very happily until one day an awful thing happened. These frogs were very fond of jewelry, and, as green is a frog's favorite color, of course the stone they loved best was the emerald. Young Mrs. Leap Frog was a very well dressed frog and always wore a number of jewels. But one day she lost a magnificent emerald and diamond necklace. She said it must have been taken off her dressing table.

"Now, this made all the frogs feel dreadful, as no outsiders ever came to Frog Hollow.

"Young Mrs. Leap Frog was very excitable, and she went hopping nervously from one leaf to another, crying: 'My emerald and diamond necklace is lost! My emerald and diamond necklace is lost!' She made all the rest of the frogs nervous too. After a few days went by without the necklace appearing young Mrs. Leap Frog insisted on having a detective on the trail. So, as she would hear of nothing else, clever old Johnny Bull Frog was asked if he would act as detective.

"Johnny set to work. One day he reported that certain leaves in the locality of Young Mrs. Leap Frog's home looked as if some one had been sleeping there for a number of nights planning this robbery. Then, as nothing came of that, another day he said, 'Oh, I have a real clew!' All the frogs listened breathlessly.

"'Well,' replied old Johnny Bull Frog in a very mysterious tone, 'there has been some earth torn up near young Mrs. Leap Frog's home, and I think the necklace must be hidden there.'

"So they all went to look and, finding nothing, were about to leave when suddenly young Mrs. Leap Frog's husband came rushing in, crying: 'Here is your necklace. It was fastened to the dress you wore to the last concert we went to.'

"'Oh, yes; I remember now!' said young Mrs. Leap Frog calmly, as if nothing had happened.

"Old Johnny Bull Frog was furious and said, 'Young Mrs. Leap Frog, I hope this will teach you to look for your things carefully before you accuse others of taking them.'

"But all the frogs were so happy that there was not a thief among them that they croaked and danced with great glee, and once more Frog Hollow was a happy city."

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

Timely paragraphs from "The Woman's Journal" of Jan. 10, 1914.

Suffrage Sentiment Growing.

The growing of public sentiment in behalf of the fundamental principle of the right of citizens of a free government to a vote in its affairs, and the changing public demand reflected by the press and literature of our times, which makes the enfranchisement of women one of the foremost topics of discussion, prove our right to assert that our cause has a stronger hold upon the life of the nation today than at any previous time in the history of the struggle for democracy.

Women's Value Recognized.

We rejoice not alone that two nations and one of the richest and largest Territories of the United States have given full suffrage to women during the past year, and that the great State of Illinois has granted nearly full suffrage, but that the increasing recognition of women's value as public servants is constantly manifesting itself. For the first time our country is recognizing the full value of the conservation of its childhood and womanhood as an asset to the nation, as well as its forests and rivers, and following the example of the Federal government in the appointing of Miss Julia Lathrop as the head of the Federal Children's Bureau and Mrs. J. B. Harriman as a member of the Federal Industrial Commission, the Mayor of New York has selected Miss Katharine B. Davis for the position of Commissioner of Corrections of New York city, and California has appointed Mrs. Harriet W. R. Strong, of Whittier, a member of the Advisory Board of the Arizona and California River Regulations Commission. These are but a few of the many evidences of the recognition by the government of women's ability to fill public positions of trust and power.—Anna Howard Shaw.

Apropos of Miss Davis' record the following is of special interest just now:

Her work at the New York State Reformatory for Women has attracted worldwide attention, and Germany has established a "Bedford Institute," modelled after the one she created at Bedford Hills, New York.

A man friend of Miss Elinor Byrns recently objected to Miss Davis' appointment on the ground that the city prisons were "such terrible places they weren't fit for a woman to have anything to do with."

"They aren't so terrible for Miss Davis as they are for the women who are in them," retorted Miss Byrns. "If they are as bad as all that, it is certainly time for a woman to take a hand and straighten things out."

That Miss Davis is the person to do the straightening, everyone who knows her work seems to agree.

Many of the Press readers who have enjoyed Forbes-Robertson's masterly acting will be interested in his article entitled, "Why I Am a Militant Suffragist."

He compares the spirit of the militants to that of the Christian martyrs. "While I do not like the extreme measure of destruction of property, and should draw the line there," he says, "I believe that militancy must be. I believe the militant spirit serves a good end. I know most of the militants personally, and know every one of them to be good wives good mothers and good future citizenesses. * * The United States has no need of militancy. Suffrage is marching on in the United States, and the American press is fair-minded and announces it. In England the press is not fair-minded, nor even honest. When the great victory was won, the passage of suffrage in Illinois, a great State including the second city in the United States, not one paper in London published it. Deliberately they suppressed news of tremendous import. Worse than that, they lie about any news with a suffrage import."

Here is something from Wyoming worth reading and pondering by men and women in our "campaign State of New Jersey":

The benefits of woman suffrage include the nomination of clean candidates, advanced legislation, the business emancipation of women and the diffusion of practical education. Said the Hon. W. O. S. Groesbeak, former Chief Justice of Wyoming, in an address the other day before the suffragists of Cazenovia, N. Y.

The few women who have held office in Wyoming, he said, have been industrious, efficient, polite and zealous in the discharge of their duties. After 44 years' experience, all parties in Wyoming are agreed that no mistake was made in introducing the home element into politics.

In answer to the objection that "women are too emotional to enter the political field," the Judge said: "That's just what we need in the government, a little heart; there is already plenty of head. What we need today is the finer and more sympathetic nature which women as a class possess."

Judge Groesbeak also told with pride how it was suggested in 1890 when the Territory of Wyoming sought admittance as a State, that Congress might require the young commonwealth to cut out woman suffrage from its constitution, and how the men of Wyoming answered: "Wyoming will stay out for a hundred years rather than come in without her women." Congress did not insist and the men and women came in together.

Of special local interest is the following items:

"The management of the New York Hippodrome has offered the New Jersey W. S. A. a benefit performance on January 28. The Hippodrome will be decorated in honor of suffrage, and the banners of the Leagues will be in evidence everywhere. This will mark the first time that the New York Hippodrome, which has been used for many charities and other organized movements, has been devoted to the cause of suffrage. The management asks us to announce that if any other suffrage organization within a hundred miles of New York would like to have a benefit at the Hippodrome, it would be glad to communicate with them, and that it can arrange with the railroads for low rates. In this year's "Spectacle America" there is a big suffrage scene where 300 women members of the company take part. The New Jersey suffragists are going to parade in this scene."

"The two blots on the escutcheon of New Jersey are the lack of woman suffrage and the need of a State college for girls. So Mrs. William Shipman Douglass told the Civic Club of Arlington, N. J., the other day. Mrs. Douglass added: 'If Rutgers is a State college and the finishing point of our public school system, it should be open to girls in all its branches. At present only the domestic science and agriculture courses are open to them. The State owes it to the New Jersey women who wish to attain a higher education to provide them with the means. Girls at present must go to colleges in other States.'"

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 14.—A large and distinguished congregation gathered today in St. John's church, in Georgetown, to witness the consecration of Rev. Frederick B. Howden as Episcopal bishop of New Mexico. A number of well known prelates of the church took part in the ceremonies, which were of a most elaborate character. Bishop Tuttle, of Missouri, officiated, and Bishop Rowe, of Alaska, preached the consecration sermon.

NEW RIDING TOGS.

What the Debutante Will Wear This Spring.

IT'S SMART FOR COUNTRY WEAR.

Decidedly rakish are the newest riding habits for country wear. The skirts or even the bifurcated skirt are passe, and now the young girl wears breeches like her brother's and a very masculine vest.

To complete the costume there are a long coat, a smart looking collar and cravat and a silk velours hat.

The Wedding Ring.

It is just a plain gold band. It is of no value compared to that gorgeous circlet with its coruscating diamond which the young girl proudly flaunts upon the third finger of her left hand. But think of what the wedding ring betokens. Its value is not its intrinsic worth as an article of jewelry. It is the tacit yet eloquent symbol of the golden round of womanly duty lovingly performed, year in, year out, in sickness and in health, with devotion undying and asking no reward but the knowledge of loving, faithful service.

As well think of the old flag, borne through the hell of battle, as nothing more than faded, tattered bunting. It is the emblem of lives laid down for the love of country, "as a lover lays a rose at the feet of his beloved." Even so the wedding ring is the token of a life given daily, hourly, for the sake of all that a woman holds most dear in this human world.

Gown of French Serge.

The bodice is cut low, and a vest of tucked net relieves the somewhat somber effect of the wine shade.

The Height of Fashion.

If we should see a ragged, ill shod woman in the street shivering with cold and misery and her neck bare almost to the shoulders, we would do our best to help her cover them warmly. But she would be in the height of fashion! If we were to offer any neck covering to the smart women who are foolish enough to go about with bare necks and but partially covered chests, we should get no thanks, quite the reverse. They glory in their folly.

Script Letters Which May Be Combined to Form Monograms.

Script letters are always in good taste as this is one of the standard styles which does not vary with fads and fancies.

Pattern number 14230, included a script alphabet in 1-inch, 2-inch, 3-inch or 4-inch sizes; a complete alphabet in any one size in one pattern. This pattern is particularly suitable for marking separate articles, as a number of different combinations or monograms can be made with one pattern.

The 1-inch size is appropriate for use on doilies, tray-cloths, plate-cloths, guest-towels, small bags and many novelties. The 2-inch size should be used on centerpieces, side-board-scarfs, large towels and pillow cases, and the 3-inch size, on luncheon cloths, bath towels, pillow cases and laundry bags. The 4-inch size is suitable for marking bed spreads, blankets, table cloths and pillows.

The originality of the worker may suggest an unlimited variety of stitches for embroidering these initials, but one must depend somewhat on the material and the decoration of the article. Well padded solid embroidery is perhaps the simplest and most popular method used, and the padding of the letters should be done very firmly and smoothly with soft cotton. First go over the stamped lines with fine outlining, then fill in the spaces with coarser stitches, tak-broidery, and the center letter is carried out in outline and fine seed stitches.

For embroidering towels are sometimes outlined and the spaces filled in with French knots. When a monogram is to be combined with a design carried out in eyelets or Richelieu embroidery the wide parts of the letters may be developed in fine eyelets or in ladder work.

This pattern in any one size will be supplied to readers for 10 cents.

THE CIRCUS IS HERE!

Eight hundred Plainfield girls took advantage of the offer made a few months ago by the Plainfield Daily Press through which they secured the "Mother's darling and Nurse Marie" paper dolls. The Press was complimented on all sides for furnishing that delightful family, and because of the great interest, the publishers have been seeking some other equally attractive cut-out for the young people. We have found it in

"MAC" SAYS

STILL BUCKING JOLTS.

It is now up to Miss Lillian Spencer, manager of the North Plainfield High School girls' basketball team to devise some means of compelling rival school girl fives to appear in Saengerbund Hall. In keeping with the records established by other opponents-to-be, the Reading Academy five called off its engagement scheduled for this afternoon with the N. P. H. S. girls. We entertain a slight suspicion that the boroughites are looked upon as a nemesis by suburban rivals.

EVERY WIND BLOWS, ETC.

Taking advantage of the day off presented to Plainfield High School students this morning when the mercury in the thermometer froze up, Captain Andrew Hetfield, of the P. H. S. basketball team led his warriors to the Y. M. C. A. gym where he conducted a polishing up drill for a couple of hours. A few more days like this and Hetty will have a team that can wallop Hope Chapel.

Bob Fitzsimmons returns to the ring today and in New York State, too. But it will be a far different kind of a roped and rosined platform than the one on which the ruby Cornishman is accustomed to. Bob is scheduled to visit the Supreme Court long enough to put the Indian sign on Frank O'Neil, of the Boxing Commission, and obtain an injunction which may be instrumental in securing his right to scrap with padded fists.

Supervisor Welle, of the Y. M. C. A. physical department is wearing the smile that won't come off these days. There has been an addition to the Welle family and although the genial little leader admits he has not as yet consulted the eight-pound boy as to his future we are led to suspect that another physical director has been placed in our midst. He's a life member of the Y. M. C. A. at any rate.

Winter bathing is a popular diversion with the young skaters of Plainfield as evidenced by the number who slip through the surf on Tier's Pond. Moulton was the first to venture into the waters yesterday and he completed the stunt without a shiver.

The red ball is up at the Park Club. The tennis courts have been flooded and the icy surface is excellent for gliders.

It has been announced that the St James' Triangles will appear on the Scotch Plains court next Saturday night, but we are led to suspect that they will think better of keeping a league engagement they have on tap to be contested in New York State the same night.

We also note that Supervisor Batterson has fortified himself against the certain cancellation by booking a reserve contest with the Westfield quintet.

There is some good even in the worst of us. In fact we might say that there is some good in the player who pinches our sweater from the basketball dressing room.

Here's a chance for some of you basketball players who think you are getting the worst of the deal in Scotch Plains to rush a bombthrower to Tier's Pond and get revenge. "Scoop" has taken to skating.

WILLARD NOT GUILTY.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 14.—Jess Willard, the cowboy heavyweight, was acquitted yesterday of the technical charge of murder in connection with the death of Bull Young. Willard knocked out Young at Vernon Cal., last August. Young died a few days later. The jury, which returned the verdict of acquittal yesterday, held that the bout was a boxing contest and not a prizefight.

WITH THE BOXERS

Joe Rivers is to get $4,000 for boxing Ad Wolgast in Milwaukee this month.

Bob Thompson, who defeated Jack Johnson in Galveston soon after Johnson entered the boxing game, is now a street cleaner in Los Angeles.

"Snowy" Baker, the Australian fight promoter has signed Georges Carpentier, the French champion, to appear in a 20-round bout in Sydney during Easter week.

What, you here again! Battling Nelson says he will enter the ring once more and tackle Young Togo in Evansville, Ind., on Washington's Birthday.

Tommy Tracy, who has been an instructor at one of the Portland, Ore., clubs, has joined the bunch of old timers who figure on doing a "comeback" Old Home Week in B flat.

Willie Ritchie wants only a paltry $10,000 for his end of a match with Ad Wolgast. Evidently the champion has not forgotten the old German gentleman and his hard wallops.

Leo Houck believes he can take George Chip's measure and George, being an accommodating cuss, says that when the date and place are named he will be there with a tailor's tape.

BASEBALL NOTES

Joe Cantillion will pitch his training camp for the Minneapolis Millers at St. Joseph, Mo., this spring, and not at Hickman, Ky., as in former years.

Charley Brickley, the celebrated Harvard football captain, is expected to be a candidate for catcher on the Crimson baseball nine this spring.

"Whoa Bill" Phillips, manager of the Indianapolis Feds, has offered Pitcher Earl Yingling a fancy salary to sign with the Hoosiers. Brooklyn traded Yingling to Cincinnati recently.

Goode-bye Feds! Out the window you must go. Evangelist Billy Sunday has slapped the rinky-rink on the new league, and that goes as you find it. The former Cub gardener says the "outlaws" have as much chance as a sealskin coat on the Panama canal in July.

The Northern League season will open May 6, several weeks later than in 1913. Fargo Winona, Superior, Duluth, Grand Forks, Winnipeg, Virginia and Fort William form the new circuit.

"Jes supporsin'" if the Federal League was not signing up big league players, would the major leagues have so readily agreed to the demands of the Baseball Players' Fraternity? Take your time.

Manager Bill Carrigan, of the Red Sox, is trying to put his home town of Lewiston, Me., on the map. The Brockton team, of the New England League, is on the market and Bill is urging his fellow townsmen to buy the outfit.

Boston fans are arranging a benefit for the veteran Charley Ganzel, one of the most famous catchers of his day. Ganzel is suffering from cancer and his physician says the old player's days are numbered.

Charley Herzog is a full-fledged manager now. He has signed "King" Lear, the Princeton pitcher, for his Cincinnati Red Birds.

MAY BAR AUTHOR-PLAYERS.

Princeton, Jan. 14.—That the Princeton athletic board of control will adopt a resolution at its next meeting prohibiting members of the varoius athletic teams from writing signed articles for the papers following big athletic contests was intimated yesterday by one of the board. It was understood that last fall the committee frowned on the students' newspaper efforts, but no definite action was taken on it. However, judging from present indications, the resolution will be adopted at a meeting to be held in the latter part of the month. Such action would constitute another step in removing the marks of professionalism from college athletics.

JOHNSON SHUNS "No. 13."

Paris, Jan. 14.—Arrangements for a fight here between Frank Moran, of Pittsburg, and Jack Johnson were agreed upon formally yesterday afternoon. The principals and their managers were ready to sign when Johnson suddenly remembered it was the thirteenth day of the month. He insisted that the signing be postponed twenty-four hours. The battle is to take place in June, the exact date to be announced later. It will be a twenty-round go, with a $30,000 guarantee. Johnson is to get $5,000 for training expenses.

MIDGET JUMPER ANNEXED FIRST PLACE EVENT

Godfrey Clay, one of the midgets in the large field of competitors who strove for honors in the College League running broad jump held in the Y. M. C. A. gym yesterday afternoon, won first place in the event with a leap of fifteen feet, four inches, outdistancing Starkweather, his nearest rival, by a margin of nearly two feet.

The leaps yesterday ranged from a little over nine feet to Clay's record mark and the contestants were closely bunched for the most part and the various teams made up of members of the boys' department will all be boosted considerably in the point standing.

BOB FITZSIMMONS WILL FIGHT LEGAL BATTLE TODAY

Supreme Court Justice Seabury, of New York, will be asked by Robert (Bob) Fitzsimmons to grant an injunction against Frank S. O'Neil, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, and the other members of the commission to restrain them from carrying out a plan to prevent Bob from appearing in boxing contests in New York State.

Attorney George S. Norton, who represents Fitzsimmons, has obtained the affidavits of Mike Donovan, A. J. Drexel Biddle, John Meek and Doctors Thomas A. Kenyon and Edward R. Rudderow to the effect that Fitzsimmons, at fifty-one years of age, is able to fight at least ten rounds.

Attorney Norton contends the commission has no authority for prohibiting Fitzsimmons from fighting wherever he chooses.

HARD TO DIAGNOSE THE AILMENT OF THIS JINX

Last October, Miss Lillian Spencer, manager of the girls' team, booked the Reading Academy team, of Flemington, to appear here today, and up till yesterday noon fully expected the game to be played. In order that there should be no mistake Miss Spencer wired the manager at Flemington, Monday night, and was assured that the visitors would come.

Yesterday she received a letter stating that the Reading girls would surely appear on Wednesday, the fourteenth. Shortly before noon, however, she received a telegram stating that the game would have to be postponed indefinitely with no reasons. No other team could be booked at that late hour and so the girls will remain idle until Friday.

WAGNER'S SALARY $10,000.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 14.—Otto Knabe, manager of the Baltimore Federal League team, spent yesterday in Pittsburg, conferring with big league players. He is not believed to have signed any Pirates. President Barney Dreyfuss yesterday broke silence on the mooted question of Hans Wagner's salary. Dreyfuss declared that Hans had been receiving $10,000 for the past seven years.

Jersey City's stay in first place in the Elks' League race was a short one. The Hudson county bowlers, who ousted the Newarks last week, dropped three games in a row on the Rahway Elks' alleys last night and the Newark pin-knights are again to the fore. The pinning was low on the Rahway alleys last night. Rahway started with 806 aand won by fifteen pins. In the next encounter Rahway only scored 799, but this was sufficient to win by thirty pins. In the final contest the home five did its best work and a total of 838 gave it a victory by eighteen pins. Worth's 204 was high.

SKATING AT ITS BEST.

The best skating in years is now in order on the numerous ponds and flooded areas in this city and borough and many followers of the ice sport flocked to the different ponds this morning. Hudson's Pond, in North Plainfield, Willow Lake, Tier's Pond, Holly's Pond and Silver Lake all present glassy surfaces as well as the tennis courts at the Cedarcroft and at the Park Club which have been flooded over.

NO CHANGE IN FOOTBALL RULES

Boston, Mass., Jan. 14.—Edward K. Hall, chairman of the Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee, said last night that, as far as he knew, no material changes would be made in the football rules next season.

P. H. S. HOCKEYITES OUTSKATED RIVALS

Westfield Athletes Go Down for the Second Time in a Week in Sporting Event.

Phillip VanDeventer was yesterday elected captain of the Plainfield High School hockey team and celebrated the event by leading a group of red and blue skaters to Westfield, where they were scheduled to lineup against the hockey team of the Westfield High School. After disposing of the Mt. Ararat crew by a score of 3 goals to 1, the Plainfielders returned to their native haunts gloating over a pair of triumphs in one week at the expense of the rival schoolboy clan, in basketball and hockey, but were treated to a sad jolt when the Westfielders announced that they were a group of outlaws and did not represent the high school of that place.

Whoever the rivals might have been, the Queen City club wielders skated and shot with bewildering speed at their expense and completely outplayed the home seven despite the fact that the locals have not been able to hold a single practice as a team. Playing at rover, Captain VanDeventer broke into the scoring with a pair of goals and Bob Gavett slid the puck through Bourne's feet for another. McKenzie, at goal for P. H. S., warded off all smashes with the exception of the one sent at express train speed by the versatile Hohenstein, who was the whole show for the losing side. A return game will be played here later in the season.

The lineup and summary:

P. H. S.		W. H. S.
Butler	centre	Martin
VanDeventer	rover	Hohenstein
Cottrell	right wing	Crittendon
Fitch	cover point	Davies

Goals—VanDeventer 2, Gavett 1; Hohenstein 1.

RALPH SMALLEY MAKES DEBUT AS BASEBALL MOGUL

Captain Ralph Smalley, of the North Plainfield High School basketball team, had his recruit pitchers working in Saengerbund Hall yesterday afternoon. The ball was tossed about and no speed was allowed.

The following twirlers looked good to Smalley for this duty: Ernest Stahl, Daniel Denny and Oscar Dilts. Malcolm Marsh, who will make a try for the backstop position, handled the ball well and should make a good substitute to Captain Smalley.

RITTER SLATED FOR M'GRAW'S BALL NINE

Twirler Who Pitched for Plainfield Will Go on Spring Training Trip.

Fred Banker, alias Ritter, who pitched for Manager Ernest Dorflinger's Plainfield Pets in the league race two years ago and who was later signed by Baltimore and farmed out to Wilmington, is now slated to go South with Manager McGraw's New York Giants. Banker is apparently something like Cy Parkin—too fast for the minors and not fast enough for the majors.

Local baseball fans will remember that Ritter was one of the most sensational pitchers ever brought to this city by Dave Driscoll, who was at that time captain and first baseman of the locals. His great pitching in Sunday baseball for the New Brunswick team, which was also managed by Driscoll, against the Philadelphia Athletic and other teams.

His twirling against Mack's crew resulted in him getting a berth with the Orioles and on the spring training trip last season he recklessly made a heave from the outfield to home plate, and in so doing injured his shoulder, which kept him out of baseball all season. He has terrific speed with a varied assortment of breaks but is inclined to be erratic.

P. H. S. SECOND QUINTET CANCELLED AT LAST MINUTE

The managers of the numerous basketball teams in North Plainfield High School are finding it hard to get outside teams in Saengerbund Hall. They can book the games, but it is a question as to whether the team will appear or not.

Frank Fetherston, manager of the Junior five, had a game scheduled for yesterday afternoon with the second team of P. H. S., but during the morning this team cancelled it leaving the manager in a bad fix, the game having been advertised and announced. He tried to get a substitute but was unable to get one so the game was called off at the last minute.

DANCING ACT AT PROCTOR'S.

Madam Obrita and her girls in a dancing phantasy, consisting of wonderful classical dancing with beautiful electrical effects, and special scenery, is the feature act at Proctor's. It is the dancing sensation of vaudeville and has been received with marked success wherever it has played. La Verne & Allen, purveyors of comedy, have many new quibs to spring that are sure to please. Al Lewis, late of "Lasky's Six Banjo Phiends," is doing an excellent single act in a novel musical way that makes a hit and many friends. The Westmans in a domestic comedy sketch entitled "Troubles of Joy" is a family affair. There are the father, the mother, three girls and a boy. The plot tells the story of a dreaming inventor, his actress wife, and their four children, which are enough to keep a man in hot water most of the time. They have a dandy interesting act of refined comedy, and they will be the hit of the bill. The Harrison West Trio, singing comedians and dancers, are featuring Master Pettit, the peer of all singing and dancing juveniles. The Flying Henrys, the expert flying ring speedist, have many novel stunts to perform in the aerial rings. The feature two reel photo plays are changed every day and consist of the best subjects obtainable.

"NATIONS OF THE WEST" WILL BE STRIKING EXPO FEATURE

"The Nations of the West" and Close View of "The Latin-American."

Over the Arch of the Setting Sun, which is to surmount the western entrance to the great Court of the Sun and Stars at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, will be placed a magnificent sculptural group, representing the "Nations of the West," which will be a companion to the group representing the "Nations of the East," over the Arch of the Rising Sun, at the eastern entrance.

The "Nations of the West," is a composition by three noted sculptors, and depicts the great exploring, colonizing races of the Occident. The central feature of the composition is an old fashioned wagon, drawn by oxen—a typical "prairie schooner," such as the westward-bound pioneers of the last century used for their immigration into the Far West. In front of the wagon are "The Mother of Tomorrow," symbolizing the nation of the coming race, while two boys, "The Hopes of the Future," and a female allegoric figure, "Enterprise" surmount the wagon. All of these figures are by A. Stirling Calder, acting chief of sculpture for the exposition. They are masterpieces, especially "Enterprise," which is full of life and vigor, energetic daring and ambition.

The wagon and the oxen are by Frederick G. R. Roth, who also designed the pedestrians, representing a German, an Italian, an Alaskan and an Indian Squaw, vivid types of North Americans.

Leo Lentelli designed the four equestrian figures, which represent the Latin-American, the Englishman, the Frenchman and the Indian.

All of these types have left their impress upon America and upon American history. They are leaders in discovery and in blazing the way through the wilderness and in navigating the seas. The Indians were in America first. An Italian, Christopher Columbus, from Genoa, with a crew of Spaniards and other Europeans, sailed from Palos, Spain, and discovered the western continent for Europe. The Spanish, English, French, Portugese and others followed and opened up and settled the land.

The enlargement of the "Nations of the West" from the sculptors' models is now in progress. The group is of heroic dimensions, and of a scale in keeping with the vast Court of the Sun and Stars which it will face when the exposition palaces are completed.

Beneath the group will be the legend by Emerson:

"There is a sublime and friendly Destiny by which the human race is guided—the race never dying, the individual never spared—to results affecting masses and ages."

FITZ HEARING POSTPONED BY SUPREME COURT HEAD

New York, Jan. 14.—Application has been made by Robert Fitzsimmons, the well known pugilist, who resides at Dunellen, N. J., for a writ of mandamus to compel the State Boxing Commission to permit him to return to the boxing arena and to box Sailor Kearn in his first bout. Justice Seabury, of the Supreme Court, this morning adjourned the hearing until Friday next.

JOHNSON SIGNS TO FIGHT.

Paris, Jan. 14.—Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight pugilist, and Frank Moran, the Pittsburgh heavyweight, today signed articles for a twenty round boxing bout for the championship of the world to be fought in this city on or before the Paris Grand Prix race during the first or second week of June this year. Johnson was handed a check for $35,000 by Charles McCarthy, representing a group of American sporting men, while Moran is guaranteed $5,000.

TROUNCES BROOKLYN.

Gloversville defeated Brooklyn by a score of 36 to 23 in a New York State Basketball League game played at Arcadia Hall, Brooklyn, last night. Superior teamwork and passing netted the visitors' victory. Gloversville led at the end of the first half, 18 to 12. Frank Bruggy, a member of the Plainfield baseball team, played guard for the winners.

MISS IDABEL CONOVER WAS THEIR HOSTESS

Miss Idabel Conover was the hostess at a delightful function held last night at her home in the borough. The evening was spent playing games, dancing and the rendition of vocal solos by Carlos Baumann, baritone, of New York, who sang selections from works of Reginald De Koven. Miss Conover also sang several songs, accompanied on the piano by Edmund La Porte.

At midnight a collation was served amid appropriate decorations. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Conover, Misses Lillian, Gertrude and Mabel Conover; Mrs. F. Dowd, of Westfield; Miss Carolyn Dentz, Miss Jessie Hummer, Robert Dentz, E. J. LaPorte, Harrison Fisher Fahn, of Peapack, and Mr. Baumann, of New York.

STEAM, NOT SMOKE.

A steam boiler that had burst in the cellar of the house occupied by Simon Hirsh on Watchung avenue at 8 o'clock this morning, caused a still alarm to be sent in to fire headquarters and the chemical engine was dispatched to the scene. When Chief Doane and his men arrived they found the cellar full of steam but there was no fire in the place.

"THIMBLE PARTY."

An enjoyable evening was spent last night in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church, by those who attended a "thimble party," which was given under the direction of Miss Jennie Abbott, assisted by a committee of six women.

MOCK MARRIAGE AN AMUSING ONE

LARGE BRIDAL PARTY

Rev. Mr. Joinem Officiates—Holy Cross Sunday School Class Entertainment at Home of Miss Rae Pla de Villars Was Really Funny.

Perhaps one of the most unique entertainments of the season was that given at the home of Miss Rae Pla de Villars, of Grove street, yesterday afternoon, by the members of her Sunday-school class at the Church of the Holy Cross. It consisted of a "mock marriage." Invitations were issued to the "marriage," and not a single detail of a wedding was omitted. The affair was arranged and planned by Miss Pla de Villars, assisted by Mrs. Percy Brown.

Those who took part in the affair used fictitious names, and they impersonated the various characters in a most creditable manner.

Miss Marie Sill as "Genevieve Getridofher," was the bride, and Miss Dorothy Thiers, as "Ray Wonher," the bridegroom. The bride was given in marriage by Miss Elsie Verschuur, who was "Mr. Getridofher," the father, and the ceremony was performed by Miss Dorothea Rushmore, as "Rev. Mr. Joinem."

The maid of honor was Miss Anna McCoy, the bridesmaid, Miss Kathryn Stevens, the flower girls, Miss May Brown and Miss Anna Eleanor Wittingham, the best man, Miss Katherine Overton, and the usher was Miss Pla de Villars.

The bride was gowned in white lace, en train, the bridesmaid wore pink, while the bridegroom and usher were both in full dress. The Lohengrin Wedding march was played by Miss Katheryn Sill. The "ceremony" was performed in one end of the parlor, which was elaborately decorated with a bank of palms, ferns and flowers. After the wedding, a reception was held, during which the "bride and groom" received congratulations and refreshments were served. The affair was such a success that it will probably be repeated in the parish house of the church.

Among the guests were Mrs. A. M. Abbott and son, Mrs. William S. McCoy, Mrs. George T. Worth and Miss Worth, Mrs. T. C. Overton and Miss Overton, Mrs. Edmund Rushmore and Miss Rushmore, Miss Harriett VanDeventer, Miss Margaret Long, Miss Ida Davis, Mrs. Horace Fisher, Mrs. Percy Brown, Miss Helen Faber, Teddy Grades, of the borough, and Miss Splain, of New York city.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICE OF FOUR CONGREGATIONS

The union evangelistic services were continued last night at the First Presbyterian church, and considering the weather were largely attended by members of the First Baptist, First M. E., Trinity Reformed and First Presbyterian churches, under whose auspices the meetings are being held.

Rev. Dr. Charles E. Herring was in charge. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Charles M. Anderson, while Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong read the Scripture. The sermon was preached by Rev. J. Y. Broek, who gave a practical discourse on the subject, "Behold I Stand at the Door and Knock." The talk was an impressive appeal to all unbelievers to become Christians and there was a deep spiritual interest.

All superintendents, assistant and departmental superintendents, chairmen of the missionary committee or band and two members of each committee are most cordially invited.

DR. BERRY'S TALK TO M'ALL WORKERS

American Agent Tells of What Associations Have Done in French Republic.

Dr. George T. Berry, American agent of the McAll Mission in France, spoke to the members of the Plainfield branch of the McAll Mission at the Crescent Avenue church last night, telling of the great good this organization is doing among the French and other nationalities of Europe. Illustrating his talk with a number of stereopticon views taken under his personal supervision, he described the territory in which the work has progressed most satisfactorily to date.

Dr. Berry predicted that the Christianizing of Europe would eventually be done by the McAll Mission through its numerous agencies, and he told of the way the movement has already begun to spread. The speaker outlined the nature of the work being accomplished along both spiritual and social lines and described the method by which the missionary is developing the bodies of the French people as well as the minds. Recreation of the most approved type has been introduced into the foreign countries and the school children are provided with exercise along classified lines both in school and at recreation centers which have been established for this purpose by the Mission.

He told of the classes for Biblical study being organized for the young and old and the manner in which the people of France are being brought to realize just what life has in store for them. Included in the views thrown on the screen were a number of pictures of historical places in France visited frequently by the tourist and the speaker gave numerous characteristics of each.

Following the talk a social hour was conducted in the church parlors by the members of the local mission and refreshments were served by a committee composed of members of this organization.

The following officers were elected: President, E. W. Danforth; vice-president, Harry Seigal; secretary, Harry Shirley; treasurer, Harry Cantor. An executive committee composed of the following was selected last night: Miss Mary Mundy, Miss Mary Messler and Miss Hazel Godown. The membership of the new organization will be limited to thirty, fifteen men and fifteen women and the class will meet on Wednesday nights from 8 to 10:15 o'clock. Probationers will be admitted by the instructor and accepted as members following the action of the Executive Committee on the applications.

JOHN F. ZEREGA TO GET A PLUM

Recommended for Office Deputyship for Income Tax Collection.

MOYNIHAN A LOSER

Bound Brook Aspirant for State Agent Backed By Walsh Fails to Land Place—Lindop Got the Job.

John F. Zerega, of this city, is among those who were recommended yesterday by United States Senators Martine and Hughes for the appointment of office deputy for the collection of the income tax in New Jersey. He will serve in the fifth district with headquarters at Newark. This was decided upon at a conference which the Senators had in the office of Internal Revenue Commissioner Osborne, yesterday. Congressmen Tuttle and Scully were also at the conference.

A. H. Lindop, of Jersey City, was chosen as State agent. Perhaps the most active aspirant for the place of State agent was Harvey Moynihan, of Bound Brook, who is well known here, where he has many relatives and friends. He had the backing of Representative Walsh, of Trenton, and State Commissioner of Banking and Insurance LaMonte, while several others in places of power endorsed him.

Mr. Moynihan was in the race very early, and about two weeks before the holidays looked over the situation at the Capitol. He found most of the representatives already scouting about on behalf of other candidates from their own districts, but Moynihan succeeded in obtaining the support of Congressman Walsh.

Senator Hughes, however, was against Moynihan because he had a candidate.

FEDERATION OF MEN'S CLUBS WILL MEET TOMORROW NIGHT

The annual meeting of the Federation of Men's Clubs will be held at the Young Men's Christian Association building tomorrow night, with President W. H. P. Veysey in the chair. A full attendance is hoped for, as among the topics discussed will be that of more wholesale licenses. Plans will also probably be completed for the public meeting to be held a week from tomorrow night at the same place, when it is expected that a big crowd will gather to hear argument on the question of more wholesale licenses.

ZIONISTS FROM HERE TO WITNESS EXHIBITION

A company of about twenty-five Zionists from this city will go to New York tonight to attend the exhibition of the old-time Jewish arts from the Bezalel Handcrafts School in Jerusalem, which opened yesterday in the concert hall of Madison Square Garden. This is the first time the work of the school has been shown in America and the exhibition and sale will continue until January 18.

The school was started in 1906 by Prof. Boris Schatz, the sculptor, working in connection with the Zionists. It was started with a capital of $1,500 and has been enlarged until last year it had an output of $75,000 worth of goods. The object of Prof Schatz was to re-establish the old-time handicrafts, and to give employment to Jewish workers, in the meantime teaching them valuable trades. The school is pre-eminently for the benefit of the workers and they all receive a living wage from the beginning.

ARION CLUB BALL.

The Arion Social Club, composed of young men of the city and the borough, will hold its first annual reception and ball Friday night, Feb. 6, in Saengerbund hall. MERCURY ASSUMES NORMAL POSITION

Warm southwest winds snapped the back-bone of the cold wave here early this morning and the prediction of increasing warmness was welcomed. Although the mercury soared to a point above the zero mark yesterday afternoon it did not assume its normal position until this morning and an average temperature of twenty-one degress has been maintained all day.

Many were the complaints of frozen water pipes and local plumbers have been kept busy during the last two days answering hurry calls to remedy frozen and bursting pipes. Ice covers all of the ponds and lakes to a thickness of ten inchess and although the snow of today spoiled the skating, lovers of this sport flocked to the various rendezvous yesterday afternoon and last night. Tier's pond was easily the most popular and full, 200 gliders enjoyed the pastime on the glassy surface at that place last night.

Moonlight skating parties were organized and the trips included Holly's pond, Hudson's pond, Willow Lake Hyde's pond and Spring Lake, all of which were crowded with merrymakers last night. Although several of the more venturesome skaters received icy baths in the cold lake waters yesterday afternoon and last night no serious accidents were recorded and all got off with a ducking.

During the two days and two nights the cold wave spread itself over the city the suffering in some quarters was intense and the fact that no deaths from exposure have been recorded to date reflects with credit on the work of a band of volunteers living in the vicinity of those in distress. The Charity Organization has been kept busy and several other public societies and associations assisted in the work locally.

Weather forecasts for tomorrow promise rain or snow with increasing warmness and present conditions seem to indicate that rain will fall before morning, the light snow fall of this morning having gradually died away. The fraction of an inch of snow which fell will have no effect on the ice crop and the local ice companies are all planning to begin their harvest today or tomorrow, assuring the employment of at least 500 men.

MINISTERS TO ACT ON LICENSE MATTER

Association to Meet at Y. M. C. A. On Tuesday for That Purpose.

The Plainfield Ministers' Association will hold a meeting Tuesday afternoon, January 20, at 3 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. building, to especially consider the matter of liquor licenses and to plan what action shall be taken in reference to the same when they come before the Common Council in February.

The association has been opposed to licenses in the past and especially to the granting of any additional applicants. The fact that there are five new wholesale applicants this year has served to arouse the interest of the association and it is said that the members will enter a strong protest to the Common Council against the granting of these applications.

PENNSY PROFESSOR ADDRESSES DENTISTS

Dr. R. H. Riethmuller Gives Interesting Talk on "Local Anaesthesia."

Richard H. Riethmuller, Ph. D., D. D. S., of the University of Pennsylvania, was the guest of honor of the Plainfield Dental Society at its monthly meting at "The Homestead," on Washington avenue, last night. There were about thirty members and invited guests present. Dr. Riethmuller read a paper on "Local Anesthesia," principally with the use of novacain. There are credited to the doctor some remarkable feats in the use of local anaesthetics and he demonstrated how by single application, a whole nerve section might become insensible to pain.

Dr. C. J. Herzog, of New York, was also a guest of the society, and he made a few remarks on the preparations of drugs employed in anesthetical purposes. In connection with the meeting refreshments were served and following the talks by the visiting doctors, there was an informal discussion of the topics treated.

MISS LEACOCK BRIDE OF CHAS. R. COLLINS

Rev. C. W. F. Attlee Officiates at Ceremony at East End Church.

Miss Sarah Scott Leacock, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Leacock, and Charles Rafert Collins, also of this city, were married last evening at the Netherwood Reformed church, by Rev. C. W. F. Attlee, who is the stated supply of the church. This was the second marriage in that edifice, the first being that of Rev. and Mrs. Royal A. Stout, Mr. Stout being the first pastor.

The bride was gowned in white satin, trimmed with lace, and she also wore a bridal veil fastened with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies. The bridesmaid was Miss Ella Adams, who was gowned in pale blue and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The best man was Alfred Kenan and the ushers were Clifford Cole and Horace Adams. The wedding march was played by Miss Willetta Haines. The church was elaborately decorated for the affair, there being delicate tints and white festoons, while about the pulpit platform there was banked palms, ferns and flowers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother on East Second street, and after congratulations, supper was served. The couple received a large collection of gifts. Both the bride and groom are well-known here, where they have many friends. Mr. Collins is employed by the Public Service Corporation. He and his bride will reside here upon their return fro a trip.

MISCHIEVOUS YOUTHS.

J. R. Jeffers, a local concrete building contractor, who is erecting a dwelling in Manson place, has experienced considerable trouble and some loss as the result of the antics of boys of the neighborhood who make "forts" of his cement blocks and build bon-fires against improvised fireplaces made by piling the blocks several tiers high. Patrolman Muir, chased several of the youths yesterday, but they saw the "Copper" coming and made their getaway.

CALLED OUT FIREMEN.

A tree becoming ignited from a bonfire built by youthful skaters near Tier's Pond, in the borough, was saved from being reduced to ashes this morning by the North Plainfield fire department. A resident telephoned to the fire department, saying that there was danger of the tree falling over because part of the trunk had been burned away. If that happened people standing in the vicinity were in danger of being felled to the ground.

QUALIFIES FOR STATE JOB.

William A. Reynolds, of this city, who was formerly in the employ of the Laing Auto Machine Company, as an electrician, was one of three men to successfully pass the State examination for the position of electrical inspector. The announcement was made yesterday by the Civil Service Commission. Thirteen candidates qualified for the position of general inspector.

FELL THROUGH ICE.

While skating on Tier's pond yesterday afternoon, John Dawe, of the borough, fell through some thin ice, receiving a drenching in the icy water. He was pulled from the stream by other skaters and taken to his home, his limbs were stiff with the cold. Today he is suffering with the grip as a consequence.

SHALL BOROUGH TAKE AN APPEAL?

Question Whether North Plainfield Should Resort to Courts to Be Decided.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

State Board for Equalization of Taxes Having Decided Adversely Future Action is up to the Taxpayers.

To decide whether an appeal to the courts shall be taken from the decision of the State Board for the Equalization of Taxes in dismissing the petition of the North Plainfield Council to force the Somerset County Board of Taxation to fulfill the agreements of an alleged judgment signed November 30, 1912, reducing the borough's assessments $912,003, to take effect in 1913, a public meeting will be held in the Councilmanic chambers on Monday night. The session, which promises to be a lively one, will begin at 8 o'clock sharp. Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., will preside and members of the Council, as well as William J. Buttfield, a member of the special committee on taxation, will be present.

The Mayor and members of the Council are far from satisfied with the decision of the State body, which in an opinion accompanying its written decision, stated that even if the County Board did authorize or grant a reduction after a protest on the 1912 assessment, it had no legal right to do so, and therefore, any such agreement is null and void.

Major Carl Lentz, of Newark, with Judge Isaac Runyon as associate, is the attorney for the borough on the matter, has not been engaged as counsel in any further steps that may be taken, nor has his services been dispensed with. He has been paid to date $700 in fees. It is probable that the question of having him renew the fight will be decided at the public meeting.

Mayor Clark said this morning, "I hope that the taxpayers who pay both large and small amounts each year will attend the meeting on Monday night to confer with the Councilmen on the tax matters. Any questions will be answered and we want the opinion of all those who have carefully thought the situation over so that any further action that may be taken will meet with the hearty approval of all who are interested."

TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE SEES RAJOTTE PLANT

Members of the North Plainfield Township Committee today inspected the excavations of clay for the manufacture of bricks made by Albert Rajotte, of this city, on property in the township bordering Dunellen borough, where he has his plant. Recently a number of Dunellenites, in a petition sent to the Dunellen Council and referred to the Dunellen Board of Health, protested against the continuance of the excavations, claiming that by so doing the water of Greenbrook sprads and unable to find an outlet forms pools, which are unhealthy and a detriment to the welfare of the community.

After making an inspection the Dunellen Board of Health notified the petitioners that as the acts mentioned in the petition was made in North Plainfield township, it would not have jurisdiction. North Plainfield township was then notified.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

"AMBITIOUS ENDEAVORERS."

Ambition is living for a desirable object or purpose. Ambition climbs the ladder of success. Today's work shall be better than yesterday's.

We should cast aside false ambitions. There is no more pitiable incident in the Bible than that of Absalom ruthlessly plotting the capture of his father's throne. Others today are content to lead aimless purposeless and useless lives.

To be ambitious as Christians is to grow. "Endure hardness as good soldiers of Jesus Christ." We do not receive all the fullness of the Christian life in a single moment. The Christian life is like climbing a high mountain, the higher we go, the more beautiful becomes the outlook.

We should be ambitious to increase our strength. "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength, they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary, and they shall walk and not faint." The need of the church is more vitality in the individual member. We must not only put on our armour, but use it as well, by entering the conflict and using our strength in service.

Ambition is needed to be established in our faith. A Christian is established when he believes. David says, "Thou has established my goings upon a rock" i. e. "wherever we go, the rock must go with us." James says, "A double minded man is unstable in all his ways." A Christian is firmly established when his beliefs ceases to be opinions, but mature into convictions that control him. "I know in whom I have believed." To be established is to have the ability to withstand doubt, the blast of temptation, the sting of sorrow, the hour of discouragement.

It is a worthy ambition to have stability to character. Some people never get settled. An immovable Christian has peace of mind, and rest of soul. The climax is reached. This then should be our ambition—to grow, develop, climb and possess the perfect peace of mind and soul.

The crown of an ambitious life is found in pleasing God, in daily walk and conversation, in the manifold opportunities of service, in seeking the unsaved. The Lord has laid it upon us to tell others of our wonderful salvation and redemption. That duty shall not be discharged until the last man on earth has had an opportunity to know of the salvation from sin which Jesus brought.

And what is the end of consecrated ambition—the perfect likeness and example of the Lord Jesus Christ and the growth in the fullness of the stature of the man Christ Jesus.

(Rev.) JOHN Y. BROEK.

Ship on Trinity Ledge, Off Nova Scotia.

TUGS BRAVED HIGH SEAS.

Passengers and Crew of Cobequid Are Taken Off as Wreck Is Breaking Up. Hit Rock Near Yarmouth—Hope Now to Save Vessel.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 15.—Every one of the Royal Mail Steam Packet company's steamship Cobequid are saved, according to a report received here The ship was aground on Trinity ledge, north of Yarmouth.

The steamer Westport, one of those which responded to the first calls for help from the Cobequid, brought seventy-one persons to Yarmouth. The tug John L. Cann, which started out from Westport, on St. Mary's bay, when the first call for help came and was forced to put back by the heavy weather, returned to the search and is bringing the rest of the Cobequid's passengers to Yarmouth.

The Cobequid's decks are awash and only the superstructure is out of water The storm has abated and men on the rescuing ships express the belief that if the present weather continues the Cobequid may be pulled off the ledge intact and be saved. The ship is headed offshore, according to word received here from Yarmouth.

The Cobequid's officers told the rescuers that the ship went aground on Monday. The bay of Fundy was hidden in a dense fog at that time Trinity ledge, where she struck, is six miles off the mainland of Nova Scotia and fourteen miles north of Yarmouth It is about opposite Port Maitland and is about eighteen miles south of Brier island, where the Cobequid's first S. O. S. call placed her.

The greater portion of the Cobequid's hull was reported to be above water and all hands aboard were thought to be safe. The weather is clearing, and the work of the vessels endeavoring to reach the Cobequid is not so hazardous as it was. The government steamship Lady Laurier is hastening toward Trinity ledges and when last heard from was but twenty miles away.

All trace of the Cobequid was lost for twenty-four hours after she reported by wireless that she was ashore at the entrance of the Bay of Fundy.

An "S. O. S." call from the wrecked steamship was picked up by the steamship Royal George in the harbor here and set at rest the fears that the Cobequid had slipped off the rocks where she struck and had gone down with a hundred persons.

The same call sputtered into the Marconi station on Partridge island at the entrance of St. John harbor and was picked up by the Lady Laurier one of the many vessels that went in search of the Cobequid.

Wreckage Comes Ashore.

While the call gave assurance that the vessel was still above water wreckage that had come ashore at Yarmouth bar and which is believed to be from the Cobequid indicated that she is being lashed by the heavy gale and wild seas and that if no lives have been lost so far the peril of those on board is great.

Soon after the report of the finding of the vessel on Trinity ledges reached here another message came from Yarmouth saying that barrels of molasses were drifting ashore there.

This was regarded by some persons as tending to bear out the contention of the pessimistic mariners that the vessel was undoubtedly lost, but others declared that when the Cobequid's operator reported the molasses may have been thrown overboard.

The wreckage that came ashore at Yarmouth bar consisted of hatches companionways, cabin fittings, ladders etc., evidently from a large steamship There was also a signboard worded "Double Propeller. Keep Clear." As no other steamship of any great size is reported missing in this locality, it is taken as a certainty that the wreckage is from the Cobequid.

Knowing the coast and feeling the piercing cold, dwellers along the shore had visions of the passengers and crew of the Cobequid lashed to strong fixtures of the liner while the heavy seas broke over the ice covered hull.

HATPIN STAB PROVES FATAL.

Man Injured by Girl He Annoyed Is Found Dead In Bed.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 15.—The stab of a hatpin delivered in self defense by Catherine Hermes of Cudahy, a suburb, caused the death of Daniel Sweeney of White Plains, N. Y., who a week ago paid a fine of $50 and costs for annoying the girl.

According to the testimony in the police court, Sweeney took the girl to a dance on New Year's eve, and they visited several cafes. On the way home, the girl testified, she was forced to draw a hatpin and use it as a dagger in her own defense. A piece of the pin was removed by a doctor from the man's chest. This morning he was found dead in his bed

THE COBEQUID, WHICH FOUNDERED IN GALE.

With the wrecked steamship Cobequid, with 150 persons aboard, sighted on Trinity shoals, ten miles north of Yarmouth, N. S., on the eastern side of the entrance of the Bay of Fundy the United States revenue cutter Woodbury and the Canadian government steamship Lady Laurier were notified of the position by wireless and are steaming to the rescue of the passengers and crew

JAPANESE IS SLAYER OF WOMAN AND SELF

Love Mad Because He Could Not Wed.

New York, Jan. 15.—A beautiful young American woman, richly dressed in furs and silks, and Sukezi Nanaunika, a young Japanese butler, were found dead in the Japanese's quarters on the estate of A. C. Clarkson of the automobile firm of Clarkson & Ford, near Roslyn, N. Y. The girl was identified as Tessie Miller of 244 West Fifty-eighth street, Manhattan.

It was apparent from what the authorities learned that the man and girl were in love and that it was not possible for them to marry because he had a wife living. They are thought to have obtained a license to marry

They did not wed, however, and it is supposed they quarreled over the matter last evening, and he shot and killed her, and then, after writing several open letters, shot himself and fell across the body of his victim. Two bullets were fired into the body of the girl and two entered that of Nanaunika. A fifth went through a window, shattering the pane.

The emptied revolver was found clutched in the frozen hand of the man when Elmer Ward, a servant, entered the room to find out why the Japanese did not report for his morning's work.

The Japanese came to this country less than a year ago. He was reported to be a son of an impoverished samurai. He spent all of his spare time studying and planned to enter Columbia university next fall

WILLIAMS NOMINATION UP.

Favorable Report to Senate Is Expected at Once.

Washington, Jan 15.—The senate committee on banking and currency spent considerable time in consideration of the nomination of John Skelton Williams to be comptroller of the currency. A motion was made to report the nomination favorably. It was made by Senator Reed of Missouri.

Thereupon a suggestion was made that the committee ought to have some information regarding the Munsey Trust company deal. Senator Reed moved that the president of the Washington clearing house and Mr. Williams and any other Washington bankers who might care to be heard be invited before the committee at once to tell what they know about the deal.

It is the intention of Chairman Owen to crowd the Williams nomination through without delay.

Oakland, Cal., Jan 15.—The estate left by Joaquin Miller, the poet, who died last year, is valued at $41,996, according to an accounting filed in the probate court here by Mrs. Abbie Miller, the widow

The estate, which is given under oath as consisting principally of the poet's home, known as "The Heights," in the hills Mrs Miller asked for a maintenance allowance of $50 a month.

They Want Their $35.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Publication in a newspaper that the per capita wealth is $35 has brought hundreds of pathetic letters to the treasury department from poor people asking for their $35.

FIDELITY MOVES TITLE DEP'T.

With the exception of two small offices in the northwest corner, the entire eighth floor in the main Prudential building has been given over to the Fidelity Trust Company for the use of that institution's title department. In addition to quarters for the company's title officers and their assistants and for the title department's legal staff, provision has been made for the institution's title plant, in which invaluable records dealing with real estate titles in Union and Essex counties are kept. The plant, which has taken a score of years to build up, is valued in the company's statement as $142,000. The work of moving the records from the company's basement vault to the eighth floor took all day Sunday and Saturday afternoon and evening up to midnight. It was done by a dozen porters and title clerks, under the supervision of Owen J. McDonald, while the company's staff of deputy sheriffs, under Chief Williams, stood on guard It was said today by Charles La C. Hoff, the Fidelity's Elizabeth representative, that if by any chance the Union county courthouse title records should be destroyed his company could furnish a complete new set with valuable information that is not to be found in the official books and documents.

AS TO TAXATION.

Many radical changes will be made in our taxation laws if the bills, fifteen in number, introduced in the Senate Tuesday are passed at this session of the Legislature. The sponsers for these measures are Pierce, of our own county; McGinley, of Passaic, and Egan, of Hudson. Probably the most sweeping change recommended is that contained in a bill of which Pierce is the author. It provides for the abolition of the State Board of Assessors and vests all the taxing power in the State Board for the Equalization of Taxes. In another bill he seeks to obtain permission for municipalities to issue bonds to fund their floating debt and provide a method of taxation for the payment of the principal and interest on the bonds.

Still other measures introduced by Pierce provide for a new method of assessing and collecting taxes; exempting household goods and wearing apparel from taxation; prescribe a method of appeal to the county board; require the county board to determine the appeals on or before November 1; give the governing body of any taxing district power to submit the proposition as to whether the maximum tax rate shall be exceeded by the taxes of that year; repeals the act regarding the assessment and collection of taxes; provides for the taxation of shares of stock of stock companies to be assessed against the shareholders in the taxing district where they reside; provides that the shares of stock in trust companies held by non-residents shall be taxable and assessed against the holder in the taxing district where the bank is located; prescribes a method of taxation upon shares of stock belonging to trust companies and provide such taxation shall be a lien upon the stock of the holder and that the bank may retain out of the dividends belonging to such holder the amount paid for such taxes.

As Pierce was chairman of the special legislative commission which last year investigated the methods of taxation, he is known to have made an exhaustive study of the subject and his bills will be sure to receive the consideration to which they are entitled.

NO LONGER A MONOPOLY.

Says the Trenton State Gazette:

"The express companies in this country, after having enjoyed a monopoly and wrung money out of the public for years, are now put to the necessity of advertising for business at reduced rates. This change in conditions was brought about by the establishment of the parcels post, which hit the express companies squarely between the eyes. If they had not been so greedy and detremined to have their pound of flesh, they might have been saved the competition with the parcels post that they have been forced to meet."

The victory for the people was only won, however, after a persistent struggle lasting for many years. When the late Tom Platt, who was interested in the express business, was in the United States Senate, there was no chance to get a parcels post bill through that body. The argument made by those who blocked its passage was that the express companies were only making a fair profit and that to lower their rates would spell financial disaster for them. When, finally, the parcels post system was established, the private concerns claimed that their business would not be hurt, but in a very short space of time they changed their tune. The express companies by being compelled to reduce rates in order to compete with the parcels post have only got their just deserts.

New Jersey's suffragists are pursuing their campaign before the Legislature in a practical and dignified way. They know a little about politics, too, at least they profess too, for they say they know where every member of the lawmaking body stands on the question.

The equal suffragist leaders were on their job when the Legislature convened. The fact is that they always are and any cause where such zealous devotion is shown is bound to triumph. Let New Jersey blaze the way in the East for the "votes for women" cause.

Robert Fitzsimmons has a sneaking idea that he belongs to the "come back" class, but there are others who believe otherwise and the lanky one is quite certain not to be allowed to appear in the ring again.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO Y. W. C. A. WORKERS

National and Local Gleanings Particularly as to Scheduled Meetings.

This week is one of great interest at the National Headquarters building, 600 Lexington avenue, New York city. The Northeastern Field Committee of the National Board will hold its fourth annual conference for three days, beginning Wednesday afternoon, January 14, and closing Friday afternoon, January 16. A large delegation of board members, secretaries and many enthusiastic association members will represent the local branch at most of the meetings.

The Sunday afternoon service this week will be in charge of the Friday Evening Club, which will act as hostess. All are invited to join us around the open fire from 4 to 6 every Sunday afternoon. At our special vesper service in February, Miss May O. White, of Summit, will speak on "Mormonism." She is an authority on this subject and we hope a large number of girls and women will cease this opportunity of hearing Miss White.

Monday, January 19, is the date set for the annual meeting and class exhibition. All members of the association are urged to be present and to bring their friends.

Don't forget that the new term is drawing near and some new classes are being formed. On Monday evenings in February there will be a class in ribbon flower making. A party for all the educational classes and an opportunity for new class members to register will be held on Monday, January 26.

FREE SEEDS.

The Department of Agriculture is beginning to make arrangements for the annual distribution of flower and vegetable seeds. This distribution is made through United States Senators and members of the House of Representatives. Each package contains an assortment of five different varieties, but the selection is made by the Deparment of Agriculture based upon its knowledge as to what is best suited to each locality. Anyone desiring to participate in this distribution bay have his name placed on the list by communicating with Hon. William Hughes, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.

"ALTAR OF BURNT OFFERING."

Mrs. White will have charge of the Plainfield Graded Union meeting at the Y. W. C. A., Monday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. She will speak on the subject, "The Altar of Burnt Offering."

Sir Ernest Shackleton's New Expedition Attracting Wide Interest

THE recent announcement by Sir Ernest Shackleton, the famous English antarctic explorer, that he purposes to lead an expedition across the antarctic continent has awakened the keenest interest and has echoed over the civilized world. That a vast white continent, practically unknown and unexplored, may be thus revealed to the ken of men is enough to excite a worldwide interest. It is a far more important mission than the mere discovery of the south pole.

The principal object of the expedition will be to cross the south polar continent from Weddell sea to Ross sea, a distance of about 1,700 statute miles. In this journey the south pole will be crossed. One-half of the journey will be over an entirely new route, and a vast unexplored region still a blank on the maps will be opened up. To quote Shackleton's own words: "From a geographical point of view, the complete continental nature of the antarctic can be absolutely solved by such a journey. No one knows whether the great plateau dips gradually from the pole toward Weddell sea. No one knows whether the great Victoria chain of mountains, which has been traced to the pole, extends across the continent and links up with the Andes. The solving of this problem is naturally of intense interest to geographers all over the world."

Sir Ernest will have two ships, both driven by oil fuel and giving a radius of operations four times greater than coal. The larger vessel will leave Buenos Aires early in October for the antarctic, reaching, if possible, 78 degrees, where a good landing place was discovered by the German expedition. If ice conditions permit the expedition will reach its base at the beginning of November, and a shore party of six men will land and proceed immediately on the march across the continent. Otherwise permanent winter quarters will be established at Weddell sea and depots laid out toward the pole before winter. In this event the expedition will cross the continent the following year. In addition to the six men in the transcontinental party, there will be a biologist, a geologist and a physician attached to the ship. Others may be added if funds permit, and thirty men in all may be taken. The oil fuel will enable the expedition to do without stokers. Shackleton says the more money he has for the expedition the more he will be able to enlarge its scope.

During the summer months the first ship will navigate from the winter quarters around toward Ross sea, on Graham Land coast, and when the season is too advanced for more work to be done she will return to South America. The smaller or secondary ship will leave New Zealand in November and land a party at Ross sea to meet the transcontinental party, who will return in her to New Zealand.

The second in command will be Frank Wild, a member of the Scott expedition in 1901-4 and of the Shackleton expedition in 1908. He is one of the most experienced of polar explorers. G. E. Marston accompanies the expedition as artist. The transantarctic party will begin the journey with 120 dogs, two sledges driven by aeroplane propellers, with aeroplane engines and an aeroplane with clipped wings to travel over the ice.

The planning of the expedition has started an epidemic of restlessness among the adventurous of all classes, aptly described as the "south pole fever." Sir Ernest is snowed under with applications from young and old, their ages ranging from sixteen to fifty-eight, who wish to share in the glory of his enterprise and are prepared to go in any capacity. The explorer has been compelled to decline in nearly every case.

American applications to become members of the expedition have likewise been received, and it is stated that the idea of having an American strain among his colleagues appeals strongly to Sir Ernest. He intends to visit the United States before starting on his expedition.

STORY OF A WOMAN'S JAUNT.

Mrs. Beach Writes a Book Upon Her Tramp From New York to Chicago.

Under the caption of "My Walk From New York to Chicago" Mrs. David Beach has just issued an interesting book describing her remarkable jaunt undertaken in 1912. She accomplished a walk of 1,071 miles in forty-two and a half days and accomplished it under conditions that she herself had prescribed. She wished to give proof of her theory that a meatless diet is the best diet and that it will sustain the body perfectly throughout the hardest kind of labor. Moreover, to make the test as severe as possible,

MRS. DAVID BEACH ON THE MARCH.

Mrs. Beach ate raw foods only on the trip. Starting on April 10, 1912, she was to walk every step of the way from New York to Chicago and finish her trip by June 1. She finished four days ahead of her schedule and in better health than when she started. After the eleventh day of the tramp she gave up milk and eggs for the remainder of the trip and restricted herself to fruits, grains, nuts and vegetables.

Together with an account of her daily experiences and adventures during the trip, Mrs. Beach has mingled certain points about foods which she gained through study and practical experiment. Her book is the narrative of an extraordinary achievement, the story of one of the most remarkable feats of endurance ever accomplished by a woman.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 50.

LET'S have a smile at this gladsome season. Sometimes, you know, advertising contains a smile that wasn't intended as such by the advertiser. Here's a sample:

In an "up-State" New York newspaper there once appeared the following little notice:

My! I wonder if all the inhabitants of that place are goats.

Which reminds me: In the New York Herald there appeared the following Want Ad: HELP WANTED, MALE—Young men playing violin and piano, to join amateur orchestra. Apply Monday evening, with instruments, 23 W. 44th Street. . . . Golly; the pianists were up against a hard one, weren't they?

And while we're smiling, let me tell you that Franklin P. Adams, the "Always in Good Humor" man of the New York Evening Mail, says that he knows of a man, a retired liquor dealer, who calls his country estate "Alco Hall." Also, that another man, who has a Long Island bungalow which he occupies only two weeks during the year, calls it "Seldom Inn." Still another, a lawyer friend of the humorist, has a round sort of cottage on Cape Cod which he terms "Circuit Court."

That last paragraph hasn't anything to do with advertising. But those of us who read the ads. in newspapers and magazines and other media—and who doesn't read the ads., I'd like to know?—see some awfully funny things once in a while. One could write a book on advertising "bulls."

Sometimes a little bit of humor in an advertisement is a good thing. There's a limit, however—a danger-line where advertising intended to be funny or clever offends the reader. There is a lot of advertising done that isn't worth serious consideration as a business-producing force. But is there too much advertising? I think not. Let me bring this little wandering Talk to a close by quoting a writer in "Newspaperdom" on that subject.

"Is there too much advertising? No, there is too much mad-vertising, too much fad-vertising, too much bad-vertising, but there isn't too much advertising."

Of Interest to Women and the Home

The Housewife's Daily Economy Calendar

FRANCES NUGENT

Cold-Weather Soups.

There are many delicious cold-weather soups to prepare. There is chicken gumbo, for instance, with canned gumbo; but that calls for a chicken and some ham as well as for gumbo. There is friars' soup, but that, too, calls for an expensive chicken. There are soups that call for eggs and cream, and soups that call for meat and vegetables. Of course they are delicious, but they are expensive.

The housewife who must set an appetizing and nourishing table on a small amount of money sometimes finds it truly difficult to think of good soups that cost little.

Left overs of any sort are her greatest friends: not only do they form the foundation of her soups, but they themselves suggest the sort of soups she shall serve.

Suppose, for instance, that on Monday morning, there is on hand the carcass of a roast chicken, and the tops and roots and trimmings from a bunch of celery, a cupful of boiled rice left from the rice that was served with the chicken, and some mashed potato. She can make potato soup with the mashed potato, heated and stirred into hot milk and seasoned with pepper, salt and a little mace, some butter and chopped parseley. This soup must be hot and smooth to be good. Monday the chicken carcass can be broken and put over the fire in cold water with the rice, with a sliced onion, and some of the celery tops, and simmered. The best part of the celery can be stewed and rubbed through a collander to use on Tuesday for cream of celery soup, when it should be mixed with hot milk, seasoned, and thickened slightly. The chicken stock should be strained when it is done and put in a cold place, where it will keep well until Thursday. Half of it can be used on Wednesday with chopped parsley and fine noodles in it. The rest can be used the next day, with half a can of okra added.

Another Plan.

Suppose the left overs are a ham bone, and a cupful, each, of canned tomatoes, peas and beans. The ham bone should be put aside until the next day, when it should be put over the fire with a pint of split peas, soaked overnight in cold water, drained and then added to four quarts of water. These ingredients should be simmered for about six hours, when an onion, some pepper, a little parsley, salt, and a stalk of celery should be added. It should simmer another hour and then should be slightly thickened with flour and butter, rolled together. This makes it smooth. More water may be added from time to time as it boils away. The onion and celery should be removed before serving.

In the meantime, ten cents' worth of soup meat should be bought to grind and simmer with the canned vegetable until the meat is tender. Enough water should be added to make a thin chowder. Liberal seasoning of salt, pepper and celery should be added.

By Alice Gibson

The little tot will be doubly pleased with her Christmas doll if it is accompanied by a complete, fashionable wardrobe.

This set of patterns (8012) will make matters much easier for the mother or big sister who is dressing the doll or dolls.

There are a coat in drop-shoulder style gathered into a band at the bottom; a Russian blouse suit; a coat suit with a vest and a two-piece skirt attached to an underskirt; a Tam-o-shanter cap and a little round hat with a shaped brim.

A set of these patterns accompanying the doll would make a highly interesting and instructive gift for the little maid of 10 or 12 who is learning to sew.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

In selecting the pattern, be governed by the length of the doll, measuring from the crown of the head to the sole of the foot.

This set may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Lady Decies Spends Holidays With Parents.

LADY DECIES AND HER ELDER DAUGHTER.

All the world and his wife remember the marriage three years ago of Miss Vivian Gould, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Gould, to Lord Decies of England.

The bride at the time was exceptionally young, rich and one of the cleverest amateur dancers in the country. Indeed, if necessary, milady could earn a handsome living by "tripping the light fantastic." Well, Lady Decies, with her husband, Lord Decies, and her older daughter, Eileen, are now in this country visiting Lady Decies' parents.

Teacher Seeks Eugenic Mate.

Latest of the candidates to "offer herself upon the altar of matrimony for the betterment of the race" in a eugenics marriage is Miss Clara Macy, a school teacher of New City, Nev.

She has some ideas of her own regarding what a eugenics husband should be, however, which she thinks even the Medical Review of Reviews, which proposes to mate a perfect man and a perfect woman, might overlook. At least she has sent a list of qualifications upon which she will insist, as follows:

"He must not use liquor, opiates or tobacco in any form. He must be courteous and thoughtful to others. He must be a clean man in thought and in language and must be immaculate about his person.

"I don't care about his looks as long as he is clean about his person and is not deformed in any way.

"Do you think that I expect too much? I know myself and am confident that I am a fit mate for such a man."

In her letter Miss Macy says:

"I am twenty-nine years old and am five and a half feet tall. I weigh 175 pounds. I call my hair red because I don't want to be accused of bragging, but the rest of the folks assure me it is auburn.

"My eyes are hazel (green, you know, with some brown and gray). A young man who taught in our school some years ago was foolish enough to write some poetry about them.

"My health is excellent, and I feel sure that I would make a fit mate for some fine, red blooded man. In the interests of science and for the betterment of the race I am willing to unite and live in eugenic wedlock."

The Crinkle Crape Bride.

A girl who is courageously preparing to face comparative poverty with the "dearest fellow in the world" is making all of her lingerie in white cotton crinkle crape, because she knows that for several years at least she'll have to do her own washing. Please don't imagine that this bride's undergarments are anything like the atrocities marked "a bargain—59 cents each."

They are lovely, dainty white combinations—petticoats, nightdresses and negligees—handmade and cut from the latest French patterns. Some of the sets are finished about the neck, front and sleeves with white lingerie beading, through which narrow ribbons may be run; others are edged with hand embroidered scallops, and several are trimmed with narrow cluny, the one sort of imitation lace which washes well and doesn't look cheap on underwear.

This girl has made her boudoir set so called—although the nearest she'll come to owning a boudoir for years to come will be a bedroom in a small flat—of white crinkle crape. It consists of a spread for the dressing table, a cover for the sewing machine, a square pillow for the lounge, a pair of sash curtains and a bedspread to match the lingerie outfit, and it will always look fresh because she can wash it with her own hands.

Velvet Versus Fur.

For many reasons stoles and neckpieces of velvet are preferable to those consisting entirely of peltry. The velvet clings more closely to the neck. It is more healthy to wear than fur because on the many mild days throughout our winters it can safely be replaced by silk or lace, whereas the extreme warmth of fur renders the wearer peculiarly susceptible to cold if replaced by any of these materials.

Efficiency Commended.

The new members of the Board of Education in Chicago have re-elected Mrs. Ella Flagg Young superintendent of schools.

Miss Katharine E. Puncheon has been recently elected principal of the Girls' High School in Philadelphia, after much opposition. Miss Puncheon filled the place acceptably during the illness and following the death of the former principal. Following her election the girls gave her a rousing reception.

Discipline.

"If you had broken that comb, I should have punished you." And nothing whatever said of the tantrum or temper! Is it the child's motive, or actions, or the material damage that counts? If a child touch a forbidden vase should he be punished and for what If the vase be broken should the punishment be greater? Is it the fault or the result that counts?

The Home Study Problem.

"My plan for home study? I don't know what you mean, Miss Burdette. I'm sorry I can't help the children more with there studies but the older ones outgrew my knowledge long ago and I'm too tired now evenings to help the younger ones as I should. I'm too tired to read the evening paper or to wash the supper dishes. What I do? How do they study at home? After supper I come in here and lie on the couch and the two older children do the dishes. To keep the younger ones from bothering me or one another I have them say their lessons at me. They pretend they are the teachers. It is real interesting when the older ones join us, especially the history. I feel quite rested by the time they are through. I'm sorry if they are not doing well in school. They are away ahead! You think it a splendid plan! But I haven't any plan. I like to hear the children read aloud and I've noticed that they like to recite. Do you really think teachers do too much talking and don't allow the children to do enough? O, yes, I'll keep on letting them 'study at home.'"

A Simple Design For a Platter-Cloth In Shadow Eyelet Work.

This platter cloth or oval doily is very simple in design and easy to embroider in heavily padded solid work and shadow eyelets. The scalloped edge should be slightly padded, then covered with close, firm buttonhole stitch. It should be made of fine white round-thread linen and developed in mercerized cotton in white. Do not cut out the design until after it has been laundered, as this will keep the threads from shrinking into the scallops, which would cause them to pull away from the material.

Shadow eyelets are very effective and are simple and easy to do. The broad side of the eyelet should be padded lengthwise, the centers should be cut out a very little, then into a slit lengthwise of the space worked over with binding or over-and-over stitches, which must be small and even and close together.

If a more elaborate design is desired, an initial or monogram may be placed just above the design in the centre of one side. Initials taken from pattern number 14320, which includes a script alphabet number 14140, which comes in 1-inch, 2-inch or 3-inch size for 10 cents.

Pattern number 14397 is sixteen and one quarter by twenty-two inches, and will be supplied to readers for 15 cents.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

Klaw & Erlanger's beautiful production of "The Little Cafe," the newest musical play by C. M. S. McLellan and Ivan Caryll, is nearing its one hundredth performance at the New Amsterdam theatre, New York, where it is easily the notable comedy success of the present season. It follows the example of its predecessors by the same author and composer, "Oh! Oh! Delphine," and "The Pink Lady," which were the metropolitan hits of their respective years. "The Little Cafe" has taken a firm grip upon theatregoers who delight in beautiful stage pictures, tuneful music, witty lyrics and genuinely funny situations. Mr. McLellan, the author, is at present at his estate in the South of France getting round-shouldered piling up the bags of money that represent his royalties. Ivan Caryll, the composer, has just arrived in this country to consult with Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger upon a new play. He has homes in London, Paris and New York, but aims to make his permanent residence in this country, of which he is now a naturalized citizen.

MILLIONS GIVEN FOR MISSIONS.

New York, Jan. 15.—In the United States and Canada churches are giving at least $50,000,000 more annually for mission work than they gave eight years ago, according to J. Campbell White, general secretary of the Layman's Missionary Movement, who was one of the speakers at the third annual dinner of the Home and Foreign Mission Boards of the United States and Canada, held here.

VEGETABLE TOASTS.

POPULAR ways of serving toast are with preparations of vegetables. A portion of the vegetable sometimes minced, sometimes creamed, is placed on top of the slices of toast. These foods are nice for breakfast, luncheon or supper. Cold vegetables may be warmed over in making the auxiliary to the toast.

Serve Very Hot.

Asparagus on Toast.—Reheat some leftover canned asparagus and serve it on slices of crisp buttered toast. Cover with a cream sauce if preferred. The bread should be cut into squares or diamonds before it is toasted and the crusts removed.

Tomato Toast.—Take one pound of canned tomatoes, one small onion, one ounce of butter, one egg, salt and pepper and about six squares of toast. Chop the tomatoes with the peeled onion. Melt the butter in a frying pan and fry the tomatoes and onion for five minutes. Add seasoning and the egg, slightly beaten. Stir over the fire till the mixture is thick, then spread it on the toast. This must be served very hot.

A Good Breakfast Dish.

Mushroom Toast.—Peel some good fresh mushrooms and fry in butter till cooked. Have ready some strips of buttered toast, arrange a few mushrooms on each piece, season with salt and a little cayenne pepper. Sprinkle finely chopped parsley over, or, if you prefer it, use grated Parmesan cheese and serve. With nicely fried rashers of bacon this toast makes an excellent breakfast dish.

When Onions Are Avavilable.

Green Onions on Toast.—When green onions are to be had they may be used to advantage in preparing this savory toast. Clean the onions then tie in bunches and cook in boiling water slightly salted until tender. Drain off the water, cut the strings and place the onions on pieces of toasted bread. Trim the green tops neatly. After the toast is placed on the platter pour over just sufficient hot water to moisten slightly. Dissolve a teaspoonful of beef extract in one cupful of hot water, then add it gradually to one tablespoonful of butter melted and mixed with one tablespoonful of flour, as is done for a cream sauce. Stir until creamy, adding more hot water if too thick. Season with salt and pepper and pour over the onions.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Adopting Of Dear Little Ellen.

She Asked Ellen to Be Her Daughter.

"ONCE upon a time," began daddy, "there was a little girl named Ellen. She had five brothers and five sisters, and they all lived way off in Denmark. Little Ellen was the eldest of the girls and worked so hard looking after all of her little sisters that she fell ill. Ellen herself was only fourteen, but she was capable and old for her age and enjoyed caring for her little sisters and brothers and was very sad when she realized she had so little strength.

"Her family at once sent for their old doctor, and when he saw Ellen he shook his head and said the only thing to help her would be a sea voyage.

"Ellen's family knew of a woman who was going to America to find work, for she heard there was always plenty of work in America. So Ellen's family decided to send her along, too, for the doctor said it would be a splendid thing for her, and Ellen's family were so poor that they rejoiced at the chance that Ellen would have to be comfortable without too hard work. So they arranged with the woman that Ellen would sail with her the following week, and they did all they could to make her feel better so she would enjoy the trip.

"On the trip over Ellen was very homesick and very unhappy, but the good salt air brought back Ellen's red cheeks which she had lost entirely during her sickness. Ellen was really a very beautiful little girl, with her bright color and black eyes and yellow hair, and she had the most adorable little puckered up mouth.

"When she landed in America the woman who had brought her over recommended her as maid for a lady she had heard of as wanting one. So Ellen went to the lady's house.

"The lady was very good and kind to her and did not make her work too hard. Ellen by degrees learned to speak English.

"In the mornings she wore a little Danish white cap and quite won the lady's heart. Ellen forgot her homesickness, for she was so happy.

"Now, the lady had lost her only daughter when she was Ellen's age, and one day she decided to adopt Ellen. So she called her to her and said, 'How would you like to be my own little daughter and go to a nice school and play games with other children and take lovely drives with me?'

"'Oh, I'd adore it!' said Ellen, and cried for joy.

"So Ellen and the lady began life all over again. The lady was so happy to have a real little daughter. Ellen had now all the comforts and pleasures that she had been unable to have way off in Denmark. And you can imagine how happy it made her family to hear of her lovely home in America."

WASHING DISHES.

There Is an Art In This Homely Everyday Duty.

THE PROPER EQUIPMENT.

When Washing Cutlery It Is Always Best to Use a Good Silver Soap This Method Does Away With the Weekly Cleaning.

The art of dishwashing has become almost extinct in this quick going age, when the only way to do a thing is to do it at once and have it soon over. Yet real dishwashing is an art.

Dishwashing requires two dishpans, one in which to wash and the other to rinse the dishes; an abundance of heavy linen towels, some lighter ones for glasses, a good dish mop and dishcloths. The dishcloth should be of strong linen. Stair crash is excellent for this purpose, as it will become soft enough to be flexible and is very durable. Make these cloths about ten inches long, of narrow crash and hem them to prevent the edges from fraying when they are put through the laundry.

First of all, the dishes should be gathered up and properly scraped, then held for a moment under the hot water faucet to take off the first coating of grease. Any dishes or knives and forks used for fish should be carefully wiped with paper, as dishcloths are infected by fish immediately.

Put the dishes in hot suds. Use the dish mop freely and transfer them to the other pan to be rinsed. Let this second pan be very large and have a wooden drainer fitted in two inches from the bottom, so that the boiling water poured over the dishes will drain off them. This is the best and safest way of draining.

In washing the silver use a silver soap and thus avoid the weekly silver cleaning day, with the added inducement that the silver is constantly bright.

Wash spiders, pots and kettles separately and with an iron dishcloth. Pots and kettles should be washed inside and outside and thoroughly wiped before being set away. The coffee pot and tea kettle should be boiled out at least once a week with soda and water to keep them tastelessly clean.

"MAC" SAYS

COUNTY TITLE NEXT.

Although the Plainfield High School athletes have failed to shine this season on the basketball court and football field a chance for glory has now made its appearance as a grim speck in the future. With the hockey defeat over Westfield High School safely tucked away the Plainfielders have earned the right to compete with Cranford High School for the Union county ice hockey title. Cranford also has a victory over Westfield to its credit and a series between the locals and Cranford would probably afford much interest among the followers of this particular branch of sport.

AN UNCERTAIN SPORT.

Hockey has never flourished as a major sport in colleges or schools and the lovers of this pastime have to depend upon the weather man to furnish them with a place to practice and play on. For this reason little practice is ever in order for hockey players and the schedule seldom includes more than three or four games. The ice is better than usual this season and a county title scrap would serve to establish the sport on a former basis hereabouts.

ANOTHER HANDICAP.

Once more North Plainfield High School has taken a flying leap to the front and pulled off another jump on her Plainfield athletic rivals. Ralph Smalley, the wide-awake captain of the N. P. H. S. baseball team, has already had his pitchers loosening up their wings and as was the case in basketball, the boroughites are the first to start practice. Smalley is contemplating laying out a diamond in Saengerbund Hall but he has been unable to ascertain the correct distance the pitcher's box should be placed from home plate.

"Duke" Van Mater smashed the high score mark for individual goal shooting to smithereens in Saengerbund Hall yesterday afternoon, chalking up fourteen two-point tallies in the game with Nutley.

While N. P. H. S. was winning with a record score yesterday afternoon the Plainfielders were taking a drubbing by about the same margin over in the wilds of Rahway.

A substitute's lot is a rough one at the best but it is pretty discouraging to a second string man when he is refused an opportunity to work out against an opponent after the first team has run up a top-heavy advantage that could never be overcome. Although Warren Townley and Addison Newkirk were given but a scant five minutes of limbering up in Saengerbund Hall yesterday they certainly played rings around the opposition and showed up several members of the regular squad who were in the fray the whole of three quarters of the time.

Contented to warm the side lines in close battles the substitutes certainly are entitled to at least half a game when the score doubles itself one way or the other.

Now that Bob Fitzsimmons has secured the right to a hearing in the Supreme Court we await the hoisting of the Indian sign on Frank O'Neil, of the Boxing Commission, to still great heights Friday morning.

TWO GAMES IN A ROW.

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team is scheduled to go to Morristown tomorrow night to lineup against the Association five of that place in the new Y. M. C. A. gym and on Saturday night the Kearny five, which was defeated by a margin of one field goal by the locals Monday last, will play on the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. court. An auto bus has been chartered for the trip tomorrow night and a party of thirty will accompany the team.

WELL BALANCED FIVE TOOK THREE MATCHES

Local Knights of Columbus Pinners Rallied in the Third League Game.

Bayley Council pinners treated the Watchung representatives to a heavy jolt on the Columbus Club alleys here last night, by taking two out of three in the scheduled Knights of Columbus bowling league series. The first pair of games went to the visitors by comfortable margins but the locals rallied in the third contest and won out by sixty-one pins.

Barnes' high water mark of 222 hung up in the first game proved disastrous to the chances of the Watchung Council five despite the good work of George Howe, Edward Taylor and George Taylor and in the second Shannon and Taylor's hard work failed to bring relief because of another session of phenomenal wood splitting by Hasson and Hastings.

All of the visiting players with the exception of Hastings began to show the strain they were under in the third set and sunk far below their previous averages, while Shannon came to the tore with a 203 and Howe and H. Shannon chipped off 180 and 181 respectively. George Taylor and Barnes divided up honors for the evening's high score mark, each making a triple two or 222 during the evening of pinning.

The scores:

WESTFIELD SEVEN FALLS ONCE MORE

The Cranford High School hockey team opened its season yesterday afternoon by defeating the Westfield High School seven by a score of 4 to 1 at the latter place in a cleverly fought contest. The day previous Westfield High School fell a victim to the Plainfield High School team's prowess on the ice.

From the start of the game the visitors had the edge on the 21st Ararat schoolboys, showing a better article of teamwork and steadier all around playing. The Westfield men excelled in defensive play and the Westfield goal tenders warded off numerous well directed slams at their goal. The feature of the game was the sensational playing of Packard, of the winners, who was stationed at rover and scored four goals.

The lineups:

CRANFORD.		WESTFIELD
Moody	goal	Bourne
Hall	point	Underwood
Wassinski	cover point	Davies
Packard	rover	Hohenstein
Mason	centre	Martin
Lewis	left wing	Cline
West	right wing	Crittenden

Goals—Hohenstein, Packard 4.

HIGH SCORE GAME ON PLAINS COURT

Home Quintet, Led by Ricketts, Swamps Westfield High School Grads.

Playing a game of basketball which was featured by the teamwork of the home five, the Scotch Plains Parish House first team last night, defeated a team of Westfield High School graduates by a score of 67 to 13.

Ricketts was easily the star of the game, caging thirteen field goals, from all angles of the court, besides one foul. Although suffering from a sever jolt in the face received early in the game, Dallas found the basket for twenty-four points. Smith and Walker at guards had the visiting forwards at their mercy, letting them down with two baskets. Underwood rung up seven points for Westfield.

The sessions of the convention will begin tomorrow and continue over Saturday. GRACE BOYS HAVE WONDERFUL RECORD

Undefeated Five Trounced Heavy Opponents by a One-sided Score.

Cherishing a record of victories that has not been marred by a single defeat in two years of play, the Grace church boys' basketball team trounced the Nonpareil five in the church gym last night by the one sided count of 40 to 8. During the first half the visitors failed to chalk up a single tally while the Grace players totaled eighteen on nine goals from the field.

The playing was unusually close at all times and not a single foul was made by either team. The Nonpareil team's passing was especially noticeable throughout the game and although the players on the losing side carried the ball the length of the floor on a number of different occasions the forwards had difficulty in finding the goal.

For the visitors Dan McNamee and Raymond Manley were the leading scorers, the former chalking up more than twice as many points as the combined score of the losing team and the latter accounting for a half dozen on three field goals. The guarding was tight at all times and the baskets scored by the winners were all of the sensational variety.

The church boys were greatly outweighed by the opposing players, and resembled midgets alongside of the husky Nonpareils, several of whom sport over six feet of "altitude."

RAHWAY RAN AWAY FROM P. H. S. FIVE

The Plainfield High School basketball team met defeat at the hands of the Rahway High School team yesterday afternoon by the score of 62 to 38, playing on the latter's court. It was evident from the time the first whistle blew that Rahway had the game in its hands, for the passing and shooting of this team was well nigh perfect.

In the first half Rahway scored ten points before Plainfield made a tally. Then Hetfield scored a field goal. The first half ended with the score at 38 to 16 in Rahway's favor.

Brooks opened the second half with a field goal after one minute of play. In this half Plainfield seemed to get together and their opponents outscored them by only two points. A. Armstrong was the star of the game, scoring seventeen field goals. He seemed able to shoot the ball from almost any angle, often following it from center and dropping it in after two passes.

Princeton, Jan. 15.—In a hard fought game here last night the Tiger basketball team suffered its first defeat of the season at the hands of the Columbia quintet, the score being 19 to 15. The game was rough and even throughout and not until the final whistle were the visitors sure of victory.

Individual Field Goal Scoring Work Features—Substitutes Given a Belated Opportunity to Shine—Final Score 84 to 27.

The North Plainfield High School basketball team scored another record yesterday afternoon in Saengerbund Hall, when it rolled up a score of 84 to 27 against the Nutley High School team. This breaks the high score mark by twenty-two points. The game was clean and fast throughout, and only five fouls were called during the entire game.

The teamwork of the home boys was by far the best that has been displayed this year and there were times when their opponents were completely bewildered and baskets were made in quick order. The visitors also displayed some good passing at times but were weak in shooting. The half ended 30 to 15.

With the period about half over, Bulmer and VanMater retired, Townley and Newkirk taking their places. The former at forward, proved to be a fine utility man by caging six baskets in the short time. VanMater made fourteen field goals, breaking the season's record of thirteen. For the visitors Captain Van Riper was the main scorer, getting fifteen points, while Stores made the sensational shot of the game. He shot from the centre and the ball went through clean.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

GENERAL LOUIS BOTHA.

Premier Who Remains Firm In the South African Strike.

The proclamation of martial law throughout the Union of South Africa in response to the declaration of a general strike by the Federation of Trades is regarded as making the issue a clear one between the state and syndicalism, or the system of rapidly organized sympathetic strikes. The Union government remains firm in its attitude. The premier, General Louis Botha, is said to have declared that he would guarantee that with the end of the present crisis there would not be another workers' strike in South Africa for a generation.

JOHANNESBURG POLICE STORM TRADE HALL

Armed Body of Forty Railway Strikers Intrenched.

Johannesburg, Transvaal, Jan. 15.—After a pitched battle the police settled down to a siege of Trades hall, the union headquarters here, where an armed body of some forty railway strikers are intrenched.

The strikers are the bodyguard of the hall, appointed to keep out the police and military authorities. They are victualed for two weeks and have plenty of ammunition. The police, ordered to dislodge the strikers, rushed the place at first, but after exchanging many shots with the unionists retired to a safe distance and began their siege, hoping to starve out the railway men.

Cape Town, Jan. 15.—Because of the spreading general strike resulting from the railway workers' trouble martial law was proclaimed here. Meetings and picketing are prohibited.

The troops are authorized to shoot on sight persons found prowling about buildings. The death penalty is provided for persons having dynamite in their possession.

The strike region has been divided into nine areas, each controlled by a military officer vested with absolute power. Regulations of the most drastic character have been issued. Instant arrest and punishment will follow the use of such epithets as "scab" and "blackleg." The newspapers have been forbidden to print any alarming reports tending to increase the bitter feeling between the factions.

In the great industrial war which has paralyzed all trade and commerce the origin of the trouble, which was a protest by the railway workers against a policy of retrenchment announced by their employers, has been lost sight of.

WILSON'S TRUST PLAN AGREED ON

Wants to Rush Bill Through by June.

OFFENDERS WILL FACE JAIL

Message to Congress Will Urge Expert Monopoly Inquiries — Personal Guilt Is Insisted Upon—Confers With Congressional Leaders.

Washington, Jan. 15.—President Wilson reached a practical agreement with the Democratic leaders of the judiciary committee of the senate as to the anti-trust legislation to be enacted at the present session of congress.

The anti-trust bill first will be introduced in the house with the president's approval, and every effort will be made to press it through to enactment in a comparatively short time. It is expected in official circles that the consideration of the bill will be brought to an issue satisfactory to Mr. Wilson.

Two reasons actuate the president in desiring to procure the enactment of the measure with all practicable haste. The one is that the last unsettling element in the business situation may be removed so far as congress is concerned. The other reason is that congress may adjourn early enough to allow the Democratic congress candidates to make thorough canvasses.

The importance of the latter aspect of the situation was impressed on the president by the committee members who conferred with him.

Personal Guilt to Be Fixed.

They all appeared certain that legislation prohibiting interlocking directorates would be put through, that penalties would be imposed in every case upon individuals and that personal guilt would be distinctly fixed.

The main point in the discussion was the extent to which the Sherman law should be supplemented. The president is understood to have said it was necessary to remove all doubt as to what constituted a restraint of trade believing that public sentiment no longer was that restraints of trade could be reasonable.

Mr. Wilson, it was said, seemed to think it would be well to concentrate attention of congress on trust legislation so as to have it out of the way by June.

He also, it is said, laid emphasis upon the spirit with which the task should be approached, holding that since "big business" was manifesting a disposition to conform to "the spirit of the times" it was desirable to treat the problem with a feeling of friendliness and co-operation rather than of radical antagonism.

Some of the senators said that, while there might be various bills drafted they would follow the lines the president pointed out.

It was said that the message satisfies the trust view of every cabinet member and that members in close touch with the business world believe industry will find healthful reassurance in it.

FARMER DEFIES POSSE.

Family of Eleven Are With Him In Barricaded Home.

Mayville, N. Y., Jan. 15.—Sitting at a window in his barricaded home, a shotgun on one knee and a rifle on the other, Edward Beardsley defied a posse of deputy sheriffs now seeking his arrest for shooting J. W. Putnam, overseer of the poor of Chautauqua county, who was badly wounded while on a mission of mercy to the Beardsley home. Locked in the house with Beardsley are his nine children, his wife and a sister-in-law.

Evidently driven to desperation by the intense cold and hunger, Beardsley attempted a dash for liberty early today. As he left a rear door of the house a sheriff ordered him to stop. Beardsley opened fire with his shotgun, but retreated into the house.

It was because Putnam had come to his home to take his children to the poorhouse that Beardsley killed the poormaster.

FIRE REVEALS MURDER.

Man Found Dead In Bed When Door Is Battered Down.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 15.—During the progress of a fire in East Federal street the firemen broke open a door which had been securely padlocked and found the body of a man, apparently foreign born, lying on a bed with the skull battered in. An ax was lying nearby.

From the condition of the body the murder must have been committed several weeks ago. Identity of the body has not yet been established.

GENERAL VILLA.

Rebel Leader Who Is Determined to Take Huerta's Capital.

VILLA TO ADD 10,000 MEN TO REBEL ARMY

Recruits to Receive Federal Arms and Equipment.

Mexico City, Jan. 15.—Pancho Villa has decided to add 10,000 men to his rebel army. He declares that the arms captured at Ojinaga, together with arms and ammunition he had previously taken from the federals, will enable him to arm and equip that many men fully. Recruiting was commenced in Juarez.

General Huerta's decree suspending the payment of interest in Mexico's national debt was construed by many diplomats here as an attempt to bring the wrath of Europe down upon the United States.

Huerta is said to reason that the financial difficulties of Mexico may be traced to non-recognition by the United States. If the European countries can be hit in their pocketbooks, he thinks, they will blame the Wilson administration.

Bankers here said that they believed Mexican money would within the week decline to a ratio of 4 to 1 with American money. With little exception Mexican money is now flat currency. The next move expected from the Huerta regime is the issuance of government paper not backed by coin.

Following the publication of the decree stopping the payment of interest on the national debt four of the foreign envoys called on Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires. There was a long conference concerning the decree, but no information was given out about the conference afterward. Government officials are equally reticent concerning the decree.

By the decree the government will save 3,000,000 pesos a month, or a total of 18,000,000 pesos to cover the six months for which the payment has been suspended.

The government has received an official report that Zapatistas made simultaneous attacks Monday on Cuauhtla, Tejetixtla and San Juan de Guadalupe. The rebels numbered 2,000 under Generals Felipe Neri, Amado Salazar and Jauriqui. They cut the telegraph lines and destroyed a railway bridge, but were beaten back everywhere.

100 POUNDS BY POST SOON?

Burleson Seriously Considering Another Increase In Weight Limit.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Increase of the weight limit of parcel post packages to 100 pounds is being seriously considered by Postmaster General Burleson, it was learned. Experiments with the recently increased weight limit have proved satisfactory.

"I think that during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1914, we will transport approximately 600,000,000 parcels and will derive a revenue of nearly 10 cents each," Mr. Burleson said. "The 100 pound weight limit has no terrors for me. Very broad powers were conferred upon this department in developing this service. We propose to go ahead with it until we reach the point where we feel that the service has been developed as far as it can be to meet the necessities and requirements of the people."

DAUGHTER FROZEN, MOTHER DYING

Find Two Aged Women In Frigid Kitchen.

BIG CATS WATCH OVER TWO

Only Companions of East Orange Hermits — Parent In Serious Condition From Shock and Exposure—Believed Daughter Took Ill and, Mother Being Unable to Help Her, Froze to Death.

East Orange, N. J., Jan. 15.—Two aged women, mother and daughter, were found seated facing each other in the kitchen of their home at 18 Steuben street. One, her body nude save for a shawl, was dead. The other was delirious. Four great gray cats, the only companions of the women, who were recluses, sat in a row between the two.

When neighbors saw that Mrs. Sarah Jackson, eighty-five, and her daughter Susan, sixty-seven, had not taken the bread and milk from their steps they sent for the police. The kitchen door was broken in.

The old women were found in the freezing air of the kitchen, the daughter seated on a chair dead and her mother staring at her from the coal box opposite. The cats were driven away and a doctor sent for.

Then it was learned that Miss Jackson had suffered from dropsy. It is supposed she was taken ill in the night and froze to death, her mother being unable to help her. The mother was taken to the Orange Memorial hospital in a serious condition from shock and exposure.

The authorities are unable, however, to account for the condition of Miss Jackson's body. The only clothing she wore was an old shawl. Neighbors say that the Jacksons never had visitors and never visited. Trades people say they always paid for goods with twenty dollar bills, and a large sum of money was found in the house.

FIND BODY INCASED IN ICE.

Engineer Thought to Have Fallen Through Frozen Reservoir.

Perth Amboy, N. J., Jan. 15.—The body of Andrew Miller, twenty-three years old, was found incased in ice, after the crew of the tug Tacony brought to shore the limp body of Charles Collins, a carpenter, of New York city, who was almost frozen to death while battling with the icy waves in Staten Island sound. Collins was rushed to the Perth Amboy hospital. He is in a precarious condition.

Skaters on the ice covered reservoir near the Lehigh Valley docks discovered the body of Miller in the ice. Coroner James J. Flynn was called, and after a gang of boys with picks worked for nearly half an hour the body was taken from its frozen grave.

Miller was an engineer and had been missing several days. It is the belief of the coroner that he walked across the reservoir when the ice was not strong enough to bear his weight and was drowned. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Miller, are well to do.

9 HOURS' WORK SAVES LIFE.

Persistent Use of the Pulmotor Wins In Case of Artist.

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 15.—Nine hours of use of the pulmotor has saved the life of Samuel Phillips, a young artist.

The boy, apparently dead, was found in his room by his mother. He had fallen asleep when finishing sketches and had accidentally upset a small gas heater, turning on the gas. The mother phoned to a physician, who called Edward Coyt of the local gas company.

Coyt brought the pulmotor and began work. Just as he was about to stop in despair he detected a faint pulse. Renewing his efforts, Coyt finally brought Phillips back to consciousness. He is in the City hospital.

CAN'T CLOSE RARITAN CANAL.

Pennsylvania Railroad Must Keep It Open Every Month but One.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 15.—Beginning with the present year the Pennsylvania railroad will be permitted to close the Delaware and Raritan canal only one month each year. An order to this effect was made by the board of public utility commissioners. The order stipulates that the canal may be closed from Jan. 15 to Feb. 15, thus making it necessary for the railroad company to open the waterway again next month instead of in March, as has been the course heretofore.

PRAISE CURRENCY BILL.

Manufacturers' Association of New Jersey Hold Meeting In Trenton.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 15.—The Manufacturers' association of New Jersey held its first annual convention here at the Republican club, with a large attendance.

There were several speeches at the afternoon session, presided over by President J. Philip Bird, which the members found of absorbing interest. William C. Cornwell expressed belief in the basic soundness of the currency bill, which, he said, will confer three great benefits on the country.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful fn a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. —Adv.

CURRENCY BILL WAS HER THEME

TALKS ON GERMANY

Addressing Current Events Club at Hartridge Auditorium Gifted Woman Relates Recent Political Developments.

The new currency bill was the principal matter discussed by Miss Janet Richards in her talk on "Current Events," before a large and interested audience of women at the Hartridge Auditorium, yesterday afternoon. The speaker said the bill is a complicated one, requiring the most careful consideration to get at the true meaning. So complicated is the measure, she explained, that banks are employing experts to unravel its intricacies.

In the opinion of Miss Richards, the sentiment in this country is more for government control than ownership of the big businesses, such as industrial corporations, public utilities, etc. The speaker told how bank directors are also directors in big business corporations and are therefore in a position to exercise control to the possible detriment of the smaller business. Miss Richards declared that it was chiefly to prevent the interlocking of directorates that the currency bill came into existence. Still another reason was to prevent a stringency in the money market.

Under the old system banks could refuse credit to substantial business houses and thereby injure the smaller business to the benefit and gain of the big business and eventually drive the little fellow altogether.

Miss Richards then directed her attention to the German situation, asserting that the affair in Alsace was of such a serious nature that it might bring about a change in the constitution. She explained that although parliament had asked the resignation of the Prime Minister he still held office because the present constitution permits him to do so. The speaker was of the opinion that the indignation aroused by the attitude of the militia might bring about a radical change in conditions.

Referring to the new system of taxing in Germany for the support of the militia and navy, it was shown that it is very different from the American system, in that it does not allow the poor to escape or even those who earn a moderate salary. Under the new system even the Kaiser will have to pay his proportion of the tax, which will amount to a million marks.

During her lecture, Miss Richards made a brief summary of the events scheduled for the coming year, which was suggested to her by a cartoon appearing yesterday in a Philadelphia newspaper.

This cartoon pictured the world swinging around and throwing off coming events, among which were "The Mexican Revolution," "Experiments in the United States, Wilson," "T. R., Big Stick, South America," "English Militaney," "English Home Rule," "South African Strikes," "German War Matters," and "Currency Bill?" From these various suggestions Miss Richards covered a wide field of thought pertaining to events of current interest.

SOCIETY ATTENDED DINNER AND DANCE

Given by Miss Annie G. Runkle in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Day.

One of the delightful social functions of the winter season was the dinner-dance given last night by Miss Annie Grey Runkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Runkle, at her home on West Eighth street. The affair was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Day, of New York. There were a number of out of town guests at both the dinner and the dance which followed.

Covers for twelve were laid at the dinner, among the guests, beside Mr. and Mrs. Day, being Miss Margaret Smith, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ogle, of Newark.

Following the dinner there was the dance, at which there were about seventy guests from this city and out of town. Music for the dancing was furnished by Van Eps Brothers, and proved to be a feature. An unusually attractive program was given, including a number of encores.

SETTLE ON HAIGHT AS FEDERAL JUDGE

President and Attorney-General Said to Have Agreed On Jersey City Man.

Washington, Jan. 16.—County Counsel Thomas G. Haight, of Hudson county, has practically been settled upon as successor of the late Judge Cross, of the United States District Court, District of New Jersey.

It is understood that in the settlement of the question the President and Attorney-General McReynolds have been guided in large measure by the advice of Secretary of War Garrison, who, as a vice chancellor sitting in Jersey City, gained an intimate knowledge of the capabilities of Mr. Haight and the other candidates from North Jersey.

The matter is still in the hands of Mr. McReynolds. He has canvassed the situation pretty thoroughly, and his formal recommendation of Mr. Haight will probably be forwarded to the White House in a few days. Unless some unforeseen factor intervenes, it will be duly dispatched to the Senate for confirmation.

The proposed elevation of Mr. Haight to the bench will fit in with the plan, if it still exists, of Wittpenn leaders in Hudson county to make James J. Murphy county counsel. This plan at first contemplated having County Judge George G. Tennant, of Jersey City, made federal judge, then have Mr. Haight take the county judgeship and make Mr. Murphy county counsel.

But, as has been previously indicated, President Wilson would not be a party to the scheme and it is also stated that no assurance could be obtained from Governor-elect Fielder that he would appoint Haight as county judge.

There was a disposition on the part of the President to name Judge Mark Sullivan, but the latter's friends are undestood to have vetoed the suggestion because of his desire to stay on the Common Pleas bench.

At still another stage of the proceedings, the President was favorably disposed to appoint former Judge John W. Wescott, but the latter's prospective appointment as attorney-general, and the candidacy of his son for a federal judgeship at Philadelphia, ended the consideration of his name.

The salary of the place is $6,000 a year, with a life tenure.

MOSLEM RELIGION ON THE DECLINE

SPIRITUAL CRISIS NOW

That the fullness of time has now arrived for the Moslem world, is the belief of Rev. Dr. Samuel M. Zwemer, who addressed a largely attended meeting in the First Baptist church, last night, under the auspices of the Federation of Women's Missionary Societies of Plainfield and for more than an hour held the close attention of everyone as he presented the needs of the work and pointed out frequently how the old religion of the Mohammedans is disintegrating, and how the doors of the whole world are now open for the missionaries. The speaker declared that the field is now ripe and there is a great change towards Christianity.

Dr. Zwemer said that the question of reaching the Mohammedan had been so baffling that the Moravian church has never established a church among the people and the Roman Catholic church has never attempted to grapple with the problem. In referring to his subject, "That the fullness of time has now come for the Moslem world," Dr. Zwemer said that God's fullness comes only once, sometimes, and he then proceeded to prove that it has come for the Moslem world.

"One of the reasons why this is true," said Dr. Zwemer, "is that today Christendom faces Moslem as a unit. The Mohammedans are to be found in nearly every foreign country, and diplomats are now engaged in studying the problem as a live, growing issue. We know more than ever about these people and they know that we know. What does this mean? Europe is wide-awake and Mohammedans know it. It is no longer a secret battle. Unity is the crisis of the problem. The past ten years has brought the Moslem world close to us.

"It was the belief of the German Colonial delegates that Islam is no aid to civilization and not even a stepping stone to Christianity, that it is not even a fit religion for the home. God has opened the doors for us. In China, Corea, India and other countries he has torn the hinges from the doors for the entry of the missionary, and we now find religious liberty, freedom of the press and even street preaching in Morocco, and we are witnessing a political collapse of the Moslem world. Slavery and polygamy can no longer obtain and the old customs are rapidly disappearing until today we are facing a social disintegration of Mohammedanism.

"Islam, which remained dormant is now feeling the strong impact of the west, the people read the newspapers they send their children to the mission schools, they set their watches by western time and use our calendars, all of which is directly contrary to their own religion, but they have caught the spirit of western civilization and the religion of Christ and we must give them faith in a living Christ.

"Then there is the spiritual crisis God today is showing us a field that is dead ripe, with a great change toward Christianity. Last year the missionaries sold 7,000 copies of the Bible among these people and in the 170 mission hospitals in that country I predict that every cot is now filled with natives and the pride and fanaticism of the Mohammedan is fast disappearing, as is shown by the fact that with all warning signs up he is embracing the opportunities of civilization.

"We missionaries find that these people are willing to listen to the preaching of the Gospel and when they are converted they go out and teach the Word of God fearlessly. I find that I can talk with them and they are willing to listen to reason. I have seen public baptisms, which is almost an unheard of thing, but the times are changing and God's church is awakening and girding up her loins. But there is a personal responsibility, which after all is the important thing. I would like to see the Baptists, Episcopalians and all churches unite in establishing missions among these people and thus join in Christianizing these people."

The Federation of Women's Missionary Societies was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. E. G. Read read the Scripture, Rev. J. Y. Broek offered prayer and Mrs. F. St. John Fitch presided. Rev. Dr. E. G. Read, who is familiar with Dr. Zwemer's work, introduced the speaker, and Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the church, assisted in the service. Miss Jessie Haynes, contralto soloist of the church sang the offertory number.

ANOTHER OPERATION FOR SKIN GRAFTING

Seven Years Old Girl Badly Burned Has Good Chance of Recovery.

Mamie Parella, the seven-years-old daughter of Camillio Parella, of Spooner avenue who underwent an operation of skin-grafting three weeks ago for which her brother gave about one hundred pieces of flesh, as the last hope for saving her life, underwent another similar operation this morning.

The child is now being cared for by Miss Ada Kirschner, a trained nurse, who has become so attached to the little one that today she gave ten pieces of skin, while the victim's father and uncle gave twenty-three pieces of skin between them.

When the bandages were removed it was found that the child's one side had healed nicely, but the physician decided that more skin-grafting was necessary on the other side. Dr. P. B. Cregar, who performed the operation, believes that the progress of the case indicates that the child will recover, but it will take a long time.

The little girl was terribly burned about her body while in the cellar at her home in search of something for the household. Her dress caught afire and before the flames could be extinguished a greater part of the body was covered with burns.

HARDY CAN'T GET THE SECURITIES

Court Orders Plainfield Trust to Hold Them Pending Litigation Decision.

WERE LEFT BY HIS WIFE

The Question at Issue Involves Joint Tenancy—She Had Bequeathed Some of the Securities to Her Son It Transpires.

Newark, Jan. 16.—Vice-Chancellor Howell decided today in the suit brought by Clarence B. Vail, administrator, of the estate of Mrs. Hannah M. Hardy, to set aside a voluntary settlement of property, consisting of $250,000 worth of securities, which John M. Hardy, of Plainfield, husband of the testator, is trying to get possession of, that the securities, as well as all the income and dividends, must remain with The Plainfield Trust Company, until a final disposition of the case, and that the trust company shall take care of said income and dividends.

The vice-chancellor said that the bill is meagre as to statement of facts and standing alone might not justify interference on the part of the court. The defendant, Mr. Hardy's answering affidavit, through his counsel, Charles A. Reed, of the firm of Reed & Hetfield, though likewise meagre, throws light on the situation, continues the vice-chancellor, and both affidavits considered together make out a case for the complainant within the authority of the court.

The decision further sets forth that on October 12, after Mrs. Hardy had left her husband to live apart from him, they had a joint checking account on $10,000, each taking $5,000. The securities were left in the safe deposit vault. The vice chancellor says that the transaction between husband and wife shows trust and confidence, that the wife consulted no one and had no advice, independent or otherwise, and that there was no power of revocation.

The property including the securities, it was said, seemed to be the bulk of Mrs. Hardy's fortune, that there was no consideration, that she made the arrangement without knowledge of the consequences.

The vice-chancellor stated that in her will Mrs. Hardy left the securities to her son, that the "conveyance must be set aside because in making it the donor did not have the benefit of independent advice as to its effect, and that in the absence of such advice it invalidates such a will or gift.

It is further set forth by the vice chancellor that Mr. Hardy did not meet the burden of proof as to the gift and that it is incumbent upon him to prove that it was given to him freely without compulsion, by a preponderance of evidence that the law calls for.

The testimony shows that Mrs. Hardy gave to her husband forty shares of Adam Express Company stock and twenty shares of Home Insurance Company stock, while there are 789 shares of Pullman stock, twenty-eight shares of Lake Shore & Michigan Railroad stock and $7,000 worth of bonds of the West Shore Railroad Company, which were given to the son by a will. These securities are now in the safe deposit box at the Plainfield Trust Company, where they must remain by the decision of the vice-chancellor.

AUBUDON PRES'T TO BE HONORED

SIXTH TO RECEIVE IT

Presentation to Be Made at His Home Here Wednesday—In Recognition of His Work as Aubudon Society's President.

In recognition of his invaluable services as president of the National Association of Audubon Societies, William Dutcher, of this city, known as the father of the Audubon movement, has received a distinguished honor from the Camp Fire Club of America, having been awarded the club's gold medal. Only five other men have been so honored and they are all noted Americans, the list being Dr. William T. Hornaday, in 1906; Gifford Pinchot in 1909; Theodore Roosevelt in 1910; Thompson Seton in 1911, and Daniel C. Beard in 1912.

The medal is intended as an award for special work for game or forest protection, and it has been arranged to make the presentation next Wednesday afternoon at the Dutcher home in Park avenue.

Mr. Dutcher was decided upon as the one entitled to be so honored when the Camp Fire Club recently held its annual dinner at Delmonico's, New York. The president, William E. Coffin, on that occasion submitted the following recommendation as made by the organization's board of governors:

That the gold medal of the club be awarded to William Dutcher, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies and father of the great Audubon movement. In speaking of this recommendation Mr. Coffin spoke of the fact that Mr. Dutcher had been incapacitated from sickness but that, while he was sick in body, his mind was clear and "his soul went marching on."

He said that Mr. Dutcher's distinguished services to the nation and to the cause of conservation, deserve the highest recognition which the club could give and that this honor should be conferred while Mr. Dutcher was alive and able to recognize and enjoy it.

The action of the board was unanimously approved by the club at large on the evening in question and a committee of five was appointed to wait upon Mr. Dutcher at his home in Plainfield and give him the gold medal in question.

This committee consists of Dr. William T. Hornaday, the director of the Zoological Gardens; Daniel C. Beard, chief scout master of the Boy Scout Movement; John B. Burnham, president of the American Game Protective Association; Marshall McLean, chairman of the clubs' committee on conservation of forestry and wild life; Augustus S. Houghton, former chairman of that committee, and William E. Coffin, the president of the club.

Mr. Dutcher, who was a New York life insurance man, was stricken with paralysis more than a year ago and has since been confined to his home.

Mrs. Charlotte Fritz, of Dunellen, has announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Evelyn Antoinette, to Frederick H. Stryker, of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kershaw, of Mercer street, announces the engagement of their daughter, Miss Grace Louise, to Augustus Lloyd Thomas, also of this place.

The assembly of the Somerville Athletic Association will be held in the armory on Friday night, February 20, and the following have been appointed as the committee of arrangements: William D. Nolan, John D. Brant, Jr., George R. Nevius, J. G. Gaston, William J. Kirby.

A reception will be tendered to the Rev. and Mrs. Roy E. Vale, by the congregation, at the Second Reformed church this evening.

Mrs. John Moriarity, of Elmhurst, L. I., is a guest of her father, Thomas Conboy.

In the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives on Wednesday afternoon at St. Bernard's church, Miss Jennie G. Cahill, of this place, and Walter Carson, of Somerville, were married by the Rev. J. J. Zimmer. The ceremony took place at 4 o'clock, and as the bridal party entered the church the wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Frank A. Hickey, cousin of the bride, as organist, and William Oberbrunner as violinist. The bridesmaid was Miss May Burns, cousin of the bride, and the best man was Philip Cahill, brother of the bride. The bride was attired in white brocaded satin, trimmed with princess shadow lace, and carried a floral muff of white roses and lilies of the valley. She wore a white tulle veil. The bridesmaid was dressed in light mahogany crepe de chine, and wore a gold lace hat, and carried a floral muff of ward roses to match her dress. The ushers wer Frank Cox and John Cahill. After the ceremony in the church the bridal party returned to the home of the bride on Anderson street, where a wedding supper was served, the happy couple receiving congratulations before a bank of palms and white lilies. After a wedding trip throughout New England, Mr. and Mrs. Carson will reside in Somerville.

PROCTOR'S GREAT SHOW.

Madam Oberita and her dancing girls present the headline attraction at Proctor's this week, although every act on the bill is a top-liner. Madam Oberita's act comprises wonderful and beautiful costumes, marvelous electrical effects and scenery. Each dance is a riot of oriental coloring, forming gorgeous butterflies and other remarkable designs. Verne and Allen appear in a comedy character skit, "The Boob and the Girl;" The Harrison West Trio present a dandy singing, dancing and talking act. Al Lewis is a good banjoist and he is a good 'cellist. The Flying Henrys are wonderful ring artists. The Westmans in a home comedy sketch, "Troubles of Joy," is a scream. The two reel photo-plays are changed daily and everyone a big feature.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

This is the seventh week in New York of "The Things That Count," at William A. Brady's Playhouse, which is filled completely at every repetition of the play. It seems to be extremely unlikely that any change of program will be required at this theatre for some time to come. "The Things That Count" has been the subject of very general comment in the shape of letters to Mr. Brady from leading clergymen, members of the Department of Education, prominent stage players and the public in general. "I have never produced any other play," observes the manager, "that has increased my daily mail to a similar extent. I receive forty to fifty letters every morning, all congratulating me upon having presented a drama at once so absorbing and so free from problems, or sex questions, or vice of any kind. The public seems to have developed a sudden appetite for plays of this type, or perhaps the appetite was merely dormant pending the passage of the [illegible] for drama of the other kind. It is exceedingly gratifying to be associated with a production which brings out such a response as this one has called for. Its influence is toward returning to the theatre thousands of persons who had been discouraged by the 'strong dramas upon topics not usually discussed at the family fireside."

1913—The British House of Commons passed the Irish Home Rule Bill.

Plainfield, N. J., January 16, 1914.

ONCE AGAIN.

It may seem tiresome to some to read constantly of this agitation for a sanitary system, under municipal control, for the collection and disposal of garbage and ashes, but so far as the property owner is concerned we feel confident that he is with us in this long drawn out campaign for the much-needed improvement.

Conditions in this respect as at present existing, all will agree, are a disgrace to a community of the high standard of Plainfield. All the advantages and attractions of the ideal community are ours, save one. The methods tolerated for disposing of refuse are a shame to the name of an otherwise ideal suburban community.

Annually for more than a decade, the Board of Health has begged the Common Council to do something to improve the slip-shod, unsanitary, unsatisfactory and costly means now in vogue for the removal of garbage and ashes. Little or nothing has been accomplished.

We feel confident that the new Common Council will spend its energies in this direction and that before it retires from office the problem will be solved.

APPEAL TO THE COURTS.

North Plainfield should not be content with the decision of the State Board for the Equalization of Taxes. It should resort to the courts and push the claim for a recogniton of the judgment and agreements made by the Somerset County Board allowing a reduction of $912,003 entered a year ago to take effect this year.

We believe that the majority of North Plainfield's taxpayers consider the claim a just one and that it was manifestly unfair for the present County Board to ignore or rather repudiate it. The same applies to the State Board which has upheld the lower body.

The borough can well afford to meet the costs of litigation for the chances are that it will win out in the end and thereby a large sum would be saved the taxpayers.

It behooves every man in the borough to attend the meeting called by Mayor Clark for next Monday night. At that time it will be decided whether to go ahead with the matter and in the decision every citizen should have a voice.

Makers of phonographs are aiming to use wood instead of metal in all parts of the instrument where this is possible in order to increase the mellowness of the tone.—News item.

They're not trying to; they have been doing it for some time at the Vitaphone plant here in Plainfield.

Ignerant of the fact that they are not vested with the right to do so, some New Jersey justices of the peace have been performing marriage ceremonies and it is probable the present Legislature will take steps to put an end to this practise. Weddings of the sort as a rule are either elopments or hasty ones at least and many of them turn out badly. This seems of no consequence, however, to some of the justices for about all that concerns them is the small fee they get for tying the knot. Judge Gnitchel, of the Mercer county courts, has interested himself in the matter, declaring that the practise is an illegal one and he has the support of all good citizens in advocating that the justices cease acting in that capacity.

What have the calamity howlers got to say as to the reports of the Manufacturers' Association of New Jersey, in session at Trenton this week, which show that the past year has been the most prosperous in the history of the State?

Springfield Republican says New York has had better mayors and better government than Boston. Heaven help Boston.

The contributing editor for Saturday's issue will be Rev. E. C. Conover, pastor of the Temple Baptist church.

SPENT MILLION, DIES AMONG DERELICTS

Union, Jan. 16.—At the Self-Masters Colony, which has served as a haven for scores of human derelicts, Roswell L. Colt, Jr., said to be the scion of the famous Colt family, of Paterson, died Wednesday night. He was practically penniless. According to Andress Floyd, head of the colony, Colt, during his lifetime had spent two fortunes aggregating more than $1,000,000. He was stricken blind about a year ago and his relatives placed him in the care of Mr. Floyd. He had lived at the Self Masters home ever since.

Colt was 65 years old. He was a graduate of Cornell College. It is said that his downward career commenced when, as a young man, he was jilted by a Russian countess. Colt, it is said, was a cousin of the man who married Ethel Barrymore, the actress. He had many other wealthy relatives.

The body has been removed to the undertaking parlors of M. M. Martin & Son, in Elizabeth.

C. B. Davidson, who has offices at 97 Front street, New York city, a relative of the deceased, yesterday said he could give little information about Colt. He was born in New York city and had been an inmate of the Self Masters Colony since July, 1913, he said, having been sent there from New York.

MRS. MAY MURPHY DIES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. May Murphy, aged 64 years, wife of William Murphy, died this morning at her home on Park avenue, Scotch Plains, after a long illness. She had been a resident of Scotch Plains for twenty-two years and was an active member of the Methodist church, that place. There survives a husband, one daughter, Violet M., and two sons, Bertram and Lester Murphy.

Private funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at the late home at 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, pastor of the Methodist church, will officiate and the burial will be in the Baptist cemetery, Scotch Plains.

FUNERAL SERVICE HELD FOR ISEEC KREWSON

The funeral service of Iseec Krewson, of Rahway, was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his brother, Joseph Krewson, on Plainfield avenue. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends. Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, officiated. There were many floral tributes, including one from the employes of A. M. Griffin's store, where Frank Krewson, a brother of the departed, is employed.

Mr. Krewson, who had lived in Rahway for many years, had been in Muhlenberg Hospital under treatment for seven weeks. The burial was in Hazelwood cemetery, Rahway, and the pall-bearers were Frank, Joseph, Charles, William Krewson, of this city; John K. Krewson, of Newark, all brothers, and Raymond Carver, of this city, a nephew of the departed.

HE WILL TELL WHAT PREACHERS OBSERVE

"Ladies' night" will be observed at the regular monthly meeting of the Dutch Arms of Trinity Reformed church on Monday night when Rev. George E. Lombard, of Newark, will deliver a lecture. His theme will be

"What the Preacher Sees From the Pulpit." There will also be vocal and instrumental selections. The lecture will begin promptly at 8:15, the business session being set for 7:45.

HUDSON MEN GRUMBLE OVER INCOME TAX JOBS CHOICE

Washington, Jan. 16.—Rumblings of dissatisfaction in the ranks of the patronage-seeking voters of the Hudson Democracy—or at least that segment of it which acknowledges Hon. Otto Wittpenn as lord and master—over the distribution of income tax jobs, reached Washington yesterday. The complaining did not surprise anybody, for no one here believes that it will ever be possible to satisfy the conflicting claims for preference that come out of Hudson.

The kick is against the appointment of A. S. Lindop, of Jersey City, as State agent. Lindon, who was selected by Senator Hughes, was and is described as a "regular organization Democrat."

But it developed that he is not connected with the Wittpenn organization and, in fact, he is even accused of having once been the secretary of Representative Kinkead, whose relations with Governor-elect Fielder are more cordial than they are with Mr. Wittpenn.

Representative Hamill got into town yesterday morning with a protest and was heard to say that the Hudson organization had not been consulted. Other things about the sinuosity of Hudson county politics were said, but were not understandable.

However, the appointments have been approved by Colonel Osborne, the commissioner of internal revenue, and there will not be any backtracking on them. Senator Hughes stated that he and Senator Martine had done the best they could under conditions made embarrassing by the plethora of applicants.

The efforts of Mr. Hughes, seconded by Mr. Martine, to dislodge Paul Meyer, the former Princeton student, who had been named as State inspector, have succeeded, and the place will go to an Essex county Democrat, who is satisfactory to the Wilson element. Both Messrs. Hughes and Martine were agreed that the Wilson faction in Essex should obtain one of the plums. The six jobs that have the title of "deputy collector" are really nothing more than clerkships.

JERSEY MOTORISTS WARNED AGAINST PHILA. "AGENCIES"

Trenton, Jan. 16.—Commissioner Lippincott, of the department of motor vehicles, has been advised that a number of persons in Philadelphia who hold commissions as notaries public of New Jersey have been representing themselves as authorized to receive applications for registrations and drivers' licenses for this State. As a warning to motorists, Mr. Lippincott yesterday gave out the following statement:

"The department desires to give public notice that the only agent duly qualified to accept applications for registrations and drivers' licenses for New Jersey in the city of Philadelphia is James Lallou, Keim Supply Company, 1227 Market street, and that persons leaving money with any notary public or other person in payment of a New Jersey registration do so at their own risk.

"The department has found that certain notaries had secured supplies of the department, applications through former holders of licenses in New Jersey, who had received our applications through the mail, and surrendered them to these notaries public. The department is endeavoring to compel the return of such blanks and prevent a continuation of the practice."

Rev. S. Sheenbaun, of Temple Sholen, New York, will be the speaker at the regular Friday night services in the Y. M. H. A. Hall on Grove street tonight. His subject will be "A Man's Duty to Man."

John Morel, the fifteen year old son of Louis Morel, of Scotch Plains, is recovering from the unpleasant experience of having his nose frozen during a tramp of several miles on Tuesday night, when he attended the farewell reception to Father Schwartz at St. Mary's church, Stony Hill. It was while walking home from the reception, with the mercury below the zero mark, that Morel's nose was frozen.

The young man did not discover his misfortune until the following morning. Dr. Ray Munger was then summoned and under his treatment Morel is steadily improving. He was able to return to school today.

FEATURES OF MESSAGE ON TRUST LEGISLATION

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Jan. 16.—The President's coming message to Congress dealing with trust legislation will recommend, according to excellent authority, the creation of a National Trade Commission with inquisitorial powers, but none of the other functions of a court. Also it will recommend the prohibition of holding companies. It will deal in general terms with interlocking directories and personal responsibility. It is quite likely that the message will be delivered to a joint session of Congress next Tuesday.

Devoted Mexican Women Share With Men All the Horrors of War

THE horrors of the civil strife in Mexico are shared heroically by the women—the wives and daughters of the poor, ragged soldiers of both forces. Their enforced part in the warfare has been going on for the last three years. They are the foragers and in that capacity are the advance guard of the army and do all the menial work in camp making. While they for the most part only occasionally take part in the actual fighting, their hardships are far greater than those of the men. The patience and devotion of the women of the poorer class of the Mexicans is astonishing. Mexican armies have no commissariat. The women carry the cooking pots, light the fires and get the food ready. A Mexican encampment is an astonishing sight. It is like a large picnic. Children swarm everywhere. Coffee and tortillas appear as if by magic. Somehow the women are always on good time.

Even the Constitutional government of Mexico gives semiofficial recognition to women and children as being important adjuncts of the regular fighting forces.

The first definite knowledge that the noncombatants in Piedras Negras, situated just across the Rio Grande, had that the federals were about to take possession of the town was when a train arrived from the south, pulling several freight cars filled with women and children. They had been sent ahead to forage for food and have dinner ready for the hungry horde of soldiers who arrive an hour or two later.

Each woman works for her own particular mess, if it may so be called. It usually consists of her husband and perhaps another relative or two. There is much rivalry between the women in preparing meals for their respective patrons.

When the repast is over the men and the children lie flat upon the ground and enjoy a siesta, while the women busy themselves with other duties.

The uncomplaining women are often forced to perform services of the most dangerous and painful character. They have marched hundreds of miles through the cactus covered desert, carrying their smaller children and pots and pans upon their backs, while their older offspring trotted by their sides. When the son of one of these women reaches the age of twelve he is given a gun and becomes a soldier.

Seldom has the world seen such an example of devotion to men as is shown by these women. To be sure, these poor creatures are densely ignorant and have little knowledge of even the ordinary comforts of life, but their hearts are filled with deep love for the nomadic home and fireside, despite its humble surroundings.

The women frequently are sent out on scout duty and to discover the plans of the enemy. Only occasionally does a performance of this kind come to public notice. A notable instance occurred just before the fall of Torreon. General Trucy Aubert of the federals was anxious to learn the strength of the Constitutionalists. He needed all of his own officers and personal staff, and he did not care to intrust the important mission of learning the actual strength of the Constitutionalists to any man in the ranks of his troops.

He mentioned his need to Senorita Lomesa Bordaz, an ardent supporter of the government cause and daughter of a former banker of Torreon. She volunteered to make a trip through the Constitutionalist lines and visit their different camps. Disguised as an old woman of the peon class, Miss Bordaz set out on the back of a burro and for ten days traveled from place to place in the valley, visiting many rebel camps. At night she slept upon the ground.

Upon her return to Torreon she made a complete report to General Aubert, which showed that more than 6,000 Constitutionalists were within striking distance of the town. For the small force of federals to have remained in Torreon would have meant their utter destruction. The town was therefore evacuated by them.

Many women and children have been killed in battle. They perform the services of nurses upon the battlefield. Upon the women also falls the duty of burying their dead who fall in battle. In a multitude of other ways do they perform notable service for the men who are doing the fighting.

CAPTAIN AND CREW SAVED OFF COBEQUID

Stranded Vessel Ripped From Stem to Stern.

Yarmouth, N. S., Jan. 16.—Ripped from stem to stern, the Royal Mail steamship Cobequid was abandoned on the rocks of Trinity ledges, and her captain and eleven members of the crew, who had chosen to remain with the ship as long as possible, were taken off, and the vessel was left to her fate. Cared for in the hotels of Yarmouth are sixteen passengers and eighty members of the crew rescued after a dozen steamships had combed the coast searching for the stricken vessel.

Hour after hour these passengers were huddled in little staterooms while the sea dashed over the Cobequid, driving her hard against the rocks. Sister of Charity Baptista, who was Miss Anna Bauld of Halifax, was among the passengers and told of their suffering and terror as they waited in the darkness with but slight hope of being saved from death by drowning or freezing.

"It was early on Tuesday when the Cobequid went ashore," said Sister Baptista. "A terrific gale was blowing, and we could scarcely see half the length of the ship.

"The shock of the steamer striking the ledge was felt by every passenger on the boat. It was between 6:30 and 7 o'clock. Every one rushed from the staterooms, and the women and children were immediately gathered forward in the captain's cabin. We could hear the high seas breaking over the ship and the roar of the blizzard. The wireless operator was snapping out his appeals for aid.

"Then the boiler rooms were flooded. We could hear the crash above us as the pilot house, lifeboats and companionways were swept away. The Cobequid seemed to give a terrific lurch and then settle back somewhat. It was then, I guess, that she was literally broken in two."

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES ARE BRINGING RESULTS

The revival services which have been in progress at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church the past two weeks, are largely attended and there is an increasing interest. Rev. J. F. Shaw, of Tripity M. E. church, Paterson, addressed a large congregation, last night, after which several persons signified a desire to lead a Christian life. Rev. A. T. Turner, of Passaic, will be the special preacher at tonight's service. Rev. F. J. Hubach will preach Sunday morning and Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph in the evening.

NOTES FROM LABOR FIELD

The number of unemployed in Berlin is estimated at 100,000.

Eight hundred and thirty new members were initiated into the Order of Railroad Telegraphers in November.

More than 20,000 building mechanics in Philadelphia started the new year with increases in wages.

The City Council of Kingston, Ont., has decided to put a nine-hour day provision in all civic contracts hereafter.

The Supreme Court of Oregon has decided that the eight-hour law passed by the Legislature applies to all State employes.

The new wage scale for structural iron workers in Indianapolis is now 68 cents an hour, an increase of 3 cents over the old scale.

An agreement has been reached whereby eight hours will constitute a day's work for carpenters in Montreal after June 1 of this year.

The Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers' Union of Hagerstown, Md., has put in a demand for a wage scale of 50 cents an hour, effective April 1.

The adoption of a pension system was recently submitted to the membership of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers' International Union and has been carried by a substantial majority.

The total membership of the American Federation of Labor is now estimated at 2,054,326, which is an increase of about 300,000 for the year 1913. The receipts of the organization for the year aggregated a quarter of a million dollars.

A recent report of the Canadian department of labor shows that the number of strikes in the Dominion during the twelve years ending with 1912 was 1,319, or an average of 110 a year. The employes concerned in these strikes numbered 319,880.

Printers in Vancouver, B. C., have decided to work only five days a week in order that the members of the typographical union who are out of employment may have an opportunity to earn sufficient money to provide for their families.

The Senate committee on education and labor will shortly begin public hearings on the Kenyon anti-child labor and eight-hour-for-women bills. These measures have been before Congress for many years without affirmative action by either house. They strike at the evils of child labor and overwork for women through the interstate commerce a clause of the Constitution.

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers has adopted a new constitution by a referendum vote ratifying the action taken at the international convention in Boston last year. The new constitution admits women to membership under full rights and establishes two branches, one for women, to include telephone operators and shop hands, and the other for men workers in all branches of the trade.

TEXTBOOK COMPANY LOSES SUIT

Flemington, Jan. 16.—The case of the International Textbook Company against Theodore Melick was heard before Judge Paul A. Queen here. The action was brought to recover on a contract. The jury, after remaining out but a short time, brought in a verdict in favor of Mr. Melick, deciding there was no cause for action. The jury in the case of Orville Hartrum against William Alpaugh, executor of the estate of George N. Alpaugh, were unable to arrive upon an agreement after being out several hours and was discharged by Judge Queen. The action was brought to recover for services rendered in caring for the late George N. Alpaugh during several years' illness prior to his death. It is said the jury stood 11 to 1 favoring a verdict for Hartrum.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 50.

LET'S have a smile at this gladsome season. Sometimes, you know, advertising contains a smile that wasn't intended as such by the advertiser. Here's a sample:

In an "up-State" New York newspaper there once appeared the following little notice:

My! I wonder if all the inhabitants of that place are goats.

Which reminds me: In the New York Herald there appeared the following Want Ad: HELP WANTED, MALE—Young men playing violin and piano, to join amateur orchestra. Apply Monday evening, with instruments, 23 W. 44th Street. Golly; the pianists were up against a hard one, weren't they?

And while we're smiling, let me tell you that Franklin P. Adams, the "Always in Good Humor" man of the New York Evening Mail, says that he knows of a man, a retired liquor dealer, who calls his country estate "Alco Hall." Also, that another man, who has a Long Island bungalow which he occupies only two weeks during the year, calls it "Seldom Inn." Still another, a lawyer friend of the humorist, has a round sort of cottage on Cape Cod which he terms "Circuit Court."

That last paragraph hasn't anything to do with advertising. But those of us who read the ads. in newspapers and magazines and other media—and who doesn't read the ads., I'd like to know?—see some awfully funny things once in a while. One could write a book on advertising "bulls."

Sometimes a little bit of humor in an advertisement is a good thing. There's a limit, however, a danger-line where advertising intended to be funny or clever offends the reader. There is a lot of advertising done that isn't worth serious consideration as a business-producing force. But is there too much advertising? I think not. Let me bring this little wandering Talk to a close by quoting a writer in "Newspaperdom" on that subject.

"Is there too much advertising? No, there is too much mad-vertising, too much fad-vertising, too much bad-vertising, but there isn't too much advertising."

MR. PRETZELWEENIE'S UNCLE HAS SOME STRONG CONSTITUTION---YAH

"MAC" SAYS

RED LETTER DAY.

Wednseday proved to be a banner day for local basketball teams along the scoring line at least. North Plainfield High School winning by a top heavy margin, Plainfield High School losing by about the same difference and the Grace church boys' club five hanging up a victory by a wide margin. On the Scotch Plains Parish House court the same night the Parish House aggregation swamped the Westfield players, at the same time rolling up a count that passed the half century mark.

A PEEK AT THE FUTURE.

When the next season of basketball rolls around in the Interscholastic Basketball League followers of this organization will witness some big shifts in the relative standing of the three contenders if present conditions may be taken as a criterion. Graduation will take all of the Plainfield High School players with the exception of Peacock and the second squad has not been developed sufficiently in the local school to warrant any prediction as to the futures of the second string men in P. H. S. In the North Plainfield School, Van Mater and Warren Townley will be left for the forward berths, Love can be used to fill in at center in place of Dunning who will be graduated, and Newkirk is an excellent guard to step into either of the vacant guard positions. Thus, with Van Mater, Townley, Love and Newkirk with at least another year ahead of them the borough school boys have a nucleus around which another fine team can be moulded.

LEAL SCHOOL WILL BE THERE.

There are always a number of hard workers to strive for honors at Leal's under Coach Wardlaw and it goes without saying that the private school boys are due to have a banner season next year in the league race. Hostilities are not over this year by a long shot and many have the opinion that P. H. S. will have to travel the limit in order to keep in the running for second place.

When Bob Fitzsimmons was summoned to testify in his own behalf in the Supreme Court of New York Wednesday the ruby swatsmith announced that he was quite ready to take on any man in the court and would guarantee to dispose of him inside of thirty seconds. No one accepted the challenge but the judge was so impressed with Bob's earnestness that he postponed the case until today in order to inquire further into the circumstances surrounding the scheduled come-back of the veteran.

BASKETBALL GALORE.

There's plenty of basketball on the menu for tonight and tomorrow night both male and female teams getting into action during the week-end. Tonight the Y. M. C. A. team plays at Morristown and tomorrow night it will entertain the speedy quintet of players representing the Kearny High School alumni on the local court. Hope Chapel has a contest on tap as has also Leals and P. H. S. Tomorrow night North Plainfield will play the Tiger A. C. in Saengerbund Hall and in Scotch Plains a doubleheader is on tap. The Plainfield High School girls are scheduled to go to Bloomfield and the Nonpareil girls have a game to play with the Passaic feminine quintet.

Should Warry McLaughlin, the local baseball pitcher, consent to handle the managerial reins of that new Elizabeth team local ball players would probably have some chance of shining under his wing as county performers. The veteran is known to be a fancier of home talent and he knows where to get the good ones.

Although the Federal League is supplying the entertainment for baseball followers these days Dave Driscoll, our old time friend, breaks into print with the announcement that he will once more head a squad of braves in a Porto Rican invasion prior to the opening of the season. This is the most human way of disposing of some of these would-be ball players and Dave evidently knows it.

Haven't heard of Jack Martin or Eugene Lidgate joining the Federals have you? Just think of Scotch Plains or Hope Chapel being represented in the money league.

It is rumored that a checker match will be substituted in the event of the St. James Triangles not putting in appearance at Scotch Plains tomorrow night. Anything is beiter than another one of these cancellations.

Wood-splitting will start in that new Knights of Columbus bowling League at the Columbus Club tonight. All out for an assault on the wooden images.

WESTERN GOLF TOURNEYS.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 16.—The eyes of golf players throughout a large section of the country will be turned tomorrow towards this city, where the Western Golf Association will hold forth in annual session. More clubs will be represented than at any former meeting of the organization. The principal business of the meeting will be the election of officers and the selection of the places for holding the championship tournaments this year. The election of officers will be wholly perfunctory, since there is no opposition to the regular ticket placed in the field by the nominating committee. The ticket is headed by Frank L. Woodward, of the Denver Country Club, as candidate for president. The principal contest of the meeting will centre in the selection of the club to entertain the amateur championship tournament, which is the biggest golfing event of the year in the West. The Omaha Country Club, the Kent Country Club of Grand Rapids and the Mayfield Country Club of Cleveland are applicants for the tournament. The Interlachen Country Club of Minneapolis expects to get the open championship event.

FAILED TO SHOW UP.

The Necco basketball team, composed of athletes representing the Plainfield High School freshman class, which was scheduled to appear in a game with one of the class teams of the North Plainfield High School in Saengerbund Hall yesterday afternoon failed to put in appearance and the game was therefore called off.

Queries, Comment and Answers

Sporting Editor:

Query—How far South is it warm all the year around?—P. T. R.

Answer—Sometimes it is warm all the year around in a sub-tropical region, including on this continent of North America the States that border on the Gulf of Mexico, including Florida; but in some years cold weather (occasionally even freezing weather) reaches them. In the Bermudas and the West Indian Islands, it is usually warm throughout the year, as well as in the West Indies farther south, and in Central America including the Panama region.

LONG AUTO BUS TRIP FOR Y. M. C. A. TEAM

Rooters Will Be Taken to Moristown Tonight to Witness Big Game.

Members of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. basketball team, accompanied by about thirty supporters, will go to Morristown tonight to engage in a basketball game with the Y. M. C. A. team, of that place, on the new Association court. The Conover auto bus has been chartered for the occasion and the trip to and from Morristown will be made in this way.

Monday night the Association quintet took the strong Kearny High School Alumni aggregation into camp by a score of 28 to 26 and this will be the second game of the week for the locals. More shifts are due to be made in the lineup tonight, with the return of Joe Gavett, who was out of Monday night's engagement at Kearny, Gavett going back to centre and Dunning retiring to the side lines for one game. Former Captain Albert Brynairski will play tonight's game with his former team mates, filling in McNamee's vacant position at forward. Glover and Farmer will play the guard berths and Moulton will occupy the other forward position.

The Morristown Association has one of the best Y. M. C. A. quintets in the State and the locals will have their work cut out for them on the rival aggregation's court tonight. Last Saturday night Morristown hung a victory up at the expense of the strong Summit Y. M. C. A. aggregation, which plays here February 7.

All those who intend to make the trip with them should be at the Y. M. C. A. at 7 o'clock tonight.

P. H. S. GIRLS IN ACTION.

The Plainfield High School girls' basketball team will meet the Bloomfield girls on the local court tomorrow afternoon in a regularly scheduled basketball fracas. Early in the season the Bloomfield aggregation completely swamped the locals.

LEALS AT MORRISTOWN.

The Leal School basketball team will go to Morristown tomorrow afternoon to lineup against the Morristown Academy five of that place.

TRIPLE VICTORY HUNG UP BY NEW YORK PIN-KNIGHTS

With a triple victory over the Hoboken bowlers, the New York quintet, on its own alleys, last night stepped into fourth place in the Elks' League race. The match was a decidedly interesting one. In the first game New York was there for 880, and won by fifty-seven pins, but only had an advantage of one pin, with a count of 859, in the second game. The third encounter saw the home five go all the way up to 1,006, and Hoboken, though it did its best work and accounted for 944, had to submit to a defeat by sixty-two pins. Engelking rolled 220 for New York. Both A. Westphal and Starr had 201 and L. Westphal rolled 204. Steinbruck tallied 214 for Hoboken and Earle had 212.

Y. M. H. A. QUINTET HAD A CLOSE CALL

Little Field Goal Shooting and Much Rough House Featured Annual Clash.

Accuracy in shooting fouls annexed a victory for the Plainfield Y. M. H. A. basketball team in a game on the New Brunswick Y. M. H. A. court, last night, the final score being 13 to 12. Rough playing marked the playing of both teams and the hard and close guarding made the scoring exceptionally light.

The Queen City representatives could bag but a trio of shots from the playing field, while Polinsky was the only made on the opposing side who could find the net. He totaled up ten of the home team's dozen points and put up the best all around game for his side. Three centres were used by the local quintet to check his bombardment of the basket but he ran away from all of them.

Bennie Rosenson, the Plainfield High School guard, playing forward for the locals last night, was the chief point winner, getting two field and four foul goals. The guarding of Abrams was also a feature of the encounter.

The score:

COUNTY TITLE FOR LOCAL HOCKEYISTS

Plainfield High School Seven Entitled to This Honor to Date.

Plainfield High School hockey players, by virtue of their decisive victory over the Cranford High School seven on Willow Lake yesterday afternoon, are now entitled to lay claim to the Union county ice hockey championship title for school boy teams, having disposed of both Westfield and Cranford by comfortable margins, these being the only contenders for the handle. The game yesterday was an easy one for the Plainfielders who played rings around their rivals and had little trouble in hanging upa 4 to 1 verdict at the expense of the Cranfordites.

In the first period of play the battling was fast and the goal defense of both aggregations was excellent, Plainfield being able to shove the puck through but one in this session. So speedy was the pace set in the initial canto that the puck pushers of Cranford began to tire early in the final half and a brilliant rally gave the Plainfielders three goals in quick succession.

FATHER SCHWARTZ GOES TO NEW BRUNSWICK CHURCH

The parishioners of St. Mary's R. C. church, Stony Hill, gave a farewell reception to Father Schwartz on Tuesday night, prior to his departure for New Brunswick, where he is to become pastor there. The affair was arranged by the Sunday-school of the parish, and was largely attended. An informal program was enjoyed during the evening, a feature being the presentation to Father Schwartz of a purse. The retiring priest thanked his people heartily for their kindness and good wishes, and expressed the hope that the church would continue to prosper and grow.

Father Schwartz was pastor of St. Mary's church for a number of years, during which time he built up the parish, and secured many improvements through his efforts. He took an active interest in civic affairs at Stony Hill and was a leader in planning social events for the parish. His successor at Stony Hill has not yet been announced.

Her First Ice Cream Soda.

She was evidently more than fifty and she showed every outward sign of poverty and hard work—unending hard work. But evidently this was a special event and her eyes shone with excitement. She entered one of the big drug stores and while her excitement visibly increased her assurance seemed to fade. After hesitating a moment she walked over to the soda fountain, where a pleasant faced boy was "wiping up." Pushing a nickel over the marble counter, she blurted in an awkward manner that she wanted a soda. The proprietor of the drug store, who was watching her, is a kindly man and he grasped the situation at once. With a bound he was behind the counter before the boy could tell this excited reveler that her soda would cost ten cents. Then he himself mixed a delicious strawberry ice cream soda and gave it to the little old woman, who sank contentedly upon one of the stools at the counter and gave herself over to it. The proprietor smiled crookedly down at the nickel as he dropped it into the cash drawer and rang up a five cent sale.—Exchange.

How to Be an Inventor.

A retired professor of mechanical engineering was called upon to deliver a few lectures on invention to the senior engineering classes. His first injunction was that when one attempts to devise a machine to do a certain thing, one must consider directly the fundamental operations to be performed and must wipe from the mind all existing methods and all preconceived notions. He stated that one so called inventor attempted in the days of the scythe to invent a mowing machine. Being familiar only with the scythe, he designed a horse drawn machine which would swing a scythe. He simply replaced the man by a mechanism. It is needless to say that his invention did not survive. The problem of efficiently cutting hay and grain was not successfully solved until it was attacked by a man with an open mind, and he devised the knife of the modern mowing machine or reaper.—American Machinist.

The Perfect Cup of Coffee.

Fill a kettle with fresh cold water that has run for a few moments and put it to boil. Place over an open china teapot kept just for coffee (as metal is deleterious) a clean wet old linen napkin or a new square of unbleached muslin, letting it sag toward the center. Put into the depression four heaping tablespoonfuls (for four cups of coffee) of finely pulverized Java and Mocha or any preferred brand of coffee. When the water in the kettle is at the galloping point pour it through the coffee slowly until four cupfuls have filtered through. Just the contents of the kettle can go in if measured before boiling, allowing a little for waste. Cover and take at once to table. Wash the cloth immediately after breakfast and keep in a jar of cold water, never permitting it to get dry, and freshening the water every day.—New York Times.

Oiling Japanese Umbrellas.

The vegetable oil used in making paper umbrellas in Japan is pressed out of the seeds of the rubber plant. This oil is made in the various islands famous for oil and seeds from these plants. Sandy ground is favored for the cultivation of the plant. The yield of seeds is estimated at twenty bushels per acre. The annual production throughout Japan amounts to 350,000 bushels, from which over a gallon of oil per bushel is extracted. The oil, before it is used, is boiled and then cooled until it can be applied by hand to umbrellas with a piece of cloth or waste. No machinery or tools are used in applying the oil. When the oiling is completed the umbrellas are exposed in the sun for about five hours. This oil is also used in making the Japanese lanterns, artificial leather, printing ink, lacquer, varnishes, oil paper and paints.

His Wedding Present.

"I willingly countenance your marriage with my daughter," wrote a physician to his prospective son-in-law, "conditionally on your accepting as a wedding present her mother. As a wife she has not been a success; as a mother-in-law she is at least problematical. At all events, I can endure her temper no longer, and as she expresses a wish to live with her daughter I am sending her along by the next train."

In due course the lady arrived and lived with the young couple for many years.—London Mail.

Apply Your Knowledge.

"A college education is worth $25,000 in increased earning capacity," declares a western university. It is, and it isn't. There are college men who could not earn this sum in twenty-five years. There are men earning twice as much in a year who never even walked by a college. It's a fine thing to have, but its earning capacity depends upon the practical use made of it, says the wise man in Power.

A Paris Purchase of Fabrics Makes These Young Women's $30 to $35 Suits, $20

When a well-known tailor was in Paris a few weeks ago to get his Spring models, he learned that a prominent fabric manufacturer was about to retire. He consulted our Paris Bureau and arranged for a large purchase of the materials—as did also our dress goods chief, who was in Paris. Naturally, he gave us the first opportunity to purchase the Suits which he made after the models recently decreed by Martial et Armand, Bernard and Bechoff-David—and we were only too glad to get them at such an advantageous concession.

The jaunty coats are trimmed with fur and interlined—both of which may be removed when Spring comes. Sizes 14, 16 and 18 years.

Women's Coats of Imported Persian Lamb Cloth At $16.50, Instead of $27.50

Because the Material Came in Under the New Tariff

As this Persian lamb cloth comes from one of the leading manufacturers of Germany, it is a well-made fabric which is woven (not merely pressed) as well as one of the best imitations of that luxurious fur.

As soon as we learned that a leading tailor had imported a large yardage of this fabric, under the new tariff, we asked him to make 500 of these coats, for we knew that they would create a sensation at their new and ridiculously small price.

These are the first Coats of their kind to be sold at $16.50.

In three models—one copied from a fur coat with long shawl collar; another in a ¾-length, with plush collar; and the third in a full-length model, with plush collar, cuffs and buttons.

POWERS APPEAL TO U. S. FOR ACTION

Request Is Said to Have Been Denied.

NO MOVE IS CONSIDERED.

Great Britain, France and Germany Interested in Matter—Rebels Reported to Have Taken the City of Torreon. Fighting Near the Capital.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The powers of Europe have again invited the United States government to do something positive with regard to the Mexican situation, and the invitation has been declined, according to information received here.

The announcement by President Huerta that his government would pass the semiannual interest payment due on the foreign debt of Mexico has been the occasion for the latest representations to the United States. The governments of Great Britain, France and Germany are particularly concerned over this development, because practically all of the millions in Mexican securities are held by the citizens of those three countries, who will now be deprived of such portion of their income as was derived from such securities.

Mexico City, Jan. 16.—The report that Torreon had fallen to the victorious rebel army of General Villa was received with consternation in Mexico City. There appeared to be good grounds for believing the report true, although government officials professed to be unable to confirm the news. According to the report 4,000 rebel troops attacked the city yesterday and the federals, after a short fight, evacuated the city. The capture of Torreon, if true, puts Villa in a position for a rapid advance on Mexico City. He would be able to concentrate his forces at Torreon and sweep everything before him to the capital.

The report that there had been fighting around Torreon was partly confirmed. It was said that the advance guard of Villa's army, which left Ojinaga Monday after the dispersal of the federal forces there, had made several desperate attacks. It was not until the rebel forces were increased to 4,000 men, however, that it was strong enough to battle with federals.

The federal commander, according to the report, then tried to evacuate the city and take his force to Durango, but this move was opposed by the rebels, and at one time yesterday it was reported that Villa's troops had hemmed in the federal forces outside Torreon. Later reports, however, were to the effect that the federals had succeeded in fighting their way through and were now on their way to Durango.

Fighting Near Capital.

Fighting near the capital has kept the federal authorities busy for the past few days. The bands of rebels have grown bolder since word of the successes of the Constitutionalist troops have reached them. A band of 100 rebels yesterday captured a pay train with 100,000 pesos at Oriental, between the capital and Vera Cruz. A force of twenty-five rurales surrendered after a brief fight. A federal force was sent in pursuit of the rebels.

Fighting has been reported around Tuxtla, the center of the wealthiest tobacco district of Mexico, situated chiefly in the state of Vera Cruz. There was also fighting around San Luis Potosi.

There was some mystery over the imprisonment of eighty federal officers who were brought to the capital and lodged in a military prison. It was said that the men were brought here from Guaymas, where the federal garrison was reported to have gone over to the rebels.

The government has announced that the bank holiday for all financial institutions in the republic had been extended until March 31.

SKIRTS SLIT, GIRLS DISMISSED

Six Denver Pupils Sent From School. Fathers Threaten Suits.

Denver, Jan. 16.—Because they had slits in their skirts six school girls were dismissed from the calesthenics class at the West Side high school by the instructor.

The instructor told the girls that she had authority from the school board to dismiss them from classes if they appeared wearing slit skirts. No report of her action was made to the principal of the school.

B. C. Hillard of the school board said that no board action on the matter of dress had ever been taken.

The fathers of the girls, well known business men, said they would bring suit if their daughters were not reinstated at once.

14 RESCUED FROM OPEN BOAT

Crew of Abandoned Freighter Martine Picked Up by Schooner.

Boston, Jan. 16.—Fourteen members of the crew of the freighter Grace M. Martine were picked up by the schooner A. W. Perry after fighting heavy seas in zero weather for several hours in an open boat. They were brought to this city.

The Martine, which Captain H. H. Wallace abandoned thirty miles south of Misticinus, Me., is believed to have sunk. She was bound from Northport to Portland and carried coal.

ENDS LIFE ON EVE OF HIS WEDDING DAY

New York, Jan. 16.—Richard D. Lankford, vice president of the Southern railway and of many subsidiary lines of that corporation and director in many small railway concerns in the south, committed suicide in his bachelor apartment in the Osmond at 1142 Pacific street, Brooklyn. He was to have been married next Saturday to Miss Nellie Patterson of 814 Prospect place. Ill health is given as the cause of the suicide. Mr. Lankford, according to his friends, had been suffering from stomach trouble for a long time.

The police and the coroner were unable to find any note explaining the suicide. Miss Patterson said that she knew of no reason why Mr. Lankford should kill himself unless he was worried about his health.

Mr. Lankford chose illuminating gas as the medium of self destruction. He was found dead on the floor of the bathroom of his bachelor suit of three rooms. The body was nude. A pillow under the head suggested deliberation in preparation for death. The door of the room was locked and a towel was hung on the knob in such a way as to stop up the keyhole. One gas jet in the room was turned on.

Mr. Lankford was forty-six years of age. He came to Brooklyn in 1892 and was connected with the street railways of the borough.

A Mr. Baker, who roomed directly across the hall from Mr. Lankford, said that he had been talking to him of his coming marriage just two nights ago.

"He seemed to be cheerful then," said Mr. Baker, "and told me that he was looking forward to the future with joyful anticipation."

At the home of Miss Patterson, Mr Lankford's fiancee, at 814 Prospect place, her father and mother and sister were questioned. All declared that they knew of no reason why the railroad man should have sought death.

CONGRESS TO SIT TILL JUNE 1

Leader Underwood Says House Leaders Fix That Date.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Adjournment of congress by June 1 is the goal fixed upon by house Democrats, so Minority Leader Oscar W. Underwood said. He told of conferences between himself, Senator Clark, Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriation committee and other leaders, at which it was agreed to "speed up" all business and get away within five months.

Mr. Underwood declared that the appropriation bills and the two administration measures regulating trusts and providing rural credits will take little time in the house.

If the senate acts upon them promptly Mr. Underwood predicted that congress can adjourn in five months. He said all members are anxious to rush the work and return home for the congressional and senatorial election campaigns.

EARTHQUAKE IN ITALY.

Six Violent Shocks at Leghorn—People In Great Alarm.

Leghorn, Italy, Jan. 16.—Six violent earthquakes sent the entire population to the streets in panic.

Men, women and children in their night robes ran hysterically up and down the streets despite the cold and snow.

Even when the tremors ceased the frightened people refused to return to their houses and camped in the streets till sunup.

No casualties were reported and no serious damage to shipping and property occurred.

BIG DAM BURSTS; REPORT 20 LOST

Horseman Rouses Villages In Path of Flood.

PEOPLE FLEE TO THE HILLS

Cumberland, W. Va., Jan. 16.—Tearing madly twenty miles down the dark valley of the Stoney river, a horseman reached the town of Schell with the terrifying intelligence that the great dam built recently by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company at Stoney Bottom was cracking and might burst at any minute.

The telephone leading from the dam was out of commission, and the man had had to adopt this Paul Revere method to carry the news.

From Schell the warning was sent out to Piedmont, Western Post, Luke, Barnum, Dobbin, Blain, Shaw, Dodson and other places in the valley, and in a few minutes men afoot and on horseback were spreading the alarm.

Roused from their slumbers, the bewildered inhabitants fled to the surrounding hills and, huddled in rude shacks and about blazing campfires, hundreds of refugees watched while the northern branch of the Potomac river, a swollen, icy flood, swept through their homes in the town below.

It is reported that twenty men were lost in the flood.

An operator employed by the Western Maryland railroad at Schell, W. Va., fifteen miles below the dam site, sent a message to the company's offices at Cumberland, Md., stating that the water there was at least twenty feet high and was carrying everything before it. His message concluded: "I'm going to duck. Goodby."

The dam was 1,075 feet wide at the breast, backing the water up for three and a half miles and holding 3,000,000,000 gallons of water. The dam was ninety feet high on the outside, sixty-five feet on the inside and built on a concrete foundation sixty feet deep.

Three Towns In Path.

The dam was first noticed to be cracked by a watchman. A second and larger break occurred notwithstanding efforts by employees to release the immense volume of water through the sluice ways. The second break made big gaps on both sides of the dam.

The Western Maryland railroad bridge at Schell, W. Va., it is believed, will be responsible for the debris clogging there and holding the water in check for a time until the force of the flood carries it away.

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 16.—Flood waters twenty feet high had reached Blaine, W. Va., from the broken dam at Dobbin, W. Va. All bridges, including those of the Western Maryland railway, were gone. Residents got ample warning, and so far as known there is no loss of life. The flood will reach Piedmont and Cumberland tonight.

At Luke, Md., the paper mill town supplied by the dam and owned by the Western Virginia Pulp & Paper company, residents fled to the hills before the flood reached there. This afternoon they were building temporary shacks and lighting fires on the hillsides, prepared to spend the night there.

At Harrison, W. Va., forty-seven miles west of here, the water rose to a height of thirty-five feet. The torrent bore down the Western Maryland railroad bridge, washed out railway tracks and highway bridges and caused general havoc.

MOON DEFIES WILSON.

Declares House Postoffice Committee Will Do Its Duty.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Representative Moon of Tennessee, chairman of the postoffice committee, practically defied President Wilson before the house. In replying to the president's ultimatum against putting assistant postmasters under the spoils system, Moon declared that the postoffice committee was created to do its duty as it saw it and that it would not be swerved by admonitions from the postmaster general or threats of veto from the president.

He declared this measure did not mean spoils or plundering, but instead the execution of Democratic principles and policies by Democrats.

"This committee is not here to bow to the will of the president and the postmaster general," he said.

The Friday Schedule.

Friday is oo often a day of terror, becauses Friday cleaning is made such a difficult matter. To be sure, Friday cleaning is a difficult matter, especially if the whole house must be cleaned on that day. It can be much lessened, however, by going about it systematically.

To begin with, no house should be cleaned from top to toe on any single day of the week. The bedrooms can be cleaned Thursday morning, the bathrooms Saturday and Wednesday, the kitchen Saturday, and the living-room and dining-rooms on Friday. On Monday the whole house can be put to rights, to make up for the extra use it gets on Sunday. On Tuesday no cleaning, except the daily work with duster and carpet sweeper, need be done.

If Friday is put aside for the cleaning of the living-rooms and dining rooms, it is not a bad day at all. Of course, these rooms are the most difficult in the house to clean, and the downstairs halls must be cleaned at the same time, and, of course, when the downstairs halls are cleaned the stairs and the upstairs hall must be included. Still, this is easy work for Friday.

The Schedule.

The rugs should be cleaned first. If there is a vacuum cleaner they should be cleaned in the house and folded and covered with a big cotton duster. If there is no vacuum cleaner, they should be cleaned out of doors, if possible, and left piled on a safe porch. Then the furniture should be dusted and all the chairs and other easily moved articles should be put into one room. Then the walls and ceilings should be brushed down and all the woodwork should be wiped with a cloth wrung out in clear water or else moistened with a little oil.

Then the floors should be cleaned. The dust should be removed with a softbrush and then, while the dust is settling, the various small articles that need cleaning in the kitchen may be attended to. Silver desk ornaments and objects from the sideboard should be polished, or nickel ones washed in hot water, and andirons and candlesticks and lamps and mirrors and all other small, movable accessories should be put in order.

Then the floors should be gone over again, either with wax or oil or with a broom in a canton flannel bag, to remove the last traces of dust. The furniture should then be wiped off with a cloth on which there is a little oil. The rugs should be laid and the furniture put in position.

When the windows need washing they can either be done while the dust is settling or else after everything is done.

If the rugs must be cleaned with a broom, the furniture must first be removed to another room or else carefully covered. One room can be given up to sweeping the rugs, to save moving furniture.

Some Cookery Suggestions

CREAMED WINTER VEGETABLES.

LUNCHEON MENU.
Consomme.
Fish au Gratin.
Biscuit.
Creamed Vegetables.
Cheese. Crackers.
Coffee.

WINTER vegetables may be served in especially appetizing ways. Creamed vegetables are viands that find a welcome on most tables and with most people. Some suggestions along this line are given here:

Dainty Dishes.

Creamed Turnips.—Take a quart of turnips, a tablespoonful each of flour and butter, a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and a cupful of milk. Wash, pare and cut the turnips into dice. Put on with boiling water to cover and boil until tender. Drain and pour cream sauce over; then mix well.

Creamed Onions.—Peel a quart of medium sized white onions, place them in a saucepan and cover with boiling water. Boil till nearly done; then add a teaspoonful of salt. After boiling a few minutes longer drain. Melt an ounce of butter and add to it half a tablespoonful of flour. Stir and cook two minutes; then add a half pint of hot milk. Cook and season with white pepper and a sprinkle of salt. Put the onions in a hot dish and pour the sauce over them.

With Sharp Sauce.

Creamed Cabbage.—Wash and cut the cabbage, put into saucepan with boiling water enough to cover. Boil without a cover on the vessel and until tender. Drain and mix with sauce made as follows:

Sauce.—Put a tablespoonful butter into saucepan. When melted add a tablespoonful flour. Mix well and then add a cupful of water. Stir until smooth and creamy and add a teaspoonful salt, a dash white pepper and a tablespoonful taragon vinegar. Boil a couple of minutes.

Creamed Vegetables.—Cut a turnip, carrot and potato into thin slices and add a few celery tops, a bay leaf, a cupful of canned tomatoes if you have any and two quarts of water in which meat has been boiled. Simmer for one hour; then press through a fine sieve and put the mixture on the fire. Add a tablespoonful of suet rubbed with two tablespoonfuls of flour. Stir until it reaches the boiling point, add a grated onion, a teaspoonful of salt and a saltspoonful of pepper.

The Life of Santa Claus During the Year.

Santa Works Hard For the Children.

"I'VE been talking with Santa Claus today," said daddy as Jack and Evelyn rushed into the library where he was sitting, "and he told me he made a long, long list of all the little boys and girls in the world who had been good during the year and for whom he would fill stockings and give presents, and then when Christmas eve came he would go down the chimneys, and on his back there would be huge bags crammed full of presents."

"Do tell us," said Evelyn, "what Santa does all the year?"

"You know," replied daddy, "that it isn't just at Christmas that Santa Claus is busy, for you must know that it takes all the year to make the thousands of presents which he gives.

"Of course he has Mrs. Santa Claus to help him. They have a great, big, round workshop way off on the top of a hill, and around it are a lot of big fir trees which completely hide it, so that the children who live at the foot of the hill have no idea there is anything at the top except the trees.

"If the children were to know about the workshop they would be tormenting poor Santa's life out. Not only does he need plenty of time to make the many presents he fills the stockings with, but he likes a little time to rest, for he works so very hard for children.

"Mrs. Santa Claus makes all the dolls and lots of pretty dresses for them; also the picture books, boxes of paints and tinsels for the trees. Mr. Santa Claus makes trains of cars, blocks, big boats, balloons, express carts, skates and all the little pudgy animals with coats of wool.

"Then the reindeer must rest and be well fed so they can rush from chimney to chimney all over the world on Christmas eve. Their bells are polished so they shine brightly and ring merrily. Before the reindeer start they talk together of how fast they can go and hope it will be very cold, for all reindeer love the snow and frosty air."

"Where is Mr. Santa's home," asked Jack, "for we must know where to write him?"

"He lives way off in Norway," answered daddy, "but any letter directed to 'Mr. Santa Claus, the Chimney,' will reach him, for he has special reindeer collecting his letters from the tops of chimneys several weeks before Christmas. You must put them on the hearth, and on the envelope you must put a speck of soot, for that is the stamp you use for the letters which go to the Santa Claus Land.

"You must be very good, because Santa Claus can always tell from children's handwriting if they have been good or not. He cannot spare the time for the naughty children, but dashes over the housetops with his reindeer to the houses of the good children."

A Dainty Empire Nightgown.

Dainty hand-embroidered nightgowns are not extravagant when made at home; but they are very expensive when bought ready to wear. You can make them at home with very little expense and trouble, as the gown may be made in one piece from longcloth or batiste, and embroidered in a simple design.

This pattern is a very attractive yet simple design for stamping a one-piece nightgown. It may be developed in punched work, eyelets and padded solid work with the scalloped edge done in slightly padded buttonhole-stitch. The large eyelets may be used to give an empire effect, or they may be omitted if a loose gown is preferred.

Pattern number 14655, including transfers for stamping a slip-over nightgown, sleeves and a strip of beading, will be supplied to readers for 15 cents.

Fascinating Frocks for the New Year Debutante

HOVERING around the feet of the midwinter debutante, Fashion lavishes a variety of new and fascinating modes upon her as if the charm of her youth and beauty were not sufficient in themselves. Filmy fabrics, like net, tulle and chiffon, which are the frail standbys of the modiste today, are singularly appropriate for this season's coming-out frocks and function dresses. Airy flounces and transparent blouses above the simplest foundation of soft satin or crepe de Chine are the decree from the highest court of fashion at the moment, but with flowers, fur and metal laces the dresses are unique in their outlines and colorings as well. Take, for instance, the model on the left of this page, No. 8116. This is chosen for its style accents and new silhouette. It has the modish double tunic, with striking outlines in saw-tooth pattern bordered with mink fur tails. This overskirt is of [illegible] chiffon. Super-imposed [illegible] tion of white satin charmeuse [illegible] piece foundation skirt [illegible] slip at the foot. A second [illegible] of the satin hangs from a [illegible] waistline, giving the [illegible] ance. ROSEBUD DOLL BOUQUETS FLORISTS' NOVELTY.

AS quaintly attractive as the olden time nosegays with paper frills is a fashion in flowers for the debutante of this season. City florists have devised a veritable rosebud belle—a doll with a hundred blossoms composing her hoop skirt frock. A pannier drapery of satin ribbon matches the color of the roses chosen, and the bisque figure also has a decollete bodice of buds and ribbon. The novelty is about eight inches tall and five or six inches at the base.

These rosebuds are sent to society girls on the eve of their formal debut and also used for table favors at luncheons and dinner parties. Small, close buds are massed close together, making a mass of color. Sunset tea, pink and red and white are the colors seen.

MOLESKIN has a foremost place among the expensive furs for coats as well as for muffs and neckpieces. It has become the height of fashion, partly as a substitute for real seal, now so scarce as to be rare and prohibitive in price. The taupe shade of the mole is also very fashionable in the present scheme of costume colors. The model on the lower left side of the page shows a very smart mole jacket, loose fitting and with voluminous flare sleeves. It has a surplice closing edged with tailless ermine which forms a collar in the back. The skins in this garment are sewn cross wise, and also in the new melon shape muff, with soft ruffles of mole color chiffon in either end.

This late design and others point to shorter coats for another winter than have been generally fashionable this season. Fur coats of Hudson seal and caracul that have rounded fronts, narrow bottoms and kimono sleeves are the prevailing type for general street wear, though there are many fancy garments ornamented with contrasting furs. Small square collars of a fur different from that of the coat are often seen. Fitch is one of the smartest trimming pelts, both for gowns and wraps and for millinery.

Silver kit fox has come into prominence, and is high priced, ranging close to Alaska sable. The animal skins in their natural form, showing heads, tails and paws, are used in preference to the trimmed and fitted pelts.

Chinchilla squirrel is a beautiful gray and white fur closely resembling the real chinchilla, which also is very scarce.

DUTCH BOUDOIR CAP.

The girl in her teens, who would smile in derision at the mention of her great grandmother's night cap, is doubtless the possessor of one or more modern boudoir caps, which have uses all their own. The cap fad has developed into a wardrobe feature, with innumerable excuses for adding new and ever daintier headdresses. The attractive Dutch cap, No. 14652, shows a wreath design for embroidery which comes in a set of patterns for a picture frame, a pin cushion top and bottom, two candle shades and five napkins. The design may be embroidered in solid stitch, outline or seed stitch.

For the Dutch boudoir cap an eighteen inch square of material is needed, allowing for the hem. A ribbon run through a beading, as pictured, will give the head size. Four wreaths of the rose design can be stamped for working. The pattern is 15 cents.

8116 Mink Fur Borders This Odd Tunic

THERE is a novel effect in the ruffled overskirt of chiffon bordered with mink tails, as shown in model No. 8116. It carries out the idea of the Poiret tunic, whose many modifications are the basis of the current styles in dress. The pointed upper section follows the outline of the flounce, while the foundation skirt, with a short slit in the hem, is narrow enough to give a slender appearance to the figure. The blouse, with drop shoulders, coincides with the corsetless pose and the debutante slouch.

8104 Shaped Flounces Admirable for Velvet

SHAPED bands, divided in the middle of the front, and cut slightly circular so as to ripple, are the trimming which gives the newest style aspect to this velvet costume. They are in effect similar to flounces which are coming in for thinner fabrics in spring and summer. The two-piece skirt of the model, 8104, retains the narrow foot measurement, but is gathered into the belt. The appeal of the transparent blouse is sounded in the chiffon and lace bodice, with a deep velvet girdle.

7935-7968 The Ruffle Sleeve a New Feature of Indoor Dresses

SEEN IN THE SHOPS.

VERY new brassieres are made with a narrow front of soft folded silk jersey and have a slightly boned back section not more than four inches wide. This is practically nothing more than a bust supporter for slender figures and is intended for evening wear. Pink corsets and brassieres are called for almost as much as white in smart New York corset shops.

Dressy shoes in black and in colored cloth or kid with patent leather vamps have no foxing running around the back. Where they are of light material the heel frequently matches and carries on the color to the floor. Other popular novelties have black celluloid heels which look like patent leather and which will not grow dull like a leather heel.

Barbaric necklaces of colored beads and odd shape lozenges are a faddish expression of the Futurist and Cubist art influence. They lend a telling color touch to some plain morning dresses of serge or cloth. There are rose heart dangles nearly two inches across and cubes of yellow opaque composition resembling amber.

Broad full feather quills in vivid colors are shown for hat trimmings. They are a momentary novelty for jaunty outing hats and are used occasionally on early models of panama millinery intended for the Southland.

13579-Opera Bag with Peacock Embroidery

AMONG the extravagant variety of embroidered and beaded bags which fashion deems as essential as one's gloves or hat on most occasions is this opera glass bag embroidered with a peacock feather motif. As illustrated, it is of deep turquoise pongee, with shadings of blue, green and olive silk in the design. Velvet similarly decorated is beautiful, with bands of dull metal ribbon, embroidered and dotted with jewels.

Design No. 13579 will stamp a bag 7¾ by 9 inches. The price is 10 cents.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

FRENCH toast is a good luncheon dish made as follows: Cut the whites of three hard [illegible] into strips. Make a [illegible] of one pint of milk, one [illegible] flour, a lump of butter, salt [illegible] taste. Mix with the whites of [illegible] serve on slices of delicately [illegible] after grating the yolks on [illegible] slice.

Candied Sweet Potatoes

Boil four large sweet potatoes. When cool, peel and slice and put in a baking pan. Add a teaspoonful of butter, half a saltspoonful of cinnamon, half a cupful of sugar and enough water to just cover the potatoes. A few drops of lemon juice will improve the flavor. Bake the mixture until it candies.

Panned Oysters

Convalescents can eat panned oysters when they cannot digest them in other forms. To prepare them wash, drain and wipe dry. Put the oysters in a very hot skillet and shake about until the edges curl. Put on a hot platter, add butter, salt and pepper and serve with a watercress sandwich.

To broil oysters lay them on gridiron or broiler iron. Put under hot gas flame or over bed of red coals. As soon as each opens drop bit of butter and dust of pepper in each shell and serve at once.

BIG MONTREAL FIRE.

Firemen Were Handicapped by the Extreme Cold Spell.

With the mercury dropping around 27 degrees below zero, the firemen of Montreal were forced to fight for the fourth time within the past month a big conflagration. This fire, which was a big wholesale house, threatened to destroy the Cathedral of Notre Dame. The firemen were handicapped by lack of water.

ARREST LEADERS OF STRIKE AFTER SIEGE

Back of South African Revolution Broken.

Johannesburg, Jan. 16.—The armed strikers' garrison in Trades hall which had been under siege by the police for twenty-four hours, surrendered unconditionally. Secretary Bain and ten of the leaders were placed under arrest.

The backbone of the general railway strike seems to have been broken. Two hundred and fifty workers at Bloemfontein applied for reinstatement. It was believed that railway men here and at Pretoria and Cape Town would make similar applications.

Before Bain and his 300 companions surrendered Bain asked for an interview with Prime Minister Botha. The government replied that it could not treat with the strikers, as the whole region was under martial law. The military officer in command, the besieged men were informed, had orders to arrest every one of them and was determined to do so. Soon after this the unionists laid down their arms, marched out of the hall and gave themselves up.

The strikers in this city are in an ugly mood, but they seem completely cowed by the citizens' defense force. One hundred thousand men answered the call to arms when this force was organized after martial law was proclaimed. The cost of living is mounting daily, although provisions are fairly plentiful.

The Transvaal Leader appeared on the streets with only four pages of hand set type. It contained an announcement that in the future only nonunion printers would be employed on the paper. Previously the Leader ran a strictly union shop.

CLAIMS RADIUM CANCER CURE

Dr. J. P. Kelly Reports Patient Well After Bromide Form Treatment.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 16.—For the first time in Colorado cancer has been cured by radium treatment, it is reported. The treatment was applied to John Brown, sixty-five years old, a resident of Golden, by Dr. J. P. Kelly with the radium in bromide form obtained from the Colorado School of Mines.

Dr. Kelly said that since the application of the treatment all inflammation has disappeared, and the patient is in perfect condition.

"On account of the age of Brown an operation would have proved fatal," said Dr. Kelly, "so I proposed the radium treatment. The cancer involved the entire tongue. The only place where the radium could be obtained was from the Colorado School of Mines and in a weakened form known as bromide of radium."

TRAIN STOPS TO RESCUE SKATERS

Brakeman Plunges Into Canal to Save Twins.

DRAG WATER FOR VICTIMS

Two Boys Are Believed to Have Been Drowned and Six Others Were Saved. Garfield Man Upon Seeing Trouble Also Leaps Into Canal and Helps In Rescue Work.

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 16.—Two skaters are believed to have been drowned, and six others were saved from death by the quick work of Walter Naughton, a brakeman on a passing passenger train, who saw the ice of the Dundee canal, near this city, open up and swallow several boys. The police are dragging the canal for the bodies of Joseph Kehoe, ten years old, of 240 Third street, and George Lesko, nine, of 119 Third, who have been missing since the accident and who were with the skaters.

A Susquehanna passenger train was speeding along in sight of the canal near Paterson when Naughton and many of the passengers saw the ice gap open and the boys fall in. Naughton pulled the brake cord and leaped off the train. In a moment he had plunged into the cold water, making a desperate effort to save two drowning youths. Many persons knew that it was unusual for the train to stop at this point so suddenly and ran to see what the matter was. Joseph Hoffman of Garfield arrived and, seeing the trouble, also leaped into the canal.

When the train was backed up to where the two men were trying to get the boys out of the water the passengers noted that there did not seem to be as many boys in sight in the water as they believed they had seen fall in with the crumbling ice.

One of the boys rescued was Joseph Bizak, ten years old, of 220 Third street, this city His twin brother Charles was on the bank at the time the ice broke and leaped in to Joseph's rescue without hesitation. Joseph threw his arms about his brother's neck, and both had been to the bottom twice and were drowning when Naughton and Hoffman pulled them to the bank.

Naughton and Hoffman leaped back into the water and took out all of the other boys they saw.

REJECTS JEW AS WITNESS.

Hoboken Judge Says Oath Would Not Be Binding on Him.

Hoboken, N. J., Jan. 16.—Solomon Bressig of this city was rejected as a witness in the trial of a case before Judge Sullivan in the Hudson county court of special sessions, because he is an orthodox Jew and his oath on the Bible was not binding, as he viewed it.

First Assistant Prosecutor George T. Vickers asked Bressig if it was not a fact that he could not testify unless the oath were administered on the Talmund by a rabbi and the witness wearing his hat. Bressig replied that such was correct.

"The witness cannot testify," said Judge Sullivan, "for he does not consider himself under oath. We do not recognize witnesses sworn as he believes they should be. Call your next witness."

MURDERER GETS STAY

Dolan, Newark Wife Slayer, Is Granted Writ of Error.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 16.—The court of errors and appeals made effective a writ of error obtained by John Dolan, a Newark wife murderer. Dolan is under sentence of death and is confined in the state prison. The writ of error secured will enable his appeal to come before the highest state court for review.

A reprieve has already been extended to Dolan, and this will expire the latter part of February and before the errors court meets again. The writ of error secured will act as a stay of execution.

BRIEF STATE ITEMS.

Feko Sanck jumped into the elevator at the cigar factory of the I. Lewis Cigar Manufacturing company in Newark and was crushed to death.

It cost Fred Bruel of Hoboken $100 for hugging Miss Freda Clark of Jersey City against her will while she was walking on the street near her home.

Two hundred and fifty children marched in order from the Catholic school of the Sacred Heart in Newark through clouds of steam that escaped from a broken pipe.

While the thermometer was at zero men in the Morristown county jail were excited by steam and water escaping from a hot water pipe wrenched loose by an inmate.

The Oritani Field club of Hackensack, one of the oldest and best known family clubs in northern New Jersey, will not have a cafe or bar. The board of governors decided that popular sentiment was against it.

The public service utility commissioners have referred back to the board of works of Newark the plans passed by the latter giving the Public Service Railway company practically a right to gridiron the city with trolley tracks.

—To the housewife the value-quest is unending—for it is a part of her daily "business." And this fact makes the store ads a "business matter" with her.

ELY'S CREAM BALM OPENS CLOGGED NOSTRILS AND HEAD---CATARRH GOES

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it. Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely, dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleasing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear. Adv.

EDWARD BYERS.

I was born in Fort Mills, Yorkville County, S. C., from which place I started out just previous to the outbreak of the Spanish-American War. My destination was New York city, and there I landed without education, money or friends, but with the determination to help myself and others of my race. For the past five years I have worked with these ends in view, and in 1905 I went to Westfield, N. J., where, with the $145 capital that I had saved from my earnings, I went into the real estate business. Here I have met with the greatest success and I am sure the experience I have had is worth $1,000 to every member of our race. I have sold more than $60,000 worth of real estate and have made thousands of dollars for our people. I have now holdings valued at $10,000, outside of my interest in the E. Byers Real Estate Company, of Westfield, N. J., and have at present over $250,000 worth of property which I wish to dispose of.

Success in business means to build up better machinery for State rights that will help the general conditions at large and whatever helps me the same applies to you and your children. We also need a building and loan association and a state bank to protect our business men and our women in Union County, N. J., and this will bring both the small and large business together. There is a great demand for money at 6 per cent. We should organize at once on one common platform.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backachy or Have Bladder Trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Adv.

SHE CONFESSES AS ACCOMPLICE

Mrs. Senn, Police Say, Admits Aiding Edward J. O'Connor in Stealing $500.

FROM EXPRESS OFFICE

She Was His Accuser and Had Told Strange Tale—O'Conner Had Been Held in Bail—Woman Breaks Down Under Third Degree.

Mrs. Edna Senn, fomer cashier in the local office of the United States Express Company, according to the police, yesterday confessed to Union County Prosecutor Alfred Stein and Police Chief Patrick J. Kiely that she was an accomplice of Edward J. O'Connor, who was held in bail on a charge of stealing $500 in cash from the United States Express Company on November 1. When the latter was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza a month ago and subsequently held in $1,000 bail for the Grand Jury, Mrs. Senn, under oath, gave damaging testimony against him, declaring that while her back was turned he stole a packet containing the coin from the North avenue office of the Express Company. Yesterday, when summoned to Elizabeth to appear before the Grand Jury, she was subjected to a severe "third degree," and is said to have confessed that she and O'Connor had connived to steal the money. After telling her story, she was brought to this city and this morning, when arraigned before City Judge DeMeza, was held in $500 bail to await Grand Jury action.

Her arrest and alleged confession is a surprise to the Express Company officials and attorneys, who looked to her as the one witness who could give testimony against O'Connor sufficient to have him found guilty. It developed at the hearing a month ago before Judge DeMeza, that O'Connor and Mrs. Senn had been very friendly, although the woman is married. On the stand, under oath, she alleged O'Connor had threatened her life many times and that she had given him from $30 to $50 each month on his demands because she feared him. Claiming that she had no part in the theft when O'Connor was examined before the local magistrate before being held for Grand Jury action, she put the whole blame on him and cast suspicions on John F. Reger, of Belle Mead, a clerk in the North avenue express office, who was later reinstated, after being suspended.

On November 1 several packets, one of which contained $500, the property of the Jersey Central Railroad, in the Express Company's care were sent from the Grant Avenue station to North avenue, to be deposited in a local bank. According to Mrs. Senn's sworn testimony, the money was delivered to John F. Reger, the clerk, who in turn placed it on a counter, where she was in charge. Mrs. Senn told Reger she would sign a receipt for the money later, which she later refused to do. On the stand Mrs. Senn alleged that while the money was lying on the counter O'Connor came to her demanding aid and on being refused, stole the packet containing the $500 while her back was turned. She said she did not see him actually take the money, but that she saw him leave the office. At first the woman kept silent about the alleged theft, but several weeks later told of her alleged suspicions and O'Connor was arrested in North avenue by Detective Sergeant Flynn and Roundsman Saffron.

The case against O'Connor was to have been considered by the Grand Jury and he and his counsel, John P. Owens, were in the court house. Mrs. Senn was on hand too, for she was to be the chief witness against him before the grand jury. Police Chief Kiely, giving her to understand that he had evidence to prove that she was an accomplice, finally wrung a confession from the woman, the police say.

Mrs. Lester's extensive travels through the West and Mexico, where she has studied the problems of home missions, fit her to speak with force and attraction on the subject of her address. A cordial invitation is given to all to attend this meeting, which should be a representative one.

FIRE IN TENEMENT CAUSES EXCITEMENT

Women Hysterical But Blaze is Small—Violation of Tenement House Law?

Fire, discovered in a closet in the home of Elias N. Nadler in the second floor of the building located at 313 Liberty street, shortly before noon today, caused some excitement among the inhabitants of the structure and although the blaze was small and the flames quickly extinguished, several of the women in the smoke filled house grew hysterical and it was with some difficulty that the firemen completed their work. An investigation conducted by Fire Chief T. O. Doane after the flames had been put out revealed an alleged violation of the tenement house law in the building and the condition will be reported to the Tenement House Commission with a view to having matters remedied.

The living quarters are composed of three floors that have been sliced off the southern side of the brick building, the other portion being used for stores, and in the narrow area three families with a total of sixteen members are being housed. According to Chief Doane, the specifications required by the Tenement House Commission in living quarters of this nature have not been met by the owners and the stairways are a menace to human life in case of fire.

Thoroughly aroused over the alleged seriousness of their present predicament by the fire this morning it is reported that the tenants of the house are making preparations to move to other quarters. The stairs are narrow and the floors of the second and third floors are far from safe as they now stand and when the fire chief and one of his men walked across the bedroom on the second floor this morning the boards of the floor bent under their weight.

MUSICAL COMEDY AS CHURCH BENEFIT

Large Cast for "A Night in Dreamland' 'to Be Presented Shortly.

The vestry of Holy Cross church has engaged Jay Wellington to present a musical comedy entitled "A Night in Dreamland." Mr. Wellington comes to Plainfield highly recommended as a successful producer of plays with social talent for the benefit of charitable organizations and churches. His productions during the past five years under the auspices of the Catholic, Episcopal, Baptist churches, hospitals and King's Daughters' organizations have proved social events, as well as profitable enterprises for the organizations.

Mr. Wellington has presented two musical comedies in Easton, Pa., and only last week finished his second production for Christ church at Stroudsburg, Pa. The Philadelphia Inquirer says of his work: "The decided event of the winter season," and press notices from other representative cities from coast to coast as well as credentials from representative clergy and business men speak of his work in the highest terms, and many persons are looking forward with interest to the forthcoming presentation of "A Night in Dreamland."

About seventy of the younger social set will be invited to assist in the production and 125 children will be seen in one of the attractive specialties of the comedy. The dances of the production are especially attractive and are of professional merit. Some of the dances are from "The Merry Widow," "The Pink Lady," "The Fascinating Widow" and "The Siren." The director is a dancing master and all who come under his instruction are sure to profit in one way or another.

Mr. Wellington will be seen in the leading part, presenting among other features his "Loveland Dance," which has gained considerable recognition from the best critics of modern musical comedy dances. The first rehearsal will be held in the parish house o Holy Cross church Wednesday night, Jan. 21, at 7:30 o'clock. The production will be given at the Plainfield theatre in about two weeks' time.

TO HOLD A BANQUET.

Several members suggested the idea of a banquet, and it was finally decided to precede the meeting with a dinner.

FOUR BURGLARIES IN CITY LAST NIGHT

Total Amount of Loot Will Aggregate But a Few Hundred Dollars.

Four burglaries, thought by the police to have been committed by the same thief or thieves, occurred in this city last night. The amount of loot was small for it will total up to only several hundred dollars.

The biggest loser is Henry Viebrock, who conducts a grocery store at 217 Park avenue. Entering his establishment by unlocking the front door, they took $50 in coin from the cash drawer and also several packages of food stuffs from shelves. Patrolman Kelly tried the door shortly after 4 o'clock this morning, he says, and found everything apparently secure. At the home of Patrick McGauley, of 709 South avenue, $25 in money, a gold watch, a woman's coat and a stick pin were taken. The looters entered by forcing a front window.

Soon after the reports of these thefts reached the police this morning, George S. Dufford, of 675 West Front street, went to headquarters and said that his home had been entered and an umbrella, several articles of clothing and jewelry valued at about $25 had been taken. While Dufford was reporting his loss A. R. Peacock, of 1112 Lafayette place, informed Chief Kiely that his house had also been entered through a rear door and $4 in money, an umbrella and about $20 in silverware taken.

Detective Sergeant John J. Flynn and Sergeant Higgins have been assigned to the cases.

HE SEEKS REDUCTION IN TAX ON PROPERTY

V. W. Nash, Jr., representing Samuel Schwartz, of West Front street, a member of the Equator Realty Company, of Dunellen, appeared before the Middlesex county Tax Board at Dunellen, yesterday, making an appeal from the assessment of $900 levied on a tract of about 160 lots at that place. Most of the land is under water and there are no improvements. For that reason Mr. Nash asked that $450 be taken off the assessment. Judge Rene P. F. vonMinden represented the borough of Dunellen at the hearing.

It was the only appeal considered by the Tax Board, yesterday, and decision was reserved.

FEDERATED CLUBS PLANS ARE MADE

TO HOLD RALLY, TOO

The election of officers, a discussion of ways and means to further advance the interests of the organization, and plans for the mass meeting to be held on Friday night, January 23, to secure an expression of opinion concerning the granting of liquor licenses in this city, were features of the annual meeting of the Feredation of Men's Church Clubs and Religious Organization, held at the Y. M. C. A., last night. Although the attendance was not large there was considerable interest in the welfare and progress of the organization.

Walter H. P. Veysey, the president, was in the chair. George B. Zimmer, secretary, and Charles A. Rice, treasurer, presented their reports. Mr. Veysey gave a brief review of the first year's work of the federation, touching upon the work of last year in reference to liquor licenses, the "Community Santa Claus" plan, which were special features. Mr. Rice reported receipts of $20 for the year, expenditures of $9.10, with a balance of $10.90. He also spoke of the "Community Santa Claus" work. Through an amendment the constitution was changed making five, instead of seven members a quorum.

Plans for the mass meeting to be held on Friday night, January 23, were discussed at length. This meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A., although other places were suggested, and it is proposed to make it a rousing one. The Federation especially desires a free expression of opinion both pro and con and invites everybody that is interested in the question of liquor licenses to be present. While the question of retail licenses has been settled through the passage of a resolution of the Common Council by a vote of nine to two, this does not mean that no attempt will be made to increase the number of wholesale licenses. The members of the Common Council will be invited to the meeting to get a concensus of opinion.

The Federation's attention was called to a country-wide movement for the general observance of Sunday, February 1, as a "Go to Church Sunday," for the men, and a motion was adopted endorsing the idea, it being understood that the Federation so far as possible will do all it can to secure a large attendance of men at church that day. There will also be co-operation with the pastors of the local churches.

The idea of having a big rally of the church clubs was presented by Mr. Rice and received the endorsement of those present, with the result that a committee comprising W. Lester Glenney, Robert R. Pentecost and Arthur B. Cole was appointed to arrange for the affair which will probably be held in the parish house of Grace church some time in February. It is proposed to have the Dutch Arms Band of Trinity Reformed church and other talent present to provide the entertainment and light refreshments will be served. The affair will be in the nature of a "get-together." The committee was given full power to carry out the plans. The Federation now has a membership of about 700 men and the plan will be to secure as large an attendance as possible.

President Veysey appointed F. E. Smith, W. Lester Glenney, E. W. Hughes and William T. Banks a nominating committee, and after a short conference the committee presented the following list of officers, which first vice-president, Samuel T. Carter, Jr.; second vice-president, Arthur B. Cole; third vice-president, William T. Banks; secretary, George B. Zimmer; treasurer, Charles A. Rice.

Both William T. Banks and E. W. Hughes were present for the first time, representing the men's club of the Netherwood Reformed church. The churches represented in the Federation are: Crescent Avenue Presbyterian, Congregation, Grace P. E., Grace M. E., Hope Chapel, Church of the Heavenly Rest, Netherwood Reformed, Seventh-day Baptist, Trinity Reformed and Warren Chapel. It was announced that the officers would meet Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A., to make further arrangements for the mass meeting next week.

Announcement.

M. Schwartzman, the modern furrier, who is well known to the Plainfield people for the past six years as the giver of real bargains, will close his Plainfield store at 128 East Front street, on February first and for the few days remaining he will offer big bargains.—Adv. ***

UNION CO. GRAND JURY INSPECTS BONNIE BURN

Although not through with the complaints held for them, the members of the Union County Grand Jury yesterday made a trip to Bonnie Burn and inspected the institution. This is in accordance with the usual formality performed by each inquest.

From present indications, the Grand Jury will complete its work the first part of next week. Only one report has been made to the court thus far, and at that time only three bills were handed up. This indicates that when the final report is made the total number of true bills found, aside from the three presented, will be handed up. Arrangements to mark the close of the list with the usual dinner are being made by a committee of the Grand Jurors.

VIVID DESCRIPTIONS OF GERMANY GIVEN

Prof. Heinrich Zich Gives Absorbingly Interesting Discourse at Hope Chapel.

The life of a student at Heidelberg University, in Germany, and a description of the picturesque River Rhine and its legends were graphically depicted at Hope chapel last night, by Prof. Heinrich Zich, of DeWitt Clinton High School, New York, who lectured with the aid of stereopticon views photographed by himself while a pupil at the historic institution of learning and when traveling through the country on a recent visit. The event was the second of a series of national entertainments arranged for the winter, and was called "German Night."

Beginning his discourse, the lecturer described the city of Cologne, the cathedrals there and the habits of the natives. Showing scenes along the River Rhine, the professor in an interesting way told the history and fiction connected with many of the ruins of castles which stand majestically at various intervals along the banks of the German stream. A brief account of the stories written and poets as well as the actual history connected with these ruins, proved highly entertaining and at times humorous.

Describing the life of the natives in the various cities, Prof. Zich said that German women make the best housewives and asserted that even the wealthy attended to the details of the home rather than leave them to the attention of servants. Delving still further into history the speaker mentioned William the Great, Guttenberg, the inventor of the printing press, and others of that country's great.

Prof. Zich was a student at Heidelberg and he told from actual experience of the pranks engaged in by the pupils; the fraternities and social and traditional customs there. Among the views shown was one of he and his wife, sitting on the ruins of Heidelberg castle, during their honeymoon eight years ago. Heidelberg was Dr. Zich's birthplace.

BOARDS OF TRADE TO HOLD A CONFAB

Union County Bodies Likely to Protest Against the Griffin Bill.

President William Jeffery, of the local Board of Trade, has called a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of that organization for next Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock with a view to having them authorize him to appoint a committee to attend the meeting in the Town Hall in West field Tuesday evening, January 20, for the purpose of discussing the small board freeholder bill without referendum that has been introduced into the Legislature by Assemblyman Griffin.

A plan has been adopted to interest the Boards of Trade of Plainfield, Cranford, Roselle and Rahway in the project and the meeting will probably be attended by delegations from all of these Boards.

It is claimed that the bill does not allow district representation and that if enacted would allow Elizabeth to get practically all the membership on the Board. On this ground it is opposed by the Westfield body.

$5,000 DAMAGE CAUSED BY FIRE

FAMILY AWAY AT TIME

Fire gutted the upper stories of the home of William H. Sadler, of 223 East Sixth street, last night, and caused about $5,000 damage before being extinguished by the local fire department. There was no one in the house at the time. Mrs. Sadler and her daughter, Miss Ruth Sadler, were visiting next door at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sattels, of 221 East Sixth street, and the first intimation they had of the blaze was when the fire apparatus approached. The building is owned by John H. Doane and was fully insured.

Beginning in the interior of the third floor attic, the flames ate their way to the exterior gable and roof, being noticed almost simultaneously by neighbors and Mrs. Thomas Gage, of 602 Washington street, who sent Raymond Smith, a call man of the borough department, to notify the supposed occupants of the burning structure. While Smith ran to the blazing building he called to John Saums, of Crescent avenue and Second place, who pulled box 25. Mrs. Harry H. Manning, of East Sixth street, also noticed the flames when they first became visible from the outside, and she rushed across the street to the Sattels home and Mrs. Sattels telephoned to fire headquarters.

Patrolman McCarty observed the flickering of electric light wires, caused by the burning of the connections with the house. When the fire broke through the shingle roof, he ran to the scene, followed by Roundsman Saffron and Patrolmen Martin, Flatley and McGinley. With the aid of Smith, the policemen began the moval of furniture from the house before the fire apparatus arrived. Working in the pouring rain, they saved hundreds of dollars worth of household goods, including an expensive mahogany piano. Neighbors and call men aided in the work of saving the household effects. So far had the fire advanced before being discovered that the residence of the Sattels family was threatened with flames, and received a bad scorching.

Chief Doane said the cause of the blaze is a mystery. An opinion prevailed that it was due to defective electric wiring, but investigation proved to the contrary. Parts of the house not damaged by flames were soaked by water from several lines of hose.

WHAT does the name MO-JO mean?

People ask this every day!

It means nothing in itself – but in connection with chewing gum it means something as distinctive as day light.

—It means cleanliness.
—It means purity.
—It means whiteness.

Are these not things worth while? Are they not specially worth while in a dainty you are to put in your mouth?

If you can't remember the name MO-JO, just ask for clean white gum.

"PLEASE SAY ADVERTISED"

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish ache, and feel like bumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

MEN AND BIBLE STUDY.

Why should men read and study the Bible? While this theme for the editorial of a secular paper may seem out of the ordinary, I have no apology to make for it, because apart from the fact that the Bible presents truth concerning religion, it presents at the same time principles that are fundamental and invaluable for the formation and prosecution of our life's work.

It may be true that the Bible is the most popular and widely read book in the world today, yet a beginning only has been made toward discovering its great mine of wealth. But it seems to be coming to its own, and when men realize that in this book may be found principles which they need most to help them in the development of a fully rounded manhood, it will not be longer neglected, but become a part of their daily life as the newspaper and magazines which are found in their homes. Ex-President Roosevelt is quoted as saying that almost every man, who has contributed anything at all of which America is proud, has founded his life on the teachings of the New Testament, and many others just as prominent give like testimony, for they know that upon its pages are found those things which give a clear vision of what is worth while in the world.

There is no one who does not desire success. And there is no real success where character is not concerned, politics, business, commerce and religion are under the search light of moral reform. There never was a greater demand than at present for men in all walks of life, whose honesty and devotion are not measurable in dollars and cents. Now the Bible makes character, it reveals us to ourselves as we really are, it helps us to fight our moral battles, it shows us the real battle ground. And "it not only points out the rocks in life's voyage, but keeps us steady at the wheel, when there are no sun or stars in sight." In all ages, whatever else men might have disagreed on concerning the Bible, in this they have been in substantial agreement, that, if read with discrimination, there could be found the true ideal of human life and character. And so I believe I may, and without hesitation, say nothing can better equip a man for a successful career than the Bible.

History confirms the fact that the Bible has been the basis of the best civilization that the world has ever known. The nations that have made the greatest progress, and have attained the highest political and social organiation, have been those whose national institutions have been built on principles found in this Book. The subject of the great Queen Victoria who had come from a far away land asked her whence came your civilization? And for answer she handed him her Bible. The wisest men in every nation have given their testimony that the Bible contains a system and basis of morality superior to any source of instruction. And it must follow that what is true in the nation will be equally true of the individual in the nation. The Book will be a reconstructing agency, sufficient to lift him up to the highest moral condition. The wrecks we find all around us simply testify to this need. And those, who from experience know, tell us that the Bible meets the conditions and solves the problems. Read their testimony. Just before his death Abraham Lincoln wrote: "I am profitably engaged in reading the Bible and let me advise you, take all this book on reason that you can, and the rest take by faith, and you will live and die a better man." U. S. Grant said concerning it; "Hold fast the Bible as a sheet anchor to your liberties, write its precepts in your hearts and practice them in your lives, for to the influence of this Book are we indebted for all the progress made in our civilization and to this we must look as our guide in the future." One of the most glowing tributes comes from the old yeoman poet Heinrich Heine; it's short but speaks volumes: "What a book it is. Vast as the universe, striking its roots in the very depth of creation and towering aloft in the mysterious blue of Heaven, sunrise and sunset, promise and fulfillment, birth and death. The whole drama of humanity is to be found in the book. It's unassuming, but like the sun that warms you and the bread that nourishes you. A book so familiar and as full of kindly blessings as an old grandmother who reads daily in it with dear trembling lips and spectacles on her nose." If these testimonies are true what a loss those who neglect it suffer. Who could ever estimate its worth in the world? It has been the slave's book, for what words were more often on the lips of the great Wilberforce who for forty-two years cried out for liberty in England. It has been the poet's book. The men whose names will go down through the ages in the world of letters, have been men whose lives have been shaped by the book.

A glance at the writings of the mighty Shakespeare or Tennyson will convince. And here Milton for his "Paradise" and it's true in all the arts. Here Handel got his inspiration for the "Messiah," Leonardo got the spirit he put in the "Last Supper," and here we opening its pages shall find our inspiration, as we look at the faces of the strong men, who there move before us, speaking, laboring, suffering, achieving, dying, for the soul is braced for its task when conscious of the words and deeds of the mighty men who have gone on before.

E. C. CONOVER.

PROCTOR'S NEW SHOW.

Power Brothers, sensational European pole artists, will top the vaudeville bill at Proctor's on Monday. Their mid-air performance is remarkable. The Three Whalens, a trio of clever comedy entertainers, will offer a Broadway Rathskeller act, consisting of excellent singing and dancing. Watson, Hutchings and Edward will present a comedy sketch, "Schmultz's Night Out," in which there are five characters. Francis Nordstrom & Co. will appear in a domestic incident of home life entitled, "In the Dark," and Duke Darling, the character comedian, who is known as "The Man With the Green Gloves," will have a batch of new stories. A two-reel feature photo-play is shown every day.

William Jeffery and family have removed from Berkeley Heights to a bungalow on Sherman avenue, it being one of five erected there by the Little Farms Company, of which Mr. Jeffery is the president.

WANT TO SELL ALL MARTIN MORTGAGES

Trenton, Jan. 17.—Judge Reilstab, upon application of V. W. Nash, Jr., of Plainfield, representing Judge W. G. DeMeza, trustee in the bankruptcy proceedings of F. L. C. Martin, of Plainfield, has granted a rule to show cause why the mortgagees holding incumbrances on Mr. Martin's real estate should not be marshalled, so that the mortgages be sold together and the court decide on the payment of incumberances. The rule is returnable at Newark on Monday, January 26.

The mortgagees comprise the First National Bank, of Plainfield; Theodore Kerr, Walter Hazeltine, Laura Armstrong, the Plainfield Building and Loan Association, Eugene M. Laing, Margaret Richards, the State Trust Company and Mary Pope Fritsey. Judge Isaac P. Runyon, of the Somerset County District Court, represents the First National Bank, Laura Armstrong and the Plainfield Building and Loan Association. W. A. Coddington represents Mrs. Fritsey; C. M. Dolliver represents E. M. Laing and William Newcorn represents the State Trust Company.

"MAN'S DUTY TO MAN" SUBJECT OF DISCOURSE

"Man's Duty to Man," was the subject of an unusually instructive and inspiring discourse given last night, before a large audience in Temple Sholem by Rev. S. Schoenbrum, a preacher of repute, who in brief, told of the many things the inhabitants of God's earth could do to make their lives better and at the same time be of service to one another.

"Treat kindly not only your neighbor," he said, "but extend the courtesies that you are able from time to time to give to your neighbor's neighbor. If that custom was followed out universally, how much happier we fellow men would be."

Continuing the speaker said: "The recent action of Mr. Ford, of the Ford Automobile Co., shows that a great awakening is taking place. Mr. Ford, through the aid given his master mind by his employes and the faculties God has given him has amassed a large fortune, which, as he announced, is to be distributed among those who have helped him earn it. Other similar acts of humanitarianism are coming to our notice daily, and the moguls of the business and financial world, I believe, will soon awaken to the belief that it is happier to give than receive.

GORGAS IS NAMED.

Washington, Jan. 17.—President Wilson today sent to the Senate the nomination of Colonel William C. Gorgas to be surgeon-general of the army to succeed the late Brigadier-General Forney.

Orra S. Rogers, of Madison avenue, who underwent an operation at Muhlenberg Hospital, yesterday, for mastoiditis, is reported today as resting comfortably.

Not Immune.

Mrs. Martin met an acquaintance one morning while out shopping.

"How is Mrs. Callaway, that lives near you?" asked Mrs. Martin. "Of course you know she has a child very ill with scarlet fever?"

"Oh, yes, indeed," replied the other. "I know it, but I don't dare to go and see her."

"Why not?" inquired Mrs. Martin. "There is said to be no danger of taking the fever, you know, after one is sixteen."

"Oh, but, then, you know," replied the other woman, "I'm so young in my feelings!"—Lippincott's.

Novel Sight.

A young woman from the east was conversing with a Kentuckian about tobacco and tobacco raising. She was very pretty and a good conversationalist, and the young man from Kentucky was vastly interested in her until she gave him a sudden shock by announcing, "I should love to see a tobacco field, especially when it is just plugging out."—Argonaut.

Big Hillside Avenue House Has Been Recently Completed

Residence Built by J. E. Curtis and W. H. Abbott for Speculative Purposes, at Cost of $18,000, will be Decorated to Suit Purchaser.

Captain J. E. Curtis and William H. Abbott, local real estate brokers, have had a two and a half story colonial tile and stucco dwelling erected on their property on Hillside avenue, between Evergreen and Martin avenues. The building, which has a frontage of about fifty feet and a depth of about thirty feet, on a lot with a frontage of 125 feet and a depth of about 182 feet, cost about $18,000.

The exterior has been faced with white stucco. At the southeast end is an open veranda, partially enclosed by arch shaped stucco walls. The main entrance is covered by a small portico, supported by two round columns of concrete faced with stucco. The under side of the roof portico and veranda have been finished with metal ceilings, painted white. Green shingles cover both the main structure and portico. At the rear of the house is a small porch built of concrete.

At the main entrance into a small lobby with a closet for umbrellas and into the vestibule open double doors of leaded glass. The floors of both lobby and vestibule are finished with tile while the woodwork in both is enameled white. The main hall leads to the dining room at the rear center of the house. This has been finished with false ceiling beams, faced with white wood and enameled, and around the four sides is a plate rail. This room is separated from the hallway by swinging glass paneled doors of mahogany. To the right of the dining room is the butlers pantry, with dresser and sink and beyond is the kitchen on the west corner of the first floor, equipped with coal and gas range, closets and sink.

At the front of the house, to the right of the main entrance is the library, and to the left ranging from the front to the rear is the living room, entered by passing through double glass panelled, mahogany framed doors. Directly opposite the entrance to this room is a large open fireplace with ochre colored brick for facing set off by dark red mortar joints. The brick facing runs to the ceiling and over the opening is a gray limestone mantle shelf. There is red tile hearth. At the rear of the living rooms is an open veranda, with floor of concrete. The interior walls, as well as the exterior facings of the veranda are of white colored stucco.

All the rooms on the first floor except the kitchen and pantry, have trimmings of white wood, enameled white. The floors are of diagonal parquet, with the exception of the kitchen and butler's pantry, which are finished with white maple floors. Mahogany stained floors are used with the exception of those in the pantry and kitchen, which are of chestnut.

An open stairway leads to the second floor. The treads are stained mahogany with white risers. The handrail is supported by craftsman type posts, with mahogany finished caps and is finished in mahogany. The banister posts are enameled white. The stairs are of the return type and on the landing a parquet floor has been laid. This stairway is continued to the third floor, the flight to the return platform between the second and third floors being finished similar to that leading to the second story. The upper flight to the taird floor is of yellow pine with cypress treads.

On the second floor there are four bedrooms, two bathrooms, one of which has a shower bath attachment, a linen closet, and a sun parlor. All the rooms on this floor with the exception of the bathrooms, have been finished with diagonal parquet floorings, and craftsman type trimmings of white wood, enameled white. The bathrooms have tiled floors, up-to-date fixtures and medicine cabinets, with plate glass mirror doors. The bedroom at the southeast end of the house has a large open fireplace in centre of the southeast wall, built of white pressed bricks made to represent chiseled stone, with a backing of red pressed brick, lined with white mortar and a gray tile hearth. A mahogany mantle shelf has been built over the fireplace. At the southeast end on the second floor a sun parlor has been built, enclosed with thirty two ounce plate glass paneled sashes which can be removed and have screens substituted, converting it into an open sleeping porch.

Three bedrooms, a bathroom and a small storage occupy the space of the third floor. All are finished with trimmings of white wood, enameled white. The flooring is finished comb grained pine.

In the basement of the building is a laundry, servants' toilet, a dark closet, two large store rooms, boiler room, coal bins and a cold cellar, separated from the main cellar by a brick partition.

The house will be heated by steam, an intercommunicating telephone and bell system has been installed, and each room has combination gas and electric fixtures for lighting purposes.

Each of the bedrooms has large clothes closets the doors of which are of mahogany with full length French plate glass mirrors. All other doors on the second floor are of birch, stained a mahogany color.

W. H. Clum drew the plans for the house. N. W. Hoffman did the carpenter work. Townley Brothers did the masonry. Charles H. Lane the painting and decorative work. R. B. Van Arsdal the tile work and S. S. Ward & Co., the parquet flooring. Voebl & Waldron installed the gas piping, heating system, plambing system and the copper gutters and leaders. George W. Ord wired the house.

This house is on the market for speculative purposes and will be decorated to suit the taste of its purchaser.

$8,000 RESIDENCE ON UNION STREET

Completed This Week, Will Be Put on Market by Francis G. Crawford.

Francis G. Crawford, of Madison avenue, has had a two and a half story frame dwelling erected on his property on Union street, which was completed this week. The building has a frontage of thirty-six feet and a depth of thirty-seven feet and cost about $8,000.

The exterior walls below the first course has been faced with clapboard, while above that point the walls are covered with shingles as is also the roof. Across the front a large porch has been built. The floor of this veranda is built upon concrete piers faced with white stucco. These piers extend above the flooring on the porch to the level of the banister railing and are then capped with slabs of Indiana limestone. Upon these limestone caps short round columns have been placed to support the veranda roof. The foundation walls are of rough face concrete and like the facing to the front porch and all the exposed surfaces of the chimneys above the roof have been finished with a finish of white stucco.

The plate glass entrance door leads into a small entryway and from there into the reception hall. In this hall a small umbrella closet and an ample cloak closet have been built. To the right of the reception hall, separated by columned arches, is a den, equipped with hinged top seats along the sides of two walls, which when not in use can be secured against the walls so that they will be out of the way. The den has been trimmed with detail trimmings of chestnut, finished natural, and has an oak floor.

To the left of the reception hall is the living room, twelve feet, six inches wide and seventeen feet long. At the rear of this room is a nook which is separated from the main room by a columned arch, containing two seats, one at each side, between which there has been built an open fireplace. The fireplace is of Harvard red pressed bricks lined with white mortar and has a tile hearth. At the end of the hall is the open staircase, built entirely of oak, with trimmings of chestnut. At the side of the staircase on the first floor a large lounging box seat has been built with a hinged top.

The rear of the first floor is occupied by the dining room and kitchen, which are separated from each other by a large, butler's pantry. The dining room is on the rear right hand side and the kitchen is at the left. The butler's pantry has two dressers and two china cabinets, and in the kitchen are a combination range, two closets, porcelain sink, a large entry for the refrigerator, and opening from it are an entrance way to the rear porch and a rear stairway to the upper floors.

All the rooms on the first floor, with the exception of the kitchen and butler's pantry, have been finished with oak floorings and chestnut detailed trimmings, finished natural. The kitchen and butler's pantry have been finished with chestnut trim and white maple floors, left natural.

The space on the second floor will be taken up by a hall, four large bedrooms, each of which will have a large airy clothes closet, a bathroom, which will be equipped with standard fixtures, and sanitary medicine cabinet, with glass shelves and door faced with a plate glass mirror, and a linen closet. All the rooms on this floor have oak floors and trimmings of chestnut, finished natural.

The top floor will be used for storage.

George H. Fisher, Jr., drew the plans for the building. Jerry Manning was awarded the general contract for the erection of the building and sublet his contracts as follows: C. William Smith, masonry; carpentering by the general contractor, plumbing, installing the heating system, piping the house for gas and all gutter and leader work, by Borman Brothers; painting exterior and finishing of interior decorations, James Bolmer, and electric wiring to Edward A. Craig. The J. D. Loizeaux Lumber Company supplied all the lumber, millwork and interior decorative materials. Boice, Runyon & Company furnished all the mason materials, and A. M. Griffen Company the hardware.

The house was built for speculation purposes and ranks high in the class of houses built for that purpose throughout this city.

J. R. JEFFERS WILL BUILD SUBSTANTIAL HOUSE

James R. Jeffers, of Manson place, is planning to erect a two and a half story concrete block building on his property on Manson place between West Third and West Fourth streets. The exterior will be finished to resemble a broken range rock face. The front porch, across the entire front, will be built entirely of concrete with large square capped concrete columns which will be built up to and through the veranda roof. Asbestos slate will be used as the roof covering. At the rear of the structure a small rear porch will be placed which will also be entirely of concrete. The majority of the windows of the building will be of art or leaded glass.

The basement will contain a laundry room, equipped with three trays, boiler, coal bins and a large preserve closet.

In the front of the first floor there will be a parlor and hall, separated by a large triple columned opening. On the southeast side of the parlor will be an artistically carved mantel and there will be a bay window in this room with a large window seat. The dining room will be at the rear of the parlor, separated by double sliding doors. In this room there will also be a handsome mantle, and a bay window. A butlers' pantry will separate the dining room from the kitchen, and will be equipped with two dressers and a large china closet. The kitchen, at the rear, will be equipped with gas and coal ranges, pot closet, and white enameled sink. Access to the front hallway can be gained from the kitchen by passing through a small passage and two swinging doors. In this passage-way an ample sized cloak closet will be built. The flooring of both the kitchen and butlers' pantry will be of an asbestos composition, with base turned up of the same material. All the other rooms on this floor will have double floorings, the first of yellow pine and the finished surface of best quality filled red oak. The trimmings on the first floor will all be in oak, of detail type.

The stairs from the hall to the second floor will be entirely of oak. On the second story will be taken up by four bedrooms, each with a large closet, bathroom and a linen closet. The bathroom will be equipped with standard fixtures and medicine cabinet, which will have glass shelves and a French plate glass mirror door. All the rooms on this floor will be finished with a detailed trim of white wood, white enameled and North Carolina yellow pine floors.

The space on the top floor will be used for storage. The entire building will be wired and piped for both gas and electric lights and will be heated by a hot water heating system.

The concrete blocks which will be used in the erection of this structure will be manufactured by the owner who is one of the leading cement and concrete block manufacturers in Plainfield, as well as being a general contractor who makes a specialty of all kinds of work pertaining to the concrete line. The plans for the proposed building were drawn by George H. Fisher, Jr., a local architect.

Contracts for the various grades of work on the house have not been awarded as yet.

WM. E. BARTLE TO BUILD APARTMENTS AT BOUND BROOK

William E. Bartle, the East Second street stone yard man, is planning to have a six family, three story brown stone front building erected on his property in Bound Brook. Work on the structure will be commenced late in March.

The plans, drawn by W. H. Clum, the local architect, call for a face which, with the exception of the edges, will be of smooth faced stone. The edges will be of rough finished material. There will be two bay windows in the front of the building on the first story. On each floor there will be two apartments, each with a private hallway. The second and third story apartments will each contain a parlor, dining room, kitchen, pantry, bathroom and three bedrooms, while the first floor apartments will have a library, diningroom, kitchen with pantry, bathroom and two bedrooms. All the bathrooms will be equipped with sanitary fixtures.

In the basement of the building six storage rooms will be built with coal bins for each tenant, and furnace room. The building will be piped throughout for gas and wired for electric lights, with combination fixtures, will be placed in each room. A hot air system of heating will be installed. The basement will be divided into two separate rooms, partitioned in the middle by an eight inch brick wall. The proposed building will have a frontage of sixty feet, six inches, and will be forty-four feet deep. No contracts have been awarded as yet, but it is said the owner who conducts a masonry business in Bound Brook, will supply the material for the exterior walls and also do the work of building.

LULL IN BUILDING WORK IN THE CITY

Cold Snap Stopped Mechanics and No Permits Have Been Issued This Week.

The first obstacle that the building trades of Plainfield has encountered this winter was the cold snap that struck town early week. Owing to the extreme cold it was impossible for the masons to do any work on any of the buildings that are now in the course of construction in all parts of the city, and the carpenters also encountered unfavorable conditions. The cold was so intense that it was well nigh impossible for them to hold a hammer in their hands while working outdoors, so it is only the only work that is being carried on now to any extent is the interior decorative and alteration work throughout the city and borough. Some of the buildings on which work is being suspended for the present are the Stanley-Van Arsdale building, Park avenue, which must be complete by April 1 so that Mr. Stanley can occupy the butcher shop that is being built for him, and also the additions of the First Baptist church, work on the School [illegible] residence on Woodland avenue, and the stables. The work on the Madison and Hillside avenues, and other smaller structures are being held.

Up to yesterday noon there were absolutely no permits issued by T. O. Doane, the local building inspector, for either new buildings or for alterations to present structures. The local architects also feel the decline in business and claim that no new plans are being drawn for any structures which will be commenced this spring. W. H. Clum, the Park avenue architect, predicts that after the fifteenth of January the building trades and architectural work will pick up and a banner year will be seen in the 1914 season. Other architects that were seen claimed that the increase in business is bound to come.

This is the first week since the first week in January, 1913, that there have been no building permits issued and all the local contractors are hoping that it will be the last this year, because they are looking forward to a record breaking number of new structures during the next twelve months.

IMPROVING HEADQUARTERS FOR LOCAL MILITIA COMPANY

In addition to the erection of fireproof return type stairways in the building at 326 West Front street, owned by W. R. Collington and several of his colleagues, extensive alterations are being made by the owners on the floor that is used by Company K, the local citizen militia organization. These alterations consist of partitioning off the right hand side of the room and the sub-dividing the partitioned space into two separate enclosures. One of these rooms will be used as the quartermaster's office, where all clothing and equipment of the company will be stored. At the front of the building where the quartermaster's office formerly stood much of the space occupied by it has been taken up by the return flight of stairs to the third floor. This section of the hall has been finished and partitioned off from the main floor and will be used as the administration office or commissioned officers' room. In this room all the clerick work connected with the organization will be transacted.

An electric system of fire alarm signals has been installed on all the floors of this building. This equipment was placed, due to the act that the State factory inspector, who has been inspecting the new alterations, ordered every precaution possible for the safety of the lives of those employed by the concerns on the two upper floors of the structure.

James C. Manning, who has the contract of rebuilding the stairways, is also in charge of the alterations work being done in the Company hall. All material used in the work was furnished by the J. D. Loizeaux Lumber Company and Boice, Runyon & Company.

The estimated cost of these latter improvements is about $500. It is expected that these alterations will be completed by the first of next week.

FISHER GETS TEXAS ORDER.

George H. Fisher, Jr., a local architect, has just completed a set of plans and specifications for a hollow tile residence for Henry E. Elrod, of Highland Park addition, Dallas, Texas, who will have a building erected there in the spring. The plans and specifications call for a two and a half story hollow tile and stucco fireproof house. This building will cost the owner about $16,000, and will have on the first floor a hall, reception room, living room, butler's pantry, kitchen and breakfast porch. The second story will have three bedrooms, two bathrooms and two sleeping balconies.

NEW STORE ON TERRILL ROAD.

Enrico Biondi, of Terrill road, is having a one story hollow tile building erected on his property to be used as a store. The walls of the building will be of hollow tile, faced with a gray colored stucco. A red pressed brick front will be built in which wooden sashes will be placed to hold large French plate glass windows. The structure is being erected with a hallway from the street front so that if in the future a second story is to be built access to it can be obtained without building an addition to the side of the building. An ornamental cornice will set off the present building. The main entrance in the front centre will be finished with a wide door with prism glass panels. Business house furnishings will be used on the interior, with white plaster walls and ceilings and yellow pine flooring. At the rear of the building a set of stairs will be built to the cellar, and also in case of building a second story at any time, will provide space for stairs to reach that floor. The roof of the structure will be covered with a tar and gravel roof. The plans were drawn by George H. Fisher, Jr., and the building will cost its owner about $1,500. It is expected that the building will be completed about March 1.

Rev. George B. Shaw, of North Loup, Neb., who is visiting here, offered prayer.

During the service, Miss Nan Randolph sang "Looking Unto God," and "Abide With Me." The burial was in Hillside cemetery and the pallbearers were Lewis Dunn and Alfred VanAlstine, of New Market; Nathan Randolph, Lois St. John, Howard Randolph and Thomas B. Randolph, of this city.

Rev. Dr. Gabriel Reid Maguire, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will preach at the South Plainfield Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. His daughter, Miss Ruth Maguire, will sing.

MISS KATHARINE BEMENT DAVIS.

On the walls of the buildings at Bedford hangs the motto, "Forgetting the things which are behind and reaching forth to those things which are before." That is Miss Davis' creed, and she has carried it to the point of declaring that punishment should be fashioned to fit the criminal.

In the new commissioner's charge are 5,500 prisoners in nine city prisons and institutions. Her department has spent $2,000,000 a year for several years and is served by 650 employees.

LONG CRUISE FOR SCIENCE.

During the Voyage Valuable Magnetic Observations Were Made.

At anchor in Erie basin, South Brooklyn, after a cruise around the world lasting three and a half years the nonmagnetic yacht Carnegie of the Carnegie institution at Washington is now being overhauled in preparation for another long jaunt.

The Carnegie has practically no magnetic metals in its makeup save the small auxiliary engine used to supplement the 12,900 feet of sail she carries. The yacht is 155 feet over all with a displacement of 568 tons.

THE NONMAGNETIC YACHT CARNEGIE.

The Carnegie has accomplished two thirds of the task she set out to accomplish—to make a complete magnetic survey of the globe. Already virtually all the data gathered in nearly 150,000 miles of voyaging are in the hands of hydrographers, and much of them is now in use by shipmasters.

Compass readings were taken every 200 miles or so, and in every part of the world the accuracy of the instruments was tested by "swinging the ship" and passing her through the circle of the compass card to prove the correctness of the readings.

All inaccuracies of navigation compass points have been noted on the ship's charts, and the institution can now furnish to shipmasters in virtually every part of the world true compass readings, with which their own instruments may be checked.

In addition to the task of magnetic survey, the observers aboard the Carnegie gathered information as to atmoshperic refraction and expect soon to furnish to navigators a complete chart of corrections for astronomical observations, eliminating another factor of error in navigation.

The Young People's Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church will meet at 6:55 o'clock tomorrow night. Hebert Cubberly, the president, will lead, the topic being "Ambitious Endeavorers."

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 50.

LET'S have a smile at this gladsome season. Sometimes, you know, advertising contains a smile that wasn't intended as such by the advertiser. Here's a sample:

In an "up-State" New York newspaper there once appeared the following little notice:

My! I wonder if all the inhabitants of that place are goats.

Which reminds me: In the New York Herald there appeared the following Want Ad: HELP WANTED, MALE—Young men playing violin and piano, to join amateur orchestra. Apply Monday evening ,with instruments, 23 W. 44th Street. ... Golly; the pianists were up against a hard one, weren't they?

And while we're smiling, let me tell you that Franklin P. Adams, the "Always in Good Humor" man of the New York Evening Mail, says that he knows of a man, a retired liquor dealer, who calls his country estate "Alco Hall." Also, that another man, who has a Long Island bungalow which he occupies only two weeks during the year, calls it "Seldom Inn." Still another, a lawyer friend of the humorist, has a round sort of cottage on Cape Cod which he terms "Circuit Court."

That last paragraph hasn't anything to do with advertising. But those of us who read the ads. in newspapers and magazines and other media—and who doesn't read the ads., I'd like to know?—see some awfully funny things once in a while. One could write a book on advertising "bulls."

Sometimes a little bit of humor in an advertisement is a good thing. There's a limit, however—a danger-line where advertising intended to be funny or clever offends the reader. There is a lot of advertising done that isn't worth serious consideration as a business-producing force. But is there too much advertising? I think not. Let me bring this little wandering Talk to a close by quoting a writer in "Newspaperdom" on that subject.

"Is there too much advertising? No, there is too much mad-vertising, too much fad-vertising, too much bad-vertising, but there isn't too much advertising."

Of Interest to Women and the Home

The Housewife's Daily Economy Calendar

Style in Dressing Children.

Have you a style of your own in which you dress the children?

Fashionable women of the big cities adopt individual style in dressing their children that is delightful.

For instance, as you walk in one of the parks where these city children take air and exercise, you see two fair-haired, rosy-faced little girls coming along in Copenhagen blue and black. Their coats and gaiters are of blue cloth, their shoes are black and their hats are perfectly plain velvet hats. They wear black gloves. Three little children—two boys and a girl—pass in brown and white. They wear brown shoes and white stockings, brown coats, white knitted wool caps and white gloves. Along come two youngsters in black and gray—black velvet coats and hats, gray gaiters and gray gloves, and black sh eoS ots.eaorhpcacom-u and black shoes. So the procession goes. Occasionally there is a family of small children dressed in all the colors of the rainbow—one in blue, one in rose, one in brown and another in green. But usually these children of fashion stick closely to some style of dress and scheme of color devised especially for them.

There is economy in this sort of dressing. For one thing, the color scheme adopted can be chosen with a view to its durability. Four children all dressed in the same way are sure to look interesting and distinctive, even if their clothes are of a sombre hue. Black and white, for instance, are a good choice this year, when black is fashionable for children. Black coats with pique collars that are easy to launder, black shoes, black hats, white stockings and white woolen gloves that are easily laundered with white doeskin, perhaps, for great occasions— the street costumes is smart, distinctive and yet easily kept in shape.

Another point of economy in this sort of dressing is that it takes less time and trouble on the part of the mother than the more varied, elaborate sort. If the plan is carefully thought out to begin with, no more thought is necessary. There is no danger that the small daughter's rose-colored hat may not look well with her brown coat, and that these garments will look awful beside the blue of her young sister. To begin with, she hasn't a rose-colored hat and a coat of a different hue and her brothers and sisters have no outdoor clothes of another color than hers. They are bound to look well together, for they all match.

By Alice Gibson

7705

With the popularity of the top-coat and the separate blouse it is quite necessary one should have an extra skirt or two.

No. 7705 is a four gored model with a slightly raised waistline and just a suggestion of drapery on each side.

Cheviot, serge or tweed are excellent if the skirt is intended for general or business wear, while ratine, cloth or duvetyn may be used if it is desired for dressy occasions.

A practical idea for the woman who makes her own clothes is to always have a skirt on hand of cambric or other lining material that is just right in length by which to measure the length of her gowns and skirts. This will save much time. As one hip in most figures is slightly larger than the other, the skirt is apt to sag a bit on one side if it is turned up evenly all around and no attention given to this difference.

This skirt may be made in size 24 with 2¾ yards of 36 inch material. The pattern is cut in 5 sizes; 22 to 30.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Some Cookery Suggestions

SOME FRUIT DESSERTS.

DINNER MENU.
Soup.
Baked Fish.
Boiled Potatoes.
Stuffed Baked Peppers.
Watercress Salad.
Lemon Jelly.
Coffee.

DESSERTS in which winter fruits or the ones to be obtained from the pantry are used make delicious desserts. They are as wholesome as they are attractive.

Candied Chestnut.—Boil and peel the chestnuts; then let them simmer in a thick sirup until done. Afterward roll in sugar and lay on oiled paper to cool.

Molded With Gelatin.

Lemon Jelly.—Put two tablespoonfuls of granulated gelatin to soak in a third of a cupful of cold water. When soft add a pint of boiling water, a cupful of sugar and grated yellow part from half a lemon rind. Let stand until cold after stirring until sugar is dissolved, then add lemon juice. Stir well and pour into molds. Serve with whipped cream.

Raspberry Sponge.—Soak one-half ounce of gelatin in a quarter of a pint of water. Mix half a teacupful of milk and one teacupful of raspberry jam and rub through a fine hair sieve. Dissolve the soaked gelatin in a pan over the fire, stirring all the time. Bring it to a boil, add two ounces of sugar and the juice of half a lemon. Whip a half pint of double cream in a large bowl, strain the gelatin to the fruit pulp and add it to the chipped cream, stirring in carefully a little at a time with the whisk till the whole is perfectly blended. Stir until the point of setting; then pour into a mold.

Use Tart Apples.

Baked Apple Dumplings.—Take eight tart, juicy apples, peel and core them, filling the holes with sugar and a pinch of cinnamon or cloves. Make a soft crust, as for baking-powder biscuit; roll in a sheet about one-quarter of an inch thick and cut in eight pieces. Set each apple in the center of a slice and cover, pinching the edges together over the apple. Put them side by side in a pudding dish, spread butter over them and bake until brown. Take from the oven, cut a little hole in the top of each dumpling and pour in this a sauce made of butter and sugar dissolved in boiling water with a little nutmeg grated in. Put a tablespoonful of this sauce in each dumpling, then place carefully on a platter and serve hot or cold with rich sweet cream and sugar.

The Bird Began to Recover.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Naughty Little Sick Snowbird.

DADDY had been encouraging Jack and Evelyn to feed the little birds that came outside the window. So one evening when it was time for their story he told them about the Christmas a little snowbird had had the Christmas before.

"He was a very self willed little fellow," commenced daddy, "and he thought no one knew so much about life as he did. During the autumn he had become very chummy with the sparrows. His daddy and mother didn't like that much, as they were afraid he would become as rude and noisy as the sparrows were.

"When the cold weather came the snowbirds decided to leave, but the little willful snowbird was nowhere to be found. 'Where could he have gone?' asked Mother Snowbird, and daddy said, 'Oh, probably he left this morning with the robins and wrens, for I saw him playing with them.' That eased Mother Snowbird's fears, and off they started.

"When the little snowbird saw that his family had flown away he came out from his hiding place. He really felt a little homesick and was sorry he hadn't gone, too; but, of course, he didn't dare admit it, for the sparrows had told him only stupid children were obedient. They admired his naughty disobedience and thought it was a great joke to worry his family.

"A few weeks went by, and the days became colder and colder. One night he felt so cold and so unhappy that he flew away from the sparrows, expecting to die any moment.

"The next morning he was found, half dead, by a little girl. She took him in her house, warmed his frozen feet and fed him bits of crumbs and drops of water. Slowly he began to recover.

"It was the day before Christmas, and he was perched on the window sill in the sun when, to his huge joy, he saw Daddy and Mother Snowbird outside the window. He flew against the window glass. The little girl came rushing into the room to see what the trouble was. She was sure from his joyous actions that the other two snowbirds were his daddy and mother, so she opened the window, and the little bird flew out.

"'Oh, dear; we've been so frightened!' said Mother Snowbird.

"'Yes,' said Daddy Snowbird; 'we've been on ever so many trips looking for you, but now we'll hurry down home and fly fast so as not to get cold, and then we'll be there in time for Christmas day. All the little birds will be there waiting for the Christmas party.'

"'You may be quite sure the little snowbird never had a happier Christmas, and he realized that the older birds knew what was best for him."

ADVERTISE all Your Wants, To Let, For Sale, Boards, Personals, etc., in The DAILY PRESS. 1c A WORD

ANTI-SUFFRAGE

Conducted by Plainfield Branch New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

In the Woman's Forum of the New York Tribune of Sunday January 11, Miss Jessie Ashley says: "Some time, I hope, this question of a girl's duty to her parents' prejudices will be one that can't arise because boys and girls won't be brought up by their parents. The State will take them and educate them and then all this clashing of personalities, in the four walls of the home, this constant colliding of young desires with old inconditions, will be done away with forever. But that state of affairs is a long time off and till then, will girls and boys be tactful." As we used better proof of the adoption by suffragists we must judge them by their leaders, and Jessie Ashley, suffragist, socialist, feminist, is one of their "shining lights"—of the socialistic propaganda of institutional rearing for children and incidentally the entire abolition of home and family life.

Every child to be reared as the poor pathetic foundlings are reared except where adopted by someone who longs for the family life which only children can impart in the home.

And they are advocating and preaching this idea of life, in this day when humanity, just manliness and womanliness, is aroused to the pity of such rearing, to such a degree, that every institution of standing is establishing home life through the cottage system with a "house-mother" to every cottage.

Thus does Miss Ashley dispose of child-life in America with a lightness comparable to a wave of the hand.

Nor is she alone in this desire to destroy home and home family-life, for what is left of either when the children are eliminated from them and brought up as are the foundlings.

Thank God the "Mother's Pensions" are a direct blow at so horrible a doctrine, designed as they are to help women to keep a home, and children to live in one, even when so poor as to require State aid.

Does the socialist suffragist ever look beyond her own generation in her demand for the change necessary for her personal gratification to the life of the country when all the home-bred members of the nation are gone, and it becomes a nation of institution bred men, women and children.

Does she really believe that she will come out victor in the mighty struggle not against women alone but against Almighty God to change the whole nature of woman, the nature He gave her, for the preservation of mankind.

Not the production only, but the love born with it, from whence springs the instinct to succor and soothe through infancy, to rear, to teach, to train through the ensuing years, and at last to launch into the noblest manhood and womanhood, for which she had the power to prepare them.

Is the woman of future ages to be bereft of her highest instinct, at the direction of the suffragist-socialist-feminist of the early twentieth century? Surely not, when even amidst all the clamor, the spectacular display, the excited oratory of the day, the fifty years and more of earnest effort on the part of "woman's rights" advocates, which have gone before the vast majority of the women of the day, are either absolutely indifferent or daily more active in their opposition.

The Rev. Margan Dix tells us in "The Calling of a Christian Woman and Her Training to Fulfil It":

"When, therefore the question is about the place and duties of the man or the woman in this world, the first point to settle is their relation to that visible organization called society, which they form, and with which their destinies are bound up."

"The man and the woman exist to multiply and replenish the earth, blessed to that end by the primal benediction in the morning of the world, and if they are to form homes out of which shall grow houses, tribes, States and nations, and if in designing them to that end, God made them essentially diverse the one from the other, establishing distinctions so obvious as to be immediately discerned, and so necessary that they have been maintained by many a law, human and divine, who can imagine that their work should be the same? The distinction, the difference, must run through the entire line of their activity. A man must have his share a woman his; the woman was not made to do the man's work, nor the man that of the woman's. To see this is wisdom; to maintain it inflexibly is security and peace; to ignore it must end in destruction and unhappiness."

Just What You'll Find Useful When Accidents Happen.

To mend a slightly broken plaster article make a solution of camphor and alcohol, thickened with shellac. This must be applied hot to the edges of the pieces to be cemented, and the pieces must be held together until the liquid has cooled and hardened.

A good way to clean a carpet sweeper is to remove the brush and after rubbing off all the hairs and lint rub it well with kerosene. Let the brush remain in the air until all the odor has evaporated. The sweeper will leave the carpets and rugs looking much brighter after this treatment.

To make souffle crackers to go with soup buy round crackers that can be split open easily, drop the halves into a pan of cold water and let them stay seven to eight minutes. Then take them out with a cake turner, so they will not break, place on a buttered pan and crisp in a hot oven. The change from extreme cold to extreme heat makes them puff or "souffle."

A small, square cushion, which should be especially nice for a guest room, is covered with blue silk, and over this a fillet lace cover of white is drawn. This dainty little bit of blue and white is then supplied with blue and white headed pins, neatly arranged, all ready for the guest's use.

To make arrowroot jelly moisten two tablespoonfuls of arrowroot in a little cold water and then add a pint of hot water to this and boil for five minutes, stirring constantly. This should be prepared in a double boiler.

Holiday Presents Found In Shops.

Ten dollars is the price of a very interesting gift—a silk umbrella in a velvet case. The case is a sheathlike cylinder, either deep mauve or black, which incloses the umbrella when not in use. At the same shop which sells these umbrellas others are shown which hide a tiny powder puff and case in their handles. Canes for men are sold with handles which open to disclose tiny cigarette cases, large enough to hold three or four cigarettes.

An inexpensive gift for a man is a shaving set, packed into a small case convenient for the traveler. There are a safety razor, a tube of shaving cream and a shaving brush. There are two tiny pockets to hold extra blades, and the whole case is not more than five inches long and three wide. It costs $1.

Hatstands covered with Chinese embroidery are charming. One that stands about eight inches high and that is covered with dark, deep blue silk, embroidered in shade blue and yellow, costs $3. A taller one, covered with lighter silk, costs 50 cents more. These stands are a convenience that any woman would appreciate, and their oriental coverings put them in the top-notch of fashion.

A Guessing Game.

The guessing contest here described will furnish an amusing half hour at a party. To each couple hand a paper containing the following questions, with spaces left for the answers:

What kind of a cake adds variety to life? Spice cake.

What kind of cake should a politician eat? Election cake.

What kind of cake are lovers fond of? Kisses

What kind of cake does a pugilist enjoy? Pound cake.

What kind of cake do bees love? Honey cake.

What kind of cake should be given the man who imposes on his friends? Sponge cake.

What kind of cake should the jeweler use? Gold and silver cake.

What kind for the sculptor? Marble cake.

What two cakes are most suitable for the minister? Scripture cake and angel food.

Animal Friendships.

The dog and the horse often become great friends and are very fond of each other. A gentleman had a Newfoundland dog that always went to the stable to get his horse. While the groom saddled the horse the dog lay with his nose between his paws. When the horse was ready the dog took the reins in his mouth and led the horse to his master. He then followed him in his ride. On returning the reins were given to the dog, and he led his friend back to the stable. If the groom happened to be out of the stable the dog barked loudly till he came.

Hidden Flowers.

He was a chic lover—in fact, quite a dude.

The pans you put the flowers in are rusty.

Frieda, is yesterday's milk sour?

Mr. Radnor chided his son for telling an untruth.

The sweet peasant child was made Queen Mary.

Over the American Flag.

There is but one occasion upon which another emblem is allowed to blow over ours. This is during the time when the church call is being sounded at navy yards and upon vessels of the navy.

The Rain Goblins.

The rain goblins go pit-a-pat.
Spitting at this, spitting at that They're out today dabbling in glee—
See! They're washing windows for me.

The rain goblins go drip, drip, drip,
A-bouncing down with hop and skip.
They're out today for good, I think,
For they are giving my plants a drink.

The rain goblins, frolicsome elves,
Are having sport all to themselves.
But it's for others they're at work.
Raindrops I never knew to shirk.

O rain goblins, we welcome you,
For you come not to make us blue!
As a blessing you're here again.
We could not live without the rain.

SOCIAL WAR IN WASHINGTON AVERTED.

MRS. LINDSAY M. GARRISON.

A pretty lively social war, which has been brewing in Washington as a result of the refusal of the wives of Cabinet members to socially recognize the wives of the members of the House of Representatives, though at the same time they would recognize the wives of the members of the upper branch of Congress, has been averted. Peace was declared when Mrs. Lindley Garrison, wife of the Secretary of War, gave a luncheon to the wives of the New Jersey delegation in Congress. Mrs. Garrison's action is considered a backdown on the part of the wives of the Cabinet members, but it is believed the "unpleasantness" is now at an end.

WHEN IS A JOKE NOT A JOKE - YAH-YAH - WASS ISS LOS?

"MAC" SAYS

SCORING A SIDE ISSUE.

Too often the ability of a basketball player has been judged by the number of goals he is credited with per game and rarely does his all around playing ability come into prominence when his relative value as a player is being summed up by sporting writers and team managers. Such is the case with one Abrams who has been holding down a guard position on the North Plainfield High School basketball team all season and although he has not shown with brilliancy in the scoring column he has been without a doubt the most valuable man to the aggregation when all around basketball is taken into consideration. His ability to prevent scores has pulled many a contest out of the fire and his wonderful passing and dribbling has sent the ball to the forwards who in turn have caged the two point counters on many occasions. Thus, taking all into consideration, the annexation of field goals, is after all, a side issue.

A WISE MANAGER.

Looking forward to the gridiron season of 1914, Manager "Doc" Doyle has already taken steps to keep his squad of twenty-two players in condition for next season's campaign by providing them with heavy coat sweaters and by thus keeping out the wintry blasts he hopes to preserve the health and strength of each individual and keep him in the proper trim to trounce every other rival that has the misfortune to buck up against the locals next season. Beware of the Federals, "Doc," its time you did something to protect your men from being kidnapped by the coin tempters.

SHORT AND SWEET.

Although the hockey season lasted but a few days while it was in our midst those Plainfield High School puck chasers certainly made good scimming over the frozen water surface. Defeating both Cranford and Westfield High Schools in a decisive fashion the local club wielders are certainly entitled to the Union county title. Little practice was obtained by the local seven prior to the opening of the season but the seven good men who sported the red and blue played together like an aggregation of veterans that had been practicing as a unit for a fortnight or more under ideal conditions.

Like all others athletic stars who periodically announce their retirement from the sporting spotlight, Albert Brynairski, formerly captain of the Y. M. C. A. basketball team, returned to the court for an hour of "come-back" glory last night and had the time of his life cavorting about in his favorite pastime. A lay-off apparently did the big fellow a world of good.

If one should take time to compare the lineup of the Y. M. C. A. basketball team now doing duty with the one that started the season recognizance would be almost impossible. Few of those who started the season remain in the fold and the battle front changes with each contest.

Bob Fitzsimmons gained a big point in his battle for an injunction yesterday in the Supreme Court in New York. It now looks as though the big fellow would get back in the ring after all.

Jimmy Nash is holding down the job of first substitute on the Temple School team, of Philadelphia, at the present time. "Goat" has made good in the few games in which he has played and his bad leg is the only thing that is keeping him out of the game.

HOPEL CHAPEL GAME.

The Hope Chapel basketball team will play the quintet representing the Summit Chapel Club on the local court tonight.

SEVEN IN A ROW FOR BORO GIRLS

Perth Amboy Team's Belated Rally Came Within An Ace of Spoiling Record.

The North Plainfield High School girls' basketball team went to Perth Amboy yesterday afternoon, and won a fast and exciting game by the score of 25 to 23. It was by far the best exhibition that the boroughites have put up so far this year and the game was well earned. The lead that the locals secured in the first half was just large enough to carry them through the second when lines were abolished.

As usual, Miss Burtis started things for the "Canadians" and was the chief point getter throughout the game. Her guard was no match for her and she caged six pretty baskets in the initial period. Miss Spencer also added two points to the score, while Miss Conquest rang up ten points for the home team. The first half ended 20 to 13 in North Plainfield's favor.

The second half was played without lines, and being used to this, the home girls were at their best. Miss Burtis made twenty-one of North Plainfield's total, while Miss Conquest's total was eleven. This is the seventh straight victory for the local girls.

COLUMBUS LEAGUE TEAMS IN ACTION

The opening game of the Columbus Club bowling league were boomed on the club's alleys last night, when the warriors sporting the Lexington regalia riddled the Bunker Hill crew with strikes and spares that spelled victory in two out of the three contests pinned. The initial fracas went to the Lexington color bearers by a count of 773 to 757, the second was a victory of the Bunker Hill men who toppled over 837 pins, while their opponents were displacing 811 and the third and rubber contest went to the Lexington crew with the high score mark of the evening, a 934, against the opposition's 784.

The opening series in the tournament aroused considerable interest among the non-partisan members of the club and each team had a lusty band of cohorts to cheer it on and endeavor to disconcert the rival forces from the side lines. The scores recorded last night, considering the calibre of pinners of which the organization is composed, were unusually creditable and several exceptionally high tallies were totaled up during the session or wood splitting.

Brady, of the Lexington quintet, was high score man of the evening and monopolized the centre of the limelight with an average of 205.4, his mark of 224 being the best of the evening.

COLUMBIA BASKETBALL CAPTAIN TO PLAY WITH ARM IN A SLING.

Captain Danny Meenan, of the Columbia basketball team, his left arm in a sling, left with his teammates for Hanover, N. H., where a league game with Dartmouth will be played tonight. Meenan has a badly wrenched shoulder, but will play with his arm strapped to his side, as far down as the elbow. So handicapped he played in the Princeton game and scored two goals with his free right hand. He has free use of his forearm, using it to help catch passes. Coach Fisher wants the blue and white leader to take to the bench, but the team and Meenan fear the winning combination will go to smash if it is broken up.

LOCAL ROOTERS SAW GREAT GAME

Plainfield Y. M. C. A. Five Nosed Out by a Margin of Three Points.

A SPECTACULAR GAME

Morristown Association Players Show Real Class at Basketball in Feature Event of the Season on New Y. M. C. A. Court That Place.

Playing against one of the most evenly balanced opponents of the season on the Morristown Y. M. C. A court last night, the local Y. M. C. A. quintet was defeated by a score of 23 to 20 in a fast and classy court engagement. The contest was a whirlwind affair from start to finish and numerous fouls of the unintentional nature figured in the play throughout the two periods of battling.

Ending the first half a leader by a margin of one point, the Morristown color bearers showed even greater agressiveness in the final session and their clever passing and accurate basket caging kept the Plainfielders on their toes. A large proportion of the field goals scored by both teams were executed from difficult angles and drew much applause from the largest crowd of enthusiasts that has ever attended a basketball game in Morristown.

During the first period the locals scored four field goals against their opponent's trio, but the home team was better on the penalty throws and bagged a quartet of their numerous opportunities from the fifteen foot mark. The locals at times displayed a woeful weakness in goal shooting and although the Plainfield crew managed to get within a single two point tally of the Morristown team's record on several different occasions in the second half the tying count was not forthcoming.

Numerous easy shots were missing and seemingly impossible ones executed by both aggregations and the spectators were furnished with an excellent program of the sport. "Pete" Pierson and "Pete" Savage starred for Moristown while Moulton and Brynairski were the leading Queen City scorers. Prior to the big contest "Steve" Frances' Crescents gave the high school lads of Morristown a hard fight for first honors, but the latter managed to win by a score of 17 to 11.

The Plainfield team was accompanied by a crowd of over thirty rooters, the trip being made by auto bus. Among those who accompanied the team are the Misses Mae Radford, Mary Bennett, Maud Casselle, Edith Dalley, Edith Richards, Jubilee Rowley, Elizabeth Hillpott, Madeline Booth, Edythe Radon and Elsie Moulton, and Frank Dunning, Robert Gavett, Albert Brynairski, Harry Moulton, Myrton Glover, Ralph Smalley, Roy Love, Jack Martin, Ashley Burner, Joseph Gavett, L. STRONG OPPOSITION FOR Y. M. C. A. TEAM

Good Game Expected When Association Five Plays Third Game of the Week.

As a grand finale to a banner week of basketball, the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. quintet will try conclusions with the Lincoln Five, of Kearny, on the local Association court tonight. A. outfit by a three point advantage last night.

Rumor has it that the Lincoln aggregation will be strengthened when it appears here tonight, by the addition of several players who were out of the game last Monday night, owing to a misunderstanding and the Plainfielders will have to travel even faster than they did in the first contest in order to come out on top.

A LEGAL WAR FOR BALL STARS

But President Gilmore of Federal League Is Not Worrying.

CLAIMS LAW ON HIS SIDE.

Prospects Are That the Jumping of Joe Tinker and Mordecai Brown to New Major Baseball League Will Result In a Long Drawn Out Battle In the Courts.

The defection from the major leagues of Joe Tinker and Mordecai Brown recalls the earlier action of George Stovall in jumping to the Kansas City Federals, although the property of the St. Louis American league club, of which he was deposed as manager President Ban Johnson of the American league was asked if he, as the league executive, would follow the lead of Brooklyn officials, who announced their determination to enjoin Tinker from playing with the third leaguers.

"We will do nothing in regard to Stovall," was the reply. "He was not wanted as manager at St. Louis, and we do not feel called on to take any action."

In reply to the threats from Brooklyn that injunctions would be obtained against players under reservation to National league clubs in case they should play with Federal league teams, President Gilmore asserted it was a mere windy bluff. He said his league had the best of legal advice on the matter and knew its position thoroughly and added that the league would protect all players who signed with it against efforts by the opposition to put them out of business.

"We are not attempting to invite the organized leagues into open warfare," said Gilmore. "We are not going to conflict with them in any way that is avoidable. Chicago and St. Louis are the only cities in which there is now continuous baseball. In the other towns we naturally will provide schedules that will not touch the dates of the other clubs.

"We do not feel that the reserve clause of organized baseball is binding on the player and are determined to protect and defend any man who has left those leagues to join us."

That negotiations with Tinker and Brown were in progress has been known and publicly discussed for some time, although the impression was allowed to stand that they were both being considered for the management of the Chicago team. Information as to the terms of the contracts signed by the two former Cub stars was refused, and when asked if the money called for in the said contracts had been or would be deposited in banks, President Gilmore replied that the arrangements were satisfactory to the two managers.

Organized baseball men who have been investigating the financial strength of the Federals still insist that the whole plan will go up in thin air. The owner of the Buffalo franchise is Dick Carroll, a former pitcher of the New York Americans, who is now a cigar salesman. Otto Stifel, the brewer, who is said to be the chief backer of the movement, refused to buy the St. Louis American league franchise two years ago, stating that the price was too high.

Organized baseball men assert that Edward Hanlon and Judge Henry Goldman will not subscribe a dollar to promote the Federals' cause in Baltimore. While the so called outlaws were in the act of forfeiting the Cleveland franchise to a proposed club in Toronto a report was sent out from Youngstown, O., that James R. McAleer, now in Australia with the world's tourists, had purchased the Cleveland franchise—an absurd statement.

BASEBALL NOTES

"Lefty" Tyler drops a hint that the Boston Braves will have to come across with more money or he will jump to the Feds.

Mique Finn, the Memphis manager, tried to sign Harry Bemis, the old Cleveland catcher, but Bemis wanted too much money.

Dr. W. L. (Buck) Bressly, who managed the Roanoke team in the Virginia league last season, has signed to pilot Norfolk in the same organization.

What's the use of talking about Tommy Leach doing any jumping? Tom is so old that the Feds would have to wheel him into the new league.

Very few ball players have to work so hard to keep down their weight as does "Hack" Engle of the Red Sox. With "Hack" it's a case of training all winter. Right now he is down in Maine wearing out snowshoes and skis.

Pitcher Edgar Willett, of the Detroit Tigers, has put one over on the golfing ball players. Edgar has been playing on the same links as President Wilson at the Mississippi Country Club. Yes, sir, the very same links.

The New England League has dropped Brockton, Fall River and New Bedford and formed a new circuit with clubs in Worcester, Lawrence, Lowell, Lynn, Fitchburg and Haverhill, Mass., and Portland and Lewiston, Me.

Manager O'Neil, of the Utica New York State League team, believes he has landed three stars in Moore, Hardy and Higgins, of the Lincoln, Ill., team. Moore led the Illinois-Missouri league sluggers last season with a batting average of .440.

Sh! Close the door. An Eastern scribe has exposed the baseball record of Governor Tener, the new president of the National League, and of Bancroft Johnson, the American league boss. Spouteth the scribe. "Where do Tener and Johnson fit in making a holler against the Federal League invasion. Tener jumped the Chicago team to the Brotherhood in the early 90s and Johnson led the raid on the National League ten years later." Mum's the word.

WITH THE BOXERS

A boxing club is to be opened in Cincinnati with a fifty-cent admission charge.

It is said that Willie Ritchie has tucked away $50,000 since he won the lightweight title from Ad Wolgast.

Ad Wolgast's brother Johnny is to box in one of the preliminaries when the former champion meets Joe Rivers in Milwaukee next week.

George Rodel, the Boer heavyweight, and Tom McMahon are billed for a ten-round bout to be pulled off in Albany at the end of this month.

Now that Bob McAllister has met and defeated Battling Levinsky the California fight fans are sure that Bob is a coming champion.

Phil Bloom, the New York lightweight, is coming along at a rapid pace. If he continues to improve he may soon be able to give the best of them a good tussle.

The record of Gunboat Smith shows he has taken part in 28 battles during the past two years and has been defeated but once. The one Gunboat lost is credited to Jim Stewart, but no one believes it.

YALE SPORTS MIXED UP.

Policy Seems to Be to Divide Authority of Leaders.

Yale's oarsmen must be a very temperamental lot. Now it is announced that Dick Armstrong, recently appointed head coach for rowing, will not really coach. He is to be merely the manager for the squad of rowing prima donnas at New Haven. "Armstrong will not actually do any coaching, but will act as an organizer and in a diplomatic capacity," says a report from New Haven.

Guy Nickalls and Eugene Gianniní are to do the instructing. Armstrong is appointed to teach the famous winning Bob Cook stroke, but Nickalls and Gianniní are to do the actual coaching, which makes the entire affair about as clear as a tub of water from the Mississippi.

It seems strange that with all the athletic reverses Yale has met in the last few years it will not realize that there must be one man at the helm in every sport. Imagine Cornell appointing a man to act in a diplomatic capacity in rowing and allowing two others to shape the policy and the destinies of the crew. Somehow it does not sound right, and it is very likely not to work out right.

The same principle applies to football at Yale. Howard Jones was surely not given the full rein he was promised, and it is said that he will not return next year. The head coach must be so in more than name.

lakes and rivers of the middle and northwest owing to the lack of ice in the east.

An international series of races is scheduled to be held off Kalamazoo, in which Canadian and American ice yachts will compete, and these events are expected to bring the season to a climax in the great lake section.

The biggest contests of the year in the east will occur on the Shrewsbury river near Red Bank, N. J., as usual.

In the illustration is shown the White Bird, a new craft, owned in Long Branch, N. J., which should be a prominent factor in the Shrewsbury river races.

Penn Freshman's Strength Test

Kenneth C. Withrow, a freshman at the University of Pennsylvania, made a total of 1,700 kilograms in the strength tests at that institution in an attempt to break the record of 1,774 kilograms held by Michael Dorzias.

He bettered the figures of Dorzias in the neck test, the arm pull, the arm push, the push with both arms free and the grip with both hands, but fell behind in the leg and back lifts. Withrow, who was a guard on the freshman football team, declared his intention of making another attempt at the record in the near future.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray. Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

EDWARD BYERS.

I was born in Fort Mills, Yorkville County, S. C., from which place I started out just previous to the outbreak of the Spanish American War. My destination was New York city, and there I landed without education, money or friends, but with the determination to help myself and others of my race. For the past five years I have worked with these ends in view and in 1905 I went to Westfield, N. J., where, with the $145 capital that I had saved from my earnings, I went into the real estate business. Here I have met with the greatest success and I am sure the experience I have had is worth $1,000 to every member of our race. I have sold more than $60,000 worth of real estate and have made thousands of dollars for our people. I have now holdings valued at $10,000, outside of my interest in the E. Byers Real Estate Company, of Westfield, N. J., and have at present over $250,000 worth of property which I will soon dispose of.

Success in business means to build up better machinery for State rights that will help the general conditions at large and whatever helps the race same applies to you and your children. We also need a building and loan association and a State bank to protect our business men and our women in Union County, N. J., and this will bring both the small and large business together. There is a great demand for money at 6 per cent. We should organize at once on one common platform.

FALSE ECONOMY.

When a woman spends ten cents car fare to save five cents on the price of an article that is false economy.

And when an insurer buys a policy on account of a low price alone, without reference to the company or its methods, that is also false economy.

ZOOK APPOINTED TO A $4,800 JOB

Former Plainfielder Senior Civil Engineer of Interstate Commerce Body.

HAS ASSUMED DUTIES

Once Was in Engineering Department of Jersey Central—Recently Appraised Railroad Properties in the West.

Morris A. Zook, a resident of Plainfield for many years, and widely known as a civil engineer, has been appointed senior civil engineer for the Interstate Commerce Commission at a salary of $4,800 a year. He is now living in Washington, having assumed the duties of his office.

Mr. Zook, who was in town yesterday, lived here for nearly fifteen years, during which time he held a position in the engineering department of the New Jersey Central. Later he went to Cuba, where he took charge of an extensive railroad construction job. For the past year he was engaged in the work of appraising the valuation of railroad property, chiefly on the Wabash and Grand Trunk railways. He is said to be especially fitted for his new position, because of his large experience in railroad work.

Mrs. Zook and her son, Henry Zook, who is about twenty years old, are now in Arizona, for the benefit of the son's health. Before coming to Plainfield, Mr. Zook lived in Indianapolis, of which city his wife is a native.

MRS. JOHN F. AUTEN HAS PASSED AWAY

Heart Disease and Rheumatism Fatal—Funeral Service Wednesday.

Following an illness of about a year, Mrs. John F. Auten, aged 34 years, died yesterday at the home of her sisters, the Misses Emma, Lillian and Fanny Chandler in the New Madison Apartments. Death was due to heart trouble and rheumatism. Mrs. Auten had been living at Asbury Park for six years, where her husband was engaged as a clerk at the Marlborough Hotel, but her condition was such that it was thought best to bring her to Plainfield about the first of December. Since then she gradually failed.

Mrs. Auten was previous to her marriage, Miss Nettie Chandler, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Chandler, of East Third street. With the exception of the six years at Asbury Park, she had always lived in Plainfield. She possessed a happy disposition and made many friends. During their married life in Plainfield, Mr. Auten was clerk at the Hotel Kensington, when that place was conducted by J. A. Staats. Beside a husband and three sisters, there survives two daughters, Dorothy Auten, aged 13 years, and Ethel Auten, aged 11 years.

The funeral will be held at the New Madison Apartments, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, of which Mrs. Auten was a member, will officiate and the burial will be private in the Methodist cemetery.

The music for dancing was furnished by VanEps Brothers and proved to be a delightful feature, the program being a popular one.

There was a slight change from the usual custom in that supper was served on the lower floor, which permitted almost continuous dancing during the evening.

EXPECT STRIKE TO BE SETTLED

Nearly 5,000 Employes Out and D. & H. System Practically Tied up.

OFFER OF MEDITATION

Hanger Confers With Vice-President Sims—Men Will Go Back if Two Are Reinstated and Back Pay Matter is Arbitrated.

New York, Jan. 19.—A conference between Assistant-Commissioner G. W. W. Hanger, C. S. Sims and General Manager of the Delaware and Hudson, and the Labor leaders will be held this afternoon in Albany immediately upon ahe arrival of Mr. Hanger. A statement will be given out at the office of the Delaware and Hudson Company in this city.

New York, Jan. 19.—President Loree of the Delaware and Hudson Company received a despatch from Vice-President and General Manager Sims this afternoon stating that the despatches from Boston to the effect that the strike on the system had been settled, were unfounded.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 19.—A speedy settlement of the strike of the Delaware and Hudson system, which insludes engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and telegraphers, was predicted today. The order calling out nearly 5,000 employes was obeyed generally and operations on the road are practically suspended.

New York, Jan. 19.—Assistant Commissioner G. W. W. Hanger, of the Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation was in conference this morning at the Hotel Manhattan, New York, with C. S. Simons, second vice-president and general manager of the Delaware and Hudson Co., after which Mr. Hanger left for Albany. He gave no intimation of the result of the conference. At the offices of the company it is understood that all of the men are out on strike except the telegraphers who were expected to go out at noon.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 19.—A strike on the Delaware and Hudson railroad extending from Rouse's Point, N. Y., to Wilkesbarre, Pa., involving nearly 5,000 men, has been ordered at a conference of union officials held in an Albany hotel.

The strike was ordered by the men's representatives after negotiations began early in December with Clifford Sims, vice president of the Delaware and Hudson, failed to bring about an amicable settlement. The men say that the strike will be called off if two men are reinstated and that other grievances about back pay will be arbitrated.

Mr. Hangar sent this telegram to the five grand lodge officers of the employees' organizations:

"The board of mediation and conciliation is in receipt of communication from C. S. Sims, vice president of the Delaware and Hudson company, in which he states a controversy has arisen between said road and their employees, represented by you, which threatens to interrupt the business of the road to the serious detriment of the public interest and requesting this board by mediation and conciliation to bring about an amicable adjustment of the controversy. We assume you will accept our friendly offices, which are hereby tendered, and request that pending the adjustment of the controversy by the board no cessation of work shall occur."

Telegram Too Late.

Martin C. Carey, vice president of the Order of Railroad Conductors, who had been left in charge of the situation in Albany, wired back that he was helpless to avert a strike unless the two men were reinstated, as the grand officers and committeemen had left Albany two hours before the receipt of Mr. Hangar's telegram for the purpose of withdrawing the railroad men from service.

The two men to secure whose reinstatement as employees the strike was called were discharged last summer after an accident on the Delaware and Hudson near Cooperstown Junction. The wheels of a car in the middle of a freight train jumped the track and dragged along for three miles and a half.

The company discharged the engineer, conductor and trainman on the ground that they were negligent in not having noticed that the car was off the track. The men argued that it was a foggy morning and, as the train was a light one, they had no way of telling what had happened or that anything had happened.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE.

The fourth quarterly conference of the First M. E. church will be held tonight in Vincent chapel, Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph, District superintendent, being in charge. Dr. Randolph is now completing his sixth year as district superintendent, and according to the law of the church, his last in that position.

SEEKING DAMAGES OF CHAS. E. FABER

Civil Suit for $25,000 Brought By Mrs. Peter Murray Being Tried.

Elizabeth, Jan. 19.—Judge William H. Spear, who has been assigned to the Union County Court, was on the bench this morning, when the civil suit of Mrs. Ellen S. Murray, administratrix of Peter Murray, against Charles E. Faber, of North Plainfield, was called. The suit is for $25,000, and is brought by Mrs. Murray for the death of her husband, as the result of being struck by Mr. Faber's automobile on South avenue, Fanwood, on the night of November 19, 1911, when he was returning to his home from the Fanwood station.

It is claimed by the plaintiff that the lights of Mr. Faber's automobile blinded Mr. Murray. The amount of damages sought is based on Mr. Murray's salary as an expert electrical engineer, he being employed by the Edison Company, of New York. Mrs. Murray was left with eight children to support. Richard Boardman represents the plaintiff and G. W. V. Moy the defendant.

S. P. C. A. PLANS TO ENFORCE LAW

TO EDUCATE PUBLIC

Object of the Society is to Bring the Owners of Dumb Animals to Respect the Laws of Humanity—Balance of $1.37 in Treasury.

Reports presented at the annual meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals show that the organization had a banner year in 1913 and present prospects point to continued success during the ensuing twelve months. Those who attended the annual session were enthusiastic over the work accomplished and the board of directors chosen for the 1914 year are now planning for a busy year of work.

The following officers were elected: President, Dr. W. H. Neilson; vice-presidents, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, Edward C. Pearson and J. D. Loizeaux; secretary, Mrs. Eleanore Dunn; treasurer, Mrs. Edgar S. Hyatt; board of directors, Mrs. Robert J. Letcher, Mrs. Elizabeth Tiffany, Mrs. John C. Moore, Mrs. Stephen VanHoesen, and Mrs. Howard Huntington.

A detailed account of the work accomplished during 1912 given below is a fair illustration of the progress the society has taken in caring for dumb animals. Special Agent Mrs. Stephen VanHoesen presented the following figures: Cases investigated, 253; disabled animals taken from work, 110; pads for horses ordered or provided, 14; sick or fallen horses assisted, 42; incurably sick or fallen animals ordered destroyed, 381; crates of fowls released, 10; warnings given, 168; prosecuted, 14; convictions, 11; cases dismissed, 1; cases pending, 2; cases remedied without prosecution, 58; animals involved, 708; dumps visited, 23; excavations visited, 201; letters and cards received and answered, 412.

The receipts collected from all sources during the year were $246.07 and expenses amounted to $244 70. There is at present a balance of $1.37 in the treasury. One-third of the entire income of the society last year came from fines imposed for cruelty, and so, many animals by their suffering or death, helped to keep the society on a firm basis financially. An example of the work being done is shown in the case of a horse afflicted with glanders which was brought to the attention of the society recently. The animal had been near others and the suspected horses were at once quarantined, their quarters thoroughly disinfected and every precaution taken to check an epidemic among the animals. Three of the horses died but the prompt action of the society saved many more. The work of the organization is two-fold, to punish cruelty and to educate the public in right conduct. And any cases of cruelty will be promptly attended to if reported at once to the agent, Mrs. VanHoesen.

CITIZENS OF BOROUGH IN CONFERENCE TONIGHT

The citizens of the borough will have an opportunity to express their sentiments regarding the nature of future action to be taken in the fight being made to have the 1913 assessments reduced, at a public meeting to be held tonight in the Council chambers. This is made necessary by the decision of the State Board for the Equalization of Taxes, which dismissed the appeal on the claim to enforce the Somerset County Tax Board to reduce last year's assessments by $912,003, in accordance with an alleged judgment signed in November, 1912, by the County Board.

A SMALL BLAZE.

The West End Hose Company was called out on a still alarm, Saturday night, for a slight fire in the garage of E. W. Bulkley of 638 West Seventh street. An electric motor, used to charge an auto, generated a blaze that spread to the switchboard. The flames were extinguished before any serious damage was done.

STOLE THE SUNDAY DINNER.

John K. Large, of 400 East Front street, reported to the police yesterday that thieves visited his home sometime during Saturday night and made way with the family's Sunday dinner. The foodstuff was stored in a refrigerator on the rear porch, to which the thieves found easy access.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED.

Walter Emmons and Albert Katens, both of Somerset street, who were arrested Saturday night by Marshals Pope and Herman, were given suspended sentences when arraigned this morning before Recorder Fred Hand.

MOTHER AND INFANT NEAR ASPHYXIATION

Mrs. George Ayers and Child Semi-Conscious When Found by Mr. Ayers.

Mrs. George Ayers and her infant, while asleep in an apartment over the City Market in North avenue, Saturday night, narrowly escaped death by inhaling coal gas coming from a smoldering fire in a stove in the basement of the structure. Coming home about 11 o'clock in the evening, Mr. Ayers found his wife and child in a semi-conscious condition and notified Patrolman Kelly. City Physician Norman W. Currie was sent for and he applied restoratives.

Investigations made by Patrolman Kelly, according to the police, revealed that in the basement of the City Market building, occupied by James Nash, a fruit dealer, the gas came from the fire in the stove which was built for the purpose of keeping a supply of apples from freezing. Evidently there is a defect in the flue and the odor made its way into the Ayers apartment. Mrs. Ayers and the child are suffering little today from the effects. The fire department extinguished the fire.

IN DEFAULT OF BAIL MRS. SENN IS JAILED

Mrs. Edna Senn, a former employe of the United States Express Company, whom, it is alleged, made a confession Saturday that she was implicated with Edward J. O'Connor in the theft of $500 from the North avenue office of the concern on November 1, was committed to the county jail in Elizabeth this morning, in default of $500 bail, to await the action of the Grand Jury.

The woman is considered a remarkable character by the police, who believe that had it not been for her stricken conscience they would not have been able to secure evidence enough on which to base a charge of larceny against her. When testifying against O'Connor, who was at one time cashier of the local branch of the express company and who is being held in $1,000 bonds for Grand Jury action on the same charge, Mrs. Senn gave a carefully prepared recital of the details connected with the alleged theft, placing the entire blame on O'Connor, with whom she had been friendly. On the strength of her sworn statements, City Judge DeMeza held O'Connor for the Grand Jury.

ANNUAL SESSION TONIGHT OF THE LOCAL Y. W. C. A.

An innovation will be introduced at the annual meeting of the local Y. W. C. A. tonight in the Association parlors when an exhibition of the work carried on during the year in the various classes will be conducted for the benefit of those interested in the progress made in the numerous classified departments. The articles placed on the demonstration tables will be both useful and ornamental. The Association has been conducting classes in handcraft, embroidery, cooking, sewing, folk dancing, gym work and various other activities during the year and specimens and demonstrations of the work accomplished have been arranged for tonight by the instructors in charge.

All members of the Association are requested to be present at the annual meeting which will be held at 8 o'clock when several will be elected to serve on the Board of Directors. Following the business session a collation will be served in the parlors and addresses will be made by several members of the board.

WHOSE CORNSTALKS?

When Robert Hodge, of Scotch Plains, sold a tract of land known in that vicinity as the Morris Farms, it was agreed, according to his attorney, Robert Newton Crane, that sixty-eight bushels of corn and 200 bundles of cornstalks stored in a barn on the premises were not included in the sale. Frank Yonnuzzi, who purchased the farm, will be the defendant in a suit to be tried before Justice Clark, in the township court tomorrow morning, when Hodge will attempt to recover the value of the stock alleged to have been held without right by the present owner. Court will be held in the parlors of Frowery's Hotel.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature report from The State Trust Company today is as follows: 9 a. m., 25 degrees; 11 a. m., 29 degrees; 1 p. m., 32 degrees.

Federation's Committee Issues General Invitation to License Question Meeting.

ALL WILL BE HEARD

Common Council Will Listen to the Arguments to Be Made on Friday Night at Local Y. M. C. A. Auditorium.

Further arrangements for the mass meeting to be held at the Y. M. C. A., Friday night, under the auspices of the Federation of Men's Church Clubs and the Federation of Men's Bible Classes to consider the liquor license question were made yesterday afternoon at a joint meeting of the joint committee at the Y. M. C. A. Those present were W. H. P. Veysey, George H. Batchelor, A. M. Harris, R. Henry Depew, Alexander Millar, W. T. Banks, S. T. Carter, Jr., John G. MacLaughlin and W. Lester Glenney.

It was clearly set forth that the meeting Friday night will not be one of protest, but will be open to everybody and it is earnestly desired that those who favor more wholesale licenses shall come and speak as well as those against granting any more such applications. The Common Council has decided by a vote of 9 to 2 not to increase the number of retail liquor licenses, but no definite action has been taken regarding the wholesale licenses. This year there are five new wholesale applications and the Federations have arranged for a public meeting to secure an expression of opinion. The members of the Common Council will be present to listen to the arguments.

The following notice, signed by W. H. P. Veysey, president of the Federation of Men's Church Clubs, and George H. Batchelor, president of the Federation of Men's Bible Classes, was sent to the pastors of twenty-five churches in Plainfield and was read from the pulpits yesterday:

"The Common Council of the City of Plainfield, by a vote of nine to two, decided, at a meeting held recently, not to issue any further retail liquor licenses. It has, as yet, taken no action covering the granting of wholesale licenses and, it is understood, desires to know the wishes of the people of Plainfield on the question as to whether the number of wholesale licenses in the city should be increased, or not.

"To this end a mass meeting, under the auspices of the 'Federation of Men's Church Clubs' and the 'Federation of Men's Bible Classes' has been called for Friday evening, January 23, at 8 o'clock, in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. building, the particular object of the meeting being the obtaining of an expression of opinion upon the question stated, namely, as to whether the Common Council should issue further additional wholesale liquor licenses, or not."

WILL ADVOCATE PATRONIZING PLAINFIELD MERCHANTS

At a meeting of the Ways and Means Committee of the Plainfield Business Men's Association, which was held this morning at Rothberg's store, it was decided to use display space in the local newspapers advocating that Plainfield people "buy at home." The committee has arranged for considerable space in the local newspapers, and if the campaign is successful may use the suburban papers to call attention to Plainfield stores. The committee plans to meet weekly and will start the advertising within a very short time. The members are J. J. Varley, chairman; Jacob A. Fass, Samuel Rothberg, J. W. Gavett and Leslie R. Fort.

MISSIONARY SESSION.

Mrs. A. G. Lester, of Chicago, president of the Woman's American Baptist Home Missionary Society will address a union meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the First Baptist, Park Avenue and Temple Baptist churches at the First Baptist church, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to hear Mrs. Lester's message, her travels through the West and Mexico qualifying her to speak with interest on some of the problems of home mission work.

Important Borough Meeting.

There will be held a joint meeting of the citizens and the Council on Monday evening, January 19, 1914, in the Council chambers at 8 o'clock. This meeting is called so that the citizens and Council may confer concerning the decision of the "State Board of Equalization of Taxes," in the matter of the borough's appeal to compel the County Board to enforce a judgment rendered in 1912. —Adv. 1-15 17 19 ***

STUBBORN STRIKE ON SEVEN MONTHS

Pompton Lake Struggle Unmarked by Violence.

GIRLS MAKE SACRIFICES.

Two Sisters Who Are Sole Support of Their Mother and Invalid Father Have Been on Silk Weavers' Strike Since Beginning—Father and Three Daughters Out.

Pompton Lake, N. J., Jan 19.—Since June 20 there has been in progress in the foothills of the Ramapo mountains in New Jersey a strike in which there has been no clash as yet between the strikers and the strike breakers. The strikers are employees of the German Artistic Silk Weaving company here. The one man police department has had no trouble as a result of the demand of the workers for a nine hour day and the consequent walkout when it was refused.

The strikers have confined themselves to approaching the strike breakers whenever they emerge from the factory where they are housed and fed and attempting to persuade them to aid rather than discourage them in their fight to better their condition. In the summer the strikers remained on picket duty at the entrances and exits, but since the winter they have housed themselves in a "loghouse" they have built near the factory. It is called the "blockhouse."

The strikers have subsisted upon aid received from the unions of the Textile Workers of America and other labor organizations. The sacrifice of some of the girls who struck with the others was little short of heroic. Misses Rose, Marie and Katherine Brengard, sisters, with their father, Leslie Brengard, were employees of the weaving mill. All went out. Two other girls, Misses Nellie and Anna Haggerty, were the sole support of their mother and invalid father and have been on strike since the beginning. Misses Ada, Etta and Viola Hazen and Misses Olga, Devida and Augusta Lawson supported their widowed mothers and are among those on strike.

Arthur Gilbert, president of the union, has been strike leader, and his lieutenants are R. A. Shoppe and Henry Ludwig, recording and financial secretaries respectively of the union.

FIELDER IN TOMORROW.

Jersey's New Governor to Take Oath of Office at Noon.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 19.—At midnight today New Jersey will have a new governor, James F. Fielder of Jersey City, but he will not take the oath of office until tomorrow at noon. All details of the induction have now been completed. The legislature will assemble at the statehouse shortly before 12 o'clock tomorrow and then proceed to the Taylor Opera House. Acting Governor Taylor and Mr. Fielder will then arrive. The invocation will be offered by the Rev. William M. Curry, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church of this city, and the oath of office will be given by William S. Gummere, chief justice of the supreme court.

Acting Governor Taylor will then turn the great seal of the state over to his successor and introduce him to the legislature. Then will follow Governor Fielder's inauguration address. The benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. Joseph A. Mulry, president of St. Peter's college, Jersey City.

MORGUE DRIVER SAVES HER.

Sees Signs of Life In Supposed Suicide and Calls Doctor.

Irvington, N. J., Jan. 19.—Mrs. Sophie Luehl, sixty-three, an inmate of the Bethany Home For the Aged here, attempted suicide by swallowing a bichloride of mercury tablet and turning on the gas.

When discovered she was supposed to be dead, and the women attendants notified County Physician McKenzie in Newark. He sent the morgue wagon for the body, but the driver saw evidence of life in the woman and called Dr. Wilkes, who lives near by.

He verified the driver's suspicions and went to work. The woman was revived and has a fighting chance. She was formerly an inmate of the Overbrook Insane asylum.

NEW YEAR'S BRIDE IS SHOT.

She and Husband Say It Was an Accident—Spouse Held.

Newark, N. J., Jan. 19.—Mrs. Hattie Kuglemann, twenty, wife of Frederick Kuglemann, twenty-three, a trolley conductor, of this city, was shot in the right breast in her home. She and her husband say she did it accidentally. She is in the City hospital in a serious condition, and Kuglemann is held by the police for investigation.

The couple were married New Year's eve. Kuglemann says he bought a revolver two years ago and kept blank cartridges in it until a few days ago, when because of several burglaries he put a loaded cartridge in.

He said his wife took the gun off a dresser and was examining it when it went off.

BESIEGED FARMER AGREES TO YIELD

Beardsley Says He Will Give Up Wednesday.

WRITES APPEALING LETTER

Jamestown, N. Y., Jan 19.—A newspaper correspondent succeeded in passing the line of sentinels posted by Sheriff Anderson near the house of Edward Beardsley, who since last Tuesday has stood off the sheriff's posse which has tried to arrest him for shooting Overseer of the Poor John G. W. Putnam.

Summerdale, N. Y.

To the People of Chautauqua County and State of New York:

I wish to state the facts in the shooting of Poormaster Putnam. These people came to my house, Sheriff Anderson, Putnam and Sheriff Colegrove, with the subpoena to appear before Justice of the Peace Harry M. Young. These papers without the signature of the said justice of the peace and to show cause why said children should not be taken and put in a charity institution. My children had board, clothes and money in my pocket to buy more. Whereupon I felt it my duty to protect my home and family and children, even with my life. To you fathers and mothers, if you have a vacant place around the table, think of the one that is gone from you, bringing the pang of sorrow.

Now, what is life after your home is destroyed, though it be ever so humble? My brother expects to take my children and take care of them.

Did I do right or not? Do unto me as you would have others do unto you is a motto we all love. I certainly knew nothing about this man Putnam being shot until they told me. So I need friends and assistance from those that believe in the protection of home and family.

I need bail if permitted to have bail. Goodby. A. E. BEARDSLEY.

Beardsley's mention of Wednesday referred to an agreement which he had made earlier today with three of his brothers and his lawyer, Ray F. Pickard of Jamestown. The brothers are Charles Beardsley of Titusville, Pa.; William Beardsley of Steamburg, N. Y., and Carl Beardsley of Stillwater, N. Y.

William Beardsley engaged R. F. Pickard last night. Pickard and the Beardsley brothers drove over the hills to the besieged farmer's house this forenoon. They took with them a form of consent for Beardsley to sign, whereby the brother Charles was to take the nine children.

Demands Assurances.

Beardsley objected to the form, saying it was not definite enough. He said that when he was fully convinced his brother would be permitted to take charge of the children and was assured that under no circumstances would the Chautauqua county authorities get them he would surrender.

To reassure him on the point Sheriff Anderson approached within a few yards of the house and told him that the brother would be permitted to have the children.

"If it is all fixed properly I will give up Wednesday," said Beardsley. He stipulated that the children's grandmother, who is at Youngsville, Pa., be sent for to prepare the children for their journey to Titusville. This was agreed to.

"I will go to jail with you next Wednesday, Mr. Pickard," said Beardsley. "You come here with the papers fixed up and get the children away and I will surrender to you and go with you to jail. I will not go with Sheriff Anderson, and in the meantime if any one tries to take these children away I will fight them with my Winchester. They may get me, but I'll get a few of them."

FEAR YACHTSMAN DEAD.

Santa Barbara Police Believe Lewis Clark Drowned Himself.

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 19.—F. Lewis Clark, wealthy resident of this city and internationally known as a yachtsman, who disappeared at Santa Barbara, Cal., last Friday night and is believed by the police there to have committed suicide by drowning, apparently left no word indicating a suicidal intent.

Letters were received here Saturday from Mr. Clark by his secretary outlining his arrangements for the coming summer. The manager of the Clark business properties, who left for Santa Barbara Saturday in response to a telegram from Mrs. Clark, said Mr. Clark's financial affairs were in excellent condition. Mr. Clark had been in California three months because of ill health.

EGG LAID IN TIME.

Hen's Thoughtfulness Relieves Farmer From Walking Some Distance.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Jan. 19.—The thoughtfulness of a White Leghorn hen in laying an egg at the opportune time saved West Wood a five mile walk. After Wood had the hen in a basket and was returning from White Plains when he got on the trolley he could not find his pocketbook. While searching he heard the hen cackle and raising the cover, saw a newly laid egg. He explained to the conductor that he had lost his money and asked him to take the egg for the nickel fare. The conductor willingly closed the bargain, saying fresh eggs were scarcer than nickels.

MO-JO White Chewing Gum

Talk No. 33

SOME of the finest, cleanest, most up-to-date factories in the world are those in which chewing gums are made.

No sanitary device is overlooked—and yet the gum turned out is brown in color and full of specks!

Why?

Because the crude gum was not properly cleaned—from that point on the process was perfect.

MO-JO CHEWING GUM hits the fundamentals. It thoroughly cleans the crude gum first.

Dainty, delicious MO-JO is the only chewing gum that is clean and white through and through.

NO GOVERNOR.

Within a year's time New Jersey has had three Governors, Wilson, Fielder and Taylor, the latter two in succession serving in an acting capacity. But before Fielder takes the oath of office tomorrow at noon, the State will be without an executive head for a brief period. This will be caused by a provision of the Constitution, the term of Acting Govering Fielder expiring at midnight tonight. This clause says:

"The Governor shall hold his office for three years, to commence on the third Tuesday of January next ensuing the election for Governor by the people, and to end on the Monday preceding the third Tuesday of January, three years thereafter."

But there is no occasion for any alarm. Should a situation arise necessitating executive action, the State authorities could summon Fielder at any time during the twelve hours when there is no Governor to take the oath of office. The constitutional provision, however, is one that calls for alteration; the State should be without a Governor at no time.

WELL MERITED.

William Dutcher well merits the high honor to be bestowed upon him by the Camp Fire Association of America. It is no exaggeration to say that he has done more than any man past or present to preserve bird life and to protect the birds from wanton killing. As president of the National Association of Aubudon Societies his services have been distinguished. He is in fact the father of the movement. The gold medal to be presented to him on Wednesday is all the more to be treasured because it has rarely been given and the few men who have it are noted for their services in game and forest protection. They include Ernest Thompson Seton, Daniel C. Beard, Gifford Pinchot and Theodore Roosevelt.

A NEW COUNTY.

What do you imagine would become of the plan fathered by former Mayor Smalley, of North Plainfield to have the Legislature create a new county composed of Plainfield and its environs were a bill for that purpose to be submitted to the State's solons? Can you imagine that the Senator and Assemblymen from Union would sit idly by and see the second largest taxing district cut off the county? Can you imagine the lawmakers from Somerset making no fight against losing that county's largest taxing district? We guess not. The idea is beautiful in theory but there it ends.

It is a fine thing to have new lights in the business section, but when one of them is placed between two trees, as is the case near the Woodhull and Martin building, money is wasted, and the light will fail in its purpose during the summer.

All that will be needed to make the "Go to Church Sunday" set for February 1 a success, will be a systematic and persistent advertising campaign and undoubtedly the Federation of Church Men's Clubs may be depended upon to obtain all the publicity possible for the observance.

Herman Theis killed and prepared the pig, and the other arrangements were made by Joseph Arndt, Adam Muff and Fred Koeller. William Renz, Henry Haurand and other prominent members of the organization made addresses and the singing section rendered several selections. The installation of the newly-elected officers will be held Wednesday night when a program of entertainment and a banquet will be enjoyed.

SERMON ON VIRGIN BIRTH OF SAVIOUR

Rev. Dr. Herring Discourses on the Miraculous Nativity.

"The Virgin Birth of Our Lord," was the subject of an interesting discourse by Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring at the First Presbyterian church, last night, it being the second in a series of sermons on special topics. This topic is one that has caused widespread discussion and Dr. Herring presented many facts to substantiate his claim. In part he spoke as follows:

"To Paul, Christ was not simply a great man; great in His holiness and wisdom. He was the Son of God and was born a man. The creed speaks of His miraculous entrance into the world in these words, 'He was conceived by the Holy Ghost, and born of the Virgin Mary.' There are a great many Christian scholars who hold that the coming of Christ into the world was like the coming of any other man. There is an equal number of Christian believers, who believe in the Virgin Birth of our Lord. With all due respect to the scholars who do not believe in this statement of the creed, we must confess that there is nothing better substantiated than the narrative of this great miracle. The words as we find them in the Gospels of Matthew and Luke are genuine parts of the Gospels. Mark does not speak of it because it is not within the scope of his message. He is interested in the predecessor of our Lord, John the Baptist. The Gospel of John pre-supposes the other Gospels. The baptismal confession of the early church which is the basis of the Apostle's Creed speaks of Christ as 'born of the Holy Ghost and the Virgin Mary,' and Harnack says that this confession dates from about 140 A. D. The Church Fathers have given evidence of their unquestioned faith in the Virgin Birth.

"Professor Briggs in a recent book on the Creed says that 'the denial of the Virgin Birth would turn back the dial of Christianity 2,000 years and imperil Christianity.' He further says if the coming of the Son of God into the world is a unique fact and a supernatural event, why not the mode of His coming?

"There are three things that are perfectly unique in the birth of our Lord. The first unique thing is this, that Christ' entrance into the world as a man was not exactly as the entrance of any other man, for this reason, that his birth in Bethlehem was not the beginning of His personality. He who was born a babe was the world's Creator. He, the Son of God, was born into the conditions of human life. Jesus was not created. His entrance into the world was not the creation of a new personality, but the Eternal Son of God entering into new conditions of life.

"The second unique thing is that our Lord's earthly life was sinless, and sinless from the start; if sinless, what about the necessity of a special act of God in the production of His body?

"Jesus was not an ordinary man but the Son of God free from the least taint of sin and the Virgin birth is just what we should expect since Jesus was sinless from the very beginning. If you say that this involves a miracle, so does the whole work of Christ; so does the very foundation of the Christianity and the Church. Jesus entered the world miraculously. He left it miraculously.

Not His Place to Laugh.

Hickory Wood, the pantomime writer, used to tell an amusing story of a theatrical manager who once shared his box at a provincial pantomime. When the principal comedian entered and did his best the manager, with a scowl on his brow, leaned over to Mr. Wood and remarked, "I want to engage that man for next Christmas in my production."

"Do you think he is funny?" Mr Wood asked.

"Screamingly funny," returned the manager.

"Then why don't you laugh?" asked Mr. Wood.

"Laugh when he's got his eyes on me?" replied the manager. "And every smile means that he'll ask another fiver a week."—London Telegraph.

Not Guilty as Alleged.

The man had been accused of committing an annoyance by flashing a mirror in the eyes of passersby.

"You are quite mistaken," he said to the big policeman. "I haven't any mirror. What these people saw was the reflection of my shining serge coat. I'm a married man, and the coat is four years old."

And, turning hastily, he threw the dazzling reflection from his back and elbows into the policeman's dazzled eyes. And by the time the officer recovered he was well on his way.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Women In Coal Mines.

In the early part of the last century women enjoyed the right to work in the coal mines of Great Britain, swinging the sledge, or on hands and knees hauling through the midnight darkness of low roofed tunnels carts laden with ore weighing hundreds of pounds.

Owing to the success of the evangelistic services in the Seventh-day Baptist church it has been decided to continue the meetings Tuesday and Wednesday nights with the closing services Friday night. Rev. George B. Shaw will be in charge.

LOCALS VICTORS IN FIERCE GAME

Plainfield Y. M. C. A. Team Again Downs Lincoln Five by Small Advantage.

MANY FOULS CALLED

Moulton Makes Good On Thirteen of His Shots From the Fifteen Foot Mark and Brings the Contest Within Reach of His Teammates.

Skill in caging free throws from the foul line placed Harry Moulton, of the Y. M. C. A. basketball team, on a pedestal of fame Saturday night in the game with the Lincoln Five, of Kearny, on the local court, the locals winning, after Moulton had bagged thirteen fouls, by a score of 42 to 40. The fierceness with which the issue was contested by the rival forces occasioned numerous unintentional fouls and Referee Lidgate had his hands full trying to preserve order throughout the affair. While Moulton caged thirteen points via the free throw route an equal number was missed by both sides and had all of the penalty marks been turned into pointers the result might have been different.

Second only to the starring of Moulton was the brilliancy with which another edition of the Gavett family performed, Bob being the new comer. Young Gavett is a brother of the present center and although he has played little basketball, he demonstrated Saturday night that he had the makings of a wonder in him. Sent in to guard the versatile Roberts who had caged a number of sensational field goals in the opening session Gavett held his man without a score during the entire second half and just for a variety's sake rung up a two-point fare himself.

The Lincoln Five is the same aggregation which the Y. M. C. A. team met in Kearny last Monday night and defeated by a margin of one field goal and the visitors came here Saturday night with their best lineup in an attempt to even up matters. During the greater part of the contest it looked as though they would accomplish their purpose and while the Lincolns acted as pace setters the locals appeared to hang on doggedly to the issue, one or two field goals in the rear.

With the score 40 to 38 a minute before time was called, Moulton annexed his thirteenth foul shot and brought the score up to 40 to 39. The fighting of both teams was gruelling at this point of the contest and a few seconds before time was called one of the local forwards managed to send the ball through the net for a two point trip and the game went to the locals who held the slim advantage of one counter.

Moulton was the leading scorer for the locals while Gavett and Glover also broke into the counting limelight. Fairservice, the visiting captain, and Roberts did the best work on the scoring end of the visitors' game.

REGULARS, JOBS ARE NOW IN DANGER ZONE

Hope Chapel's Second String Players Put It All Over Rival Quintet.

With two regular men in the lineup, Jack Martin, coach of the Hope Chapel basketball team, got his first opportunity of the season Saturday night to demonstrate the fact that he has a wonderful string of second team performers and playing against the Summit Chapel Club five with an entirely rejuvenated battle front the Hope contingent swung into the van at the close of the contest with a score that read 43 to 25 in their favor.

With Doig, Leighs and Snyder out of the fray, Hunter, Schott and Wardrop were sent in to do duty and after they had completely mastered the opposition's attack Johnny Heron was replaced by Bohl and from that point until the finish of the lineup consisted of four substitutes.

John Heron, during the time he was on the floor, led the home team's work and hung up eighteen points while his brother, playing the other forward, counted for ten. Dick Schott, one of the consistent field goal cagers on the second squad this season, played center in place of Doig and the game this individual put up Saturday night could hardly have been equaled by Captain Doig himself. Besides getting the jump on his man in center at all times he accounted for four field goals and one foul.

H. Voegtlen was the leading scorer on the losing side, getting eleven pointers for his team during the evening, his brother came in second with an even half dozen.

LOCALS CAGE BUT SIX FIELD GOALS

Essex Fells Schoolboy Team Trounced P. H. S. in Eventful Game Saturday.

The Kingsley School basketball representatives were contented to stop after they had rung up twenty-five field goals at the expense of the Plainfield High School youths on the Essex Fells court Saturday afternoon, and sent the Queen City aggregation home with the smaller end of a 50 to 25 score. The half century total of points were scalled in whirlwind fashion by the home basket cagers and the visiting aggregation never utes of play when Donald Sminck, the local guard, was disqualified by the referee in charge. This disheartened the Plainfielders to some extent and necessitated the shifting of Peacock to centre, Snyder to guard and Hirsh, a second string man, to the vacant forward berth.

Captain Tremain was the whole show for the home team along the scoring line and had a capable assistant in this department in the person of Frost, who played forward one half and guard the other. For the Plainfield team, Snyder and Hetfield did the bulk of the scoring, but very few field goals fell to the lot of the locals and they were a badly beaten aggregation at the completion of two halves of battling.

The court was much larger than the one the locals are accustomed to and this in itself was a great handicap, the goal being found but six times during the entire encounter.

LITTLE MONEY FOR SIX-DAY GRINDERS

Paris Affair Brought Small Returns to American Cyclists in the Race.

Paris, Jan. 19.—American riders received only a small sum for their part in the six-day bicycle race which ended in the Velodrome d'hiver at 10 o'clock Saturday night and much dissatisfaction was expressed when the cash was divided up among the winners this morning. Although Joe Fogler and Jimmy Moran, the American team, finished in tenth place, they just managed to get into the prize money.

Leon Hourlier and Leon Comes, the French sprinters, captured first place, the Austrian team composed of Alf Grenda and Al Goullett, finished in second place; and Bobby Walthour, another American, and his partner, Charles DeRuyster, dropped out at the 128th mile, shortly after they had lost three laps in a terrific sprint. Jackie Clarke and Eddie Root quit the gruelling grind before it had progressed thirty hours and the teams of Brocco and Dupre and Thys and Meurgre also gave up at that time.

The building was heated with "condensed steam," and that method of heating was reported to have made the track in a slippery and dangerous condition.

CAPTAIN DOIG'S INJURY WILL NECESSITATE LAY-OFF

James Doig, captain and center on the Hope Chapel basketball team, champions of Plainfield, will be out of the lineup for the next couple of weeks due to an injury sustained Saturday morning when he ran a large nail through the fleshy portion of his foot. Doig began to serve his sentence Saturday night. Dick Schott replaced him at center.

Although the captain's absence on the court will be felt considerably by the chapelites the team is lucky in having a man like Schott who can fill the gap so effectively. In Saturday night's game he put up a good article of basketball and with a little more experience as a first team player ought to be able to stir things up.

A delegation of twenty-five members of the Park Avenue Baptist Bible School conducted a service of song at the Industrial Home, yesterday afternoon. They sang Christmas carols rendered in their school, accompanied by Mrs. John Manley at the organ, Arthur Mosher, violin, and Elmer Wheeler, flute. Several violin and flute solos and duets were given, adding much to the enjoyment of the service.

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire gave a helpful talk from John 3: 16. Miss Ruth Maguire sang effectively, "O Jesus, Thou Art Standing," accompanied on the organ by Miss Iona Wood. The Park Avenue Baptist School holds a service at the Home on the third Sunday of each month and the visit is eagerly looked forward to by the inmates.

Smith's class had a record of nine perfect attendance Sundays, this being the third year for such a record, while Russell Doeringer's class in the junior department had a record of perfect attendance for fifteen Sundays.

JOHN A. HENNESSY.

Former Prober Stirs Diners In Speech on Mr. Glynn.

John A. Hennessy caused a considerable stir at the annual dinner of the Dutchess County society in the Aster hotel, New York when he severely criticised Governor Glynn's speech. "I am interested in the speech of Governor Glynn," said Mr. Hennessy, "which showed that his mind is wholly on the farmers. After listening to the speaker one would think that the salvation of the state depended on the farmers. His scheme to get credit for the farmer so that he might realize money on the crops he expects to get might be used to advantage in other lines, such as lending to lawyers who might acquire big practice or to owners of stone quarries so they might get their money back."

PROBE BOY'S STORY OF SHOOTING ELLIS

Prosecutor Pope Is Investigating Carl's Confession.

Somerville, N. J., Jan. 19.—Frederick A. Pope, county prosecutor here, assembled all the detectives who have been engaged in the work of verifying or disproving the essentials of the "confession" of Paul Carl concerning the shooting of Monroe F. Ellis, the wealthy lumberman of Basking Ridge, N. J. Previous to the conference Mr. Pope reiterated his assertion that he would not call for the indictment of the youthful prisoner or the woman named by the prisoner as the instigator of the shooting until all essential points in the confession had been corroborated by supplementary investigation.

"I can't tell what additional proofs of the truth of the man's confession my men have uncovered," Mr. Pope said. "I have not seen any of them for twenty-four hours, but I hope to be able to make some interesting disclosures when I have conferred with them. They were assigned to look up certain corroborative points bearing on the confession, and until these points are cleared up I can make no announcement."

Mr. Ellis at his home in Basking Ridge emphasized his disbelief in the "confession" made by Carl and subsequently said to have been repudiated by him. Mr. Ellis said:

"Three reputable detective agencies have proved to my satisfaction and have agreed in their evidence that the man who shot me was a man whom I once befriended, but who was unbalanced at the time of his criminal act. For that reason, if no other, I believe the confession of the boy Paul Carl is absolutely false and a 'frameup.' He has repudiated the confession himself and I will prove it false."

Mrs. Carl, the young man's mother, was vehement in her denunciation of the detectives who accomplished the arrest and obtained her son's confession. She was seen at Somerville, N. J., where her son is a prisoner.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

THIS is one on me. A very well-known advertising man came into my office the other day and said:

"Mr. Want-Ad. Man, you have preached the value of the 'Lost and Found' column, but I doubt if you yourself realize that if everybody who loses a small thing—a very small thing—small in intrinsic value, I mean—would advertise the loss in that column, the volume of such advertising would increase beyond belief. When I stop to think of the things I have lost in the past ten years—things that were practically of no value to anyone else, but valuable to me because of associations—I realize how foolish I was not to invest the twenty or thirty or forty cents that might have brought them back. Now, suppose you or I lose a stickpin, or a watch fob, or a cuff link"——

"Stop right there!" said I. "The sodas are on me." For, while this man was speaking, it suddenly dawned on me that I, who write about the value of Classified advertising, had failed to live up to my own precepts.

On my last vacation trip to the Blue Ridge Mountains, I lost one of my cuffs from the window of a fast-moving Western Maryland train. I had been wearing for nine years the gold cuff button that went out of the window along with the cuff, and I hated like the mischief to part with it. But in the rush of events incident to "getting settled" at a vacation resort, I clean forget to send an ad. back to the office for insertion in the "Lost and Found" column.

But what's the use crying over what might have been? You can bet your boots that the next time I lose anything I won't lose time in making that fact known to thousands of people through an advertisement in the "Lost and Found" column.

Cooking Ahead.

In winter many things can be cooked several days before they are needed. Stormy or uneventful days can therefore be occupied in the preparation of food to last through pleasanter and more active days.

White potatoes can be boiled, to be creamed, scalloped, fried and warmed in other ways later on. These will keep in a cool, dry place in good condition for three or four days.

Mayonnaise can be made and stored in a glass fruit jar, tightly covered, to keep for a week in a cool place. It should be thoroughly beaten, and after the last drop of oil or lemon or vinegar has gone in it it should be beaten for three or four minutes. The proportions of one egg to a cupful of oil are good ones to follow.

Soup stock can be made for a week at a time. Plain meat stock can be variously flavored with noodles and tomatoes and other canned vegetables so that the large amount made at one time will not grow monotonous.

Cookies and Cakes.

Cookies can also be made in quantity. They can be made crisp in the oven if they collect dampness. Some persons think they keep crisp for a longer time if they are stored in covered aluminum dishes—of the sort that are used in fireless cookers—than if they are stored in a stone crock.

Soft drop cakes can be best kept in a stone crock or tin box in which half an orange or apple is put to keep them fresh and moist. The apple or orange should be changed as soon as it becomes old or dry.

Fruit puddings, like plum pudding, only much plainer, made with raisins and currants, can be made and steamed or baked in small moulds—half-pound baking-powder cans make a pudding big enough for four or five persons. These can be steamed for an hour later on as they are needed, and served with any sauce.

Pie crust will keep for a week in a cold place, so that can be made on an uneventful day and put away to be hurried into pies later on. It can be used for a meat pie made of leftovers as well as for sweet pies for dessert.

A pumpkin can be cooked and put away, after it has been pressed through a sieve, to be baked into pies on the days it is wanted.

By Alice Gibson

A charmingly simple afternoon gown is shown in No. 8106. The blouse is cut in drop shoulder style and has a three-quarter length gathered sleeve; the skirt is a three piece model with a slightly circular tunic.

Crepe de Chine, wool or cotton crepe, net, point d'esprit or any of the soft clinging fabrics would make up very prettily and be suitable for both afternoon and evening wear.

As illustrated, the frock is trimmed with a hand embroidered design in cable stitch, with twisted silk. Fine soutache braid or cord could also be used. Instead of the hand embroidery a bordered material could be used to advantage if preferred.

This model requires for size 36 4⅞ yards of 36 inch material

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Some Cookery Suggestions

VEGETARIAN CROQUETTES.

BREAKFAST MENU
Stewed Prunes.
Hominy Croquettes.
Scrambled Eggs.
Biscuit.
Coffee.

DAINTY croquettes suitable for breakfast or luncheon can be made with cold vegetables or cold cereals. This offers the housewife a method of thriftily using left over portions of these foods.

Prepared With Cereals.

Rice Croquettes.—Take two cupfuls of cold boiled rice, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, two eggs, one-quarter teaspoonful grated nutmeg, one tablespoonful milk. Put the rice into a bowl with the sugar, add a well beaten egg and nutmeg. Roll between floured hands into cone shapes, then roll in breadcrumbs and dip into one egg and milk beaten together and again in breadcrumbs. Fry in deep fat.

With Cold Vegetables.

Potato Croquettes.—To make these, boil and mash some cold potatoes, adding salt, pepper, chopped parsley, a little milk and an egg. Form into balls. Egg and crumb these and fry in deep fat until nicely browned. Place a piece of parsley stalk on each and serve piled up in a dish.

Carrot Croquettes.—To each teacupful of cold mashed carrots add salt and pepper to season, the yolks of two raw eggs, a pinch of mace and one level teaspoonful of butter. Mix and shape into tiny croquettes, dip in slightly beaten egg, roll in fine breadcrumbs and fry in smoking hot fat.

Hominy Croquettes.—Take two cupfuls of cold boiled hominy, two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a tablespoonful of milk and a quarter of a tablespoonful of nutmeg. Put the hominy, sugar, nutmeg and one well beaten egg into a bowl. Roll between floured hands into cone shapes. Dip in breadcrumbs, then in one egg beaten with one tablespoonful of milk, last of all in breadcrumbs. Fry in deep hot fat.

Novel Croquettes.

Artichoke and Egg.—Take two hard boiled eggs and cut into small dice shaped pieces. Add to them half the quantity of cooked artichoke, cut up in the same way, then mix to a fairly stiff consistency with some thick white sauce which has been well seasoned. Roll out some puff paste to a medium thickness and cut it into rounds about the size of a teacup; place a spoonful of the egg mixture on half the paste, then fold it over; moisten the edges with cold water and press them together. Dip the croquettes into some beaten egg, cover them quickly with breadcrumbs and fry them in plenty of boiling fat. Drain them well and serve garnished with parsley.

Tips For the Laundress.

When mildew appears on white clothes it can be removed, but if it gets on colored fabrics better let the garment alone, as the experiment is not a success. Take a small box of chloride of lime, one gallon boiling water and a pound of sal soda. Dissolve and "souse" the garment up and down in this until the mildew disappears; then rinse carefully in three clear waters or the material will be eaten. Lay it on the grass in the sun to dry.

Hosiery will last longer if washed out every night in clear cold water and pulled into shape when drying. Do not rub soap on them. Just have soapy water.

If a lingerie waist looks mussy lay it smoothly on a piece of thin muslin wrung out of hot water. Fold it up tightly and in half an hour iron it on the wrong side of embroidery and the rest of the waist on the right side.

Walnuts as Food.

A London medical journal recently published some interesting facts concerning walnuts as food. According to this authority, "thirty large walnut kernels contain as much food value as two and three-quarter pounds of lean beef." With beef worth approximately 20 cents a pound, this means that each walnut is worth about 2 cents as a food product as compared with beef. That these facts will greatly encourage the production and consumption of walnuts is hardly to be expected. There is some consolation, however, in the thought that when meat has become a luxury, to be indulged only by the rich, the general consumer can keep his dinner very well—somewhat like Peter Pumpkin Eater's wife—in a walnut shell.

Up Came Toody With the Ring.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Good Luck of Toody Ruggles.

"A NUMBER of rich ladies," began daddy, "at the seashore one day last summer had been throwing pennies from a bridge into the water for a lot of little poor boys who were diving for them. The water was quite a good deal over their heads, but the little boys were marvelous divers and swimmers, having always lived by the water. The ladies kept on throwing pennies time and time again to see the wonderful dives the little boys were able to make. They would dive straight down into the water and stay down ever so long and then come up, each one holding a glittering bright penny.

"But, alas, a dreadful thing happened. One of the ladies in throwing pennies dropped off her finger and into the deep water a most beautiful diamond ring.

"'Oh, dear,' she cried in dismay, 'that was the ring I valued most and cared more for than any piece of jewelry I had. I shouldn't have worn it, though, for it was much too loose for that finger. Whatever shall I do without it? I was so, so fond of it.'

"At once the little boys offered to dive for it, for it had been by the throwing of pennies to them that the lady had lost her much prized ring, and they wanted, of course, to get it back for her.

"So again and again they dived, but as none of them had seen her drop it they couldn't judge where it had been dropped.

"Now, Toody Ruggles was perhaps the best little diver of all, and yet even he had been so far unsuccessful, but at last he thought he saw it shining down among some weeds. The lady, however, had just about given up hopes of ever seeing her ring again when, lo and behold, up came Toody, his wet little face wreathed in smiles, carrying the beautiful ring. The lady was overpowered with joy and gave Toody a most wonderful reward.

"Oh, how happy Toody Ruggles was! At home he had one little sister who was very fragile and delicate. As their parents had both died, Toody was trying his best to look after his sister and himself by selling newspapers and carrying suit cases from the station. Lately, though, the doctor had told him that his sister must have plenty of fruit to build her up and to make her regain her strength, and this poor Toody was unable to afford.

"But now he had the wonderful reward from the lady, and all the other boys were delighted that Toody had been the lucky one.

"Toody at once began to give his little sister delicious fruits. Soon the color came back to her cheeks, and she grew well and strong. So Toody's worry that he might lose his beloved little sister was over, and through his good luck their little home once more became very, very happy."

NEEDLEWORK

By MARGARET LAWRENCE

RAMBLER ROSE PILLOW

There is a new and very pretty way of working rambler roses with coronation cord. This cord comes in several shades of pink and yellow, and you simply wind it round and round catching it down at the narrow sections until it is piled up high like a real rose. These coronation roses are quite as effective as the rambler roses worked with rope silk, and have the advantage of being very much easier to make, as well as more substantial. The material for the pillow-cover may be silk or cotton moire, mercerized cotton poplin or satine. The leaves should be worked in lazy-daisy-stitch with green rope silk, the basket in browns and the ribbon garland may either be embroidered in unpadded solid embroidery or a narrow taffeta ribbon may be sewed in place over the stamping.

This wreath design is 20 x 16½ inches, and may be used on either an oblong or square pillow-cover.

Transfer pattern 14612, will be mailed to readers on receipt of price, 15 cents.

U. S. CONSUL, FEARING ROBBERY, ASKS AID

Warship Is Speeding to Protect Clement Edwards.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Believing himself to be in danger of attack and that the large sum of money intrusted to his care might be stolen, Clement S. Edwards, the American consul at Acapulco, Mexico, has cabled to the state department for assistance, and Rear Admiral Walter C. Cowles, in command of the naval forces on the Pacific coast, is speeding a warship to his aid.

Owing to the financial crisis in Mexico, the banks have closed and many of them are threatened with failure, Mr. Edwards reported. As a result many Americans withdrew their money from the banks and placed it in his care, the total amount being about $250,000. When this became known crowds collected about the consulate, and threats were made. Finally the demonstrations became so great that Mr. Edwards cabled for a warship. Mr. Edwards reported that he had no means of protecting the money and that the Americans on the west coast are not organized as they are in some other parts of Mexico. There is no fear of personal danger, Mr. Edwards cabled, but robbery is the principal object of the bands of marauders that infest that part of the country.

The federal campaign in and about Acapulco has failed and threatens to seriously embarrass President Huerta. Acapulco is the only port on the Pacific coast which the federals control, with the exception of Salina Cruz. President Huerta is reported to be about to resign and take the field in person against the revolutionists. He is expected to receive a large shipment of arms and ammunition through the port of Acapulco, the shipment coming from Japan.

Enrique Zapeda and Gabriel Fernandez Somellera, the head of the clerical party, have arrived at Vera Cruz from Mexico City under heavy guard. Both men were arrested and are alleged to have been implicated in a revolutionary movement.

NEW TEACHING A HIT IN NAVY

Daniels Is Gratified by Response to Instruction Order.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Gratifying results have followed the promulgation of Secretary Daniels' general order providing for instruction of the enlisted men of the navy of all grades on board ship. Though the order went into effect less than three weeks ago the preliminary reports received from vessels of the Atlantic fleet show that the educational opportunities have been eagerly grasped by the men.

Polls were taken of ships' crews to find out what every man was most interested in. On board the Florida out of ninety-six first enlistment men ninety-three asked for special instruction of the kind offered. On the Arkansas 499 of the crew wished to take up additional studies outside their daily routine.

On the Utah a class in mechanical and marine engineering was started with fifty pupils. In a week it increased to seventy-two and now numbers eighty-five men. In addition there are about 200 men on this ship receiving instruction.

RADIUM SPRINGS IN COLORADO

Field Said to Be More Extensive Than Any In Europe.

Denver, Jan. 19.—There are fifteen radium springs in Colorado, according to an announcement made by Professor Russell D. George, state geologist and professor of geology in the University of Colorado.

The Colorado radium field is more extensive than any one in Europe, Professor George declares. He has made tests which prove absolutely that eleven springs in this state are radium radio active. His department has made tests of the waters of 209 springs.

Because of the laws regulating his department he was unable to give details or data, the information being required in bulletin form and the department not having funds now for the bulletin service.

WOMAN MAKES DARING TRIP WITH AVIATOR

Lady Pery "Loops the Loop" Twice In England.

London, Jan. 19.—Gustav Hamel, flying in a Morane-Saulnier monoplane with Lady Victoria Pery as a passenger, looped the loop twice and made an upside down flight at Hendon.

Mr. Hamel is one of the most prominent aviators in England and was one of the first in that country to take up aviation. In all his flights he has used a Morane-Saulnier monoplane and, with the exception of several minor accidents, has always been successful in his flights.

His most notable achievement was on Sept. 20 of last year, when he made seventy-six miles an hour in an eighty horsepower machine. A few days later he entered the English aerial Derby contest and against eleven other contestants won by making ninety-four and one-half miles in the face of a severe gale in one hour, fifteen minutes and forty-nine seconds.

This flight of Mr. Hamel was attended by the most spectacular event that ever occurred in aviation in England. During the flight the stopper in the petroleum tank became loosened and fell out while Hamel was at a height of more than 1,000 feet. With rare presence of mind the aviator realized that with the petroleum dowing over the floor of the monoplane his motive power would be exhausted and his machine would fall. Hamel then reached over and stuck the little finger of his left hand in the hole and prevented the petroleum from flowing out. In this manner he finished the flight and was accorded a great ovation.

On Dec. 27 Hamel was the first aviator in England to accomplish the feat of looping the loop in a flying machine. He was at a height of 1,200 feet and made three successive single loops, each within a minute of the other, and then flew upside down for some time.

Wilson's Picture Will Be Hung at University of Virginia.

Washington, Jan. 19.—A full length and life size portrait of President Wilson will be hung soon in one of the main buildings of the University of Virginia, from which he was graduated in the school of law in 1881.

The alumni society of the university has given the commission for the painting of the portrait to Richard N. Brooke, an artist of Washington and a native of Virginia, who received his art education in France. The society will present the portrait as a gift to the college.

Gillespie was found unconscious in a bedroom in the Wallace hotel at Maybrook on Saturday afternoon. He did not recover sufficiently to tell how he came by his injury. It is believed that he was assaulted and robbed.

OH, WELL, SCOOP NEEDED ONE ANYWAY

"MAC" SAYS

A. A. U. BARS WOMEN.

A communication from James E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Association, received by us today, announces the exclusion of feminine athletes from the organization. This is the result of a recent agitation to permit the enrollment of women athletes in the ranks of the Amateur Athletic Union and when a mail vote was taken to refuse registration to women athletes in all sports it was carried by the negative side with a large majority, only one vote being cast for the amendment. The sense of the resolution is that athletics are not for women and the feminine athlete has no right to protection under the laws of organized sport.

FORCED TO COMPETE.

Those interested in Plainfield High School basketball were treated to a big surprise yesterday, when the official standing of the Union County Athletic Association's basketball league was announced and Plainfield was found to be holding down second place in a field of seven competitors. As far as the local faction is concerned no one knew that the Queen City schoolboys were in the running for such a title and the steps being taken by the county authorities to force the Plainfielders into competition are making themselves plainer every year. When the association was originally organized Plainfield High School was invited to take out a membership but turned down the offer because of the financial side and every year since the formation of the county organization the locals have received a similar invitation but all have been turned down. Now the county officials come to the front with Plainfield as a member and are evidently trying to force the P. H. S. clan to carry away the title as an advertisement and possible inducement to pay the annual fees of membership.

JUST ONE BARRIER.

The need for an enlarged gymnasium at Hope Chapel is making itself more and more apparent every day and many think that the only obstacle now remaining in the Chapelites' path in their wild rampage to clean up on every conceivable title, both in this city and the borough, is the want of an adequate court on which to stage the battles. If the Hope court was big enough to warrant playing real basketball the North Plainfield High School five could probably be induced to play at least one contest on it and with the meeting of the Canadians and the churchboys basketball honors for the season would be settled beyond a doubt. A victory over North Plainfield would mean the championship of this city, North Plainfield and possibly Somerset and Union counties for the Hope clan, but it now seems doubtful if the thing will be settled this season unless the two managers come together on some sort of a compromise.

Newspaper headline reads: "Basketball rules were made before the game." Yes, and several new ones have been added since that time.

Plainfield basketball teams furnished a large portion of the court entertainment for Morristown fans during the past week. The series started off with Morristown High School trimming Plainfield High School on the local court, then the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. outfit went to Morristown and swallowed a three-point defeat on the association court at that place, and then as a grand finale, the Morristown Private School contingent trimmed Leal's at that place Saturday afternoon by two points. Three from the Queen City players.

Jack Martin is trying to make champions out of all the local aggregations on the basketball court this season. After turning the Hope Chapel five into a set of conquerors he journeys to Morristown with the Y. M. C. A. crew and attempts to instill a little fighting spirit in the quintet that he gloried in seeing walloped a few nights before.

No doubt remains in the minds of those who saw that North Plainfield High School-Tiger A. C. match Saturday night, as to which is the better team. Score, N. P. H. S., 60, Tigers, 10.

Queries, Comment and Answers

Sporting Editor:

Query—Is there a town in Texas by the name of Pascoe?—N. A. E.

Answer—The latest and best atlas published, Rand & McNally's, does not give a town in Texas by the name of Pascoe. The nearest to the latter name is Pasche, Concha county, a little west of the middle part of the State, a small town on the gulf, Colorado and Sante Fe railroad.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Kindly inform me if taxes can be collected for 1909 and 1910 if you have a 1911 tax receipt?—N. S. P.

Answer—The fact that you have escaped this long from paying them does not exempt you from payment.

Sporting Editor:

Query—I note in the columns of a local newspaper that radium is worth $180,000 per gram. Will you kindly let me know the exact value of one pound?—K. R. P.

Answer—There has never yet been a pound of pure radium extracted from the ore. The value of a pound would, according to our calculations, based upon $180,000 per gram, be $67,194,000.

Query—Must the bride accompany the groom to the marriage license bureau when a license is taken out provided both are of age —M. C.

Answer—She certainly must.

Sporting Editor:

Query—In which can the faster time be made, in a swimming pool with turns or on a straight-away?—L. C.

Answer—The pool with turns is the best for speed if the swimmer can negotiate the turns in a way that will prove advantageous to him. Some racers slow up when they get to the end of the pool just before turning, and this slows up the race considerably.

Sporting Editor:

Query—A says if a young girl not quite eighteen years of age elopes and is married that the girl's father can have the groom arrested. B says not.—K. E.

Answer—You're in a ticklish position, old man. The bride's father can certainly have the fellow arrested, but how did they get a marriage license?

LEAGUERS RAN AWAY FROM PLAINS TEAM

The much heralded St. James' Triangle basketball five appeared on the Scotch Plains Parish House court, Saturday night and gained an easy victory over the Parish House first team by a score of 81 to 32.

A comfortable lead was run up by the Triangles in the first few minutes of play, which could not be stopped by the home team. During the rest of the game the visitors, although dropping in an occasional basket, gave an exhibition of passing which set the spectators into a state of enthusiasm.

Miller, the Triangle centre, caged twelve baskets, from all angles of the floor, besides one foul, while Dreyfuss was close behind with twenty-three points. Dallas managed to garner fifteen points for the Parish House boys. Marston was sorely missed by the local five as the opposing centre had the advantage over Mills by half a foot. The score:

P. H. S. SCHOOLBOYS SECOND IN LEAGUE

Few who were interested in the Plainfield High School team's chances of winning last week's basketball game on the Rahway Y. M. C. A. court with the High School team of that place knew that the Queen City aggregation was engaged in a battle that would decide first place in a county basketball league. Such was the case, however, and now after Plainfielders have allowed the Rahwayites to get away with the bigger end of a 67 to 24 count, the officials of the Union County Athletic Association's basketball league come to the fore with a standing of the clubs, Plainfield being included in the runner-up roll.

While it is gratifying to know that the locals are so near the top their many followers in this city would feel far better had they known that any such organization as this was in existence before the beans were split at Rahway. As it now stands Rahway has won two and lost none, Plainfield is second and Battin is third. Plainfield has played more contests than any other combination in the race and all of the other six contenders will have to complete at least two more before they come up to even terms with the Plainfielders. Rahway's other victory came at the expense of the Battin High School, of Elizabeth.

Although Plainfield is down as one of the league contenders and is from all appearances running strong, the deciding of the title will be next to impossible as Manager Cottrel, of the P. H. S. five, has no games booked with four out of the other six Union county teams. Westfield and Rahway are the only two who are scheduled to lineup against the locals.

The team standing to date:

	W.	L.	P. C.
Rahway	2	0	1.000
Plainfield	3	1	.750
Battin	1	1	.500
Cranford	0	1	.000
Roselle	0	1	.000
Westfield	0	1	.000
Roselle Park	0	1	.000

Leal School Captain Dropped a Tying Goal That Was Declared Void.

LOCALS OUTWEIGHED

Plainfield Aggregation Put Up a Spectacular Game Against Husky Private Schoolboys of Morristown Who Win By a Hair's Margin.

A decision in the last second of play robbed the Leal School basketball team of a chance to tie and possibly win its game on the Morristown School's court Saturday afternoon, and with the final goal made by Captain Dickerson thrown out, the locals had to be satisfied with a verdict of 21 to 19 favoring the home quintet. Outweighed and playing on a court much larger than any in this vicinity the private school youths from Plainfield put up one of the hardest fought battles ever waged on the academy gym floor, according to the director of athletics, and while conceded losers from the time they first came on the floor the visitors completely reversed the dope before they had played one half.

When the Morristown aggregation became aware of the stiff proposition against which it had to fight several of the home players resorted to repeated intentional fouling and while there were no disqualifications the Leal five got decidedly the worst of the rough housing, being by far the lighter of the two.

Guarded by a burly individual nearly twice his size, little "Peanut" Stewart kept the opposing goal protectors guessing at all times and assisted by the good work of his running mate, Dickerson, and Fred Krom he managed to cage a trio of counters. Krom resembled a midget alongside of the fast traveling DeVatalis but he played rings around his man in the final period of play, bringing the locals' score up to a par with the home team's by means of three neatly executed field goals in rapid succession. Schneider and Harrington did some good work in the guarding department for the locals, warding off numerous assaults on the Plainfield basket.

A crowd of nearly 200 followers of the game witnessed the contest, which is one of the most important of the season for the Morristown youths, who have been rivals of the Leal School athletic forces for the past sixteen years. Before and after the contest the Plainfielders were entertained by the students of the school.

THIRD DEFEAT FOR NETHERWOOD FIVE

Parish House Seconds Have Thrice Lowered the Colors of Suburban Outfit.

K. Saunders led the winners with thirteen points while Coughlan acted in the same capacity for the Netherwoods with ten points.

Another interesting game went to the credit of the North Plainfield High School basketball team last Saturday night when the Tiger A. C. Five, of Rutherford, was defeated in an exceedingly slow game, by the score of 60 to 10. The contest was a repetition of the one against Nutley and proved to be nothing but practice for the locals and a chance to run up a high score.

The visitors were, however, badly crippled by the absence of two players and the substitutes were naturally out of place. In the absence of Abrams, Newkirk was placed in guard and played a fine defensive game. It took the boroughites about ten minutes to get started but after that they put up a good exhibition of teamwork and shooting.

Many fouls were also called on both sides, Love taking advantage of four of his opponents' misplays. With the second half about half over, Jim Weaver, playing guard on the Tigers, collided with Conroy and was knocked unconscious. He was carried to the dressing room and revived but was in no condition to return to the game. As the visitors had only five players, Captain Burner gave them Warren Townley, who put on a Tiger jersey and played against his team. Burner was right on the job and the High School sub made no baskets. Dunning led in the scoring, getting ten baskets with Conroy a close second with eight. McClane and O'Hea split even for scoring honors, each getting five points

BANNER PROGRAM OF BASKETBALL

Ten Games Definitely Scheduled to Be Contested by Local Teams.

BORO A BUSY CENTER

Two Interscholastic League Matches Will Be Contested on the Saengerbund Hall Court — All Major Teams Have Games Scheduled.

Another big week of basketball for local major teams will be ushered in today, a program of ten games having been definitely arranged by local managers for this week, including two Interscholastic League clashes. Opening the week of hostilities on the Columbia Grammar School court in New York this afternoon, the Leal School basketball outfit will begin preliminary work for its first encounter in the Interscholastic League which is due to come next Saturday afternoon in Saengerbund Hall when the private school youths will face N. P. H. S.

This afternoon in the Plainfield High School gym the Midget five will oppose the Princeton Tigers in the junior league race and Wednesday afternoon at the same place the Sophs will oppose the juniors in the Interclass League schedule. Wednesday afternoon the Plainfield High School quintet is carded to oppose the Passaic High School clan, one of the strongest aggregations in the State, at the latter place. The Passaic outfit conquered N. P. H. S. sometime ago and the battle Wednesday will be looked forward to with considerable interest by all concerned. Plainfield was trounced at that place last year and indications point to another beating this season.

The Plainfield Y. M. C. A. and Bernardsville clash scheduled for Friday night at the latter place has been postponed to February 3 on the request of the latter combination who could not get the hall to play on the former date. Friday afternoon the Seniors and Freshman will play an Interclass League game in the P. H. S. gym and the North Plainfield and Plainfield High School girls will play their initial Interscholastic League game in the Saengerbund Hall gymnasium. Last year North Plainfield won the league title and the locals are putting in extra sessions of practising in an effort to perfect a defense that will hold the speedy Canadians in check on the Somerset street court Friday.

Plainfield High School is scheduled to entertain the team from the Randolph Military Academy here Saturday afternoon and as the locals won from the private school youths earlier in the season by one field goal this contest gives promise of being one of unusual interest. Hope Chapel is scheuled to play the Jersey Wanderers of Newark on the Hope court Saturday and the Y. M. C. A. is down to entertain Woodbridge here, but the latter game will probably be cancelled for one on the Summit Y. M. C. A. court because of the decisive drubbing administered to the Woodbridge outfit at a previous meeting. Many other contests of a minor nature have been scheduled for local courts and these will be announced from time to time throughout the week.

WILL PLAY WESTFIELD.

Taking advantage of good ice once more, the Plainfield High School hockey seven will lineup against the Westfield High School skaters on the local team's court this afternoon. In the former game contested at Westfield the Plainfielders won by a score of 3 to 1.

SHAPELESS COATS FASHION'S TREND

THAT three-piece suits will continue to have an importance all their own is determined by the advance models Paris is showing for spring, as well as by those which are being made for the last weeks of winter.

The shapeless garment, borrowed from the East, and modified in the many unique ways which French modistes have conceived, leads for almost every costume which has the stamp of fashionable approval. Still the corsetless effect of figure is retained, and the supple fabrics lend themselves also better to the loose wrap or gown than to any fitted ones. There is a subtle charm, however, which every woman envies, and will work to obtain for herself. This is not impossible, where one is clever enough to combine suitable colors, and the kind of fabrics which lend themselves to graceful draping, for the models of the moment can be duplicated with patterns that are simple to manipulate. Of the several designs illustrated on this page, the stunning black chiffon velvet (jacket 8073, skirt 8068) has the cachet for which the Parisian woman's gowns are admired.

Still velvet holds sway as the material that is rich and elegant. It is most effective in the novel draped wrap of the central figure, so loose as to barely touch the form except on the shoulders. It has the kimono shoulders, and sleeves with turned-back cuffs of chinchilla squirrel matching the square collar at the back of the neck. The fullness of the skirt is held in at the bottom of the back, by two plaits, and the front closes with a diagonal line that is interesting. Steel buttons are a finishing touch.

To complete the costume, there is a filmy blouse of cream chiffon with a fichu arrangement of large mesh filet net, edged with lace.

A soft girdle of tango or orange color satin is arranged in a new way, with the end twisted under the fichu in front. Small bows of black Maline with jet buckles relate the blouse, as it were, to the rest of the costume, by their color.

The blouse, No. 7967, is a model you will find excellent for any soft material, other than chiffon or lace. Crêpe de Chine is admirable for it; and India silk, or the very new taffetas can be made like it. The price of this pattern and of every other dress pattern number on this page is 15 cents.

Short Kimono Coat, with Peg-Top Skirt.

Pointed Bolero Jacket Matching Tunic Outline

THIS very new model suit in castor broadcloth and corduroy shows a novel loose jacket on kimono lines, reaching only to the hip. It partakes of the modish bolero effect in front, while the middle back is cut so that the fullness falls in a graceful plait on either side, and is held down by ornamental buttons. A surplice vest also appears, with a double row of buttons. Marabou edges the jacket, which can be reproduced with pattern No. 8140 for either ladies or misses. The skirt, No. 7968, is a four-piece peg-top reaching slightly above the normal waistline.

THE trend of Paris fashions brings the tunic overdress and shaped flounces forward with so much certainty that to be without either or both will be impossible for the up-to-date dresser. The lines have an upward curve in front, as shown in model No. 7669. This chic costume for misses is a three-piece suit having a skirt and four-piece tunic, a waist closing in the back, and a bolero with satin sleeves; while the jaunty jacket has a pointed back with the same outline as that of the overdress. The model is displayed in tunic poplin with trimming band of orangeable silk and soutache braid, and a foot banding of civet fur. On account of its simplicity and style value, there will be many reproductions of this practical three-piece combination. It is just as desirable for serge, plaid silk, satine, or velvet.

Fashion clings to the skirt narrow at the foot; and wearers who are accustomed to the comfort it gives, when not too stout, will be reluctant to adopt any fuller garment.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

TO INCREASE the life of a rubber hot water bottle do not hold it by the neck when it is full, and never pour boiling water into it. Fasten a loop of tape on the lower end with rubber cement, and when the bottle is emptied hang it up by the loop.

Put a screw-eye into the handle of a broom at the end, so as to hang it up when not in use, and the broom will last much longer and not turn over at the end. Make a bag of cotton flannel to tie over the broom when you want to wipe the dust from hard wood floors.

To prevent water from seeping through pottery bowls or vases intended to hold flowers, and thus marring polished wood, coat the inside with white shellac. After it dries, the jar will no longer be porous. This has been tried with some of the ornamental ginger jars.

When making pastry that is to be served cold, milk should be used for the mixing, and the pastry will keep short and crisp longer than if mixed with water.

Oyster Cocktail

Allow six or seven medium size oysters for each portion. Dry them and serve in small low glasses with a sauce made of one-half teaspoonful each of horseradish, one of catsup, a teaspoonful of lemon juice and a little pepper, for each glass.

Cream Fudge

Dissolve in a pan over the range, one pint of cream and three cupfuls of granulated sugar. Add three teaspoonfuls of grated chocolate, and one teaspoonful of butter. Cook until the mixture hardens when dropped into cold water. Add one pound of broken English walnut meats and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Pour into buttered pans to cool. Before it hardens mark squares with a knife.

14049

14589 [illegible] suitable to embroider in serge.

HAND embroidered bands or borders, and separate medallions are not only very fashionable, but they add a touch of elegance that repays one for the time required to make them. They are the smart touches which make custom-made clothing of expensive grades unusual. On the other hand, it is possible for one to use hand embroidery in place of other trimming at a considerable saving of money. Now that bright colors in Tourist effects are used to ornament light or dark colored materials, such simple designs as the two bands illustrated (Nos. 14644 and 14589) may be chosen and worked quickly. Either is suitable for silk or woolen fabrics, and the latter is very effective to introduce color on a chiffon blouse which forms a part of a three-piece suit. No. 14644 is [illegible] for serge. Each pattern is two inches wide and three yards long, and costs 10 cents. Albatross boudoir robes, made with shawl collar and deep cuffs, when hand embroidered in contrasting colors, are very modish.

The butterfly design is decorative in countless ways, both for dresses, lingerie and household linens. In French embroidery, the motif is liked for dainty gowns, chemises, etc. This butterfly is one of thirty-six that come on a fourteen-inch square, ready for stamping and arranged in several sizes to be used in sets if desired. The pattern is 10 cents.

BORO ABANDONS TAXATION FIGHT

Citizens Decide Not to Go to Court to Enforce Reduction Agreement.

AFTER LONG DEBATE

Lawyers Advised That Somerset County Board Judgment Would Be Sustained by Supreme Court—Few at Public Meeting.

The citizens of North Plainfield attending a public meeting in the Council chambers last night, went on record as opposed to resorting to the courts in a further effort to secure a reduction of $912,003 in 1913 assessments to reimburse the taxpayers for alleged excess taxes paid in 1912. When a resolution was presented by William J. Buttfield that the fight for the reduction be continued and carried to the Supreme Court for final adjudication, despite the recent action of the State Board for the Equalization of Taxes in dismissing the appeal to enforce the alleged judgment or agreement of the Somerset County Board of Taxation granting the reduction, a vote was taken. Twenty-one citizen voted against the resolution and but five in its favor.

Written opinions from Judge Isaac P. Runyon and Samuel St. John McCutchen, and opinions expressed in person by former Judge Delavan A. Holmes and Councilman Allan Cowperthwait were to the effect that the borough would have an excellent chance of being sustained by the higher court in its contention.

As has been stated before, the borough appealed to the County Board to have its 1912 assessments reduced and that body on November 30, 1912, signed what the borough attorneys in the matter call a judgment, in which it was agreed to grant this reduction, to take effect at the time of levying of 1913 assessments. The assessments of last year by Assessor Dr. J. H. Cooley were made on the basis that an exorbitant assessment had been made in 1912, and later the County Board refused to make such reduction as would reimburse the taxpayers for alleged excess State and county taxes paid in 1912. Engaging Major Cary Lentz, of Newark, as counsel, an appeal was made to the State Board, resulting in its dismissal.

Last night's meeting was held to secure the opinion of the citizens as to whether the fight for the reduction should be continued. A similar meeting had been held October 25, 1912, when a resolution was adopted authorizing the Borough Council to "take every step possible before the County and State Boards and the courts to equalize the ratables of the borough with those of the rest of the county."

Mayor Clark last night, reviewed the tax situation in general and called for remarks from those in attendance. Among those who spoke in favor of abandoning the fight were Lemuel B. Woolston, Newton B. Smalley, Alexander Milne and David T. Kenney. Those who declared in addresses that the matter should be brought before the Supreme Court were Allan Cowperthwait, and Judge Holmes.

In a letter addressed to Mayor Clark, Mr. McCutchen said in part: "My feeling is that the borough for some time has been at a distinct disadvantage with relation to the other parts of the country, and has been paying distinctly more than its fair share of the State and county taxes. The action of the State Board of Equalization of Taxes is distinctly erroneous, in my judgment, so far as I have been able to ascertain that decision." After mentioning parts of the State Board's opinion accompanying its decision, in which he states he differs, Mr. McCutchen continues, as follows: "My feeling is that the borough should certiorari all these proceedings to the Supreme Court and have the matter fully and finally adjudicated. The constant discrimination by the rest of the county against our borough seems to emphasize the wisdom of our separating ourselves from the county and moving into Union county."

After explaining that the real issue was the alleged inequality of assessment between North Plainfield and the other municipalities of Somerset county, Judge Runyon in his opinion, which was praised by Judge Holmes, referred to the alleged judgment signed by the county officials November, 1912, and stated that "the Somerset County Board of Taxation reached the result it did by reducing North Plainfield assessments rather than increasing those of other municipalities, which was the prayer of the North Plainfield petition, but such prayer was merely the suggestion of the method of doing justice." Further attacking the opinion of the State Board, Judge Runyon stated that he felt the State officials were entirely in error in their decision and that "there is fair ground to apply for a certiorari to review such dismissal."

Councilman Francis J. Blatz reported back the petition from the Board of Health regarding sanitary sewers in the West End, explaining that the proposed improvement is progressing. A map of a tract of land in the West End to be improved by Haight & Scannell, was presented, and approved by resolution and filed.

Another resolution offered by Mr. Blatz and adopted, authorized the city clerk to advertise for bids for furnishing the city with crushed stone, culverts, etc., for the coming year, the bids to be opened on Monday night, March 2, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Blatz introduced an ordinance providing for the acceptance of Emerson and Sumner avenues, from East Front street to George street, explaining that if this is done it will be possible to have the Board of Freeholders make necessary repairs to two bridges on those thoroughfares. The ordinance was adopted on two readings, ordered advertised and Monday night, March 2, was appointed as the time for a public hearing.

Through a resolution offered by Mr. Calkins and adopted, Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed was requested to make arrangements to secure copies of all Legislative bills for the coming years at an expense of $25.

Former Councilman W. L. Gloak, who while a Councilman received free telephone service, now wishes to become a subscriber, and the New York Telephone Company, in a communication, requested the Council to authorize a cancellation first. This was referred to the finance committee.

The oaths of office of Archibald Cox and Albert A. Tilney, as members of the Board of Education, the latter named to succeed James F. Buckle, whose term expired January 1, and those of H. C. Runyon, Michael D. O'Keefe and A. J. Gavett as commissioners of assessment for street improvements, were ordered filed.

W. B. Doty and others petitioned for sidewalks, lights and a fire alarm box in the vicinity of East Second street and Leland avenue, and this was referred. Upon application, an employment abency license was granted ato John Northern, of West Front street. The Council adjourned to meet Monday night, January 26, to consider liquor licenses.

TRADE BOARD OPPOSES GRIFFIN SMALL BOARD

The trustees of the Plainfield Board of Trade, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the office of the secretary, went on record as opposing the Griffin small board of freeholder bill, which has no referendum, and President William Jeffery and Thad. Doane, Jr., were appointed a committee ta attend a meeting of representatives of similar organizations to be held at Westfield tonight to protest against the adoption of the Griffin bill.

The trustees also decided to request the councilmanic street committee to cause to be removed the three trees on East Front street, in front of the old Probasco property and the one at the corner of Park avenue and East Second street, near the Queen City Hotel, believing it to be for the best interest of the city in connection with its new street lighting plans.

WIFE OF VICTIM LOSES HER SUIT

Mrs. Peter Murray Fails to Recover Damages for Death of Her Husband.

KILLED BY AN AUTO

George W. V. Moy, Counsel for Chas. E. Faber, Wins Case—Defendant Previously Cleared On Criminal Charge.

Elizabeth, Jan. 20.—After a deliberation of four hours, the jury in the $25,000 civil suit brought by Mrs. Peter Murray against Charles E. Faber, of North Plainfield, to recover damages for the death of her husband, as the result of an automobile accident on November 19, 1911, brought in a verdict, last night, acquitting Mr. Faber, absolving him from responsibility for the death of Mr. Murray. In a previous criminal action, Mr. Faber was also acquitted.

It was the contention of the plaintiff, who was represented by Richard Boardman, of this city, that Mr. Faber was guilty of reckless driving, he gave no warning of his approach in his automobile, that he mismanaged his car and that as a result ran Mr. Murray down, striking him from behind, inflicting injuries which caused his death at Muhlenberg Hospital. There was a total of about fourteen witnesses summoned by the plaintiff, but all were not called.

The defendant, through G. W. V. Moy, his counsel, denied the allegations of the plaintiff. He pointed out by aid of a map, that Mr. Murray was at the curve of the road on South avenue, near Terrill road, at a point of darkness. Eugene Chamberlain, of Westfield, was going east in a car, while Mr. Faber was going west. Owing to the positions of the cars the lights were off the road, leaving Mr. Murray in darkness. He produced testimony showing that Mr. Faber did not see Mr. Murray until too late to avoid an accident.

An examination disclosed that Mr. Murray received a blow on his right side and it was asserted that when the car stopped his right arm was thrown over the hood. It was shown that Mr. Faber took the injured man to the hospital, remained there and did all that was possible for him. The testimony also brought out the fact that Mr. Chamberlain did not see Mr. Faber in the road until after he was struck.

The defense called two witnesses, Mr. Faber and Alexander Milne, the latter as an expert, and he made out an especially strong case for Mr. Faber. Mrs. Murray and her eight children, as well as a number of neighbors were among those present in court.

J. MEREDITH DRYDEN HAS PASSED AWAY

Former Plainfielder Succumbs to Dropsy After a Year's Illness.

J. Meredith Dryden, aged 74 years, for many years a resident of Plainfield, died yesterday at Haddon Hall, Atlantic City, where he had been living for the past eleven years. Although he had been in failing health for the past year his condition did not become serious until a week ago. His death was due to dropsy.

Mr. Dryden lived for a number of years in Baltimore, from which place he removed to New York, where he was prominent in the dry goods business. He came to Plainfield, where he lived for about twelve years. Mrs. Dryden died about eleven years ago. Mr. Dryden was an attendant at Grace church during his residence in this city.

There survive four daughters, Mrs. William J. R. Thiers, Mrs. Francis G. Moore and Mrs. J. Paul Nolting, of this city, and Mrs. William P. Hall, and two sons, Robert Dryden, of Baltimore, and J. Meredith Dryden, Jr. The last named son disappeared from his home in this city some time ago and nothing has been heard of him since then.

The funeral service will be held at the home of Mr. Dryden's sister in Baltimore and the burial will take place in that city.

PLACED IN ESCROW BY CHANCERY COURT

Securities of Late Mrs. Hardy Given in Charge of Plainfield Trust Co.

Newark, Jan. 20.—Vice Chancellor Howell, today, filed an order designating the Plainfield Trust Company the depository for the $250,000 securities which Col. John M. Hardy is endeavoring to gain possession of, and he directed that they remain in escrow and the income collected and held in the same way to await the final determination of the question as to who is entitled to them.

It was said that before any suit was begun Col. Hardy had taken the securities in question and placed them with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, of New York, and when the court decided that they should be impounded he returned them to the Plainfield Trust Company.

The transfers of the securities came to the knowledge of the court since the last hearing and the vice chancellor immediately asked an explanation. Charles A. Reed, of the firm of Reed & Hetfield, who represents Col. Hardy, made a satisfactory explanation.

FIELDER TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

BIG CROWD CHEERS

Legislature On Stage At Opera House Witnesses Induction—Fielder Delivers Message—Luncheon Follows at Hotel Sterling.

Trenton, Jan. 20.—With his right hand grasping a Bible presented for the purpose by the Down Town Club of Jersey City, composed of his friends and neighbors, and with the notes of "Hail to the Chief" played by the Paterson Band and the cheers of the thousands of spectators still re-echoing through Taylor Opera House, James F. Fielder, Democrat, of Hudson county, at noon today took the solemn oath which effectuated the will of the people as expressed at the polls last November and made him Governor of New Jersey for the next three years.

After Governor Fielder had been sworn, he delivered his inaugural address, which was listened to with close attention by the assembled legislators, State officers and citizens, because it sounded the key note of the new administration which today began its three years rule of the State. The recommendations made and policies favored by Governor Fielder are given in full in another column.

Inauguration Day brought great crowds to Trenton. Thousands of Democrats in association and clubs, many of them with brass bands, came to parade in honor of the new Governor. Hundreds of others came to witness the inauguration and to pay their respects to Governor Fielder. Flags flying to the breeze at the State House and from other public buildings and many business places gave evidence of the seating of a new chief ruler. All the morning special trains discharged their hundreds of paraders, the music of the bands enlivening things through the main streets of the city. The State House was the center of attraction, and here gathered scores of politicians and others interested in the great event of the day.

Proceeding the inaugural ceremony in Taylor Opera House, the Senate and House of Assembly met in their respective chambers at the State House and then adjourned to proceed to the theatre for the induction of the new Governor into office. Governor-elect Fielder came to the State House early and was received in the Executive Department by Acting Governor Leon R. Taylor. The gubernatorial party drove from the Capitol through West State and Broad streets to Taylor Opera House in five carriages. The first carriage contained Acting Governor Taylor and Governor-elect Fielder, and they were cheered as the crowds on the street caught sight of them. The other carriages contained the members of the Inauguration Committee of the Legislature.

The members of the Legislature and numerous State officers had already reached the theatre and were assembled on the stage. The large auditorium was resplendent in the inaugural decoration of red, white and blue, and was crowded to the doors with interested spectators from all sections of the State. The band rendered a concert as the crowd gathered. Suddenly the musicians struck the first notes of "Hail to the Chief" denoting the approach of the new Governor. As Acting Governor Taylor and Governor-elect Fielder made their way through the crowd to the center of the stage they were loudly cheered by the big audience.

As the two statesmen came upon the stage, the members of the Legislature rose to their feet and the Houses were called to order in joint session by Senator John W. Slocum, of Monmouth, President of the Senate. Prayer was offered by the Rev. William Melville Curry, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, of Trenton. Acting Governor Taylor, as president of the State Board of Canvassers, read the official certificate showing the election of James F. Fielder as Governor.

This certificate was signed by the Acting Governor and Secretary of State Crater and bore the official seal of the State.

Chief Justice William S. Gummere, of the Supreme Court, stepped to the front of the stage bearing in his hands the engrossed oath on parchment and the Bible presented to the Governor-elect. The new Governor arose and stood beside the Chief Justice. The latter extended the Bible, and Mr. Fielder grasped it with his right hand. The Chief Justice repeated the solemn words of the oath, and Governor Fielder repeated them after him. The taking of the oath was completed by Governor Fielder signing his name at the bottom of the parchment. The Chief Justice then delivered to the Governor his commission, handsomely engrossed.

ANNOUNCEMENT

In justice to ourselves as well as for the benefit of those that may not know, we wish to announce that the agreement entered into on March 1st, 1913, by this firm with the Kalamazoo Corset Co., leasing them for three years a certain space in our store to be by them used for, and to be conducted as a corset department under our name. That this department was not run in accordance with our well established business principles. The following well known makes of Corsets will be kept in stock: R. & G., Warner's, W. & B., C. B., American Lady, Sahlin, Thompson's Glove Fitting, Regelist, Renaissance, Bonton, Nemo, Royal Worcester, La Reine, Ferris Waists and a full line of Brassieres and Corset accessories.

MEMORY OF GENERAL LEE.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 20.—The one hundred and seventh anniversary of the birth of General Robert E. Lee, the famous commander of the Confederate armies, was celebrated throughout the South yesterday. In eight States—Arkansas, Florida, Virginia, Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Mississippi—the day was a legal holiday and was marked by a partial cessation of business activities. Commemoration exercises were held in all the public schools and at meetings of many patriotic and historical societies. In many cities these exercises were supplemented by civic and military parades.

PICTURES BRAVEST AS THE TENDEREST

Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong Names Gen. Grant and Lee to Prove the Claim.

Quoting the words of Bayard Taylor, "The bravest are the tenderest; the loving are the daring," Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong at the First Baptist church, Sunday morning, cited instances in the life of some of the earth's greatest and most heroic men, such as Gen. Grant and Gen. Robert E. Lee, which showed that although these men were giants in bravery and unflinching in their fight for a principle, they were on the other hand, kindly and tender at heart; true gentlemen in every sense of the word. The text for the discourse was "Tender-hearted."

Dr. Strong said that it took a strong nature to be really gentle, "a little brook cannot properly be said to be gentle, because it has no power to be aught but quiet and mild, but when the ocean is subdued and tranquil we may speak of that as gentleness, namely, restrained power. How this truth is emphasized in the case of Peter, the loving, affectionate Peter, yet so full of fire and vehemence when occasion demanded. Also John, the one who learned on Jesus' breast at supper and yet withal a 'Son of Thunder.' No less true is in Paul, nor yet in Jesus Himself, as we see in Matthew 23 and elsewhere.

"Tender-heartedness will manifest itself first of all in a gentle voice. It costs nothing to use a kindly tone of voice, even when answering the telephone, or in conversation with the clerk behind the counter, or any public servant. A 'thank you' gives encouragement and cheer many times when spoken over some little common-place favor where 'thank yous' are usually forgotten. Is politeness becoming something of a lost art among us

"Tender-heartedness will manifest itself in lenient judgment of others. If we knew all the burdens the other fellow is carrying, we would not be swift to judge him and express that severe judgment to others. Sometimes 'a beam is in our own eye.' In the last place, one must have tender-heartendnes in his own nature in order to understand God; the God of love, who deals with all His children not according to their sins but according to His mercy and His loving-kindness."

As the oath was being administered the Governor's salute of 17 guns was fired from the park in the rear of the State House by a battery from Garfield Camp, Sons of Veterans, of Trenton.

Acting Governor Taylor presented the new Governor to Senate President Slocum, who in turn antroduced him to the Legislature, and to the citizens crowding the theatre

As the final ceremony of the inauguration the Acting Goverror placed in the hands of Governor Fielder the great seal of the State, this act officially denoting the transfer of the government to the new administration. Then Governor Fielder delivered his inaugural address, ending the opera house ceremony. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Joseph A. Mulry, B. J., president of St. Peter's College, Jersey City.

During the proceedings in the opera house the civic parade had formed and at 1 o'clock this afternoon began its march through the principal streets of the center of the city.

Governor Fielder, the retiring Governor, members of the Legislature, State officials and invited guests repaired immediately from the theatre to the Hotel Sterling, where an elaborate luncheon was served. Then the Governor and the members of the Inauguration Committee hurried to the State House, where they took positions in the special reviewing stand erected for the purpose, and before them the procession passed in review.

MISS ALICE PAUL.

Suffragette Who Will Menace Democratic Senators.

"If the woman suffrage amendment is not passed by the present congress the women of the country will unite to destroy the Democratic majority in the United States senate." This was the fashion in which Miss Alice Paul, head of the Congressional union, today took up the glove thrown down by Democratic members of the rules committee of the house of representatives in their refusal Saturday to provide a committee on woman suffrage. Then Miss Paul outlined how she believes suffragists can destroy the majority of the administration by opposing Democratic nominees in their weakest states at the next general election.

DOUBT CARL'S STORY OF SHOOTING ELLIS

Was In New York at Time of Attack.

Somerville, N. J., Jan. 20.—The investigations of County Detective Totten into the alleged confession of young Paul Carl that he shot Monroe F. Ellis of Basking Ridge, N. J., on the evening of Nov. 20, 1911, brought him to New York. The detective on his return to Somerville announced that his investigations had convinced him that Carl could not have been at Basking Ridge at the time the shooting took place. In proof of this Totten showed the record of Carl's work as an employee of the Dahlstrom Metallic Door company of 299 Broadway during the month of November, 1911.

According to the time books of the company Carl worked eight hours on Nov. 20, 1911. He came to work at 8 o'clock in the morning and was on duty until 5 in the evening. According to Detective Totten, Carl could not have reached Basking Ridge by the time that Ellis was shot.

"It's all up as regards this boy Carl," said the detective after studying the records of the company. For the benefit of the investigators J. L. Eskridge of the Dahlstrom Metallic Door company of New York prepared a statement of Carl's working during that time as a laborer for the company at the Bankers' Trust building, at Wall and Nassau streets.

The record shows that from Monday, Nov. 13, 1911, to Nov. 20 Carl worked, Sundays and one Saturday excepted, from 8 to 11½ hours a day. On Nov. 20, the date of the shooting of Ellis, the record shows that Carl worked eight hours, from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

On looking up the time tables of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad from Hoboken, Detective Totten found that if Carl had worked until 5 o'clock the only train he could have got out of Hoboken for Basking Ridge would not bring him to the latter station until 7:05 o'clock. The shooting of Ellis took place at 6:35 o'clock in the evening, and the police at Somerville were notified of the shooting at 6:45 o'clock.

BROOKLYN BOY SENTENCED.

Gets Year's Imprisonment In Paris For Attempted Blackmail.

Paris, Jan. 20.—Edward Edwards, aged seventeen, son of a Brooklyn banker, and two accomplices, one of whom is the son of a retired French officer and the other a son of the manager of a sporting goods store here were found guilty of attempted blackmail.

They were accused of sending Bl. Hand letters to Mme. Sichel threatening to kill her son unless they were paid $6,000. Edwards was sentenced to a year's imprisonment and the two French youths to six months each, with the benefit of the first offenders act.

Edwards' father blames the movies and the reading of detective stories for the downfall of his son.

Strathcona's Friends Fear Worst.

London, Jan. 20.—The condition of Lord Strathcona, British high commissioner for Canada, who is suffering from a catarrhal affliction, showed no improvement, and the anxiety of his relatives and friends was deepened. During part of the night the aged patient, who is ninety-four years old, was so restless that quieting drugs had to be administered.

GOV. FIELDER'S INAUGURAL.

Governor Fielder was today inducted into office at Trenton with the usual ceremony and immediately read his inaugural address to the Legislature. It is a terse, yet comprehensive document making such recommendations as the Governor deems for the good of the State. It is a business-like and clear state paper. The direct recommendations are as follows:

(1) Cease all ill-advised legislation and reduce the volume of new laws.

(2) Limit the time for introducing bills.

(3) Husband the State's resources and curtail expenditures.

(4) Reduce offices and officials along the lines recommended by the Economy and Efficiency Commission.

(5) Change methods of treating prisoners and give them outdoor work. Abolish the convict contract labor system.

(6) Abolish the Inspectors of the States Prison and the Prison Labor Commission and establish a new board with all prison officials under its control.

(7) Enact at once the Chancellor-Sheriff jury bill approved by the people at the polls at the last election.

(8) Adopt two amendments to the State Constitution; (a) shortening the period within which amendments may be submitted; (b) provide for Assembly districts in counties.

(9) Create in each county a small board of Freeholders, abolishing the present boards.

(10) Abolish elected assessors and have the County Boards of Taxation divide the county into taxing districts and appoint an assessor for each under civil service regulations.

(11) Repeal the Hillery maximum tax rate act.

(12) Repeal present method of taxing banks and provide proper method of taxation that they may bear their proper share of taxation.

(14) Create schools of demonstration for agriculturists.

There is not a suggestion in the list that does not appeal to the advanced sentiment of the State. If all these things are done it will greatly advance the best interest of the people.

The proposition to readjust the methods of bank taxation; to repeal the maximum tax rate; to abolish prison contract work and put the prisoners on State work; to adopt a new jury reform law; create small boards of Freeholders in each county; to provide more easy methods for amending the Constitution and to create a system of preferential primary voting especially appeal to all right thinking people.

It is evident that Governor Fielder intends to be conservative and wise in suggestions and to advocate only practical legislation that will redound to the benefit of the whole State. He makes a number of other suggestions of interest to the people and which tend to a better government. The inaugural address is a credit to the Governor and will give assurance to the people that they have made no mistake in choosing him as the chief executive for the next three years.

TOO MANY BILLS.

The blocking of the lawmakers' mill by injecting into the machinery bills, either absurd, useless or special in their nature, retarding the proper grinding of the good grist is one of the evils that Governor Fielder dwells upon in his first annual message submitted today. As an argument for the need for repairing the trouble, he cites the fact that at last year's session only about 400 of the 1,400 bills introduced were passed. With this in mind, he states that "while it is the duty of each member to serve the people of his county by endeavoring to secure legislation for their benefit, it is also his duty to the State not to clog the processes of legislation." To this he adds that "the proof of a legislator's capacity and usefulness is not to be found in the greater number of bills he may introduce and pass, but rather in the quality of the few which bear his name." Former Senator Ackerman, for example, comes within the class of what he would term a good legislator. He did not introduce and champion many measures. He sponsered but a few and today they bear his name for they are truly excellent. The present Senator, Mr. Pierce, comes within the same category, though he has not been so fortunate in getting through all his splendid measures but that he will before he retires from office is reasonably certain and he will have reason to be proud that they bear his name.

The Governor, himself, speaks at first hand. He has had ripe experience in the Legislature and his record is one of which any man might well be proud. He has observed this glaring abuse of the superinbundance of bills of no consequence, of no merit and of no general need. He appreciates only too well, as he remarks, that a legislator may be too willing to father any sort of a bill that a friend or interest wants him to. For himself, he doesn't care a picayune for it but he hasn't the moral and political courage to say "no." Rather than do that he would retard the legislature's work and yet he could not be convinced that his act is hurtful to the interests of all the people and costly to the State which he is supposed to represent, for he is as much a legislator, if not more, of the whole State than of the single county from which he hails.

The present legislators should heed the sound advice of Mr. Fielder.

Plainfield's greatest globe trotter will be the contributing editor for next Saturday's issue. This man who has gained fame in political and business activitie, has visited about every country in the world and as he is a keen observer he possesses a rare fund of knowledge concerning the various countries and their peoples. Watch for his editorial.

It has been conclusively demonstrated to Richard Bennett, of the "Damaged Goods" company, that he is a better actor than convincing speaker. While delivering a speech on "Morality" before a New York Y. M. C. A. audience someone ran off with his $500 fur overcoat.

President Wilson's choice of George W. Goethals for first Governor of the Panama Zone is greatly to his credit. But it should be remembered that another Jerseyman, Secretary of War Garrison, suggested his name.

Washington University at Seattle has placed itself on the map by inviting Theodore Roosevelt to become its president. The institution must have a rattling good press agent on its staff.

Says the Paterson Morning Call: "The proposition to form another new county stands about as much chance to get through the Legislature as a feline in hades with aliens."

Talking about extravagance, a Tarrytown man is gaining notoriety in that direction. The other day he paid his fare on a trolley car by giving the conductor a hen's egg.

Salutations to Governor Fielder. He has the best wishes of all good Jerseymen for a prosperous and fruitful administration.

MACHINE TRANSPLANTS BONE

An electrical apparatus for bone transplanting has just been received by the Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia. It consists of a small portable electric motor, which runs at high speed and drives a small circular saw and will be used to replace the slower and less efficient hand method in bone surgery.

A section of bone is removed from the tibia, or shin bone, of the patient and is transplanted to the spinal column of a patient suffering from Pott's disease. The spinous or projecting parts of a number of vertebrae are split open, and the section of bone is fixed in the depressions.

The piece of bone transplanted is generally about five inches long, one-quarter inch thick and half an inch wide.

The object of the operation is to support the vertebrae in an immovable position, taking the weight off the front portion of the vertebrae, which is the seat of the disease. This puts the spine in a more favorable position for checking the disease and repair of the broken down parts.

COLORED MAN IS HURT IN STOPPING RUNAWAY

William Sanderson, colored, of West Fourth street, received bruises about the head and body last night, in stopping a runaway horse which dashed along West Front street after smashing into Samuel Rothberg's clothing store. The horse, attached to a light delivery wagon belonging to E. E. Brancatti, of the borough, was left standing in the alley beside Frank Linke's store shortly after 5 o'clock. Becoming frightened at a passing automobile, the equine dashed at a nangle across the street. Running across the sidewalk, narrowly missing striking several pedestrians and dragging the wagon with, the animal ran into Rothberg's show case at the entrance of the store, and also broke a large plate glass window.

Renewing its mad run undaunted by the efforts made to catch it, the horse continued down Front street. At the Waldorf Hotel stood Sanderson, who immediately sprang for the flying bridle which he caught with one hand and circled the horse's neck with the other. He was dragged almost 200 feet, to Watchung avenue, before the runaway stopped.

The president of the Loyal Daughters, together with the teacher, and Mrs. Grace Williams and Mrs. Clive Montfort will direct the future details of the organization. Last evening Miss Eunice Eckert sang a solo, entitled, "Why Those Tears."

WHAT PREACHER SEES FROM HIS OWN PULPIT

Illustrating by means of rapidly drawn cartoons and numerous anecdotes, the Rev. George E. Lombard, of Newark, interested a large audience in the parlors of the Trinity Reformed church for nearly two hours last night, as he described in an interesting way "What a Preacher Sees From the Pulpit."

This program of music was rendered: Cornet duet, W. E. Moke and Edmund Young, accompanied by Leslie Leland at the piano; vocal solos, by Miss Etta Raybert, accompanied by Edmund Young at the piano; duet, trombone, Leslie Leland; cornet, Edmund Young, accompanied by W. E. Moke at the piano.

BURGLAR GETS SILVER.

The home of Christie P. Hamilton, of 1210 Denmark road, was entered by burglars last night, and a chest of silverware valued at $200, and an overcoat were taken. The thief entered through a diningroom window, which he pried open. A house next door to the Hamilton home was also entered, presumably by the same man, but nothing was taken. The police suspect a hobo who has been known to be loitering in the Netherwood section during the past week.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. Catherine Reynolds celebrated her eighty-ninth birthday anniversary at the home of her son, Hazelton C. Reynolds, on Grove street, last night. Besides her son in this city Mrs. Reynolds has two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Osborne, of Farmingdale, and Mrs. Ella Spitz, of Lakewood, and another son, the Rev. George Reynolds, of Atlantic City.

THEY ARE IN FAVOR OF NEW COUNTY IDEA

The proposition to establish a new county, to be known as Washington county, with Plainfield as the county seat, meets with favor in South Plainfield. They believe that the plan as outlined by Newton B. Smalley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, would mean great improvement to the real estate interest of the whole section.

Residents of Warren township also are in favor of the plan. John C. Cooper today declared that the new county idea is far ahead of that of consolidating North Plainfield with Plainfield. He believes that the trade which is now going to Bound Brook and Somerville from this section of Somerset county would come to Plainfield.

PRES'T DELIVERS TRUST MESSAGE

Wilson Urges That Corporation Wrongdoers Be Held in Person.

LEGISLATION IS NEEDED

Interlocking Directorates Should Be Prohibited — Government Should Control Financial Operations of Railroads.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S special message to congress in which he urges new laws for the further regulation of trusts and monopolies is in full as follows:

Gentlemen of the Congress—In my report "on the state of the Union," which I had the privilege of reading to you on the 1st of December last, I ventured to reserve for discussion at a later date the subject of additional legislation regarding the very difficult and intricate matter of trusts and monopolies. The time now seems opportune to turn to that great question, not only because the currency legislation, which absorbed your attention and the attention of the country in December, is now disposed of, but also because opinion seems to be clearing about us with singular rapidity in this other great field of action. In the matter of the currency it cleared suddenly and very happily after the much debated act was passed; in respect of the monopolies which have multiplied about us and in regard to the various means by which they have been organized and maintained it seems to be coming to a clear and all but universal agreement in anticipation of our action, as if by way of preparation, making the way easier to see and easier to set out upon with confidence and without confusion of counsel.

Legislation has its atmosphere, like everything else, and the atmosphere of accommodation and mutual understanding which we now breathe with so much refreshment is matter of sincere congratulation. It ought to make our task very much less difficult and embarrassing than it would have been had we been obliged to continue to act amid the atmosphere of suspicion and antagonism which has so long made it impossible to approach such questions with dispassionate fairness. Constructive legislation, when successful, is always the embodiment of convincing experience and of the mature public opinion which finally springs out of that experience. Legislation is a business of interpretation, not of origination, and it is now plain what the opinion is to which we must give effect in this matter. It is not recent or hasty opinion. It springs out of the experience of a whole generation. It has clarified itself by long contest, and those who for a long time battled with it and sought to change it are now frankly and honorably yielding to it and seeking to conform their actions to it.

MASTERS OF BUSINESS SHOW CHANGE OF FRONT.

Are Yielding to Public Opinion In Demand For Just Regulation.

The great business men who organized and financed monopoly and those who administered it in actual everyday transactions have year after year until now either denied its existence or justified it as necessary for the effective maintenance and development of the vast business processes of the country in the modern circumstances of trade and manufacture and finance, but all the while opinion has made head against them. The average business man is convinced that the ways of liberty are also the ways of peace and the ways of success as well, and at last the masters of business on the great scale have begun to yield their preference and purpose, perhaps their judgment also, in honorable surrender.

What we are purposing to do, therefore, is happily not to hamper or interfere with business as enlightened business men prefer to do it—or in any sense to put it under the ban. The antagonism between business and government is over. We are now about to give expression to the best business judgment of America, to what we know to be the business conscience and honor of the land. The government and business men are ready to meet each other halfway in a common effort to square business methods with both public opinion and the law. The best informed men of the business world condemn the methods and processes and consequences of monopoly as we condemn them, and the instinctive judgment of the vast majority of business men everywhere goes with them. We shall now be their spokesmen. That is the strength of our position and the sure prophecy of what will ensue when our reasonable work is done.

When serious contest ends, when men unite in opinion and purpose, those who are to change their ways of business joining with those who ask for the change, it is possible to effect it in the way in which prudent and thoughtful and patriotic men would wish to see it brought about with as few, as slight, as easy and simple business readjustments as possible in the circumstances, nothing essential disturbed, nothing torn up by the roots, no parts rent asunder which can be left in wholesome combination. Fortunately, no measures of sweeping or novel change are necessary. It will be understood that our object is not to unsettle business or anywhere seriously to break its established courses athwart. On the contrary we desire the laws we are now about to pass to be the bulwarks and safeguards of industry against the forces that have disturbed it. What we have to do can be done in a new spirit, in thoughtful moderation, without revolution of any untoward kind.

BAN ON INTERLOCKING DIRECTORATES NEEDED.

But Time Should Be Given to Effect Change Without Confusion.

We are all agreed that "private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable," and our program is founded upon that conviction. It will be a comprehensive, but not a radical or unacceptable, program, and these are its items, the changes which opinion deliberately sanctions and for which business waits. It waits with acquiescence, in the first place, for laws which will effectually prohibit and prevent such interlockings of the personnel of the directorates of great corporations—banks and railroads, industrial, commercial and public service bodies—as in effect result in making those who borrow and those who lend practically one and the same, those who sell and those who buy but the same persons trading with one another under different names and in different combinations and those who affect to compete in fact partners and masters of some whole field of business. Sufficient time should be allowed, of course, in which to effect these changes of organization without inconvenience or confusion.

Such a prohibition will work much more than a mere negative good by correcting the serious evils which have arisen because, for example, the men who have been the directing spirits of the great investment banks have usurped the place which belongs to independent industrial management working in its own behalf. It will bring new men, new energies, a new spirit of initiative, new blood, into the management of our great business enterprises. It will open the field of industrial development and origination to scores of men who have been obliged to serve when their abilities entitled them to direct. It will immensely hearten the young men coming on and will greatly enrich the business activities of the whole country.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF RAILROAD FINANCES.

Law Urged to Make Interstate Commerce Body Guiding Power.

In the second place, business men as well as those who direct public affairs now recognize, and recognize with painful clearness, the great harm and injustice which has been done to many, if not all, of the great railroad systems of the country by the way in which they have been financed and their own distinctive interests subordinated to the interests of the men who financed them and of other business enterprises which those men wished to promote. The country is ready, therefore, to accept, and accept with relief as well as approval, a law which will confer upon the interstate commerce commission the power to superintend and regulate the financial operations by which the railroads are henceforth to be supplied with the money they need for their proper development to meet the rapidly growing requirements of the country for increased and improved facilities of transportation. We cannot postpone action in this matter without leaving the railroads exposed to many serious handicaps and hazards, and the prosperity of the railroads and the prosperity of the country are inseparably connected.

Upon this question those who are chiefly responsible for the actual management and operation of the railroads have spoken very plainly and very earnestly, with a purpose we ought to be quick to accept. It will be one step, and a very important one, toward the necessary separation of the business of production from the business of transportation.

The business of the country awaits also, has long awaited and has suffered because it could not obtain, further and more explicit legislative definition of the policy and meaning of the existing anti-trust law. Nothing hampers business like uncertainty. Nothing daunts or discourages it like the necessity to take chances, to run the risk of falling under the condemnation of the law before it can make sure just what the law is. Surely we are sufficiently familiar with the actual processes and methods of monopoly and of the many hurtful restraints of trade to make definition possible, at any rate, up to the limits of what experience has disclosed. These practices, being now abundantly disclosed, can be explicitly and item by item forbidden by statute in such terms as will practically eliminate uncertainty, the law itself and the penalty being made equally plain.

NEW COMMISSION TO ACT AS A SEARCHLIGHT.

Clearing House of Facts Regarding Big Business Would Help All.

And the business men of the country desire something more than that the menace of legal process in these matters be made explicit and intelligible. They desire the advice, the definite guidance and information which can be supplied by an administrative body, an interstate trade commission.

The opinion of the country would instantly approve of such a commission. It would not wish to see it empowered to make terms with monopoly or in any sort to assume control of business, as if the government made itself responsible. It demands such a commission only as an indispensable instrument of information and publicity, as a clearing house for the facts by which both the public mind and the managers of great business undertakings should be guided and as an instrumentality for doing justice to business where the processes of the courts or the natural forces of correction outside the courts are inadequate to adjust the remedy to the wrong in a way that will meet all the equities and circumstances of the case.

Producing industries, for example, which have passed the point up to which combination may be consistent with the public interest and the freedom of trade cannot always be dissected into their component units as readily as railroad companies or similar organizations can be. Their dissolution by ordinary legal process may oftentimes involve financial consequences likely to overwhelm the security market and bring upon it breakdown and confusion. There ought to be an administrative commission capable of directing and shaping such corrective processes not only in aid of the courts, but also by independent suggestion if necessary.

DIRECT PUNISHMENT FOR INDIVIDUALS.

But the President Does Not Specify Terms In Prison.

Inasmuch as our object and the spirit of our action in these matters is to meet business halfway in its processes of self correction and disturb its legitimate course as little as possible, we ought to see to it, and the judgment of practical and sagacious men of affairs everywhere would applaud us if we did see to it that penalties and punishment should fall, not upon business itself, to its confusion and interruption, but upon the individuals who use the instrumentalities of business to do things which public policy and sound business practice condemn. Every act of business is done at the command or upon the initiative of some ascertainable person or group of persons. These should be held individually responsible and the punishment should fall upon them, not upon the business organization of which they make illegal use.

It should be one of the main objects of our legislation to divest such persons of their corporate cloak and deal with them as with those who do not represent their corporations, but merely by deliberate intention break the law. Business men the country through would, I am sure, applaud us if we were to take effectual steps to see that the officers and directors of great business bodies were prevented from bringing them and the business of their country into disrepute and danger.

Other questions remain which will need very thoughtful and practical treatment. Enterprises in these modern days of great individual fortunes are oftentimes interlocked, not by being under the control of the same directors, but by the fact that the greater part of their corporate stock is owned by a single person or group of persons who are in some way intimately related in interest.

SHOULD CONTROL BY STOCK BE LIMITED?

Suggests Shareholders Be Allowed to Vote In Only One Company.

We are agreed, I take it, that holding companies should be prohibited, but what of the controlling private ownership of individuals or actually co-operative groups of individuals? Shall the private owners of capital stock be suffered to be themselves in effect holding companies? We do not wish, I suppose, to forbid the purchase of stocks by any person who pleases to buy them in such quantities as he can afford or in any way arbitrarily to limit the sale of stocks to bona fide purchasers. Shall we require the owners of stocks, when their voting power in several companies which ought to be independent of one another would constitute actual control, to make election in which of them they will exercise their right to vote? This question I venture for your consideration.

There is another matter in which imperative considerations of justice and fair play suggest thoughtful remedial action. Not only do many of the combinations effected or sought to be effected in the industrial world work an injustice upon the public in general. They also directly and seriously injure the individuals who are put out of business in one unfair way or another by the many dislodging and exterminating forces of combination. I hope that we shall agree in giving private individuals who claim to have been injured by these processes the right to found their suits for redress upon the facts and judgments proved and entered in suits by the government where the government has upon its own initiative sued the combinations complained of and won its suit and that the statute of limitations shall be suffered to run against such litigants only from the date of the conclusion of the government's action. It is not fair that the private litigant should be obliged to set up and establish again the facts which the government has proved. He cannot afford, he has not the power, to make use of such processes of inquiry as the government has command of. Thus shall individual justice be done while the processes of business are rectified and squared with the general conscience.

I have laid the case before you, no doubt, as it lies in your own mind, as it lies in the thought of the country. What must every candid man say of the suggestion I have laid before you, of the plain obligations, of which I have reminded you; that these are new things for which the country is not prepared? No; but that they are old things, now familiar, and must, of course, be undertaken if we are to square our laws with the thought and desire of the country. Until these things are done conscientious business men the country over will be unsatisfied. They are in these things our mentors and colleagues. We are now about to write the additional articles of our constitution of peace, the peace that is honor and freedom and prosperity.

YOUTHFUL BURGLARS AT WORK.

Several youthful miscreants effected an entrance to William Olmstead's stationery store on Watchung avenue, last night, and took several dollars' worth of candy, cigars and cigarettes. When Mr. Olmstead discovered his loss he left a note expressing his regret that he was not "at home." It was addressed to "The Amateur Robbers."

Attilio Zancordi and Eugene Viariello, of Venice, arrived recently in the United States with the strangest of strange vehicles. Nothing more nor less than a huge hogshead, open at both ends and containing an interior case hung on gimbals, is the conveyance. Bound around the outside with two iron rails and propelled by two man power, the cask will be rolled about the United States by the young Venetians, who say they are going to see every part of the country before they stop rolling.

MISSIONARY INSTRUCTION THEME FOR DISCUSSION

The Plainfield Sunday-school Superintendent's Association met in the parish house of the Congregational church last night. President William C. Hubbard conducted the devotional services and John M. Whiton extended a welcome to the visiting representatives.

The subject was "Missionary Instruction" and the open conference was led by Miss Harriet Halloway. A number of local superintendents participated in the informal discussion.

This conference was followed by a talk given by Miss Gertrude Hutton, of Orange. It is possible that several of Miss Hutton's ideas will be adopted in local schools.

Mr. Whiton, on behalf of the Congregational Sunday-school, tendered the use of the parish house rooms to the Association for meetings.

ABANDONS TAXATION FIGHT

Judge Holmes said the underlying principle of taxation was that all assessments should be uniform and that if the other municipalities in the county were assessed lower than they should be, increases should be made in those places, or the borough's ratables lowered. Continuing, he asserted, "If we have not been treated right, as some say, the courts should be allowed to pass on the matter, and I will volunteer my services as a lawyer gratis."

Councilman Julius Stahl said he was in favor of leaving the question of further action with lawyers, but expressed the opinion that he did not think that the borough had been given a "square deal" by the State Board.

"Personally, I would continue the fight," said Mr. Milne, who scored the State Board for its recent decision. "The State Board," he continued, "went into matters it had no jurisdiction over, but from a layman's view, I understand we cannot have our assessments reduced below true value, and if we are at the present time being assessed at true value, which some admit, taking this viewpoint of the law we cannot legally secure a reduction. But the money we have spent in the fight is not lost by any means; we secured lower assessments in 1913, amounting to a saving of about $7,800 to the taxpayers, so although we have lost in the fight for the reimbursement of excess taxes paid in 1912, we were assessed last year much lower than we would have been."

Mr. Smalley asserted that the borough had but one chance in a thousand of securing a favorable decision at the instance of the higher court. In a lengthy address, during which he quoted an opinion which he personally secured from a local attorney, whose name he declined to divulge when asked by Edmund Rushmore to do so, he attacked the County Tax Board as being "weak minded men," and Major Lentz, whom he declared presented the borough's case to the State Board poorly and had antagonized the officials.

Mr. Rushmore said afterwards that he did not expect Mr. Smalley would answer his question, for the reason that he believed the opinion quoted from was written by George W. Anderson, who represented South Bound Brook as attorney of record against North Plainfield when the question was before the State Tax Board.

The former Mayor, after speaking at great length on tax matters, the duties of assessors, contended that a mistake had been made in the beginning in seeking the reduction as a borough-as-a-whole, instead of allowing the individual taxpayers to make their appeals separately. "When the assessor raised the assessments in 1912," he asserted, "each property owner affected should have appealed. The judgment signed by the County Tax Board on November 30, 1912, was brought about by Mr. Buttfield and others, who took such action because they knew the men on that body were weak. They took advantage of the calibre of the men on that Board, and in my opinion the document they signed was not a judgment and to claim it was, as Major Lentz did, was a mistake. It was an agreement they failed to carry out. We were following a false trail; let us take our loss good naturedly and rejoice in the good that our efforts have brought us in the way of keeping down future assessments."

Defending the action of himself and colleagues on the tax committee against the charge made by Mr. Smalley, Mr. Buttfield said: "The judgment was not obtained because the men on the County Board were weak minded. The question is whether we are to fight for the amount of excess taxes we have paid, or whether we are to allow this injustice to be done." T. F. Harrington, a member of the special committee on taxation, said that in his opinion the average man was not qualified to pass on the question of whether the appeal should be taken before the Supreme Court, and suggested that it be left to the lawyers. Mr. Smalley replied, saying he understood the meeting was called for the purpose of obtaining the views of the taxpayers and that if the opinions of lawyers only were wanted that a meeting of attorneys alone should have been called.

Following this debate, Mr. Buttfield, after reviewing the efforts of the Council to obtain the reductions, introduced the resolution authorizing the Council to take the appeal to the higher court providing the borough attorneys in the matter agreed as to the wisdom of this course, the resolution being turned down by a vote of 21 to 5.

WOMAN IS WOUNDED IN BEARDSLEY FORT

Besieged Farmer Promises to Surrender Tomorrow.

Jamestown, N. Y., Jan. 20.—All connected with the seige of the home of Edward Beardsley at Summerdale took a day off to rest. Sheriff Anderson is relying upon the promise of Beardsley to surrender to his attorney, Ray F. Pickard, tomorrow morning, but he has no illusions on the subject because Beardsley has made promises before.

What may bring the whole business to a focus is the accidental wounding of the woman in the Beardsley house. Beardsley communicated with Charles Backus, the proprietor of the Mayville house, and asked him to notify Attorney Pickard that the woman was suffering intensely from the wound and to ask Mr. Pickard to ask the sheriff to permit his reputed wife now in jail, to return to the home to care for her sister. Mr. Pickard telephoned the message to the sheriff and received the reply he anticipated.

"That woman can't leave the jail," said the sheriff very positively. The woman herself says her name is Ethel Austin, and she declares she was never married to Beardsley. "I will never return to that house," said she.

The woman in the Beardsley house is Miss Austin's sister. She goes by the name of Mrs. Edna Pier. Five of the nine children in the house are hers. Beardsley declares they are not his. The other four children belong to Ethel Austin. Beardsley says he is their father. The brother at Titusville, Pa., however, has agreed to take care of the whole outfit. The Titusville authorities are willing he should undertake the task, but have made it clear that no aid will be provided by the state of Pennsylvania.

The first suggestion of that sort and the children will be sent back to Chautauqua county.

Mrs. Austin, the mother of the two women and grandmother of the children, is on her way from Youngsville, Pa., and will be taken at the expense of the county to the Beardsley home tomorrow. Attorney Pickard said he hoped he could have the whole business cleared up by tomorrow night.

CONDENSED STATE NEWS.

George Morschauser of Bergenfield lost $1,800 when his pigeon houses were destroyed by fire. Nearly 1,200 squabs were burned.

Because he insisted on holding a lighted cigar in a trolley car Stanley Kuywatski was sent to the Passaic county jail for fifty days.

Joseph Decosins, a lamplighter, was fined $5 in the Montclair police court for drunkenness. The night before in lighting the street lamps he insisted also on lighting lamps in houses.

While John McGeehan of Bayonne was playing on the ice in Newark bay the ice broke up. He was being carried out by the tide when rescued by Charles Kratz, John Crampton and Michael Levendusky of the Volunteer Life Saving corps.

Eugene Keenan of Jamesburg, who eloped some time ago with the wife of Alexander Ballantyne and was brought back from St. Louis, was in court at New Brunswick on a charge of assault and battery made by Constable Conover. He was put on probation.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 51.

THIS is one on me. A very well-known advertising man came into my office the other day and said:

"Mr. Want-Ad. Man, you have preached the value of the 'Lost and Found' column, but I doubt if you yourself realize that if everybody who loses a small thing—a very small thing—small in intrinsic value, I mean—would advertise the loss in that column, the volume of such advertising would increase beyond belief. When I stop to think of the things I have lost in the past ten years—things that were practically of no value to anyone else, but valuable to me because of associations—I realize how foolish I was not to invest the twenty or thirty or forty cents that might have brought them back. Now, suppose you or I lose a stickpin, or a watch fob, or a cuff link"——

"Stop right there!" said I. "The sodas are on me." For, while this man was speaking, it suddenly dawned on me that I, who write about the value of Classified advertising, had failed to live up to my own precepts.

On my last vacation trip to the Blue Ridge Mountains, I lost one of my cuffs from the window of a fast-moving Western Maryland train. I had been wearing for nine years the gold cuff button that went out of the window along with the cuff, and I hated like the mischief to part with it. But in the rush of events incident to "getting settled" at a vacation resort, I clean forget to send an ad. back to the office for insertion in the "Lost and Found" column.

But what's the use crying over what might have been? You can bet your boots that the next time I lose anything I won't lose time in making that fact known to thousands of people through an advertisement in the "Lost and Found" column.

"Everybody's Going to THE BIG STORE"

THE BEST WAY IS TO HAVE HIM DYED AND BE DONE WITH IT

IN THE SPORTING SPOTLIGHT

"MAC" SAYS

A TWO-POINT JINX.

Two defeats in three days registered by a margin of two points is a record for local basketball teams and is all the more astonishing because of the fact that both of the losses have been suffered on rival teams' courts. Saturday afternoon the Leal School quintet was the victim of a referee's decision in the final second of play that cost it the game by a score of 21 to 9 at Morristown and yesterday afternoon the issue contested on the Columbia Grammar School court was decided against the local private school youths by a count of 27 to 25. Although it is discouraging for an aggregation to encounter one defeat after another these same kind of struggles are the ones to prepare an aggregation for a stiff interscholastic fight. North Plainfield, beware.

WHO WILL CHALLENGE?

Although Manager George Leighs, of the Hope Chapel basketball team, claims that he is aching to pit his aggregation against the North Plainfield High School quintet to decide the city and borough title, he admits that he is unwilling to take the initiative and issue a challenge. Better get busy Gawge and stir up those Canadians or we will be led to believe that the boroughites have some terrors after all. Maybe Van Mater will help the show along, however, by expressing his willingness to meet the chapelites.

TWO DELICIOUS MORSELS.

The menu of basketball on tap for local followers this week is the best of the season. Leading among the contests are the two Interscholastic League clashes, one for the fairer sex and the other for the male athletes. Friday afternoon on the Saengerbund Hall court the North Plainfield and Plainfield High School feminine basket-tossers will lineup against each other, and Friday night the Leal School quintet will pit its strength against the N. P. H. S. boys. We withhould predictions in each case.

TIMES DO CHANGE.

How much the Plainfield High School girls' basketball team has improved in playing ability during the past month is a matter of speculation but comparing the score of the game in Bloomfield during the early part of the season with the one chalked up Saturday afternoon we are led to believe that the improvement has been slightly over one hundred per cent. Coming back and walloping a team that formerly held the upper hand by a comfortable margin is no mean stunt. The victory over Bloomfield is a creditable one and ought to instill some confidence in the locals for that Interscholastic League match Saturday afternoon.

The same old story of a week previous was retold Saturday afternoon. Plainfield High School was treated to a walloping on a rival team's court and North Plainfield trounced an opponent on Saengerbund.

Frank Blatz is leading the bowlers entered in the Knights of Columbus League race. The Elk pinner is stirring things up in the Knights' organization and is keeping the name of Plainfield in the limelight in both leagues this year.

Manager "Duke" Van Mater, of the North Plainfield High School basketball team, has called for a lay off in the schedule this week in order to give his warriors a change to rest up for Leals. We predicted early in the season that the other interscholastic contenders would be forced to respect the private school youths before the season was far under way.

Ezra Wenz, the little Elizabeth long distance runner who appeared here a year ago on the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. track team, and who is now attending Colby College, was honored for the second consecutive year by Secretary James E. Sullivan, of A. A. U., by being placed on the list of scholastic champions. He is named as the leading schoolboy two miler and well deserves the honor.

Newspaper headline—Danny Green (the former ball player) insane—there are just about 200 other ball players in the country in the same condition but they refuse to acknowledge it.

Queries, Comment and Answers

Sporting Editor:

Query—Kindly inform me if there is any way in which a liquor dealer who pays a license of $1,200 a year in Plainfield can stop automobiles from standing for an indefinite period of time before his door?—X.Y.Z.

Answer—Consult the Chief of Police and he will probably adjust the matter satisfactorily to you.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Where can I obtain a city guide that will give me the names of the local streets and their locations? —B. S. O.

Answer—Local real estate dealers will supply you with the maps.

Sporting Editor:

Query—How thick does the ice have to be on local ponds before it is cut?—L. A. P.

Answer—Ten inches or thereabouts. There is no specified thickness and the ice dealers use their own judgment.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Have any plans been made to date for a Sunday-school baseball league next year and if so where can I apply for the admission of a school that has heretofore been unrepresented in the organization?—K. S.

Answer—Nothing has been done toward reorganization but there will probably be a movement in the near future and you can make application at that time.

Sporting Editor:

Query—A claims that professional and interscholastic basketball rules are the same. B says not. Who is right?—M. S.

Answer—There is a big difference between the two as you will see if you try to play under the two different codes.

HERE'S SOME JUMPER.

Cozey Dolan, the infielder, tried out by the Yankees a year ago last season, has broken all long distance records in skipping lightly from league to league and team to team. After a brief sojourn with the Yanks he was released to Rochester. In the last campaign he started hopping, going to the Phillies, then to the Pirates and later to the Cardinals. Now he has signed with the Baltimore Club of the outlaws. He has been a member of six different teams and four leagues in a trifle more than a year. Having had a chance to look them all over he may feel inclined to settle down.

OHIO STATE LEAGUE.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 20.—Club owners and officials of the Ohio State Baseball League rounded up here today to decide upon plans for the coming season. The floods of last spring hit the league territory pretty hard and in consequence of the financial losses sustained several of the clubs are not expected to be back in the circuit this season. Lexington, Charlestown, Portsmouth, Ironton and Huntington have announced their intention to continue in the league. There is some talk of a six-club circuit.

KLING QUITS BASEBALL.

Cincinnati, Jan. 20—August Herr-

Cincinnati, Jan. 19—August Herrman, president of the Cincinnati National League baseball club, yesterday gave Catcher John Kling, who was with the local team last season, his unconditional release. Kling had an agreement with the Cincinnati club that he was to be released outright if he did not want to play this season.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 20.—"I am through playing ball," said Kling, when told yesterday of the announcement of his unconditional release by the Cincinnati club. Kling is in business here.

LAYING FOR LEALS.

For the first time since the beginning of the basketball season, the North Plainfield High School five will lay-off and play no mid-week game on Wednesday. As Van Mater's schedule is full it was though best not to schedule a game for today so as to have time to prepare for the Leal's game on Friday. Practice will be held as usual.

MISS WILSON AND TANGO.

Starkville, Miss., Jan. 20.—Miss Eleanor Wilson's name is being used as a leading argument in the fight here for the tango, the one-step, the hesitation waltz and other modern dances. Headed by the local W. C. T. U. many prominent citizens are urging the City Council to pass an ordinance prohibiting the much-discussed dances. The Council, although thought to favor such an ordinance, is delaying action in order to ascertain public opinion. Students of the State Agricultural and Mechanical College and many of the leading young women of the place are opposing the proposed ordinance. Several of the Starkville society set attended the Ball of the Twelfth Night Revellers in New Orleans two weeks ago, when the tango and similar dances were freely indulged in. They returned with word that Miss Wilson had tangoed and "hesitated" with as much grace and liveliness as any one present and that what was good enough for the daughter of the President was good enough for the young women of Starkville. Advocates of the dances are now conducting a very active campaign and the town is divided into two well defined and almost equally influential camps and interest is running higher than in any political contest since the days of carpet bagging.

—The annual banquet of the Plainfield Motorcycle Club will be held Thursday night, Jan. 29.

THE INTENTIONAL PASS.

Ban Johnson Is Trying to Find a Remedy.

Some plan whereby the giving of intentional bases on balls can be eliminated from major league baseball is being sought by President Ban B Johnson of the American league, who recently has received many letters from baseball followers protesting against the practice.

For several weeks President Johnson has been searching for some feasible remedy for the strategic pass, but with no success.

"The intentional base on balls has come to be one of the most, if not the most, unpopular plays in baseball," he says. "The great majority of the game's patrons seem to oppose it. So do I, but what are you going to do about it?

"Many complaints have come to me recently suggesting that pitchers giving intentional bases on balls be penalized, but no one suggested a good method of detecting the intentional pass. If we pass a rule forbidding the pass the pitchers simply will make a bluff at trying to get the ball over the plate, and will give the star batsmen their bases on balls just the same. This likely would result in a lot of wrangling if the umpires attempted to penalize what they thought were intentional passes because the pitchers invariably would protest that they were trying to put the ball over.

"Some have suggested penalizing all bases on balls with equal severity, but that cure would be worse than the disease. Fewer pitchers would be able to make good under such a rule."

EGGERS' MANY KNOCKOUTS.

Bantam Who Will Fight In California Put Away Thirty-one Men.

"Knockout" Eggers, the New York bantam, has no less than thirty-one knockouts to his credit, and this sterling fighter is now going speedier than ever; also he boxed Frankie Burns to a draw.

Eggers, who is under the management of Billy Jacobs, the able manager of the Sharkey Athletic club of New York city, includes in the long list of men he has defeated the following:

LOW SCORES MARK ALL THREE GAMES

Watchung Council Pinners Took Two Out of Three Games Last Night.

With the Elizabeth Council bowling team as their opponents on the local Columbus Club alleys last night, the Watchung Council five, of the Knights of Columbus League, managed to squeeze over the third and deciding game of the series rolled and hung up a record of two victories. Twelve pins separated the rivals at the end of the first match, exceptionally low scores featuring the initial battle. George Taylor was the only local man to pass the 150 mark, while Donohue and Coughlin did 167 and 160 respectively for the losing side.

The second match marked a decided comeback in the visiting team's pinning and the members of the Elizabeth five knocked over sixty-seven more wooden images than did the Plainfielders. Aumann's good work with the sphere was largely responsible for this second verdict while Shannon rose to 167 for the locals.

The rubber match was by far the best exhibition of pin spilling of the evening and all of the Queen City bowlers returned to form in this session. Marks of 161, 164, 178 and 157 brought home the bacon to the Watchung quintet and the Plainfielders copped the third contest by a margin of forty-five pins.

H. Shannon and Donohue took first honors in the individual high score line last night, both setting marks of 178.

TO DEFEND TITLE.

Racine, Wis., Jan. 20.—The boxing show arranged for tomorrow night by the Belle City Athletic Club of this city is expected to give the fight fans an opportunity to judge whether Johnny Coulon, the bantamweight champion, is still up to form. Coulon has been out of the game practically for nearly two years. His opponent will be Frankie Sinnett, the Rock Island bantam, who has made a good showing in his recent bouts and is considered capable of trying out the champion.

COMING LEAGUE GAMES.

The Yorktown and Germantown teams of the Columbus Club Bowling League are scheduled to meet in a league match tonight on the club alleys. Thursday night the Brandywine and Gettysburg fives will roll a series.

TWO FOUL GOALS PROVED VALUABLE

Leal School Quintet Got Same Number of Field Goals but Was Defeated.

One field goal again separated the Leal School basketball team from a well earned victory on the Columbia Grammar School court yesterday afternoon, the final score being 29 to 27. Playing the same article of basketball as it did Saturday afternoon at Morristown, the private school aggregation kept the home basket cagers in a worried state of mind at all times and the battle belonged to either team up until the final second of play.

For the most part the tallying alternated and neither team was able to run up a decided advantage on the other, although the Columbia students played the roll of pace setters the greater part of the two periods of contesting. Dickerson and Cohen, the opposing forwards, kept their teams in the running at all times and the eleven points scored by each of these men were life savers for their respective teams. Stewart, Dickerson and Krom each annexed a quartet of field goals, bringing the locals' total of field goal scores up to a par with the Gothamites'.

While the two aggregations tied in field goal shooting the Columbia penalty shooter made good on two more attempts than did Dickerson and these proved to be the winning marks when the sum was displayed at the completion of the contest.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become invariantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Adv.

D. AND H. YIELDS TO DEMANDS OF MEN

Company Reinstates the Two Discharged Employees.

ACT ON ADVICE OF MEDIATOR

Most Complete Tieup In History Was Over In a Short Time—Credit Mr. Hanger of National Board For Settling Differences.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 20.—After one day in which freight, passenger and mail service from Rouse's Point, N. Y., to Wilkesbarre, Pa., was completely tied up, the strike on the Delaware and Hudson railroad was brought to an end.

Vice President Clifford S. Sims of the railroad agreed to the strikers' demands that the discharged engineer and conductor be reinstated and that other disagreements between the men and company should be the subject of further conferences.

The agreement was ratified by Vice President Sims and the strikers. In less than half an hour the field officers of the five great railroad unions involved had received cipher messages notifying them to let the men go back to work. By midnight the Delaware and Hudson trains were operating on almost a normal schedule.

The settlement of the strike was brought about by G. W. W. Hanger, assistant commissioner and secretary of the federal board of mediation and conciliation, after six hours of continual conferences with representatives of the men and with Mr. Sims.

When Mr. Hanger saw that the men would not yield an iota in their demand that their two fellow employees be reinstated before the strike was called off Mr. Hanger advised Mr. Sims to give in, and the Delaware and Hudson official did so.

Gives Credit to Hanger.

"The settlement was due to the work of Mr. Hanger," declared Martin C. Carey, vice president of the Order of Railroad Conductors, who had been left in charge of the general situation by the other grand lodge officers when they scattered to various points on the railroad to spread the strike order.

"The state labor department took no part in the proceedings. We are glad that the strike has ended. We had no fear for ourselves, but it was the inconvenienced public of whom we thought most.

"It was unfortunate that a strike was necessary, but I think it was the most orderly strike on record and would have continued to be."

Vice President Sims issued this statement:

"The Delaware and Hudson company throughout the present controversy has endeavored to take a fair position and, as directed by the government's mediation, conciliation and arbitration law, called upon the national board of mediation and conciliation to intervene. This company has always been willing to arbitrate the questions involved. It has finally yielded to the suggestions of Commissioner Hanger.

"This company in thus meeting the view of the commissioner has done so to avoid further inconvenience to the public and because the commissioner pointed out that it seemed impossible to obtain an amicable settlement in any other way, as the employees absolutely refused arbitration."

As soon as Mr. Carey and the employees' general committee chairmen were notified that Mr. Sims had agreed to reinstate their men, telegraph and telephone wires were kept hot with messages to their men telling them to go back to work.

300 REFUGEES TRAPPED.

Earthquake Toll In Japanese Islands Increased by Falling Cliff.

Tokyo, Jan. 20.—One hundred bodies have been recovered from the detritus of a cliff near Kagoshima that fell, burying under it 300 refugees from the devastated island of Sakura. Eruptions and earthquakes continue to be felt, and the Sakura-Pima volcano is again threatened.

An eye witness of the recent eruption describes the scene as resembling a Niagara of fire, hurling masses of semimolten stone long distances over the land. He describes the people as panic stricken and looking back in terror on their wrecked fields and villages.

In Kagoshima the trains are again running, and search parties are going through the ruins looking for possible survivors. No estimate can be made of the casualties.

Several American missionaries have had exciting experiences, but all are reported safe, both in Kagoshima and Kunamoto

REPORT MANY KILLED IN DESPERATE FIGHT

Rebels Again Cut Interoceanic Railway.

Mexico City, Jan. 20.—With 9,000 troops engaged desperate fighting is going on between rebels and federals at Matehuala, state of San Luis Potosi. Thus far the government troops, who are outnumbered two to one, have succeeded in throwing back the attack of the rebels, but the latter have posted artillery about the city and are raking the federal fortifications.

According to reports received here, more than 600 have been killed and wounded on both sides in the fighting, which has been going on since Friday.

Government officials denied the report that President Huerta was attempting to reopen negotiations with Envoy John Lind through the medium of a special agent sent to Vera Cruz.

Despite the additional troops sent out to guard the Inter-Oceanic railway, that line was cut again by rebels near Oriental.

The war department is organizing a new northern division of the army to replace that of General Mercado, which evacuated Ojinaga. It will comprise 5,000 men, including Juchiteco and Hidalgo Indians, two regiments of cavalry and a large equipment of artillery. General Garcia Hidalgo will be in command.

The ruthless persecution of wives, daughters and other women relatives of Huerta's actual and suspected political enemies is being carried on constantly to an extent that is almost unbelievable.

Probably hundreds of Mexican women of the higher and middle classes have been treated with almost unbelievable barbarity. Not only have Huerta's agents been at pains to prevent the facts from becoming known, but all but a few victims have been taken to places remote from the capital.

Weather Forecast.

Rain or snow and slightly warmer; tomorrow unsettled and colder, with moderate south winds.

SEVEN ARE SLAIN IN JAIL MUTINY

Three Convicts Flee, Kill Four and Die.

EX-CONGRESSMAN A VICTIM

Fugitives Who Used Woman as a Shield Shot Dead by Guard on Road From the Jail—Made Escape In a Buggy.

McAlester, Okla., Jan. 20.—Seven persons were killed and one injured in a pistol battle at the state penitentiary here, which resulted when three prisoners, armed with revolvers, made a dash for liberty.

One of those killed was John R. Thomas of Muskogee, formerly United States district judge and for ten years a member of congress from Illinois. He was shot by a prisoner.

The three prisoners were Tom Lane, Chiney Reed and Charles Kuntz. How their desperate effort to get away was planned or how they obtained the rifles with which they killed Judge Thomas and the prison officials are matters not yet known. Those who were killed as the three convicts made their way to the prison gates were Patrick Oates, an assistant deputy warden; F. C. Godfrey, day sergeant, and H. H. Drover, a Bertillon expert.

Lane, Reed and Kuntz, who had been at work in the basement storeroom, made their way by a dark stairway to the cage in the entrance of the main building. This cage shuts off the entrance room from the offices and from the prison itself. They reached the cage just as Jack Martin, a turnkey, was locking the gate.

Thrusting a gun into his face, they demanded the keys. Martin handed them over and then ran toward the warden's room. As he passed through the first office he shouted to Patrick Oates, the deputy warden, and both men leaped into a side room. The three convicts pressed by them through the office of Parole Clerk Rice and from there into the office of Warden Dick.

Sergeant Godfrey Shot Dead.

In this last room were Judge Thomas, who was talking to a prisoner; Day Sergeant Godfrey, Parole Clerk Rice and Miss Mary Foster, Warden Dick's stenographer. The warden was not in this building at the time. The convicts ordered everybody to throw up their hands. Judge Thomas talked to the men, hurriedly telling them of their folly in trying to escape. As he talked Godfrey sprang at Lane, one of the convicts. As he did so Kuntz fired, and Godfrey dropped dead with a bullet in his brain.

Then the three convicts grasped Miss Foster and Rice, hugging them close for protection, and began to make their way back toward the entrance to the prison. No arms are kept in the offices of the penitentiary, but Martin, the turnkey, had secured a rifle from outside, and when the convicts with their human shields moved from the warden's office, Oates was waiting for them. Kuntz had stopped a moment in the warden's office to make a quick search for money. Oates let drive at him and wounded him. The other two were slowly making for the door to the second office, with Oates threatening them, when Kuntz, staggering from the warden's office, reached his arm around the casing of the door and shot Oates through the head, killing him instantly.

As Oates fell, Judge Thomas and the prisoner with whom he had been talking closed in behind Kuntz. The desperate man whirled about, felled his brother prisoner with a terrific blow in the face and then put a bullet into Judge Thomas.

A buggy was standing in the driveway before the prison. Lane and Reed lifted in Rice and the young woman and then dragged the wounded Kuntz up after them. Miss Foster was seen to struggle against the men and at one time got a gun away from the wounded Kuntz. The convicts apparently did not kill her because rifles were glistening about them, and Miss Foster was their best protection. They drove down the farm road leading west of the prison.

Here they met George Richie, the keeper of the bloodhounds and a crack shot. He dismounted from his horse and, using it for a shield, began to fire at the three convicts in the rig. His first shot got Lane in the head. He fell forward on Chiney Reed, who was holding Rice. Reed loosened his grip of Miss Foster and stood up to fire, but as he did so Richie's rifle cracked again and Reed tumbled out of the buggy, dead. Rice jumped out and threw himself on the ground.

GOV. FIELDER TO THE LAWMAKERS

Urges Many Reforms In Inaugural Message.

AGAINST FLOOD OF BILLS.

Pass Again Jury Reform Act, He Says. Favors Small Freeholder Boards and Removal of Assessors From Political Control—Bank and Trust Tax Unsatisfactory.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 20.—Following is the inaugural address of Governor James F. Fielder:

Gentlemen of the Senate and General Assembly:

Taking advantage of that provision of our constitution which empowers the governor, whenever he considers it necessary, to communicate to the legislature the condition of the state and to recommend such measures as he may deem expedient and, following the custom of incoming governors, to deliver an inaugural message, I submit for your consideration certain matters which I believe of interest to the people of our state. It is unnecessary to refer now to all subjects which will or should be brought to your attention at this session, and it is my purpose to speak only of those which appear to be of pressing importance, reserving other matters for future messages.

I am much concerned that this session shall be marked with care, deliberation and earnest thought, so that hasty and ill considered legislation shall not be enacted. Too many bills are introduced of not the slightest importance to the state at large, and too many unnecessary and defective laws are enacted each year. Notwithstanding the constitutional limitation against special legislation, I venture to assert that two-thirds of our laws are passed to meet special cases or to serve special purposes. At last year's sessions nearly 1,400 bills were introduced, of which about 400 became laws. While it is the duty of each member to serve the people of his county by endeavoring to secure legislation for their benefit, it is also his duty to the state not to clog the processes of legislation with useless suggestions in the form of bills or to attempt to secure special advantages for those who should be governed by general laws. The proof of a legislator's capacity and usefulness is not to be found in the great number of bills he may introduce and pass, but rather in the quality of the few which bear his name. Each member should carefully scan and consider all bills offered to him for introduction, and he should have the courage and good sense to refuse those he knows cannot or should not become laws. I am informed that not so many years ago legislative bills were not printed at state expense, but that each member paid for the printing of his own bills. If that were still the rule I could easily imagine that neither the volume of bills introduced nor the laws enacted would be so large.

Last Minute Legislation.

One of the evils of legislation has been due to the introduction and passage of bills up to the closing hours of the session, when, in the attendant rush and excitement, imperfectly prepared and improper legislation has been enacted. The governor has only five days within which to consider bills after they reach his office, and he cannot give the time for consideration that he would wish to the mass of passed bills thrown at him at the conclusion of a session. In these days the veto power is not considered a sufficient barrier against improper legislation, and the failure of legislators to act with deliberation, thought and good judgment has helped to produce a distrust of legislative bodies, resulting in the suggestion of various devices and expedients to curb and limit their action.

With these thoughts in mind, I commend your proposition to limit the time for introduction of bills and to require that a reasonable period shall elapse between their introduction and consideration, as also the provision I understand you are to make for a legislative reference bureau and for a legal adviser, who shall prepare and criticise bills. The adoption of these remedies for checking the evils of which I have spoken, entailing but slight expense, indicates your desire for safe and sane legislation and merits general approval.

Our state expenditures have increased from year to year in consequence of our growth in population and the natural placing of heavier burdens upon our departments and institutions. This increase in expenditures has been met by a gain in income, but the difficulty which has confronted preceding administrations is that our income has not kept pace with the demands made upon it. We must husband our resources, exercise a more careful watch over our outlay and see that each dollar expended brings its full return to the state. There is a widespread belief that money is wasted through a multiplicity of departments, boards and commissions and that by simplification in administration and consolidation of departments our revenues can be conserved and expended to better advantage. I believe that much can be accomplished in this direction, but it is not my intention to deal with the subject in detail at this time, for the reason that the economy and efficiency commission, appointed pursuant to a joint resolution of the session of 1912, has had this matter under investigation, and I am assured its final report will be presented to you within a few weeks. I feel that this commission has devoted much time to a searching examination of the functions of and the results accomplished by our state departments and that its report will contain information and recommendations of great value to you. With this report so near completion it would be unwise to attempt any reorganization scheme without the benefit of the conclusions of the commission, and I therefore recommend that you await its findings before proceeding. I would refer you in the meantime to the preliminary report presented by the commission to the session of 1913.

Treatment of Convicts.

The sentiment of these enlightened times demands a change in the care and treatment of prisoners in our penal institutions. The idea that offenders against our laws can be reformed by confinement and punishment alone is obsolete. Confinement within prison walls and harshness and severity never have and never will check crime, and the proper treatment of convicts must receive more intelligent thought. Criminal tendencies are very frequently the result of mental or physical defects and the lack of education, decent surroundings and bodily nourishment. The state should be more concerned in ascertaining and, if possible, removing the cause for crime than in administering punishment. With first offenders especially the state can hope for better results from a more thoughtful and modern system of treatment. A careful mental and physical examination should be made under the direction of the prison authorities of each person sent to a penal institution and a serious attempt made to cure or relieve the ills that such an examination discloses. Prisoners should be placed at some occupation which they can continue after the expiration of their sentence, for the benefit of their physical selves and to help pay for their maintenance while in confinement and to fit them to earn their own livelihood after discharge. Prison labor contracts should be terminated as speedily as possible and the prisoners placed at work under state direction and an effective state-use system installed. We have taken a step in this direction with the inmates of our state's prison, but sufficient funds have not been made available by the legislature to make much more than a start. Placing men at work upon the roads, the purchase of a farm and a quarry (the latter not yet actually acquired) will provide for some of the prisoners, but more funds are necessary for these purposes, as well as for the industrial employment in shops of those who cannot be placed at labor outside the prison.

Intimately connected with this is the establishment of a businesslike plan for the management of prison labor and the disposition of the products thereof. There are too many boards and officials connected with this work and with prison control, and this results in friction, a loss of efficiency and unnecessary expense. I recommend that the prison labor commission and the board of inspectors of the state's prison be abolished and that a new board be created to have entire charge and management of the state's prison and of all places at which convicts are put at work; that the keeper of the prison be placed under the authority of this board as the superintendent of the prison and be relieved from responsibility for the escape of those engaged at outside work, and that this board have control of the disposition of products of convict labor. Such a plan should lead to better results in the performance of the state's duty to its criminal class as well as to economy in operation.

Institutions Overcrowded.

I have given some attention to our charitable and correctional institutions, and during my term of office I intend to secure a more intimate knowledge of their operation and a better understanding of their needs. The members of legislative committees on these institutions, too, will do well to visit them and acquaint themselves with their functions and management, for I feel they have been much neglected by the state. Many are overcrowded, and some are caring for those who should be transferred elsewhere. The per capita cost of maintenance of some seems high, and it is not unlikely that money can be saved by their boards of managers, but all need state help and a fair opportunity to show the maximum amount of usefulness. The members of the boards of managers are for the most part conscientious men and women devoting their time and thought unselfishly and intelligently to the care and relief of the poor unfortunates committed to their charge. The legislature should co-operate with these managers, and the appropriation committee should give them all the financial assistance the state's resources will allow. Those members of boards who are not interested in their work or who cannot find the time to devote to it should promptly resign, so that their fellow members can be given the aid and assistance of others who can and will share their burdens.

The matter of jury reform is still unsettled. You will recall that this subject occupied much of the attention of the last legislature and that a special session was called to pass a bill changing the method of drawing grand and petit jurors, to the end that scandals in the administration of justice, due to political influence and corruption in some of our counties, would never again occur. I was sure our people desired this reform, and as acting governor of the state, in a message to the special session, I urged that a bill be passed without a referendum. It was my opinion that a jury commission, appointed by supreme court justices, offered the proper and effective solution, but that session resulted in the passage of a bill providing for a commission consisting of the sheriff and one citizen of each county, the latter to be appointed by the chancellor, and directing that the acceptance of the act should be submitted to the people of the whole state at the last general election. Another bill was passed at the same session, taking effect at once, reforming and safeguarding the method of selection by the sheriffs of our grand and petit jurors, and was therefore in operation before the general election. Upon the submission of the "chancellor-sheriff act" to the voters it was adopted by a very large majority, thus clearly indicating their preference for that act rather than for the other act passed at the same session. The constitutionality of the "chancellor-sheriff act" has been attacked and is now before our courts, a justice of the supreme court having declared it unconstitutional because of the state wide referendum, and an appeal is now pending in the court of appeals. The question of the adoption of this act having been decided by the voters in unmistakable terms, there cannot be the slightest question as to the duty of the legislature in the premises or any room for other argument as to what kind of jury reform this state desires. There may be some matters of mere detail in the "chancellor-sheriff act" which need correction, but the obligation of the legislature to pass the bill again without a referendum is so plain that it is idle to do more than set forth the facts.

Approves Amendments.

Two constitutional amendments are suggested, both of which I approve and which I think have the approval of a very large majority of our citizens. The first will provide for a more liberal method of amending the constitution by submitting any proposed amendment, after it has passed two sessions of the legislature, to the voters at the following general election instead of a special election, as now required, and by eliminating the present constitutional prohibition against voting on amendments oftener than once in five years. The second amendment to which I refer relates to the creation of assembly districts in those counties entitled to more than one assemblyman. Under our system of nomination and election it is possible that candidates for assembly can be nominated and elected from one section of the county, leaving the balance thereof unrepresented, and that the assemblymen elected may all represent one political party or a faction of a party. The creation of assembly districts will make the first impossible and lessen the possibility of the other.

Various attempts to pass a constitutional act under which our counties may be governed by a small board of freeholders have failed, mainly because this legislation has been complicated by the enactment of many laws and by many court decisions on the subject. The citizens of those counties which have adopted the small board are satisfied with the change, and several counties now having the large boards have expressed their desire for smaller ones. It appears to be the general sentiment of the state that municipal affairs can be more satisfactorily administered by fewer men than by a large number where responsibility for misgovernment is divided between and shifted from one set of men to another. I believe it to be the duty of the legislature to pass a mandatory bill which will give a small board government to all counties.

Many complaints are heard concerning our increasing tax burdens. One reason for the increase is the growing expenditures of our municipalities, part of which is due to mandatory acts and especially to those fixing appropriations upon a percentage of assessed valuations. This is improper legislation and should cease. Another part of the increase is due to municipal extravagance which can be checked through the power of the ballot.

Improper Assessments.

Another reason for increased tax burdens is found in improper methods of assessment, and this also results in inequalities in taxation as between municipalities and individuals. The root of this difficulty is in the assessor, in whose selection the question of fitness generally plays but a small part and who receives an inadequate compensation for the work he is supposed to perform. The elected assessor usually gives poor satisfaction. The average annual salary in this state is about $370, and some assessors who have a quarter of a million of valuation to assess receive the munificent sum of $10 per year. If we can devise a way to secure competent and faithful assessors and place them beyond political control I believe the cause for complaint would be largely removed. As a simple plan (not wholly new) for meeting the difficulty I suggest that the county board of taxation in each county establish local assessment districts, to comprise the whole or a part of a municipality or to include two or more municipalities, and that such board appoint assessors for each district, who may be assigned to assist each other and who shall be chosen under the civil service act and may be removed by the county board after a hearing. Proper salaries can be fixed, to be paid in the first instance by the county and apportioned to each taxing district according to the taxable valuations therein and by them paid to the county collector. The county board should establish rules to govern the work of the assessors, subject to approval and revision by the state board of taxation, so that uniform rules may be in force in all counties. I further suggest that tax lists be open to inspection by property owners before final confirmation and that an appeal lie to the county board from any proposed valuation, after which the revised and corrected assessment lists shall be filed with the taxing districts and the tax rate then struck upon the valuations so fixed. Appeals thereafter can be taken to the state board, but only by those dissatisfied with the result of an appeal to the county board. This plan should result in securing a higher class of assessors, assure a fairer, more intelligent and equitable assessment and give relief to individuals and municipalities.

Repeal Maximum Tax Act.

I recommend the repeal of the Hillery maximum tax act. This act was passed for the benefit of the railroads, its object being to keep down local rates so that the average tax rate of the state, as applied to a portion of the railroad property, would be low. This law has so hampered municipalities that it was found necessary first to raise the maximum rate and later, under certain conditions, to permit an increase above this rate, and now the act only partially accomplishes its design and is obnoxious in principle. I believe that even the railroads are not now interested in it. In any event, it is my judgment that municipalities should be permitted to fix their rates at whatever they please. Any municipality which, through waste and extravagance, fixes too high a rate will surely suffer, and its citizens can insist upon a new and more economical set of officials.

The law governing the taxation of shares of banks and trust companies is most unsatisfactory. The banks are investing their capital and surplus in exempt securities, largely, it would appear, for the purpose of escaping taxation, and, while the market value of their shares has gradually increased, the tax derived from this form of property has grown less and in some instances has entirely disappeared. The money of depositors is seldom taxed, and this money is the bank's stock in trade—the commodity in which it deals and upon which it realizes large profits for its shareholders. The banks should not be treated as individuals with regard to exemptions, and a plan for taxation of its shares should be devised which would make this property bear a fair share of the tax burden. It is my intention to refer this subject to the attorney general at once for his advice as to a law to accomplish the desired result.

Our primary and election laws, on the whole, work admirably. The system is beyond the experimental stage, and its great superiority over any previous method has been completely demonstrated. There should, however, be an improvement in the manner of selection of election officers. If the men in charge of polling places are ignorant or corrupt we are bound to suffer from their incompetence or vices, and since we cannot by law make men intelligent or moral we should exercise more care in the choice of those who are to perform this most important duty. This can be done through more stringent civil service examinations, and I would attract to these examinations all state, county and municipal employees by providing that such of them as qualify for election officers shall be excused from their public duties on registry, primary and election days without loss of pay. Men employed in private business cannot, as a rule, be released by their employers, and if my idea were adopted an intelligent class of men would be available for this public work.

All political parties at their state conventions declared for a preferential system of voting at the primaries, and I therefore feel it unnecessary to more than mention the subject and to express the hope that this will be one of the first matters to receive your attention.

Teach Agriculture.

In my recent travels about the state I have been impressed with the importance of our farming industry and the necessity of furthering progressive and scientific development of agricultural pursuits, not for the benefit of our farmers alone, but for the urban communities as well. There have been a remarkable shifting of population from the country to the city and an encroachment of our cities upon the farm lands. I have seen it stated that about 25 per cent of the population of New Jersey is rural. This means that a great number of individuals must depend upon the few to furnish the food supply for all and that the few have a diminishing number of acres upon which to raise their produce. In order that the rural portion of our state may produce supplies for the balance, the best and most modern methods of agriculture should be at their command. The State Agricultural college at New Brunswick offers splendid courses in scientific farming to men and women, but we should carry this knowledge and instruction directly to the farm and the farmer. He should be shown by actual demonstration, appealing to his eye as well as his brain, how he can best use his lands. I favor giving instruction and practical demonstration in agriculture and home economics, under the supervision of the state college, to those who cannot attend this institution. The federal government is seriously considering this subject, an appropriation from the national treasury to each state college having been proposed, and if we will join in the project a most important industry will receive an impetus beneficial to the whole state.

Departments Responsible.

Previous legislatures have thought it wise to require the governor's approval of certain contracts entered into and expenses incurred by various departments and boards, as well as to plan for the construction of armories and state buildings. Nearly every legislature has added to the number of items which must thus be brought to the governor's attention, and now there is a miscellaneous and burdensome assortment of contracts, bills and building plans requiring his approval to make them valid. The greater number of these are of no more importance than those that do not come to him. So large is their number and so varied their subjects that it is impossible to make a thorough examination of all, and he must depend upon the advice and assistance of others, usually the head of the department from which they emanate, and as these documents come from and bear the approval of the department head the governor's approval is little more than a matter of form. I submit to you that the governor should be permitted to devote his whole time and attention to the duties of the executive department and that the entire responsibility for the work of other departments should be placed upon the department heads. If you agree with me I ask you to make the necessary change by legislation. If you do not I shall give my best attention to this detail work.

The people of our state have chosen me as their chief executive, and I enter upon my duties with a sincere determination to give them the best service of which I am capable. You and I are the representatives of our fellows, through whom their hopes and desires should be realized, and we must be true to our trust. Differences in political beliefs must not affect our action, and we should work in hearty accord. This should be the easier because we are not strangers. I have been closely associated with you in legislative service, and my earnest hope is that the friendly relations now existing between us will continue even beyond our respective terms. My time and my assistance will always be at your command as we strive together for the advancement and prosperity of our state. JAMES F. FIELDER.

Your Stove.

Every cook should understand how to make the most of the stove on which she cooks.

Gas stoves are so usual that the art of managing a coal stove is on the decline. Cooks who still use coal stoves with success say that the stove should never be packed full of coal. Two inches of space should always be left between the lids of the stove and the fire. This space permits the air to circulate freely over the fire, with the result that it can be easily managed. The dampers should not be left open when no cooking is under way, as this wastes heat.

A gas stove should be as carefully run as a coal stove, so far as wasted heat is concerned. The habit of keeping the gas flames low when only a low temperature is needed should be formed and great care should always be exercised in turning off the oven heat the minute the oven cooking is completed. The oven of a gas stove, somehow, is rather elusive. It is difficult to leave the burners lighted on the top of the stove unless one knows they are on, but the oven in spite of its size, is often heated for many minutes after it is needed.

Paper patterns and all other odds and ends of old tissue paper can be kept in a big bag by the side of the stove to use to clean the superficial dirt from the top of the stove. Cloths can be used for this purpose, but they must, of course, be washed. Paper can be thrown away. Hence it is much more suitable for removing grease or other spilled substances from a stove.

About Polishes.

An old cook whose stove always is a shining example of brightness says that she mixes strong soap suds with the polish she uses. Polish mixed in this way gives a lasting and brilliant luster.

One of the chief enemies of the gas stove is rust, because a gas stove is not warm enough to dry any water that is spilled on it—excepting, perhaps, directly under the lighted burners. To avoid the formation of rust the gas stove should always be dried thoroughly with a coarse, soft cloth kept convenient for that purpose.

The nickel trimmings on a stove of any sort can be polished with a mixture formed of two tablespoofuls of sweet oil, four of turpentine and two of fine emery powder. Mix these ingredients in a little dish and apply with a soft cloth, rubbing vigorously.

If any of the blacking gets on the hands wash them in warm water, then rub them with half a teaspoonful of baking soda. Rinse thoroughly and they will be clean.

By Alice Gibson

6652

Number 6652 shows a sailor suit for a boy of from 6 to 14, with blouse and knickerbockers. Navy blue serge, heavy tan linen or khaki cloth is a durable material and this is what real boys require. The sensible mother does not want her boy to dress and act like a girl. If preferred the knickerbockers may be made of plain blue serge; the blouse of white, or blue and white striped linen, cheviot or percale. Few trimmings of course are used on boys' garments; a few rows of braid, large pearl or bone buttons with perhaps collar and cuffs of a striped material to relieve the plainness of the dark goods.

For a boy of 10 this pattern requires 2¾ yards of 42 inch material.

The pattern is cut in 6 sizes; 4 to 14.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to state right size, passing the tape around the widest part of the breast well up under the arms.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Some Cookery Suggestions

PIES FOR THE SEASON.

HERE are some hints for pies that may be conveniently made with the materials at hand this season of the year. While their use is not especially restricted to this season, they may be found to have especially good winter food qualities. The fat in piecrust, the eggs and milk in custards are all heat producing elements.

Fruit Pies.

Prune Cream Pie. Take enough prunes to make a cupful of pulp, stew, stone and mash them through a colander. To this add one cupful of thin cream thickened with a teaspoonful of cornstarch rubbed smooth in a little cold milk, the yolks of two well beaten eggs and one-third of a cupful of sugar. Line a pie plate with pie crust, fill with the mixture and bake as quickly as possible without burning. Beat the whites stiff and when the pie is done stir into the beaten whites two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and spread over the pie; brown slightly.

Banana Cream Pie.—Cream a tablespoonful of butter with two of sugar. Add the beaten yolks of two eggs, three or four bananas passed through a sieve and enough milk to moisten. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and turn into a pie tin lined with pastry. Bake in moderate oven.

Good Cold Weather Dessert.

Chocolate Pie. Take two squares of chocolate and shave into a dish with two cupfuls of milk. Set the dish into a kettle of hot water and cook until chocolate is melted. Beat smooth with an egg beater and let cool. When cool add yolks of two eggs, one whole egg, one-half of a cupful of sugar and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Bake slowly in open crust not previously baked. When cool frost with whites of two eggs beaten stiff and one-half a cupful of sugar. Brown in oven.

Apple Pie.—Line a plate with puff paste, brush it with egg, prick it with a fork and bake it until light and brown. Make a filling of eight baked apples rubbed to a puree with four ounces of sugar, one ounce of butter, the grated rind of a lemon and yolks of two eggs. Cook for ten minutes, then pour it into the pie plate and cover with strips of paste and bake.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

How Mr. Snail Was In Time For Supper.

"THE mountain lizards had sent out invitations for a party," said daddy. "They had invited the lizards, the beetles, the caterpillars, the moths and Mr. Sammy Snail, who was a great friend of theirs. Of course for such a large party they had made their plans weeks in advance, even before they sent out their invitations. The party was to be given on the very top of a high mountain. It was a beautiful spot, the mountain lizards thought. Then they hung little lanterns all around to make it look 'festive,' they said. The invitations they sent out read as follows:

"'The mountain lizard family at home on the top of the mountain Thursday afternoon from 3 until 7.

"'R. S.—Please come early, as we're going to have wonderful games first, which will make you very hungry, and you'll then more than enjoy the good supper we've prepared.'

"When Mr. Sammy Snail opened his invitation he was much delighted.

"'Ah, that's splendid!' he cried. 'I'll start early in the morning, so I'll get there on time, and, though I'm not so very fond of games myself, I'll watch the others get tired and overheated, while I'll feel cool and rested when supper time comes. I'll have to be on time.'

"However, Thursday morning came, and Mr. Sammy Snail overslept. He didn't wake up until 12 o'clock, and as he opened his eyes and yawned he saw from his shell the caterpillars and other guests crawling up the mountain side as fast as they could go. Now, Sammy Snail lived halfway up the mountain side, so as he saw what time it was he said to himself: 'Oh, well, I haven't very far to go! I'll just take another little nap.' So he turned over and went to sleep again.

"On top of the mountain the other guests were having a good time. They wondered why Sammy Snail didn't come. 'He promised us he'd be on time,' said the mountain lizard.

"'He means to be, I think,' said one of the caterpillars, 'but he really can't help his laziness.'

"It was time for supper, and still Sammy had not arrived. 'I do hope he won't sleep all day!' said another mountain lizard, when at that moment, puffing and panting, slowly crawling along, came Sammy Snail.

"'I hope I'm not late?' he said. 'I overslept.' At this all the party laughed, and Sammy laughed too.

"But when he saw he was just in time for supper he was quite satisfied, for what more could a snail want than plenty of sleep and then a delicious supper party without having to get up at crack of dawn too?"

NEEDLEWORK

A BUREAU-SCARF WITH PIN-CUSHION TO MATCH

Did any housekeeper ever have enough bureau-scarfs? This one is so pretty and so easy to make, that you'll want another to your linen chest in a little while. Made of handkerchief linen or round-thread linen, embroidered entirely in white, it would be appropriate for any bedroom, but if you have a pink or a yellow bed-room, it would be pretty to consider the chrysanthemums in pinks or yellows in filo silks. In any case, work the edge with well padded buttonhole-stitch in white mercerized cotton. For general use, fine cotton poplin is less expensive than linen, and quite as serviceable. The bureau-scarf might also be of lawn, batiste or one of the imitation linen fabrics, if you wish to make an inexpensive cover that will be fresh and practical.

It has become customary to have the bureau-scarf exactly fit the top of the chiffonier or dressing table on which it is to be used, and this one measures 16½ inches wide by 40½ inches long. If your space is a smaller over, some of the scallops may be omitted. The pincushion cover is 7½ inches square and can be fastened over the cushion top with rosettes of ribbon. For the set, you will need two yards of 42-inch linen, or 11½ yards of any narrower fabric. Saving the design on your material allowing at least one inch at each edge and one inch and a half for the hem at the back. The flowers may be embroidered in solid work and the leaves in long-and-short stitch, or outlined as shown.

Transfer pattern 14631, which includes both scarf and pincushion, can be supplied to readers for receipt of price, 15 cents.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-know authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

RALPH SMALLEY HOST OF BORO FRATERNITY

Full Quota of Members Attended Meeting at His Home Last Night.

The Phi Pi Phi, a borough Greek letter fraternity, composed mostly of High School students, celebrated the third anniversary of its organization Monday night, at the home of Ralph J. Smalley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Smalley, of Greenbrook road.

Ashley Burner, president of the club, presided at the business meeting. The regular routine business was carried out. It was decided to hold the annual strawride of the cluz but no definite date was set and a basketball team will be organized for a short season. A trio of prospective members were put up for vote but all failed to get the desired number of votes. The resignation of Newton Spencer, which was tendered to the president two weeks ago, was discussed and refused. After a few words by the other members Spencer decided to withdraw the same.

Three years ago the club was organized by three High School sophomores for the purpose of increasing good fellowship in school and for social times. The membership steadily increased until there were ten enrolled. Chapters of the frat were started in other cities and even in Porto Rico,but these died until only the original one remained. The colors are blue and silver.

After the feed a general social time was enjoyed. The Victrola afforded much pleasure while the guests played the piano, sang and told stories. All were ushered into the dining room for a fine repast. The room was decorated with flowers and the club colors and red carnations lay at each place as favors. The lunch was served by the host's mother, Mrs. W. L. Smalley. Those who were present are Ralph Smalley, Duclos VanMater, Ashley Burner, Roy Love, Newton Spencer, Charles Beckman, Franklin Lowe and Frank Dunning, Jr.

TILNEY IDEAL MAN FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Albert A. Tilney, of Central avenue, has been appointed a member of the Board of Education, by Mayor Percy H. Stewart, to succeed James F. Buckle, who has served in that capacity for several years. The fact that Mr. Tilney had been named became known last night, when his oath of office was filed with the Common Council together with that of Archibald Cox, who was recently appointed to succeed Calvin E. Brodhead. The board now comprises three members from the Third ward, Messrs. Tyler, Woodhull and Tilney, while Dr. B. VanD. Hedges and Archibald Cox, the other two members are from the Second ward.

Mr. Tilney has been a resident of Plainfield practically all his life. During his boyhood days he attended Leal's School and later was graduated from Yale University. For a number of years he has been connected with the firm of Harvey Fisk & Sons, at the present time being the second biggest man in the firm. For three years he had charge of the firm's Boston house. At that time he lived at Newton, Mass., and served as a member of the Board of Education of that place, giving valuable service in the matter of public school education.

Although of a quiet and retiring disposition, Mr. Tilney has always been deeply interested in Plainfield affairs and it is said that he is especially well fitted for a position on the local school board, and his wide knowledge of financial matters will be of especial value to the board as well as the city. Mr. Tilney is a member of the Plainfield Country Club and has been more or less prominent in social affairs in Plainfield.

CONFESSED FOR IMMUNITY OFFER

Carl Says Pinkerton Detectives Forced Him to Say That He Shot Ellis.

CONDUCTING INQUIRY

Prisoner Will Be Taken Before Judge Beekman Tomorrow or Friday—Governor May Order An Investigation.

Somerville, N. J., Jan. 21.—Paul Carl, the boy who said he shot Monroe F. Ellis of Basking Ridge and now says he didn't, declared that detectives told him he would be sent to prison unless he "confessed" and that he would get immunity if he charged himself with the shooting.

From the county jail he demanded that Public Prosecutor Frederick A. Pope obtain for him an immediate hearing. He will be taken before County Judge Daniel H. Beekman on Thursday or Friday. At that time he is likely to be set free and an inquiry started as to the manner in which the repudiated confession was obtained.

But if Mr. Pope doesn't liberate Carl speedily the boy may be freed on a writ of habeas corpus, according to Banton Moore of 1 Liberty street, New York, young Carl's counsel. He said today:

"I shall not permit Carl to remain in jail if I can prevent it. It seems to me that the methods employed to extract this so called confession from him should be investigated. It may be that the matter will be taken up with the governor to see whether detectives can go to such extremes. I think the law has been violated."

Case is Upset.

The unexpected disproval of Carl's "confession" has upset every one connected with the case. There will be a meeting of the board of freeholders this week, and it is known that they will ask Mr. Pope for a report on the case. The prosecutor wants Carl within his reach until after he has made his report. John A. Roebling the wealthy resident of this town who financed the detective operations, is concealing whatever feelings he may have over the unexpected turn of the case.

"When we—and by that I mean myself and the Pinkertons—turned Carl over to the authorities together with such evidence as we had our connection with the case ceased," said he today. "It is up to Mr. Pope now. I have implicit confidence in him and if he sees fit to discharge Carl I shall have no criticism to make of him."

"But how about the detectives? Don't you think they deserve some criticism?" he was asked.

"There will be time enough for that after we see how the affair turns out. I have no criticism to make now of any one. I don't know how much the affair has cost me, but I regard the money as well spent. I should think it would be under $5,000. For months at a time no detectives worked on the case and then again there would be three or four. They seemed to me to do faithful work."

INSPECTION TONIGHT; ROTH STORE OPEN TOMORROW

Everything is in readiness for the opening inspection tonight of the new Roth & Co. meat market, which has just been completed at 132-134 East Front street. The building, which cost $35,000, is one of the most substantial additions to the business section that has been made in some years, and the new market equipment will be the best and most modern that money can buy. The store will open for business tomorrow.

The Roth firm has many stores in New Jersey, but none which are better conducted or cater to all branches of trade such as the one in this city. As has been stated, the only thing about the store, which will be thrown open for inspection tonight that is not new will be the policy of conducting the establishment.

Mr. Levine, the manager, has been connected with the Roth firm for a number of years, and his close personal attention, coupled with the services of a staff of competent butchers, has built up the business to a large and flourinshing condition. In addition to the meat and delicatessen departments, which the firm have always conducted, they will carry a supply of fruits and vegetables at the new market.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE.

A. C. Pleydell, of Grandview avenue, left yesterday for Richmond, Va., to speak at a conference to be held by the Trade Commerce of that city. The Governor of Virginia and members of the Legislature have been invited to this conference which will be held to discuss the tax method followed by this trade. On Thursday, Mr. Pleydell will attend the annual tax conference at Syracuse, which has been called by the State. He will return home Saturday.

DURAR AS LOOTER OF PHONE BOOTHS

Young Man Said to Come From Plainfield Arrested in New York as Thief.

Disguised as a street sweeper and accompanied by an inspector employed by the New York Telephone Company, Detective Clare, of the Greenwich street police station, New York city, swooped down on a youthful telephone inspector looting slot machines in New York yesterday afternoon. The inspector was also garbed in a "white wing's" costume and while the sleuths took him completely unawares he showed considerable fight and it was with difficulty that he was brought into submission. When arraigned before Magistrate Murphy, in the Tombs Police Court last night, the thief, who is but twenty years of age, gave the name of Leib H. Durar, and said that he lived in Plainfield, N. J., so the police say. He pleaded guilty to the offense and was held in $500 bail for trial in special sessions.

Upon being taken into custody young Durar confessed that he had been pilfering boxes in Park Row for several weeks. His method was to stick a sliver of wood in the mechanism of the machines in such a way that the coin would not fall down into the collection box after they were released by the central when the user of the phone had finished speaking. Durar could not open the collection box for the cash, but he was enabled to get the money prevented from dropping into the receptacle. He took it out, he said, on his rounds inspecting booths.

ARRESTED SUSPECT AS LOCAL BURGLAR

Man Captured in Elizabeth Supposed to Have Entered Two Stores Here.

Elizabeth, Jan. 21.—Patrolman Hildebrand arrested a man yesterday, who is believed to be guilty of many burglaries throughout the county, including those at Henry L. Viebrock's grocery and R. J. Shaw's drug store in Plainfield. The prisoner gave his name as George Fette. He is said to have several aliases.

According to the police Fette worked with a skeleton key. At the time the burglar visited Mr. Shaw's store, he was found by the proprietor in the place, and he explained his presence by saying that he found the door open and was in search of postal cards. He purchased several cards and left. Chief Kiely believes he is the one who went to Mr. Viebrock's grocery. When arrested Fette had $400 worth of goods in his possession, the police say. Sergeant Maurice Higgins went to Elizabeth, today to see the prisoner and both Mr. Shaw and Mr. Viebrock will probably make a trip to the county jail, the former for the purpose of identification.

GET CONFESSIONS OF AUTO THEFTS

Roundup of Gang That Stole $100,000 Worth of Machines in Short Time.

ALL EXPENSIVE CARS

One Prisoner Safe in Union County Jail and Two in New York—Seeking Fourth Man Who is Implicated.

Elizabeth, N. J., Jan. 21.—In the confession of a prisoner held in the jail here on a safe breaking charge and the arrest and alleged confessions of two men in New York, the New York police believe that they have rounded up all but one of the gang of automobile thieves who have stolen nearly $100,000 worth of machines in various parts of New York and New Jersey within the last few months. The identity of the missing man is known, and it was expected that he would be taken into custody.

Some time ago the detectives who were assigned to run down the automobile thieves came into possession of a clew which pointed to Daniel Reilly, a chauffeur, twenty-six years of age, who had made his home formerly at 2709 Eighth avenue, New York. When they went to look for him they found that he had been arrested on Nov. 19 for running a machine without having the tail lights lit and that when the automobile was searched a kit of burglars' tools was found.

Jack Welch, said to be an old time safe robber and yeggman, was in the machine, but escaped. As the New York police feared they did not have sufficient evidence to hold Reilly for any length of time they turned him over to the authorities in this city, where he was wanted for a safe cracking job. Welch, his accomplice in this crime, was arrested in New York early in January and was also sent to this city.

Last Saturday Inspector Faurot received additional information which pointed to Reilly as one of the gang of automobile thieves, and, after a long talk with him in jail here, not only persuaded him to confess, but obtained the names and addresses of those who had assisted him and a partial list of the stolen cars.

TEPPER BROTHERS FIRM'S NEW NAME

Retail Dry Goods Concern to Open a Wholesale Department Here.

The well-known dry goods firm of M. & A. Tepper which conducts four large stores, one of which is in this city, has changed the corporate name to Tepper Brothers, the same to take effect on February 1, from which date there will be established in this city a wholesale department. At first the concern will place two salesmen on the road, and the plan is to extend the business to a very large extent, which will also be a benefit to the people of Plainfield and vicinity.

In addition to the firm's store here there is one in New Brunswick, one in Elmira, N. Y., and the original store at Selma, Alabama, and by reason of having the four stores the concern has always been able to purchase in large quantities and give the retail trade the benefit. The firm is composed of five brothers—Max, Adolph, Joseph, Jacob and Benjamin Tepper. They first began business at Selma and gradually extended the same until it is one of the best known in the trade throughout the country.

MINISTERS AGAINST ANY MORE LICENSES

Resolution Asks Common Council Not to Increase the Present Number.

The Plainfield Ministers' Association at a special meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon, adopted resolutions protesting against the granting of additional liquor licenses, wholesale or retail, and favoring a policy of reducing the present number of licensed places, and will petition the Common Council to that effect. The meeting was called especially to consider the matter of wholesale liquor licenses in view of the fact that there seems to be an opinion that it is the intention of the Council to grant one or two new applications.

Rev. Dr. Charles E. Herring was appointed to present the resolution to the Common Council at the proper time. On motion Rev. C. M. Anderson was appointed to represent the association at the mass meeting to be held at the Y. M. C. A., Friday night, under the auspices of the Federation of Men's Church Clubs and Feredation of Church Bible Classes, and in case he cannot attend, Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong is to act in his place.

Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, of Grace church, presented the matter of conducting an organized campaign to increase church attendance. It was voted that the association endorse the plan, and Mr. Stevenson was asked to invite Rev. C. F. Canady, of New Rochelle, N. Y., where such a campaign had been successfully carried on, to come to Plainfield and speak to the ministers and explain the method of work as used at New Rochelle, with a view of trying it here. Rev. Edwin Shaw resigned as secretary of the association and Rev. Lewis Bond was elected in his place.

The ministers present at the meeting included Rev. Frank Fletcher, president, Rev. J. Y. Broek, Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, Rev. Evarts C. Conover, Rev. Dr. R. S. Campbell, Rev. F. J. Hubach, Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, Rev E. Vicars Stevenson and Rev. Edwin Shaw.

PRESBYTERY MEETS IN DUNELLEN CHURCH

Wm. Pemberton, of Richmond, Va., Passes Examination for Ministry.

Rev. Dr. Charles E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren Chapel, were among those who attended the meeting of the Elizabeth Presbytery held in the Dunellen Presbyterian church yesterday. Rev. Dr. Dare, of Lower Valley, the moderator, presided, and there were the usual reports which showed progress in the various department of work. He recently accepted a call to the Presbyterian church at Whitehouse, L. I., and was granted dismission from the presbytery on request.

William Pemberton, of Richmond, Va., who has been acting as supply for two chapels under the supervision of the Westfield church, one of which is Willow Grove, was examined for ordination and he passed excellently. He is a graduate of the Union Theological Seminary. Arrangements will be made for his ordination.

Rev. Dr. James Gilbert Mason, who has been pastor of the Presbyterian church at Metuchen, for thirty-seven years, presented his report as head of the temperance committee of that presbytery, showing the progress which has been made. He read the proposal amendment to the Constitution which was introduced by Congressman Hobson, and for the passage of which all temperance bodies are working, and told in an interesting way of the recent remarkable conversion of Governor Patterson, of Tennessee, through the efforts of a Methodist minister. He also quoted from Congressman Hobson's recent address on "Temperance." Between the morning and afternoon sessions, luncheon was served by the women of the church. The next meeting in April will be at Rahway.

CAPT. DALY DIES, POPULAR FIREMAN

Veteran Member of Department Succumbs After Two Years' Illness.

AGED FORTY-TWO YRS.

Made a Brave Struggle for Life—Chief Doane Pays Tribute to His Bravery as a Fire-fighter—Passed Away Today.

James H. Daly, one of the best known members of the local fire department passed away at his home on Westervelt avenue early this morning, following a lingering illness. During the past week his condition became grave and although his life was despaired of by those in attendance his indomitable courage prolonged his worldly existence until late last night, when he began to sink rapidly and he died at an early hour this morning.

Several months ago Captain Daly was granted a leave of absence and he took a short trip to Bermuda, hoping it would benefit his health. Returning, still in poor health, his remarkable pluck kept him up. He resumed his regular duties in the fire department. Several weeks ago he was forced to take to his bed as complications developed. A New York specialist was called into consultation a few days ago and he could hold out no hope for the patient.

Captain Daly was of a quiet, unassuming disposition, and made many friends. He was a member of the local lodge of Elks, and of the Elizabeth Aerie of Eagles. A native of Flemington, he was the son of Mrs. Bridget R. Daly, of Westervelt avenue, and the late James H. Daly. He was forty-two years old.

In 1894 he was apqpointed driver of No. 1 engine company in the old volunteer fire department, the drivers being the only paid men at that time, and had he lived until April next he would have completed twenty years in the service. He was made a captain of the paid department in 1905 and had served in that capacity ever since.

Speaking of Captain Daly's career as a fireman, Chief T. O. Doane, who has been the head of the department during the entire time that the late captain served, said this morning, "Captain Daly was a born fireman and one of the best men in my department. I cannot speak too highly of his courage and can only cite instances which illustrate his worth as a smoke-eater. Notable among his deeds were several performed in recent years, where he displayed acts of bravery. He never sought publicity nor praise for his achievements and his acts of courage for the most part went unnoticed by those outside of the department. In the Jewett fire a short time ago he crawled into a smoke-filled room on his hands and knees and had to be dragged from the flames by his comrades in an exhausted condition. He knew no fear and was willing to enter any place where there was smoke or flame. Captain Daly's loss to the department will be keenly felt on all sides and his presence in headquarters will be sadly missed by his comrades."

Captain Daly is survived by his mother, Mrs. Bridget K. Daly; one sister Mrs. John A. Gaffney, of this city, and one brother, John Daly, who is at present in the West.

BOARDS OF TRADE ENTER A PROTEST

Union County's Civic Bodies Are Opposed to the Griffin Bill.

President William Jeffery and Thad. Doane, Jr., represented the Plainfield Board of Trade last night, at a meeting of representatives of similar organizations from Cranford, Roselle Park, Roselle, Westfield, held at Westfield. Messages were received from the Rahway and Summit boards expressing their sympathy and support in the movement to effect a permanent county organization. William Dresner, vice president of the Cranford board, was chairman of the meeting.

The meeting was called chiefly for the purpose of making a protest against the passage of the Griffin bill, which has no referendum, intended to reduce the number of Boards of Freeholders from twenty to seven, and a resolution to that effect was adopted unanimously.

The delegates decided to form a permanent organization and steps will be taken to that end in the near future. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Evarts Perkins, of the borough, are parents of a girl born to them this morning.

MO-JO White Chewing Gum

Talk No. 34

No candy manufacturer of repute would use dirty sugar.

Why should not the same caution be exercised in the making of chewing gum?

Why shouldn't the crude gum be cleaned?

Yet MO-JO is the only chewing gum we know of whose manufacturers remove every speck of dirt and impurity. MO-JO is the only chewing gum that is white through and through.

Do you wonder people are learning to discriminate?

Do you wonder that—just chewing gum won't do—that they insist on MO-JO?

IN PLAINFIELD.

The Evidence Is Supplied By Local Testimony.

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Plainfield, what can it be?

Mrs. S. Driscoll, 1009 South Second street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "There was a dull pain across the small of my back and in my sides that clung to me constantly and any hard work made me worse. I tried plasters and various other remedies but nothing helped me until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Randolph's drug store. They made a lasting cure. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly today as I have been for the past five years."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

DOG CIRCUS AT PROCTOR'S.

The kiddies delight will arrive in town tomorrow morning, and Burton's great dog circus will be in tip-top trim for the matinee and evening performances. There are twenty acrobatic comedy dogs and the greatest leaping greyhounds in the world. There are dogs who cake-walk, trick dogs, clown dogs, the Jeffries and Johnson boxing dogs, dogs that skip rope and perform the wonderful serpentine dance, and five backward somersault dogs. They finish each show with a grand leaping contest by English greyhounds, featuring "Sport," the champion high leaping greyhound. This is the act that the kiddies have been saving their pennies for, so you grownup folks its up to you to be kind to some kiddies who have no pennies and give them a treat. LeRoy and Cahill, a clever team of Bon Ton singers and entertainers, have an unusually lively skit that is good fun. Ivy and Ivy, a comedy musical duo, will play a return engagement, and they have many new instruments to give you pleasure. Jennings, Jewell and Barlow, "The Dope, the Dutchman and the Girl," is an excellent comedy variety with something doing the entire eighteen minutes of its action. The Reeves Sisters are real classy singers, and will spring some of the late popular hits from dear old Broadway. Tom Kuna is a lightning Japanese acrobatic ring artist of exeraordinary merit. New photo plays are changed daily, embracing every conceivable subject, clean and moral in character. Proctor's popular playhouse is a pleasing pastime. Get the habit.

CARE OF CONVICTS.

Taking the advanced view that "criminal tendencies are very frequently the result of mental or physical defects and the lack of education, decent surroundings and bodily nourishment, Governor Fielder in his annual message gives it as his opinion that there should be a reform in the treatment of prisoners. Instead of having them confined in idleness, which simply breeds crime and disease, he suggests that they be put to work and also that they be given both physical and mental examinations to ascertain their defects and to have them cured or relieved.

This feature of the Governor's first annual message is peculiarly interesting to people hereabouts inasmuch as the Union County Board of Freeholders, at the solicitation of Freeholder Doane, has decided to abandon the policy of keeping the convicts within prison walls, doing nothing, and to place them at manual labor at the county's tuberculosis sanitorium, Bonnie Burn. There they are to receive a wage for their work, part of which will be repaid to the county for their support and whatever should remain to go to those dependant upon them.

Governor Fielder does not go so far as this. He says nothing as to the wage idea so far as having the dependenat ones share in it as incorporated in the Union county plan, but the view he takes and the suggestion he makes are excellent ones. To quote: "The idea that offenders against our laws can be reformed by confinement and punishmnt alone is obsolete. Confinement within prison walls and harshness and severity never has and never will check crime." The duty of the state towards these trangressors is not so much to administer punishment, as he remarks, as it is to make an effort to remove the cause for crime.

The whole idea of Governor Fielder's plan is to send the prisoners out into the world again, at the termination of their sentences, better men morally, mentally and physically and to have equipped them to earn their own living.

Hughes, Ivins, MacLaughlin and Liefke comprise the new Board of Assessors. They should fill the bill. A great responsibility is theirs for the people look to them to make the assessments uniform. They are not so at the present time. The man of big property is not paying anywhere near proportionately what the man with the humble little home is and the condition calls for a prompt remedy. It can not all be rectified in a day but the new assessors are put to the test and they should bring about an equalization during their terms of office. The work of the commission appointed by the mayor some time ago to revise and equalize will be of great assistance.

Hasn't the borough of North Plainfield made a serious mistake in abandoning its fight to compel the Somerset County Board for the Equalization of Taxes to make good its agreement to make a reduction of almost a million dollars in assessments to reimburse the taxpayers for overcharge in 1912? Lawyers advised that the borough's contention would be sustained by the courts, reversing the decision of the State Board for the Equalization of Taxes, and they offered their services without cost to make the legal fight. Surely, isn't a million dollars assessment dispute worth fighting over?

Do you know that although just to the south of us and in the same hemisphere, South America does the very larger share of its commerce and trade with Europe. We are only just beginning to understand what a market there is for our goods and we are just beginning to enter into close business relations with the countries to the south of our most southern border. The contributing editor for next Saturday's issue will have something to say about South America.

The appointment of A. A. Tilney as a member of the Plainfield Board of Education cannot be too highly commended. The city is lucky indeed to be able to obtain his services for a position for which he is so splendidlly qualified. He is a big man in every sense of the word and Plainfield's educational work department will be greatly benefitted by his presence on the Board.

The expected happened when the First M. E. church flock invited Rev. Dr. Charles M. Anderson to return as their pastor for the sixth successive year. He is a good citizen, a popular man and a very Godly one. Would that he should abide in Plainfield for the remainder of his days.

The new building of Roth & Company, on East Front street, to be formally opened for business on Thursday, is a great credit to the business section of the city.

As it is written: Quite probable is it that the 'Constant Knocker' is troubled with dyspepsia."

THE FORUM.

NEW COUNTY IDEA.

January 21, 1914.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

If the Daily Press would spend time answering my reasons for a new county instead of hiding behind the word "theory," they would be "doing it for Plainfield" with a fair display of consistency. On that basis we would never have either county or State. Washington had the right spirit. Come to the Chamber of Commerce meetings and give us your reasons.

Yours truly,
N. B. SMALLEY.

SAURER PLANT GETS ORDER FOR 24 CARS

The Saurer plant of the International Motor Company, in this city, has just received an order for twenty-four new Saurer trucks, which will keep the force of employes busy for the next month at least. There are now about 125 mechanics employed at the local plant, but the recent order will not necessitate the putting on of more men. Some of the trucks are "set up" on the floor and it will probably not take much time to complete them.

COMMERCE CHAMBER MEETING.

A special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held in the new headquarters of the organization in the Babcock building tomorrow at 8 o'clock for the purpose of making plans to increase the membership. The new rooms are a decided improvement over the former quarters and afford a much better place for meetings.

The office of Assistant Secretary George M. Clarke adjourns the new Chamber of Commerce meeting rooms and it is planned to keep the office open at all times for the benefit of those who seek information. Mr. Clarke has consented to supply information during the day and the rooms will probably be occupied by the various committees for meetings each evening.

A full attendance of the present membership is desired for tomorrow night when the recently elected officers will be on hand and suggestions will be received for methods to increase the membership. Several matters of importance were left over from the last meeting and these will be disposed of.

ENDEAVOR ENTERTAINMENT.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church gave an informal entertainment and social at the church on Monday evening. The affair was largely attended. Vocal and instrumental music, together with games and refreshments combined to furnish a pleasant evening

FOUND BENEFICIARY OF A LAPSED POLICY

Insurance Company Paid Miss Boice $346 Claim on J. D. Runyon's Death.

As the result of an advertisement published in metropolitan newspapers the whereabouts of Miss Anna Boice, the sole heir of the late John D. Runyon, has been located by the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company and the concern paid a claim amounting to $346 to Miss Boice at her home in this city yesterday.

Mr. Runyon was fatally injured when he fell from a platform in front of the Boice-Runyon coal storage building on Park avenue here some years ago. At that time he had a lapsed policy with the company. John D. Spicer, of West Fifth street, was injured at the same time but he has since recovered. Several years after Mr. Runyon's death the policy came to light in the insurance company's offices and following the custom originated by the concern an advertisement was inserted in the New York papers and Miss Boice was located.

E. F. Dorman, of Park avenue, is the local agent for the company.

MISS GAVIN IS BRIDE OF ALBERT J. RAJOTTE

Miller said the nuptial mass and conducted the marriage ceremony, assisted by Rev. Father Polie and Rev. John Baldwin. Miss Margaret Casey was bridesmaid and Den. Gavin, a brother of the bride, acted as best man. Misses Laura and Marie Gavin, twins, were flower girls. John and William McCullough were ushers. Mrs. Alfred Seidel sang Millard's "Ave Marie," accompanied by Mrs. Harry DeMeza on the organ.

A reception foliowed at the home of the bride's father. The couple will live on Greenbrook road.

COMPLAINT DISMISSED.

The complaint made by Dr. F. W. French against Jacob Sklarew, of Duer street, charging him with recklessly driving his horse several weeks ago, was dismissed this morning by Recorder Fred Hand, of the borough. Sklarew was tried yesterday and the court suspended sentence at that time. A horse owned by the defendant ran into an automobile owned by Dr. French, damaging the hood of the machine and breaking the wind shield.

"JARDIN DE DANSE."

The "Jardin de Danse," held at Debele's Hall, last night, attracted a large number of young people. An exhibition of dancing was given by Senor Valdez and Miss Clair, members of a New York dancing academy, and they presented somee of the latest dances. These affairs will be held at Debele's Hall every Tuesday evening and Senor Valdez and Miss Clair will be present. Prof. Paroubek's orchestra furnishes the music.

DR. GARDINER TO PREACH.

Rev. Dr. T. L. Gardiner, editor of the Sabbath Recorder, will preach at the evangelistic service to be held at the Seventh-day Baptist church, this evening. It is expected that Rev. Clayton A. Burdick, of Westerly, R. I., will speak on Friday evening. Rev. George B. Shaw will have charge of the testimony meetings following the sermons. There will be no service tomorrow night. The public is invited to attend these services.

VILLA WANTS GEN. SALAZAR.

Asks United States to Extradite the Federal Commander.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 21.—Governor O. B. Colquitt received a request from General Pancho Villa, the rebel leader, for the extradition of Jose Ynez Salazar, the Mexican federal general now held in Texas. Salazar is wanted in Mexico on a charge of the murder of Thomas Fountain, an American artilleryman, who was under Villa at Parral, Mexico, two years ago.

The governor has notified the Washington authorities of the request and states that he will take no action or make any statement regarding the matter until he hears from Washington, as Salazar is being held by federal officers. He could not be returned by the governor without permission from the federal government.

MISSION WORKERS ALL-DAY MEETING

The women of the home missionary society of the First Baptist church had an interesting day yesterday, there being a sewing meeting at 9 o'clock, when work for the Alaskan Orphanage was taken up. At 1 o'clock luncheon was served to about sixty people, the guests being representative workers from the Park Avenue and Temple Baptist churches and the society at large.

The luncheon was most appetizing and was prepared and served under the direction of the luncheon committee comprising of Mrs. Walter C. Dobbins, Mrs. Harold Serrell, Mrs. George H. Batchelor, Mrs. George H. Robins, Mrs. Stepaen Vanliorn and Mrs. Sydney Duaning, assisted by Mrs. John G. MacLaughlin, Mrs. Frank W. Jones, Mrs. Frank Bach, Mrs. Francis K. Anderson, Miss Helen Armstrong and Miss Kay Harris.

At 3 o'clock there was a largely attended missionary meeting in the auditorium of the church, which was opened with prayer by Rev. Evaris C. Conover, of the Temple Baptist church. Mrs. J. A. Cubberly read the Scriptures, and there was an offertory solo by Mrs. Robert Giddes, and prayer by Mrs. Gabriel Reid Maguire. Mrs. Charles T. Hairhouse, of East Orange, directress of the East New Jersey Association; Miss Florence Thorne, of Roselle, directress of the junior work of the association; and Mrs. Albert L. Kennelley, directress of the junior work of the State association, brought greetings.

The address of the afternoon was made by Mrs. A. G. Lester, of Chicago, president of the American Baptist Missionary Society, who gave an earnest presentation of the needs of mission work in this country and Mexico. She said that when the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth they brought the Word of God with them and consecrated this land with prayer. The early immigrants came from Northwestern Europe and brought a harmonious religion, and now the vast numbers of incongruous people from all nations of the earth are settling throughout the land. In a few years the children of these people will own this land and what the Christians do for these foreigners will determine future America.

Mrs. Lester said that the hope of a nation rests with the middle cl... Mexico has no middle class, but through the missionaries a middle class is emerging and ere long if the Christians are true to their obligations poor Mexico will arise from her turmoil and anguish and peacefully stand by her sister Republic.

The meeting closed with remarks and benediction by Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong. Miss Lillian Teeter was at the organ and Mrs. Reuben Knox, as president of the home missionary society, directed the afternoon program.

M. E. HANSEN BACK.

M. E. Hansen, of Orchard place, who was found shot through the head on December 17 in Battery Park, New York city, and held a prisoner in the hospital on two charges, that of carrying a gun and attempt at suicide, was declared well enough last Monday to plead his case in court. He pleaded not guilty. His case was brought before the Grand Jury and General Sessions, and he was acquitted on both charges and discharged and is now home resting up.

COMING WEDDING.

Miss Gertrude Schleif, of East Fifth street, and Albert Meyer, of Scotch Plains, will be married at the home of the bride in this city, Tuesday evening, February 10.

REFORMED CHURCH WILL OUST MINISTER

The Rev. Percival Barker Must Leave Christ Church in Newark.

Rev. Percival Barker, who has been acting as pastor of Christ Reformed church, Newark, pending the final action of the Presbytery of Omaha, Kansas, by which body he was placed under suspension more than a year ago, will now be obliged to give up his charge in Newark as the result of action of the presbytery at its meeting held yesterday. By a unanimous vote, Mr. Barker was deposed as a minister of the Presbyterian church for conduct unbecoming a minister, and as the Presbyterian and Reformed churches have a mutual understanding regarding discipline, Mr. Barker will be ousted from his present charge.

This action upholds that of the Classis of Newark, which has contended from the first that Mr. Barker should not be permitted to serve Christ church, but by reason of a certain position taken by the consistory of the Newark church and some of its members, he was allowed to remain in his charge until the Kansas presbytery made a final disposition of the matter. The case is of particular interest throughout the state, as well as in this city, where the proceedings have been closely watched.

LOCAL C. E. UNION'S TWO RESOLUTIONS

One Protesting Against Any Additional Wholesale Liquor Licenses.

Representatives of the various local Christian Endeavor societies numbering 250 met in Hope Chapel last night where the mid-winter rally exercises were held and listened to an address by Rev. Walter E. Greenway, of Philadelphia. He spoke on the opportunities the field offered for Christian Endeavor work and outlined the numerous difficulties commonly encountered by those who enter upon the work. The speaker laid special emphasis on the necessity of Bible study, prayer and active service as means through which the opportunities may be realized and the difficulties overcome. During the course of his address he told of his early life among the "moonshiners" of Tennessee, his native state. He also referred to the fact that he secured his license to preach as a Presbyterian minister at a meeting of the Elizabeth Presbytery held in Hope Chapel fourteen years ago.

Two resolutions were passed at the meeting last night, one calling for the adoption of the Kenyon Bill, now before Congress, the purpose of which is to abolish the "Red Light Zone" in the District of Columbia; and the other a protest against granting any additional wholesale liquor licenses in Plainfield. The latter resolution was sent to the city clerk.

The attendance banner was awarded to Hope Chapel having ninety-five per cent. of its members present. The presentation was made by Arnold Finkle, who presided at the meeting, and was accepted by Miss Mary Mortimer. Rev. Frederick L. Greene conducted the devotional exercises and Miss Eunice Eckert rendered a vocal solo, "Abide with Me."

The Christian Endeavor Society recently organized in the First Baptist church was represented for the first time at this meeting.

BEARDSLEY DICTATES ALL HIS OWN TERMS

Won't Wear Handcuffs, Says Besieged Farmer.

Jamestown, N. Y., Jan. 21.—Edward Beardsley, who for a week has defied the law authorities of Chautauqua county, will be in jail by tonight unless he changes his mind and decides not to surrender, as he promised.

Beardsley had a definite notion of what he wanted, and he made his attorney, Ray F. Pickard, put it all down in legal phraseology and have it properly signed and witnessed before he would consent to give up.

There was first a paper signed by the superintendent of the poor, John G. W. Putnam, consenting to the removal of Beardsley's nine children from the townships of Chautauqua county. There was also a paper by which Beardsley's brothers, Charles of Titusville, Pa.; Carl of Klantone, N. Y., and William of Stoneboro, N. Y., agreed to care properly for the children Beardsley relinquishing all claims to them. The third document specified that the children would not be molested after the brothers took charge of them.

Attorney Pickard, accompanied by Charles Backus of Mayville, drove direct to Beardsley's house. Beardsley laid aside his guns and read the papers slowly and carefully.

"My wife is not included in this agreement," said he. "You must put her name in so there can't be any hitch as to the legality of my brothers taking the children."

So Pickard journeyed over the three miles of drifted roadway to procure the signature of the woman who is the mother of four of the children, but who says she is not the wife of Beardsley. He had no trouble in locating her, for she is in jail. The paper was revised and she signed.

All that remains to complete the terms of surrender is the preparation of the children for their journey to Titusville, where they are to live. Beardsley demanded that their grandmother, Mrs. Austin, be brought from Youngstown, Pa., to do this work. His demand was complied with.

GERARD GUEST OF KAISER.

Reports That Kaiser Is Ill Are Officially Denied.

Berlin, Jan. 21.—Reports of the ill health of Kaiser Wilhelm published in London and the United States were formally denied here this afternoon. Seventeen Americans, including Ambassador Gerard and the entire American embassy staff, attended an entertainment at the new palace, where they were guests of the kaiser and kaiserine.

The crown prince and the crown princess were absent because their son has whooping cough.

London, Jan. 21.—A wholly unconfirmed report that the Emperor William had suffered a paralytic stroke caused a momentary alarm today on the London stock exchange. Consols dropped half a point, but soon recovered three-eights of the fall.

NOTED CAMDEN DOCTOR DIES

Joseph Silas Baer Succumbs Suddenly In California.

Camden, N. J., Jan. 21.—Word was received of the death at South Pasadena, Cal., of Dr. Joseph Silas Baer, formerly one of the most widely known physicians of this city. Dr. Baer, accompanied by his wife, went to California in June, 1912, for his health. Death was sudden, being due to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Dr. Baer was a member of the Philadelphia Medical society and a former president of the Camden County Medical society and the Camden City Medical society. He was born at Plainfield, Pa., in 1851 and was graduated from the Jefferson Medical college in 1888.

He was on the staff of the Cooper hospital, Camden, for fifteen years and at the time his health broke down was head of the gynecologist department. He is survived by a widow and a daughter, Mrs. Guy Richards Crump of Philadelphia. Dr. B. F. Baer, also of Philadelphia, is a brother.

PASTOR URGES RESIGNATION.

Request For Dissolving of Relationship With East Orange Church Granted.

Morristown, N. J., Jan. 21.—Stating that his action was induced by the fact that he was not in sympathy with the opinions of several of the officers of the church and that he thought it would be better for all concerned if he resigned, the Rev. Charles B. Bullard asked the presbytery of Morris and Orange at its regular winter session here that the pastoral relationship between himself and the Elmwood church of East Orange be dissolved.

Mr. Bullard stated to the presbytery that he had submitted his resignation to the congregation of the church, to take effect Feb. 1, and that later, by a vote of 36 to 9, he had been asked to reconsider it.

Peeress to Run Cheap Hotel.

London, Jan. 21.—The Duchess of Marlborough, formerly Consuelo Vanderbilt, who has long been active in philanthropic work, obtained a license this afternoon from the London county council to keep a common lodging house for women.

CHRISTMAS WORKERS WERE ENTERTAINED

Fine Program Given for Those Who Were Faithful in Church Work.

Members of the Christmas tree committee of St. Joseph's church together with the Sunday-school teachers and friends were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Seidel, of Jackson avenue, last night, the occasion being a social evening arranged for those who assisted in making the Yuletide entertainment a success. The Seidel home was converted into a scene of merriment by the party of sixty young folks which filled the house and amusement of every kind was supplied during the evening by those in charge of the affair.

Previous to the informal program of music, games and dancing a collation was served in the dining room of the home which was tastefully decorated, the color scheme being red and white. Each of the diners was supplied with favors of a similar color by Daniel McCormack acted as toastmaster. During the repast roasts characteristic of various guests, were read by the "knockers" who had previously prepared them and they furnished much amusement and called forth no little amount of comment.

During the evening Father William H. Miller, of St. Joseph's church was ushered into the dining room and welcomed with three hearty cheers, to responded with a short speech complimenting the teachers and committee on their work during the Christmas season. Included in the many guests present were a number of the choir members who sang several selections during the evening.

Vocal and instrumental music were furnished by a number of the more talented guests and dancing took a prominent part in the after-dinner amusement.

CLERGYMEN SPEAK AT S. S. ASS'N MEET

Rev. E. V. Stevenson and Rev. Dr. F. B. Reazor Address District Organization.

An address by Rev. Dr. Frank B. Reazor, rector of St. Mark's church, Orange, on "The Prayer Book and Worship," and an illustrated talk by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, on "Biblical Geography," featured the meeting of the Plainfield District Sunday-school Association yesterday afternoon and last night at Holy Cross church. In the afternoon a business session was held, during which there was a discussion as to the advisability of changing the name of the organization. It was decided that Rev. William S. McCoy, the secretary, should correspond with the diocesan authorities on the matter, that there might be uniformity of name throughout the diocese. From 6 to 7 o'clock luncheon was served by women of the parish.

Rev. Dr. Reazor spoke at length on a method of teaching, as followed in his own parish, and he emphasized the need of impressing on the children the meaning and use of the prayer book. He recommended that special services be held for children in order that they may become familiar with the prayer book in early life.

Touching on the various places connected with the life of Christ and Old Testament characters in the Holy Land, Rev. Mr. Stevenson's discourse was of unusual interest. Views shown on the screen included pictures of scenes in Jerusalem, Bethany, Jaffa and other cities. The delegates included representatives from churches in Bernardsville, Fanwood and other nearby towns. The general arrangements for the meeting were made by Douglas C. Anderson, superintendent of the Holy Cross Sunday-school, assisted by Miss Marian Carman and Miss Iola Moore, who headed the serving committee.

CHARITY SOCIETY MAKING SURVEY

These officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Plainfield Charity Organization Society on Monday night: President, William S. Tyler; first vice president, Leighton Calkins; second vice president, Dr B. vanD. Hedges; secretary, Dr. F. E Du Bois; treasurer, James P. Murray. As honorary vice presidents these were chosen: Former Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., former Mayor Alexander Gilbert, United States Senator James E. Martine, Mayor Percy H. Stewart, Chas W. McCutchen and Mrs Dexter Tiffany.

The executive committee elected for the coming year are as follows: Leighton Calkins, Dr. F. E. Du Bois, Charles T. Elliott, Leslie R. Fort, George M. Holstein, Dr. F. J. Hughes, Dr. E. S. Krans, Mrs. Frank V. Lawrence, Mrs Sherman B. Joost, J. P. Murray, Miss M. C. Phillips, Mrs. Isaac Schwed, C. B. Tyler, William S. Tyler and William M. Wherry, Jr.

Announcement was made that a survey of the housing and tuberculosis conditions of Plainfield was in progress. The survey is in line with scientific welfare work, which requires that an adequate knowledge of remedial conditions be ascertained so that work for the elimination of tuberculosis can be carried on with a comprehension of the extent of the plague.

The Anti-Tuberculosis League and the Charity Organization have jointly arranged for the survey. Miss Udetta C. Brown, who conducted a similar survey at Grand Rapids, Mich., is to make the examination of Plainfield and North Plainfield housing conditions under the direction of Miss M. C. Phillips, Dr. Du Bois and Dr. William H. Murray. Miss Brown will require two months for the survey which started on the first Monday in January. Duplicate reports will be made to the League and to the Charity Organization Society.

Such a report as will follow Miss Brown's survey will be of great public benefit. It will serve as a guide to the Plainfield Board of Health in its operations and give the community an approximate knowledge of the number of tuberculosis victims in Plainfield and North Plainfield, and, undoubtedly, an exact knowledge of the housing conditions that serve to increase tuberculosis conditions.

Among the various reports was that of J. P. Murray, treasurer of the League. Contributions included $441 from members who contributed $1 each; six contributors gave $100 each; five gave $50 each; one gave $30, twenty-four gave $25, and others contributed varying sums down to $2. The Red Cross seals account showed $502.75. Mrs. William H. Murray and Mrs. Frank D. Warren sent Mr. Murray $50, the balance from the sale of tickets for the Bliss Perry lectures.

The total contributions were reported at $7,027.05, with total disbursements of $6,566.35. This fund of the league raised by voluntary contributions.

Other interesting reports were presented by Dr. Hughes, the medical director of the League, on the work of the clinic and the nurse by Dr. F. E. Du Bois, chairman of the care and prevention committee, and Dr. Clara De H. Krans, chairman of the open air school committee. Dr. Edward S. Krans reported on the medical work of the school. Dr. Hughes stated that the tuberculosis clinic, which has been in operation four months, had treated 122 patients, 33 cases had been diagnosed as tubercular, 21 had been examined and referred to sanatoria. The tuberculosis nurse has had 35 new cases during the year and 12 old ones have recurred, making a total of 77; 33 have been sent to Bonnie Burn and 6 to Glen Gardner. The nurse has made 1777 visits during the year.

Dr. Du Bois stated that his committee, which was organized in April, 1913, is composed of four sub-committees which are doing the practical work of the committee exclusive of the clinic and school. Miss Phillips executive secretary of the Charity Organization Society, is chairman of the sub-committee on case work and has secured a total of $1,114.75 for the relief of tubercular cases. This has been expended in furnishing milk, coal, board, clothing, rent and vacations. The case committee has fitted out 18 cases for sanatoria.

The class committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank Allen had a weekly class in the Babcock building until the establishment of the clinic. It is purposed to continue this class at the open air school to keep track of the patients not tubercular who come to the clinic and the children who leave the open air school.

The sub-committee on housing has been busy with the project of finding a house which could be fitted out for the care of a tubercular case at home with the idea that the house should return proper interest on the investment and at the same time aid the tuberculosis campaign. This work is in progress.

The sub-committee on clinic has been under the chairmanship of C. T. Elliott, who raised $700 for carrying on this work and it is under the medical direction of Dr. Hughes, Dr. Krans, Dr. Currie, Dr. Titsworth, Dr. Ellis, Dr. Dundon, Dr. Cornwell and Dr. Levinson.

The report on the open air school given by the chairman, Dr. Clara De H. Krans, and the medical director Dr. Edward S. Krans, and the teacher, Miss Bernice F. Beatman, grew so interesting and important that a full account of it will be given later. It has been sent in detail to the Board of Education.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 51.

THIS is one on me. A very well-known advertising man came into my office the other day and said:

"Mr. Want-Ad. Man, you have preached the value of the 'Lost and Found' column, but I doubt if you yourself realize that if everybody who loses a small thing—a very small thing—small in intrinsic value, I mean—would advertise the loss in that column, the volume of such advertising would increase beyond belief. When I stop to think of the things I have lost in the past ten years—things that were practically of no value to anyone else, but valuable to me because of associations—I realize how foolish I was not to invest the twenty or thirty or forty cents that might have brought them back. Now, suppose you or I lose a stickpin, or a watch fob, or a cuff link" ——

"Stop right there!" said I. "The sodas are on me." For, while this man was speaking, it suddenly dawned on me that I, who write about the value of Classified advertising, had failed to live up to my own precepts.

On my last vacation trip to the Blue Ridge Mountains, I lost one of my cuffs from the window of a fast-moving Western Maryland train. I had been wearing for nine years the gold cuff button that went out of the window along with the cuff, and I hated like the mischief to part with it. But in the rush of events incident to "getting settled" at a vacation resort, I clean forget to send an ad. back to the office for insertion in the "Lost and Found" column.

But what's the use crying over what might have been? You can bet your boots that the next time I lose anything I won't lose time in making that fact known to thousands of people through an advertisement in the "Lost and Found" column.

Of Interest to Women and the Home

The Housewife's Daily Economy Calendar

FRANCES MARSHALL

The Busy Housewife's Afternoon.

Every woman willingly allows her servants at least one afternoon a week on which they need take no thought about the housework they have left undone or any of the other petty worries of their daily life. Many of these same women fail to take a proper amount of recreation themselves.

Of course, there are many situations which make it impossible for a woman to forget the worries of her household, even for a short time. And in a case of necessity the normal woman can undergo a tremendous strain of work connected with her household. However, she owes it to herself and her family to keep herself in as good condition, physical and mental, as possible. And an occasional relief from the strain of ordinary duties is of the greatest sort of benefit to her.

There are some wise women who give themselves an "afternoon out" which they take advantage of with all the ardor of a servant. Of course, when illness or any other emergency appears, the housewife must give up her afternoon of recreation.

How to Rest.

One woman, who tried this scheme, went on a trip to the shopping centre every week. She did not spend much money, but she looked about the shops leisurely, enjoying all that she saw, and she had tea at some interesting tea room, sometimes at a hotel. Occasionally she asked some congenial friend to go with her.

Another woman, who lived in the city, took some excursion every week. In the summer she would take a book with her and go to some quiet spot at the seashore or in a park and spend an afternoon reading and feasting her eyes of sky and water and flowers and trees. In the winter she would sometimes spend the afternoon at a picture gallery, sometimes reading in the comfortable reading room of the big library, sometimes at a matinee. When she read, she read books that had nothing to do with housework or family cares. If she felt like reading fiction she would read that, or if she left like reading biography, she would read that. But she tabooed household matters.

Still another woman, who lived far in the country, fitted up for herself a little retreat in the woods on the property which her husband owned. Here she went for a long afternoon each week, with books and magazines or needlework that she kept for that day alone. Sometimes she asked a friend to go with her, and they made tea over an alcohol lamp. But her own family were not allowed to join her in this cosy nook when she went there for a rest.

The woman who occasionally treats herself to such a rest from household worries returns home rested and refreshed, with a fund of interesting conversation at her tongue's end, a clearer head for the problems she must solve each day and a stronger grasp for all her household duties.

Some Cookery Suggestions

OYSTER PIES.

OYSTERS either alone or in combination with other foods make delicious pastries. Creamed oysters may be served in pattie shells or in the form of little individual pies. For the crust you can use a biscuit dough, puff paste or ordinary pie crust. For this purpose the oysters should be well flavored, though it is not necessary that they should be particularly large or shapely.

An Appetizing Pastry.

Oyster and Veal Pie.—Take a pound of veal, cut it into small pieces, put them into an enameled saucepan, cover with water and let them stew for about an hour. Cut two ounces of pork into bits, put them in with the veal and add one chopped onion, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley and one tablespoonful of thickening, a teacupful of milk and salt and pepper to taste. Cook the mixture for twenty minutes longer, then turn into a shallow dish, put a cupful of oysters over the top, dredge with pepper, salt and flour and cover the pie with pie crust. Bake and serve hot.

With Tender Chicken.

Chicken and Oyster Pie.—Take a nice tender chicken. After cleaning it thoroughly put over the fire with boiling water to cover, put the lid on the cooking vessel and let simmer till the chicken is tender. Remove the bones and meat. Rub flour in cold water until smooth; add to it the boiling liquor. Stir until it thickens, season with salt and pepper. Cut off all the meat from the bones. Wash the liver and heart and add them to the gravy. Stand this aside till cold. Line an earthenware pudding dish with a rich crust. Put in the dish the chicken meat. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, a dredge of flour and six oysters. When the dish is full put in one tablespoonful of butter in small pieces; pour in as much gravy as the dish will hold conveniently. Cover with the paste and bake.

Rich and Palatable.

Oyster and Beef Pie.—Take a pound of steak, two dozen oysters, a half blade of mace, one tablespoonful of walnut catsup, a piece of yellow peel of lemon, salt and pepper to taste and a cup of gravy. Cut the pound of steak in small pieces and flour them. Put puff paste or a good light paste around the edge of a baking dish or deep pie dish; then put in alternate layers of the steak and oysters, filling the dish. Season each layer with salt and pepper. Pour in a large spoonful of the gravy, cover the top, glaze, make an opening in the center and bake. Put the strained liquor of the oysters in the saucepan, add the beards or gills, which should be clipped from the oysters, the bit of lemon peel, blade of mace, the catsup and remainder of the gravy. When the pie is baked the gravy is made very hot and poured into the pie at the opening in the middle.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Billy Porcupine Saved by His Brother's Quills.

The Lion Looked at the Quills.

"ONCE upon a time," began daddy, "there lived way off in the woods—the dense, black woods where people never go—a family of porcupines. Now, you know, children, porcupines have long, sharp quills."

"They must be very cruel," suggested Evelyn.

"Oh, no," said daddy; "they really are very mild and most kindly by nature. They must have those quills in order to protect themselves. All animals need some means of protection. They must have sharp claws or sharp teeth or be very strong and big—something to save them from harm in the animal world. So the porcupines have their quills, and they just have to spread themselves out with these sharp pointed quills in the air when they see any unfriendly animal, and the creature usually runs in fear.

"One time a mother and daddy porcupine had six beautiful little porcupine children—at least they thought they were beautiful—and were very proud of them. But the youngest was not very strong; neither were his quills very sharp pointed. So his mother and daddy and his other little brothers and sisters made a great pet of little Billy Porcupine, as he was called. Whenever Billy wanted to go anywhere one of his brothers or sisters always went along with him to see that no harm came to him.

"One day Billy Porcupine was invited to a porcupine children's party. Only very young porcupines were invited, so Billy was the only one invited out of his family. His mother fixed him all up nicely for the party and brushed his quills to make them look as well as possible, and off he started with his biggest brother. Billy Porcupine was awfully excited, as he loved parties. But they had not gone very far when a great rumble was heard through the woods. 'Oh, what is that?' cried Billy Porcupine, and before his brother had time to answer what should they see coming toward them but a great big lion. The lion spied Billy first, and, seeing his quills weren't very strong, he thought to himself, 'I'll soon do away with that delicate little morsel.' But he hadn't seen Billy's brother, who quickly shoved Billy back of him and stood in front of the lion, with his quills sticking straight out.

"Then the big lion began to tremble as he looked at the sharp, long quills of Billy's brother. He saw he couldn't get at Billy without attacking Billy's brother, and so the great big lion turned away from the little porcupine, shivering with fear at the mere thought of those awful quills of Billy's brother, and ran.

"So through his sharp quills he saved his brother's life, and how happy the porcupine family felt at Billy's rescue I needn't tell you."

By Alice Gibson

There are quite a few new touches to distinguish the separate blouse of to-day from its predecessors of some seasons ago. Although they are charmingly simple, more attention is given to the details, collars, cuffs and sleeves than ever before.

Number 7713 combines a drop shoulder with a raglan sleeve. This may be in full length or in elbow length with turn back cuff, as illustrated. The stitched tucks down the front and the sailor collar are other effective points.

Crepe de Chine has been one of the most popular materials for these blouses this season, and cotton crepe is also favored because of its wearing and washing qualities.

The most practical way of setting in the sleeve, where the waist has a drop shoulder, is to stitch it before closing the underarm seam of the blouse and the inside seam of the sleeve. These may then both be joined in one long seam after the sleeve has been adjusted. This method makes it much easier to get the line of stitching around the armhole even and neat.

To make this design in size 36 it requires 2¼ yards of 36 inch material. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes; 32 to 42.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

CANCEL UPSALA COLLEGE TAX.

Elizabeth, Jan. 21.—An assessment of $1,600 on two lots, owned by Upsala College, Kenilworth, was canceled Monday by the County Board for the Equalization of Taxes. Action on the Summit Y. M. C. A., Columbia Club, of Elizabeth, and Plainfield Elks' assessment appeals was postponed.

ON POLICEWOMAN.

Mrs. Meldin, of Baltimore Md., employed last summer as a policewoman at Asbury Park, will speak on "The Policewoman Movement" at the W. C. T. U. meeting tomorrow afternoon.

—To the housewife the value-quest is unending—for it is a part of her daily "business." And this fact makes the store ads a "business matter" with her.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

ANTI-SUFFRAGE NEWS AND VIEWS.

A large anti-suffrage luncheon was held at the Hotel Somerset, Boston, on January 13, at which the president, Mrs. James M. Codman, according to the Boston Journal, told the antis, "Never admit that this is a lost cause." On the same occasion Mrs. Josephine Daskam Bacon gave her fellow-antis some advice which they seem to be taking to heart. She said that if they hope to advance their cause they must find new arguments as the old ones are useless and worn-out; that the argument that government is based on force is ridiculous, because while men are stronger than women, so are prize-fighters stronger than essayists; that the claim that woman does not need the vote because she has indirect influence does not appeal to sensible women because they can see no reason why they should not have both; that it is painful to repeat the old cry of "leaving the home," because even the antis have to leave their homes when they go about organizing and speaking against suffrage. She said, "The difference between feminism and suffrage must be clearly distinguished. I believe in the latch-key for women. I believe in better pay for woman's work—I even believe that man should hand over to the woman, not as a charity, but as her pay for running his house and rearing his children, part of the money that he earns. But I am not a suffragist merely because I could never see a way in which the ballot could help me." Frank at any rate!

So now Mrs. George and Mrs. Dodge and Mrs. Goodwin and Miss Bronson are all chorusing:

"Suffrage mean socialism."

"Suffragists are feminists."

"Feminism means free love and sex-war."

The Socialists themselves don't think that woman suffrage means the success of socialism, having observed its workings in several states and preferring fact to theory. Men and women are admitted to membership in the Socialist party on equal terms, but the ratio of women to men members is one to ten. In every state in the Union the Socialist vote of 1912 showed a marked advance over that of 1908, the average increase in the country at large being 112 per cent. But in every state where women had had the ballot long enough to compare one presidential election with another the increase in the Socialist vote was below the average. In 1912 not one of the old suffrage states elected a Socialist to the Legislature. The newly enfranchised states, Washington and California, elected one apiece; but then so did Massachusetts and several other non-suffrage states, and Illinois, by the votes of men alone, elected four Socialist legislators. Wisconsin elected seven and on the same day defeated woman suffrage by a large majority. The strongest Socialist wards of Milwaukee, which gave a majority of three and four to one to the Socialist candidates, gave almost the same majority against woman suffrage.

Feminism is a comprehensive term and is used with a different meaning at various times and in various places. Fifty years ago the "Feminists" were those who believed in higher education for women. A century or so ago they were those dreadful radicals who favored women being allowed to learn the alphabet. In China today they are the advocates of unbound feet for women. Everything which means larger opportunities for women is properly classified under the term "Feminism." The antis always give the word a sinister twist and affect to find concealed in it the bogies of free love and sex-war. As a matter of fact everybody knows that women are much stricter than men in both their opinions and their practice of domestic morality. One of the leading advocates of freeing women from moral restraints is that eminent anti-suffragist, Emma Goldman, one of whose most popular lectures is entitled "The Folly of Woman Suffrage."

As for sex war, the National Suffrage Association has been circulating for years a leaflet which says among other things:

"American men are the best men in the world, and it it were possible for any men to represent women, through kindness and good will to them, American men would do it. But a man is by nature too different from a woman to be able to represent her. The two creatures are unlike. Whatever his good will, he cannot fully put himself in a woman's place and look at things exactly from her point of view. To say this is no more a reflection upon his mental or moral ability than it would be a reflection upon his musical ability to say that he cannot sing both soprano and bass. Unless men and women should ever become just alike (which would be regrettable and monotonous), women must either go unrepresented or represent themselves."

One of the first questions asked Doctor Katharine Bement Davis when she took up the duties of her new office as commissioner was whether she believed in woman suffrage. "Personally," she replied, "I believe in suffrage so firmly that I simply cannot argue about it with an anti-suffragist. The arguments against it sound like the prattle of a child."

EIGHT STRAIGHT AND A RECORD

N. P. H. S. Girls Appear on Kearny Court and Win a Record Low Score Match.

GUARDING FEATURES

Both Sets of Goal Protectors Show Class and Prevent Many Two-Point Tallies—Miss Burtis Leads Locals in Scoring Line.

The North Plainfield High School girls' basketball team went to Kearny yesterday afternoon and brought home the large end of a 9 to 6 score. The game was slow and uninteresting, being featured by many arguments on the part of the home team. The baskets at each end of the hall were difficult to shoot for, which accounted for the low score.

The home official was very strict in the first period and the local girls suffered from many penalties. The home team did not secure a field goal in this period, owing to the fast work of the local guards, who kept their opponents worried at all times. The score was tied, however, on fouls, Miss Terry caging three from the fifteen foot mark and Miss Carling one. The first half was played with side centres, Miss Green and Miss Hagenbush playing for their respective teams. The half ended with the score 4 to 4.

No sooner than the last half had started, Miss Burtis gave the Canadians the lead by dropping a field goal and followed this with a foul. The local guards again worked like demons and kept the ball out of dangerous territory most of the time. The game progressed for about ten minutes with no scoring and again was interrupted by "squabbles." After one of the "rest periods," Miss Carling, captain of the home team, made the sensational shot of the game over the head of her big opponent. This ended the home team's part of the scoring, but Miss Burtis was bound to have the last crack and sent the ball sailing into the basket for two more points. The home guards also played well and spoiled shots galore that the "Canadians" were about to turn into points. Miss Burtis made seven out of the local team's total, while the Misses Carling and Terry divided honors, each getting three points. The team was accompanied by Miss Ray. This makes the eighth straight victory for the local girls.

"Sportdom Tips"

PROMISING TRIO.

In Pierce Harney, Louis Dixon and Frank Hand organized baseball will get a promising trio of ball tossers at the opening of the 1914 season two months hence. Through the efforts of Jack Martin, the local National Leaguer, Harney has landed a berth with Petersburg and Dixon has signed an Elmira contract. "Nibs" Hand has lined up with the Newark Bengals and should be a star performer in the International League this year. All three of the boys are well-known in this and other cities of the State where they have appeared on numerous semi-pro teams and we await with interest their debut in the organized circles.

WILL COME HALF WAY.

It was stated this morning by one interested in North Plainfield High School athletics that the N. P. H. S. basketball five, the conceded Interscholastic League champs, will meet the Hope Chapel quintet, champions of Plainfield, half way if the church boys' manager sees fit to accept these conditions. Much agitation has been stirred by the Hope Chapel manager over the proposed scrap and the boroughites are willing to play any number of games on the Y. M. C. A. court to decide the title. This is fair enough for all concerned. North Plainfield is inevitable in Saengerbund Hall and the Chapelites are unbeatable in the Fourth street rendezvous. Therefore, why not get together and play the contest on a court neutral to all, the Y. M. C. A.?

EIGHT IN A ROW.

Rivaling the record set up by the boys' basketball team of the North Plainfield High School this season for consecutive victories, the feminine quintet of the borough school has to date annexed a string totaling eight victories. Considering the many cancellations and other misfortunes with which the team has had to contend this record is a remarkable one and has seldom been equalled either in this city or borough. The victories have all been chalked up in close and well fought battles and the plucky little red and black team goes into the Interscholastic League match Friday afternoon with confidence gained on many courts.

Ed. Burdick, of Albany, who is instructing Billy Sulzer in the manly arc of self-defense, claims that the former New York governor is a second Bob Fitzsimmons. It might be well for Ruby Robert to stage his come-back stunt in Albany with Sulzer as his ring opponent. Fitz would be able to stave off the wolf for several more weeks with the proceeds that would come from such a match.

Much interest is being manifested in the boxing class established by Jack Payne in the Y. M. C. A. and a number of Y. M. C. A. members are taking advantage of the opportunity offered to learn the science of boxing from a capable master.

Hope Chapel basketball players, like many diamond performers who gain renown in sportdom, have taken to the stage. The city champions ought to prove great drawing cards in their mock trial next month. Come and look them over.

That $150 per month salary offer the Federals are alleged to have made to Jack Martin failed to tempt the local ballplayer from all appearances. Jack says that the Feds were evidently trying to buy that gilded bat he has adorning the walls of his winter home.

Plainfield High School baseball players are negotiating for a game in West Point. We are led to suspect that several of the local athletes are contemplating joining the army.

What has become of those Plainfield High School wrestlers? Like all other mat artists who spasmodically appear in the public limelight, these exponents of catch-as-catch-can art have retired for a short time to frame up another public demonstration.

FIGURES SHOW THAT FOOTBALL IS POPULAR AMONG COLLEGES

Some astonishing figures, showing the widespread popularity of intercollegiate football during the season of 1913, have been compiled by Parke Davis, Princeton's member of the rules committee.

According to his estimates, computed from personally collected data, 400 colleges and 5,000 schools throughout the country were represented by elevens last autumn.

Approximately 43,200 games were played and 1,500,000 players participated in the contests and practise. Placing the average attendance at these games as low as 300, the total attendance would not be far from 13,000,000.

YALE ELIMINATED.

New Haven, Jan. 21.—Yale was eliminated last night from the race for the intercollegiate basketball championship when the Elis lost to Princeton 30 to 9.

Henry Clauss' mark of 266 was a feature of an Elks' League bowling match decided at Plainfield, last night, the home team losing two games out of three to the Elizabeths. Clauss' 266 was within two pins of the individual high score for the season in the Elks' League, held by Charley Starr, of New York, with 268. Elizabeth was there for 935 in the first game last night and won by thirty-two pins.

Plainfield came right back with 937 and, though the visitors were there for 924, they had to admit defeat by thirteen pins. The last game saw Elizabeth increase the pace a bit, and a total of 979 was enough to win by 122 pins. Bock rolled 235 last night for Elizabeth, and Maloney had 205. JERSEY CITY TOOK THREE AND REGAINED LOST GROUND

Jersey City bowlers got back in first place in the Elks' League race last night, again ousting the Newarks. The trick was turned when the Hudson county pin-knights, on their own drives, captured three games in a row from the New York quintet. The pinning was classy in this match, Jersey City had totals of 947, 961 and 988.

The visitors were not in the hunt in the first encounter with a total of 891, but made a fight of it in the next two games with 921 and 949, respectively. Engelking did nice pinning for the New York five, with counts of 211 and 209 and an average of exactly 200. A. Westphal had 207 and Pringle 203. Wright tallied 221 and 215 for the home five and averaged 205. Russell had 214. Delehanty 215 and 214, with an average of 202-2, and Wasserman 220. Here are all the scores

HOWE'S BIG SCORE PROVED UNAVAILING

Yorktown Pinners Bowl Consistently and Overcome Phenomenal Work.

Yorktown pinners in the Columbus Club bowling League bombarded the Germantown quintet and forced the latter pinners to retreat in two out of the three contests rolled on the club alleys last night firing guns that knocked over 909 wooden images in the final match. Getting off to a poor start the Yorktowners fell thirteen pins short of equalling the Germantown team's high water mark in the initial set-to, and although George Howe created a big stir when he rang up 220 fares in the middle contest, a 202 set up by Forrestel and a 171 recorded by H. Shannon offset the big advantage and the Yorktown crew evened matters up. Although Howe was supported by Wilson with a 191 the other trio of members in the lineup fell to a low level and the team went under.

All of the bowlers took a decided brace in the rubber match, George Howe duplicating his hair-raising stunt of the previous battle. Jim Cullen had a big revival, however, totaling up a 216 in this match, and with the aid of Kennedy and Forrestel managed to offset the high marks of Hillman and Howe.

George Howe's bowling was little short of phenomenal last night and during the three clashes he set up scores of 201, 220 and 220 for a grand average of 213.2. This is a mark seldom equaled by the average bowler and will probably stand for some time as a record.

DEMAREE AND MURRAY SIGN.

More signed contracts were received at the headquarters of the New York major league clubs yesterday. President Hempstead, of the Giants, found the contract of Al Demaree in the morning mail, also a letter from Red Murray stating that the club's terms had been accepted by him and that he would sign his contract in a day or two.

CARLSTROM GETS OFFER.

Albin Carlstrom, who played shortstop for the Plainfield Pets during the championship baseball race last season, has just turned down an offer to play with the Pittsburg club of the outlaw Federal League. Carlstrom decided to remain with Montreal to which he was recently sold by the Red Sox.

N. P. H. S. CLASS BASKERBALL TITLE AT STAKE TOMORROW

The class basketball championship of the North Plainfield High School will be decided in Saengerbund Hall tomorrow afternoon when the teams of the Junior and Sophomore classes will meet in the play-off. The Sophomores being last year's champions are the favorites by a small margin, while the Juniors have given them one never-to-be-forgotten drubbing this year. It has not yet been decided as to the kind of prizes that shall be given the winner but medals or a banner for the High School have been suggested. The teams will lineup as follows:

JUNIORS		SOPHOMORES
Tomkinson	Forwards.	Townley
Fetherstone	Forwards.	Kirchgasse
Day (capt.)	Center.	Newkirk
French	Guards.	McDonough (capt.)
Chandler	Guards.	Dilts, LaPorte

The winners will meet the senior class team in a post season contest for the school championship. First team players will be allowed in this game.

WITH THE BOXERS

Tommy Murphy says he will retire from the ring if he is defeated in his bout with Willie Ritchie.

Danny Morgan predicts that the fight managers "who want the earth" will eventually kill the game in New York.

Rochester has a new bantamweight boxer known as the "Alfalfa Kid." He is willing to mix with any boy at 110 to 145 pounds.

Bob McAllister, the California boxer, has taken down $3,982.42 all told in the three bouts he has boxed since arriving in New York.

Joe Rivers is trying to arrange a bout with Willie Ritchie. Joe has declined to box Leach Cross again. He has already defeated him three times.

Evidently Battling Levinsky considers the Flynns his dish. Having disposed of "Porky" Bat is now preparing to tackle Jim, the Pueblo fireman.

Joe Borrell, the Philadelphia middleweight, has decided to try his luck across the pond. He is preparing to sail for England early next month.

May 29 has been named as the date for the Jack Dillon-George Chip fight in Indianapolis. That means a long wait before one will be able to determine which of these two scrappers is the real one.

Five years ago Georges Carpentier, who is said to be worth $100,000, was working for $4 a week. Three years ago Jack Johnson was worth $100,000, and if things don't break right for him pretty soon he will most likely be tackling Georges' old job at four per.

BASEBALL NOTES

"King" Cole's leap to the Federals cost the New York Yankees the $2,500 they paid in graft money to the Columbus club.

Doc Watson, a southpaw twirler who was tried out by the Chicago Cubs last fall, has been released to the Milwaukee club.

At the new home of the New York Yankees the outfield fence will be so far from the home plate that it will be impossible to bat the ball out of the park.

Nick Young, former president of the National League and a prominent figure in baseball for forty years, is reported to be seriously ill at his home in Washington.

Dave Altizer has decided to cast his lot with the Federals. As Davey was once a private in Uncle Sam's army he is sweet on any kind of an old war.

The addition of Toronton and Erie to the Canadian League circuit will place that organization in Class B. The total population of the league circuit as now formed is close to 900,000.

C. J. Miles, of Hastings, Neb., succeeds A. C. Felt as president of the Nebraska State League. The Nebraska circuit comprises Kearney, Hastings, Grand Island, Beatrice, York, Superior, Fremont and Columbus.

Well, of all things! John Power, former president of the Federal League, says he is forming an organization to fight the Federals and will have teams in Providence, Brooklyn, Wilmington, Scranton, Detroit, Cleveland, Boston and Milwaukee.

NO REVERSE LEAPS.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Ban Johnson, president of the American League, announced yesterday that American League players that jump to the Federals will not be allowed to return to the parent organization if they wish to. He also was authority for the announcement that Edgar Willett, of Detroit, had been signed by the St. Louis Federal League team.

FORD JUMPS, SWEENEY'S MOVE.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Russell Ford, veteran pitcher of the New York Americans, has signed a Federal League contract and will wear a Chicago uniform. Ed Sweeney, who has been Ford's main backstop, is said not to have signed a Federal contract, but is still negotiating with Manager Tinker and it is believed he will be lined up.

SCOUT MARTIN PICKS A PAIR

Plainfield Jack, Playing the Scout Role, Places Harney and Dixon in Leagues.

BOTH ARE LOCAL STARS

Former Dunellen Catcher Will Go to Elmira and Bound Brook Youth Leaves for Petersburg—Records of Both Well Known.

Through the efforts of Jack Martin, Plainfield's representative in the National League, Louis Dixon and Pierce Harney, two well known semi-professional diamond performers of this city and Bound Brook, respectively, have been brought to the attention of minor league managers and will make their debut in organized baseball circles this spring. Dixon has signed a contract with the Elmira team of the New York State League and will come under the wing of Conroy, Jack Martin's former teammate and third baseman for the New York Yankees, who is at present manager of the Elmira team. Dixon will be given a tryout as catcher on the team and if his past performances and phenomenal work on local and suburban diamonds may be taken as a criterion he is due to make good in every sense of the word.

Louis Dixon began his baseball career on the local sand lots, being a Plainfield bred youngster and a star of kid games when he played with the sod-busters and bat-splitters. He was recognized as a leader with the wagon-tongue and was generally considered as a hero among the younger generation. When he became big enough to control his legs and frolic about the ball field without being watched by a nurse he cast his lot with the West End Athletic Club and made his first appearance on a real team in 1909 in the uniform of the West End A. C. In 1910 Dixon caught for, and captained, the West End A. C. in the Manufacturers' Paseball League and while playing in the factory organization he came before the eyes of Bob Bogardus who was at that time managing the Dunellen team of the Central New Jersey League. When Eugene Lidgate went with Baltimore in 1911 Dixon was given a tryout behind the bat for Dunellen and made good on the spot. He became Warry McLaughlin's regular battery partner and caught the big fellow's slants until last season when he went to the Brunswick team of the Empire League.

Dixon's minor league career was a short one however, as he was soon forced to return to his home in this city because of illness. He was a physical wreck during the latter part of last season and played little baseball, doing outfield duty for various Central League teams, "Nibs" Hand having obtained the Dunellen catching job during the big fellow's sojourn in the South.

Pierce Harney, who hails from Bound Brook, is a pitcher and comes from baseball stock that has been famous in this State for thirty years or more. Harney's father is known as the "New Jersey Grand Old Man of Baseball" and wherever his son performs the father is right on hand to look after the kid's arm and assist him in every possible way. He has pitched for Plainfield, Scotch Plains, Dunellen, Bound Brook and Somerville and other New Jersey teams at various times and last year played several games in a local uniform during the Central League race. Harney will go to Petersburg.

New Mayor of Boston, Who Served a Jail Sentence.

James M. Curley, recently elected mayor of Boston, has held public office continuously since 1911. He was serving his second term in the house of representatives. In 1908 he was convicted of conspiring to defraud the government by impersonating another man at a civil service examination and served a sentence of two months without interruption.

RADIUM REMOVES A BIG KNOT FROM MAN

Takes It Off His Forehead In a Month.

Baltimore, Jan. 21.—A patient has just been dismissed from Dr. Kelly's sanitarium who, when the radium treatment was started about a month ago, had a knot on his forehead as large as his fist and had to have hats especially made that would cover the growth.

Out of consideration for others and at some discomfort to himself while a guest at the Hotel Altamount, he would wear his hat indoors at the time. After he had been treated for a week or more he had to abandon his specially made hat and get another. At the end of the month the growth had been entirely dried up, and he left Baltimore with an ordinary hat upon his head and only a red spot like a sunburn to tell where the growth had been.

Although in a critical condition from a growth thought to be a cancer, Mrs. Annie E. Noe, wife of D. M. Noe, a wealthy hardware dealer of Springfield, Mo., bore up well during the thirty hour ride to this city to receive the radium treatment at Dr. Kelly's sanitarium.

Peter Pryal, seventy-two years old, declared today that through a miracle in answer to his prayers to the Virgin Mother for two years a cancer on his nose, from which he has suffered for the last twenty-seven years, has been cured. The old man said that the miracle was wrought last Wednesday night. He retired on that night and on awakening in the morning discovered to his joy that the cancer, which had been eating its way into his left eye and into his brain, had been cured.

RAGGED SOLDIERS OF HUERTA IN U. S.

2,500 Mexican Troops Reach Fort Bliss, Tex.

CONFERENCE WITH LIND.

Villa Moves on to Torreon—Rumor That Dictator Huerta Is to Turn Over Reins of Government to Commission of Five Men Is Refuted.

El Paso, Jan. 21.—Fort Bliss is the home now for 2,500 ragged and starved Mexican federal fighters and camp followers. Three sections of the refugees and prison caravan from Presidio arrived at the post and more are coming to complete the full quota of the Mexican federal refugees who fled from Ojinaga to Texas and surrendered to the United States soldiers when driven from their trenches by the rebels.

Generals Mercado, Landa, Aduna and Romero arrived with the first three trains. The other trains will bring Generals Castro and Oppinal.

Vera Cruz, Jan. 21.—Flores Magon, Mexican ex-minister of the interior and candidate for vice president at the elections last October, who admits that he is the unofficial representative of General Huerta, had another interview with John Lind, special American representative. The result of the discussion is reported on good authority to be very satisfactory.

Former United States Marshal W. M. Hanson of Texas has been arrested near Tampico by the rebels, who accuse him of being a federal spy. He has been sent to Matamoras for trial. Consul Miller is making every effort to obtain his release.

Mexico City, Jan. 21.—One million dollars' worth of cotton and cotton warehouses will fall into the hands of the rebels if General Pancho Villa captures Torreon. The victorious Constitutionalist leader was reported to be advancing on Torreon, and that is considered the principal reason why General Huerta wanted to take the field in person.

Huerta is said to have abandoned his plan, at least for the present, after a cabinet meeting which lasted until early this morning. The ministers unanimously refused to approve Huerta's proposal to lead the federal army against the rebels. The dictator called his advisers together unexpectedly and asked them to sanction his plan. They all refused and were so vehement in their protests that Huerta gave in.

Huerta Rumor Denied.

A rumor that Huerta planned to resign and turn over the reins of government to a commission of five men was refuted by all of the five. The men mentioned were visited personally and characterized the story as absurd. All denied that they had been approached by Huerta or anybody else on such a proposition.

Archbishop Mora brought about the release from prison of Senator Somellera, national chairman of the Catholic party, and Senor Zepeda. The archbishop visited Huerta in behalf of the men and the dictator ordered their release. Somellera owns and Zepeda edits La Nacion, a Catholic newspaper. They were sentenced to the San Juan de Ulua prison at Vera Cruz for alleged sedition.

The movement launched by the Union Hispano-Americana of Madrid to have an armistice declared as the first step toward peace in Mexico seems destined to have little effect. Both Huerta and Carranza, the rebel leader, were to have received copies of the letter sent out by the Madrid organization asking them to appoint agents to discuss "in the calm atmosphere of a friendly country the questions at issue" today, but it is generally believed that neither will heed the request. Huerta has made it plain on many former occasions that he is very jealous of outside interference, and if Carranza were so inclined he could accomplish nothing without some sign of co-operation from his antagonist. Dispatches from Madrid say that the association's letter is to be followed up by cablegrams and letters from many peace advocates and societies imploring the Mexicans to cease their fighting.

JAMESTOWN CASHIER CAUGHT

Edward Morgan, Long Missing, Is Arrested In Cleveland.

Cleveland, Jan. 21.—With his pockets filled with bottles labeled poison, Edward Morgan, sixty-three years old former cashier of the First National bank at Jamestown, N. Y., was arrested here. Federal bank examiners claimed to have found a shortage of $14,500 in the bank funds. Morgan is held as a fugitive from justice.

He had $866.50. His only explanation of the bottles found in his room and in his pockets was a shrug of the shoulders, the detectives said. Jamestown police were notified.

Lord Strathcona Sinking.

London, Jan. 21.—Lord Strathcona, high commissioner for Canada, continued to sink. He lapsed into unconsciousness during the day and the venerable statesman's death seems now only a question of hours. A bulletin stated that he passed a moderate night.

PRESENT MEDAL TO MR. DUTCHER

Distinguished Honor Bestowed On Him by Camp Fire Club of America.

AT HIS HOME HERE

Dr. Hornaday Makes Presentation Speech—Messages From Seton, Beach and Bachellor Read by Edmund Seymour.

At a simple but impressive gathering at his home on Park avenue, William Dutcher was honored yesterday afternoon in a manner that only four other men have been honored, when Medal of Honor Presented to William Dutcher.

Dr. William T. Hornaday presented to him the medal of honor of the Camp-Fire Club of America, which is only given in recognition of unusual service. The medal, prior to yesterday, had been pinned on the breast of Dr. Hornaday, Theodore Roosevelt, Gifford Pinchot and Ernest Thompson Seton. Because of Mr. Dutcher having been in ill health for many months, due to a stroke of paralysis, but a very few of the friends whom he has co-operated with in his splendid work of protecting bird life were present.

The medal is a handsome one of size, and has the head of a mountain sheep from which is hung a pendant, around the edge of which are pine cones. In the centre of the circle is the inscription, "Camp-Fire Club of America. For Eminent Service, 1914." The reverse is engraved, "To William Dutcher, Founder of the National Association of Audubon Societies, for his work in Protecting American Birds."

Probably no more fitting tribute to Mr. Dutcher's work can be found than in the address of Dr. Hornaday in making the presentation, in which he said:

"For several years the Camp-Fire Club has noted your career as a protector of the wild birds of America. It remembers the victories that were won by you as a commanding general on the firing-line in the Army of Defense. It never can forget the great victory you and your organization won at Albany in 1909 over the millinery trade of New York, when the Dutcher bill became the Dutcher law, forbidding the sale of the white badge of cruelty in the Empire State.

"The men of the Camp-Fire Club have noted the fact that for at least twenty years you have labored in behalf of our native birds, for no other compensation than that which comes to a high-minded citizen with a realization of duty done, and success achieved. We know that millions of American farmers and fruit-growers whose farms and orchards you have benefitted by your protection of insectivorous birds do not realize today to whom they are indebted. Some of those who knew five years ago, or ten years ago, may by this time have forgotten.

"But there are some men who never forget such services as you have rendered your country. The 450 strong men of the Camp-Fire Club of America have not forgotten William Dutcher, or his work, or his victories for our birds. As a token of remembrance and high appreciation, the men of the Camp-Fire Club have voted unanimously to offer you the highest honor and the most precious material thing within its gift. This committee has been charged with the duty of bestowing upon you the club's gold medal for eminent service. We have been ordered to journey here and pin this emblem of the club's appreciation, admiration and affectionate regard over one of the bravest and truest hearts that ever beat for humanity and for the protection of

ZEREGA DECLINES THE APPOINTMENT

Salary of Deputy Collector of Income Tax, $1,200, Too Small He Says.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Because of the meagerness of the salary, John F. Zerega, of Plainfield, who was selected last week as one of the six deputy collectors for New Jersey, has written to Senator Martine declining the position. The pay is $1,200 a year and that, Mr. Zerega stated, would be insufficient to support himself.

Senator Martine has not made up his mind yet as to what he will do now. He said there was a chance that Mr. Zerega might reconsider, but that the chance was slim. Representative Tuttle, whose district includes Plainfield, declared he was ignorant of Zerega's declination of the place. The patronage was purely Senator Martine's, and if Zerega wouldn't take the job the problem of finding another man would then be entirely up to the Senator.

After expressing his thanks to Senator Martine for the Senator's activity in his behalf, Mr. Zerega wrote:

"I feel that I have been highly honored by being mentioned for the appointment that I understand my name has been sent in for. The salary of $1,200 which goes with this office is insufficient to meet my expenses, if it is necessary for me to devote all my time to the work and give up my business in New York."

Senator Martine has not heard from any of the others who were selected to serve as income tax collectors."

"That's the great difficulty," he said. "We need trained men and to get the right kind of men to serve for $1,200 is no easy task."

FUNERAL SERVICE OF ROY BELUE IS HELD HERE

The funeral of Ray Belue, who died in Spokane, Washington, was held at 200 West Second street, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was attended by a number of relatives and friends. There were many floral tributes, including one from the Young Men's Association of Hope Chapel, of which the young man was a member before going West.

Rev. F. L. Greene, pastor of Hope Chapel, conducted the service, reading the Scriptures and offering prayer. The burial was in Hillside cemetery and the pall-bearers were George Meyers, Fred Stewart, Bertram Smith, George E. Leighs and Walter I. Firstbrook.

"AMATEUR NIGHT" PROVED TO BE THE REAL THING

A pleasing innovation greeted those who attended the weekly meeting of the Doyle and McCormack dancing class in Debele's auditorium last night, twelve laugh producers hailing from the "Great White Way" being on hand to supply preliminary amusement for the dancers.

The oldtime "Amateur Night" with its thrills, cat-calls and hooking supplied entertainment for a large number of guests and besides the professional talents a number of local amateur actors provided amusement for the guests. Following the show dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

CHOIR TO GIVE CONCERT.

The quartet choir of the First M. E. church, this city, will give a concert in the Park Avenue Methodist church, of Orange, tomorrow evening. This is the beginning of a series of concerts which the quartet will give during the winter months. While the individual voices are always heard to best advantage in solo numbers, still the ensemble work is very striking and well balanced. The assisting soloist with the quartet will be Adolph Bock, violinist, of New York.

PARK CLUB FUNCTIONS.

Arrangements have been made for a costume dance to be held at the Park Club, Wednesday night, February 11, under the direction of the entertainment committee. There will also be a subscription dance at the club on Saturday night, January 31.

JAMES H. DALY'S FUNERAL.

Funeral services for James H. Daly, a captain of the fire department, who died early yesterday morning, will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's church. Interment will be made at St. Mary's cemetery.

ALUMNI DANCE FEB. 24.

Clarence Hand, chairman of the arrangement committee, has issued invitations for the North Plainfield High School Alumni dance, to be held February 24, in the Park Club.

TRY TO UNRAVEL ELLIS MYSTERY

Prosecutor Pope Believes That Through Carl He Can Get Assailant.

HEARING TOMORROW

Mother Visit Prisoner in Somerset County Jail—His Counsel Claims There Was a "Conspiracy"—To Summon Pinkerton.

Somerville, N. J., Jan. 22.—While it now seems well established that Paul Carl did not shoot Monroe F. Ellis, the Basking Ridge lumber dealer, in November, 1911, there is a strong possibility that through the young man the actual culprit may be discovered. This is believed to be the reason why Prosecutor Frederick A. Pope has refused to free Carl from the Somerset county jail, where he has been for the past week.

The prosecutor has been pursuing a mysterious course in the Carl case, giving different reasons for keeping Carl in a cell after his "confession" had been disproved by means of involuntary alibis which substantiated the prisoner's retraction. County Detective Totten is still working on a line which he won't tell about, but which will, he thinks, do more to clear up the Ellis matter than anything yet attempted.

Carl will have a hearing probably tomorrow before County Judge Daniel H. Beekman. Prosecutor Pope expects to have Allen Pinkerton, head of the detective agency which worked up the case against Carl, and John A. Roebling, who paid the fees, as witnesses in his effort to hold the prisoner for awhile longer.

Just how the real criminal is to be arrived at through Carl isn't clear. The authorities are silent on that point, but they hint that maybe the boy knows who did fire the charge of buckshot into Ellis' body and that he had a pretty good reason for assuming the blame himself.

Carl's mother visited him in his cell. Branton H. Moore, counsel for Carl, gave out a new version of the case. He said that the "conspiracy" against his client was defeated by the fact that Mrs. Grace Holly, the boy's aunt and an employee of Ellis, refused to perjure herself.

ENDEAVOR SOCIETY TO HOLD MUSICAL

An attractive musical has been planned by the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church to be held at the church on Friday night, January 30. The artists will be Miss Elizabeth St. Ives, soprano soloist of the church, whose work at church services has been so much enjoyed, and Ford Hummel and his son, Earle Hummel, of Kingston, N. Y., violinsts. The program will be as follows:

Birthday, Woodman, Miss St. Ives; Meditation (Thais), Massenet, Earle Hummel; I Will Extol Thee (from Eli), Costa, Miss St. Ives; Obertass, Wieniawski; The Nightingale, Vienxtemps; The Bee, Bohm, Ford Hummel; Ecstasy, Rummel, Miss St. Ives; Simple Confession, Thome; Frolic Under the Christmas Tree, Miersch, Earle Hummel.

FUNERAL OF MRS. AUTEN.

The funeral of Mrs. John F. Auten was held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of her sisters, the Misses Chandler, in the New Madison apartments, and was largely attended. Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, of which Mrs. Auten was a member, officiated. The burial, which was private, took place this morning in the Methodist cemetery.

TALK ON SCHOOL LUNCHES.

Under the auspices of the Plainfield Mothers' Association, Miss Clare, supervisor of school lunches in the New York Public Schools, will make an address at a public meeting to be held at the Plinfield Public Library at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The public is cordially invited and everyone interested will be made welcome.

GIRLS' CLUB HOLDS A "KITCHEN SHOWER"

Congregational Church Society Contributes Utensils for New Kitchen.

Under the auspices of the Girls' Club of the Congregational church, a "kitchen shower" was held yesterday afternoon in the parish house, in connection with the first meeting in the new building, the purpose being to equip the kitchen with needed articles. About fifty people joined in the affair and contributed to the general equipment. An amusing feature was that each article was accompanied by a merry jest or jingle composed by the donor, the reading of which provoked much merriment.

The club held its regular meeting, the features of which was an interesting paper by Miss Ethel Van Zandt on "Forestry and Lumbering," and a piano solo by Miss Myra Emmons. After the "shower," the members of the club to the number of twenty-eight remained for supper. Miss Ethel Van Zandt and Miss Lillian Whitall had charge of the arrangements for the supper, and they were assisted by other members.

MISS VIOLA TITUS BRIDE OF W. H. KENNEDY

Miss Viola Titus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Titus, and William Hope Kennedy, both of Dunellen, were married at the home of the bride's parents, in Dunellen avenue, that borough, last night. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. William A. Knox, pastor of the Dunellen M. E. church.

Miss Lillian Titus, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Monroe Pyatt acted as best man. The Misses Helen Titus and Dorothy Smith as flower girls threw roses in the path of the bridal party as it proceeded from the hall to the reception room, where the bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Titus was gowned in white satin and shadow lace, and carried bride roses. The bridesmaid and flower girls wore pink. The rooms were decorated in pink and white and a profuse display of evergreens, palms and ferns. A wedding feast was served, the table decorations consisting of a color scheme of white and gold.

As a gift from the bridegroom, the best man received a stick pin and the bride gave her attendants appropriate gold collar pins. After the wedding feast the couple departed on a short honeymoon and on their return will reside in a newly erected house in Dunellen avenue.

GEORGE BECKER SENT TO JAIL IN DEFAULT OF BOND

George Becker, of South Plainfield, was arraigned before Justice Kaine, of that place, last night, charged with non-support by John M. Layton, overseer of the poor of Piscataway township, and committeed to the county jail in default of a bond of $300 to provide $3.50 a week toward the maintenance of his wife who is about to become a public charge in Piscataway township.

Township Counsel R. P. F. vonMinden brought out at the trial that Mrs. Becker has obtained no support from her husband in three years, the Charity Organization of Plainfield having supplied funds on different occasions until they found that she would become a permanent charge in Plainfield and turned her case over to the township, where she has resided for the past twenty years.

BOY'S ARREST CLEARS UP MYSTERY OF BURGLARY

Joseph Miskell, 14 years old, of 732 East Sixth street, and Frank McCarthy, 16 years old, of 649 East Sixth street, who ran away from home, the police say, on Saturday night and have been living in a shanty near the Netherwood Baby Camp, are locked up at police headquarters charged with having broken into W. H. Olmsted's stationery store in Watchung avenue, on Monday night, and stealing over $10 worth of goods. The loot consisted of toys, matches, harmonicas and baseballs. The youths will be arraigned befor City Judge DeMeza tomorrow morning.

Sergeant Maurice Higgins, noticing some boys enter the shanty, yesterday, started to investigate. Entering the shed, he surprised the youths and spied the stolen articles spread about on a table. The boys take their arrest lightly, singing and laughing in the cells at headuarters.

CULLOM'S CONDITION.

ROTH'S MARKET IS A MODEL SHOP

New Store Opened Today is Fitted With the Most Modern Equipment.

Roth & Company's new building for their meat market on East Front street was thrown open for inspection last night and a large number of people of this city and suburbs took advantage of the opportunity to inspect the equipment that was first used in the serving of customers this morning.

On the left is the meat market, the side wall of which has been faced with white enameled bricks and the counters faced with slabs of white marble, making a strictly sanitary equipment, the first of the kind in the city. Everything in the store, even to the cash registers, is new. Large tray scales that meet with every State weights and measure requirement have also been installed for the service of customers.

Along the left side of the room the meat blocks, counters and display cases have been placed. With the exception of the chopping block, the counters and shelves have been faced with white marble slabs. At the centre on this side a heavy plate glass enclosed display case has been placed, also faced with white marble, with a top of plate glass, and the meat that is placed therein for display is kept fresh and sweet by a dry refrigerating system which has been run through the case at the rear. This case will at night be lighted by a system of electric lights, so arranged that the light will be cast down into the case, thus setting off the display to the best advantage.

At the rear of the meat market a large, dry, cold refrigerator has been erected with a cold storage room in the rear for the storing of surplus stock. A system is used in this store that has not been installed in any other retail market in this town. That is the track system of conveying meat and supplies from one part to another in the building, and into the refrigerator and cold storage room. After the supplies have been placed on the hooks with which these conveyors are equipped they are not handled again until taken out of the refrigerator for inspection by a customer. The refrigerating system that is used throughout the store is of the dry cold air type which is operated by ammonia machines.

To the right of the main entrance at the front of the store is the fruit and fresh vegetable department, and just beyond is a delicatessen counter. Both are new additions to the trade of the company. All the delicacies sold at the delicatessen stand are made and prepared, with the exception of the various kinds of cheese, on the premises. A roomy refrigerator has been placed behind the delicatessen counter for storing and keeping the various products of that department.

At the rear of the delicatessen department is a glass enclosed office and back of that the canned goods and seafood sections. There is also an additional counter for poultry and supplies. At the opening for the inspection of customers, the store was artistically trimmed with numerous palms, ferns and other hothouse plants.

The light and sanitary conditions under which the store has been built have been carried out even in the lighting of the interior at night. In the two large display windows at the front of the store, where artistic exhibits in the meat line have been placed, there are twelve large electric lamps which not only light the windows but also add to the lighting of the interior. Besides these lights in the window there are twenty-four other large electric lights. In case of emergency, gas lights are provided.

L. Levin, the local manager, assisted by several other members of the firm, spent Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in the new building preparing for the inspection of last night. By the remarks of admiration of those who visited the store it was proven that their work was not futile.

LEONARD OPPOSES CALIFORNIA'S PLAN

Union Co. Man Believes He Sees Weak Points in Double-session Idea.

Assemblyman William A. Leonard is opposed to the California plan of legislation that will be considered by the New Jersey Legislature Monday night, when the judiciary committee makes its report on a measure introduced by Assemblyman McDermott, of Hudson county.

The measure provides for the amendment of the rules so that the lawmakers will have two sessions for the passage of bills. The first convention of members will be for the purpose of introducing bills and the second will be held after a recess of thirty days when the measures will be argued for and against, and the vote taken.

One paragraph provides that hearings shall be given at home for the constituents. This has its good features, Mr. Leonard believes, but the fact that the people generally are aware of the bills introduced and have plenty of time to voice their sentiments, makes this move rather unnecessary.

Mr. Leonard believes that during the thirty days intermission there will be plenty of time for the lobbyists to get busy. With a month in which to have the bills threshed out, there would be danger of having the good points stricken out with the poor provisions.

The California plan also would be the means of keeping many Assemblymen away from the House according to Mr. Leonard. If a man had no bills to introduce he would not attend the first session, as he would know there would be no voting until the second conclave. If none of the bills interested him, he would not attend the second gathering.

Mr. Leonard declared yesterday that Governor Hiram T. Johnson, of California, has not been impressed with the new idea. It has had a year's trial in California and will be tried another year.

ANNUAL MEETING OF POULTRY ASS'N

Lively Discussions Throughout Session—Taverner Elected President.

Lively discussions marked the annual meeting of the New Jersey Association for Poultry Improvement held in Exempt Firemen's Hall last night. W. H. Taverner, of Westfield, was chosen president, and in accepting the office he outlined what he proposed to accomplish during the next year and announcing that he had selected a ticket of his own which he would offer. He added that he believed a president or chairman of any organization had the right to have a very decided voice in the selection of his co-workers and for this reason he had drawn up a ticket naming a vice-president, secretary, treasurer and Board of Trustees which he wished the members to elect. Then he declared a recess of five minutes in order to remove a black board to the platform on which he intended to write his ticket, but so great were the protests and so apparent was the dissatisfaction that he was forced to abandon his plan. The following officers were unanimously chosen: Vice-president, George W. Endicott; secretary, W. J. Trembath; treasurer, Robert Slorah; assistant secretary, William Iseman.

Francis M. Legge declared that he had introduced an amendment to the by-laws at the last annual meeting which provided for a permanent board of trustees but the other members did not recall it and as the secretary's books were not available and the minutes of the last meeting had been lost a decision could not be arrived at. Mr. Legge's motion caused a hot debate. Former Mayor Charles J. Fisk finally introduced a motion to declare a five-minute recess for the nomination of a board by a committee appointed by the chair and after much discussion this was finally agreed upon and the following trustees selected for one year: Messrs. Fisk, Whitney, Mulford, Affleck and Armstrong.

$5,000 ROBBERY AT TAILOR SHOP

Burglars Loot Hirsch's Safe of Diamonds and Jewelry.

NOTHING ELSE TAKEN

Someone Familiar With the Place Did the Job Police Say—Left Their Tools Behind—Adopt Novel Method to Avoid Attention.

While Simon Hirsch, of 409 Watchung avenue, was sleeping soundly in his living quarters on the floor above his ladies' tailoring shop some time after 1 o'clock this morning burglars broke into his establishment and got away with approximately $5,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry. The valuables were taken from a safe, which they removed from the fitting room to the work shop, and which they had turned upside down and pried off the bottom using a crowbar to do so.

That the burglars were intimately acquainted with the place is shown by the fact, the police say, that they knew that the safe contained valuable jewels and also by the fact that they knew where a key to the door at the head stairway, through which they entered, was kept hidden. After using the key they replaced it where it is kept and they also removed the safe back to its right place on finishing the job. They knew the exact compartment in which the valuables were kept for they left other compartments untouched.

Before taking the safe into the work room, the burglars had placed Mr. Hirsch's fur coat, several suits of clothes and three pillows on the floor to deaden the sound.

Mr. Hirsch knew nothing of the burglary until he opened his shop for business this morning. On the floor he found the crow bar, a brace and bit and a pair of pinchers which have been turned over to the police. He says that he heard a noise, sounding like the dropping of a board, shortly after 1 o'clock this morning and going down to the store he found nothing disturbed. He told the police he does not know whether he had the diamonds and jewels insured.

BEARDSLEY IN JAIL; SORRY FOR HIS ACT

Outlaw Farmer Repents For Shooting Putnam.

Mayville, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Edward Beardsley, the "Chautauqua Terror," is locked in a cell in the county jail after having stood off fifty deputy sheriffs besieging his home, near Summerdale, for more than a week. Beardsley laid aside his rifle, unstrapped his cartridge belt and surrendered peaceably to Charles Backus, an attorney, but after being housed in a hotel here displayed another outbreak of warlike spirit when a deputy came to take him to jail. After a scuffle, during which Beardsley was roughly handled, he was overpowered.

Beardsley is charged with shooting and wounding Overseer of the Poor John G. W. Putnam of Chautauqua county.

Beardsley turned his firearms over to Ray F. Pickard, a Jamestown lawyer retained by his brothers. Pickard is now in charge at the Beardsley farmhouse. The "outlaw" was taken to Mayville by Backus and is now detained at the Mayville jail.

"That sheriff is rotten. I could have held out another week if I had enough fuel," was Beardsley's sharp criticism of the county guardian.

Beardsley is an undersized man, rather slim, but apparently muscular. He wore a rough workingman's shirt, rough trousers and high boots. The man is not an ignorant farmer, as might be imagined. He talks with ease and fluency of his troubles. He was at one time a teacher and a preacher of a humble sort, and his conversation is that of a man who is not without recognition of the fact that he knows exactly what he is talking about.

He said he did not intend to shoot Putnam and is sorry he did, but he acted in defense of his home.

PARTY GIVES HER ITS STATE REINS

Strong Political Machine Plan of Mrs. Lee of Colorado.

AS CHAIRMAN WILL BE BOSS

First of Her Sex In the United States to Occupy the Office—Tells How She Expects to Run the Coming Campaign and Elect a United States Senator and Four Representatives.

Mrs. Gertrude A. Lee, who has been selected as chairman of the Democratic state committee of Colorado, is the first woman in the country to occupy such an office. She says she is a machine politician. According to her view, a machine, impregnable and unassailable, alone can assure party success. Therefore she is planning to build in Colorado what she expects to be one of the greatest political machines of the age.

"By a machine," she declares, "I do not mean a corrupt body, but an organization pure in principle and certain in purpose. Consequently I am opposed to steam roller methods.

To Reorganize Party In State.

"I expect to remain chairman of the state committee until after the election next fall. We have a United States senator to elect, besides a full state ticket and four congressmen. My aim is to organize our party so that Democrats will be returned for all these offices.

"If possible I shall visit every county in the state and learn the true conditions. I shall try to organize the local committees and have a movement started that will assure party success in the fall.

"I hope to make the Democratic party the leading exponent of the rights of women. I hope within the next few months to bring the majority of the women of the state into the folds of our party.

"I am for party above the man. By that I mean that the candidate should be pledged to certain principles and that the individual equation should be wholly eliminated.

"My theory is: If the party goes wrong, bring it back; don't desert it in its hour of need."

Mrs. Lee was vice chairman of the committee. This made her ex officio chairman of the women's division of the state committee. Now she will hold both offices.

Was a Presidential Elector.

Mrs. Lee, who was born and reared at Grand Rapids, Mich., has lived in Colorado for years. She says her first interest in politics was developed while she was in high school pursuing the study of civil government. Her first official act in politics was as election judge the first year Colorado women voted. She was appointed by the Republican party and was one of the three persons in her precinct to vote the Democratic ticket. She was a Wilson presidential elector.

CELEBRITIES IN PAGEANT.

Colossal Greek Spectacle to Be Staged In Washington Next May.

The dramatic and social event of Washington this year will be a colossal production of "The Fire Regained," a great outdoor Greek pageant which will be given by Washington talent for a week the first part of next May. Between 700 and 800 persons will take part.

The plan is to make the pageant a national affair. The ladies of the White House and of cabinet and other official circles will be invited to participate. The leading characters will be taken by women and men of prominence. The scene of the spectacle will be one of Washington's famous sylvan domains to be designated later.

An amphitheater will be constructed in the shape of a horseshoe, fronting an accurate reproduction of the Partheron, which will be part of the background to the immense stage. The big dramatic feature will be the chariot race, in which some of the best riders and drivers in Washington's smart set will be the charioteers.

SHOES MAY BE $10 A PAIR.

Advance In the Retail Price Predicted by Dealers.

In the opinion of speakers at the annual convention of the National Shoe Retailers' association the retail price of shoes may soon reach $10 per pair. "Pure shoe laws," already adopted in twenty-five states, and several measures of the same nature now pending in congress were given as the chief causes for increasing the price of footwear. Both speakers and a majority of the 200 delegates present denounced the legislation which would cause all shoes not made entirely of leather to be stamped "adulterated" or "substitute leather."

The shoe retailers were told that if all shoes were made of leather 2,000,000 more hides per annum would be required in this country alone, and with hides practically in control of the larger packing houses it could not be foreseen to what heights shoe prices might soar.

Durazzo, member of the oldest and best known families in Italy, has been made. The wedding will take place Feb. 17. He is twenty-four years old and she is more than thirty years his senior. The inception of the romance began in their mutual devotion to the work of human uplift.

SLAYS WHOLE FAMILY THEN KILLS HIMSELF

Wife and Two Daughters Were the Victims.

New York, Jan. 22.—The discovery of a triple murder and suicide, all the victims being members of one family, was made in a flat on the third floor of a tenement house at 1088 Bryant avenue, the Bronx, occupied by Julius Stierheim, forty-six years old, who acted as interpreter at Ellis island.

Stierheim, it appears, shot and killed his wife and two daughters while they were asleep and then killed himself. Illness and worry are believed to have been the cause of the act.

Besides Stierheim, the victims are his wife, Josephine, forty-six years old; his daughter Gladys, twelve years old, and a nine-year-old daughter, Edna. All were shot in the mouth while asleep.

Stierheim then fired a bullet into his own head and fell by the side of the bed where his wife and younger daughter had been asleep.

The discovery of the tragedy was made by Henry Gyory, a friend of the family, whose father is employed at Ellis Island in a capacity similar to that of Stierheim. The elder Gyory remarked that Stierheim had not been to work for the last two days. Mrs. Henry Glockner, a sister of Mrs. Stierheim, called at the Glockner home and said that she had been over to her sister's house two or three times and had found the place locked. She had become anxious. Young Gyory accompanied her on an investigation.

After repeated ringing at the door had brought no response Gyory climbed a rear fire escape and broke in a window. In a bedroom he found the body of the elder girl. In an adjoining room he came upon the body of Stierheim on the floor and the bodies of his wife and younger daughter in bed. He immediately notified the police.

NO NEWS OF HUERTA PLAN.

Resignation Report Is Discredited In Washington.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Reports that conferences between John Lind and Flores Magon at Vera Cruz have resulted in an agreement whereby Huerta is to resign the provisional presidency in favor of Francisco de la Barra in order to lead the federal troops against the revolutionists not only lack confirmation at the state department, but are discredited there. It was pointed out that, having declared Huerta unfit for the presidency, the United States could hardly support him in the capacity of commander of the forces against the revolution.

Secretary Bryan said that he was advised of the fact that Lind and Magon had been in conference, but he did not know the nature of their discussions. It is not expected here that out of these conferences will come anything particularly vital to the situation. They are regarded as an effort upon Lind's part to keep in touch with developments in Mexico City and the opinion of the leading men of that capital.

DYNAMITERS GET DELAY.

Sentences of Twenty-four Are Stayed Pending Appeal.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—A stay order in the cases of the dynamiters convicted at Indianapolis, Ind., whose applications for new trials were denied recently, was granted to the defendants by the United States court of appeals.

The cases of thirty of the defendants were appealed, and new trials were ordered for six. The mandate stays sentence in the cases of the remaining twenty-four until the supreme court of the United States passes on an appeal. Application to this court for a writ of certiorari will be made by Attorney E. N. Zoline for the defendants Feb. 7.

MAXIMUM TAX.

Governor Fielder never said a truer word in his life than when, in his message, recommending the repeal of the Hillery Maximum Tax act he declared the measure was passed "for the benefit of railroads, its object being to keep down local rates so that the average tax rate of the State, as applied to a portion of the railroad property, would be low." Everybody knows that to be the exact fact. During his administration, former Governor Fort uttered the same warning and made the same recommendation holding as the present Governor does that it was a railroad bill pure and simple and that it worked great injustice to the individual taxpayers and to the municipalities throughout the State.

So much hardship has been worked on the municipalities by the provisions of this law that the need for its repeal at the earliest possible date is imperative. As the Governor states, soon after its enactment the various municipalities were so hampered that it was absolutely necessary to raise the maximum rate and later under certain conditions to even permit an increase above this rate.

Under the present law, the main-stems of railroads, and by main-stems is meant the trackage to the width of one hundred feet, is assessed, not according to the local rate, but on the average rate of the whole State. It can be seen, therefore, that the lower the rate the less the railroad is called upon to pay. To keep the rate down in a given community means that the assessments locally must be put up in order to meet the tax budget. Where the rub comes is that the railroads' main-stems are not governed by the increased assessment, but on the contrary solely by the rate. Therefore the individual taxpayer is assessed more in proportion than the railroad on local property and the municipality suffers a loss from the matter. So, it is self evident that the Hillery bill, as we have said, is one framed in the interests of railroads.

The Governor holds to the opinion that municipalities should be allowed to fix their own rates as they may choose. He does not think that such local power would result in any great abuse for any waste or extravagance in placing the rate too high would be checked, he declares, by the citizens who could and naturally would put in office more economical public servants. There is every prospect that the recommendation of Mr. Fielder will be approved and that the present Legislature will wipe the Hillery maximum tax act off the statute books. The sooner the better for the taxpayers of the entire State.

Boards of Trade in Union county have gone on record as opposed to the Griffin bill for a small board of freeholders. They consider that provision should be made in order to distribute the membership about the county rather than the law should be so framed that one single municipality coud be in a position to name the entire board. The boards of trade are right in the position they have assumed.

The right spirit is shown by the Plainfield Business Men's Association, in its newspaper display advertisements, in urging local citizens to do their buying at home. As the association's advertisement says, do you realize what the possibilities of this community would be were every one to patronize home shops.

The rival candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, who withdrew in favor of Fielder at the solicitation of the President, 'tis said, have all been rewarded. Wittpenn got a snug berth good and early and now Westcott is appointed to a fat job.

THE FORUM.

NEW COUNTY IDEA.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

I notice in the "Forum" column of the Daily Press of January 21 that ex-Mayor Smalley still sticks to his new county idea. From my point of view he is away off. Union county has a new courthouse and also Bonnie Burn Sanitarium that Plainfield has to help pay for. Somerset county has a new courthouse which North Plainfield has to help pay off the bonded indebtedness.

To create a new county would necessitate building a new courthouse in the new county of which the Plainfields would be the principal part and for which they would have to pay most of the cost, thereby increasing the taxes which are high enough now. In addition to that expense we would have to elect a new county clerk, new register of deeds, new sheriff, new county attorney, new board of freeholders, new judge, etc., and would also have a new set of politicians which would also add to the taxes. A much better way would be to consolidate, provided a way could be devised that would be agreeable to both Plainfields. Keep the consolidation question before the people. That would be the most practical way. It has got to come.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

The spectacular opening scene of the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels represent an encampment of soldiers in Panama, officers of various degrees from the military forces of the world that have assembled at Panama for the opening of the big canal are supposed to be entertained by Uncle Sam's boys. A minstrel performance is the entertainment selected. They are taken up with the American minstrels, the syncopated songs and nimble dancers appeal to the soldiers from foreign shores. They catch the inspiration of the Americans and enter into the festivities with all the zest imaginable. Songs of all nations are sung—those of our own land predominating. The mingling of the flags of all nations would do the heart of as great a peace lover as our own William Jennings Bryan good, while the patriotic climax while Old Glory waives is inspiring. The comedy climaxes are numerous, the skit, "Every Race Has a Flag But the Coon," being the best. The minstrels of the nations is a merry musical melange that will carry an audience with it for the entire afternoon and evening, Wednesday, January 28.

SET FIRE TO STORE.

A child playing with matches in the store owned by Jacob Sonsky, at 902 West Third street, set fire to some straw under the counter and when the blaze threatened the wares in the store a still alarm was sent in to fire headquarters, this morning. The West End department responded to the call, but the fire had been put out with a pail of water when the firemen arrived at the scene of the fire. Little damage resulted.

TEMPLE SHOLEM PEOPLE DANCE AND PLAY WHIST

A banquet at which many members made addresses, featured the installation of officers of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein, last night, in Saengerbund Hall. Members of the Women's Auxiliary played a prominent part in the festivities and prepared the delightful cuisine that was served.

Henry Haurand, the retiring president conducted the installation services and acted as toastmaster. In a short address he reviewed his long service as a member of the Gesang. Eugent Renz, the newly elected president spoke of the steady growth of the organization and of the good work being carried on at the present time in the interest of the German people of this city and the borough. Other speeches were also made by Carl Deichman, the recently appointed director of the singing section, and the other officers are: Vice-president, Adam Muff; corresponding secretary, Emil Gladdis; financial secretary, August Wolff and treasurer, Richard Walter.

During the banquet a program of entertainment was given consisting of selections by the singing section and vocal solos by several members. The entertainment was concluded with dancing, Paroubek's orchestra furnishing the music. Those who arranged the affair are John Koch, Herman Theis and Frank Jellig. Mrs. Frederick Frick, headed the committee from the Women's Auxiliary, which contributed so largely to the success of the event. On Washington's birthday eve, the annual carnival meeting will be held, which will be followed after midnight by a masked ball and a program of entertainment.

SHORE RESORTS WILL ASK BETTER RAILROAD SERVICE

Asbury Park, Jan. 22.—Committees have been appointed by the Asbury Park Council to act in conjunction with Long Branch officials to obtain fast train service between these places and New York. It is hoped to establish at least four fast trains each way and to make the express time between New York and the first stop at Long Branch one hour and between Asbury Park and New York an hour and ten minutes.

The proposition will be taken up in conference with the railroad officials at an early date. It is claimed that as the Long Branch Railroad has completed three new bridges to save time between the points named there will be no difficulty at arriving at a friendly understanding.

NEW BRUNSWICK LAD MISSING, FATHER BLAMES POOLROOMS

New Brunswick, Jan. 22.—Proprietors of small poolrooms in the lower section of the city, where minors are said to be permitted to congregate nightly, are blamed by Benjamin Hoddeson, of 233 Burnet street, for the disappearance of his sixteen-year-old son, Charles Hoddeson, who has been missing for ten days.

Mr. Hoddeson declares that boys ten and twelve years old are allowed to frequent these places by the proprietors and that he had on several occasions warned the men not to allow his boy to play pool in their establishments. He says they failed to do as he had requested; that his boy got into bad company and was led astray.

When taken to task by his brother, Samuel Hoddeson, a Rutgers student for keeping bad company, young Charles declared he would leave home. The family thought he was joking, but he disappeared the next day. He wore a blue suit, gray overcoat and soft hat.

PATERSON ANTI-SUICIDE CLUB GETS LETTER FROM WOMAN

Paterson, Jan. 22.—Judge Abram Cohen, who recently organized an anti-suicide association, received Tuesday a letter from a woman in Asbury Park asking for information about the club and saying she had about concluded that life wasn't worth the living.

The judge replied, urging her to cheer up and predicting that soon she will see the "silver lining" to the cloud that is shadowing her. Enclosed was a membership card to the club.

The judge says he is sure a number of lives have already been saved by the promulgation of the optimistic principles of the club.

The summons was the result of the failure of process servers to locate Winters. Winters, after his recovery in a local hospital, implicated Allgor, and the man is at present out under heavy bail. Meanwhile the clergyman went to Freehold and represented to the court that the old man was irresponsible. Accordingly the court named him guardian over Winters, who has now disappeared.

PATIENT IS MISSING FROM SANITARIUM IN SOMERSET

Somerville, Jan. 22.—Seach is being made throughout Somerset county for Miss Emma Haustein, thirty years old, who disappeared on Friday from the Belle Mead Colony and Sanitarium at Belle Mead, a little place near here. The young woman had been a patient at the sanitarium since last November, suffering from melancholia.

Miss Haustein disappeared about 6:30 o'clock in the evening. No trace of her has been found by the searching parties that have scoured the country, and it is feared she may be dead.

Miss Haustein was a former resident of Jersey City Heights, where she made her home with her brother, Gustave Haustein, who now lives in the Bronx. The young woman has blond hair. When she disappeared she wore a black skirt and a light shirtwaist, but no hat or coat.

LAUNDRY PROJECT FORMED FOR PRINCETON STUDENTS

Princeton, Jan. 22.—A "students' laundry" has been organized at Princeton University, under the direction of the Students' Bureau of Self-help, with James A. Adams, 1915, in charge.

A number of women in Princeton who have been doing laundry for the undergraduates have entered into the agreement, by which Adams gets them more work, arranges for the collection and distribution of the laundry, and they in turn give him a commission for his work. He is also responsible for the collection of the money.

While the plan has been in force but a short time, the amount of work secured has been large, owing to the guaranty, "All clothes are mended before returned."

ENTERTAINS CLASS.

The embroidery class composed of members of P. A. Vroom's Sunday-school class of the Trinity church, were entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. A. B. Davis, of 142 Grove street. Refreshments were served and Miss Gladys Davis, the eight years old daughter of the hostess, delighted with several piano selections. Among those present were Mrs. A. C. Aiken, Mrs. Charles Mehlenbeck, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. George Spier, Mrs. Frank Sowden and Mrs. Arthur Utzinger.

MANY EVENTS ARE PLANNED AT Y. W. C. A.

Song Service and Social Hour Sunday Afternoon—Swedish Gathering.

The song service and social hour held every Sunday afternoon around the open-fire in the green room at the Y. W. C. A., will this week be in charge of the members of the Silver Bay Club. Miss Margaret McCutchen will read aloud and Miss Evelyn Manley will sing. All young women are invited to this service.

On Thursday night all of the members of the association who can claim Sweden as their native country, are cordially invited to meet with Miss Margaret Leal to form a Swedish Club. Any Swedish young women not now members of the association, but who are interested in such a club, will be most welcome to this first meeting.

There will be a meeting of the G. Y. M. Club at the association on Friday evening.

The members of the Jonoro Club are planning a straw ride for this Saturday afteroon, and invite all the members of the association to join them. As the number is limited by the size of the barge, the girls are asked to register at the Association if they expect to attend. The barge leaves the building at 2:30 sharp, and the fee charged is within the reach of all.

There will be a party at the association on Monday evening to which all the members in class last term and all of those hoping to join any class next term, are cordially invited. This includes members of the Bible and Mission Classes, of the gymnasium department, and of the educational department. There will be an interesting program of songs, an exhibit of the work of the elocution class, and a short play. Registrations for next term's classes will be taken.

The annual exhibition of the work of the gymnasium classes will be held on Friday, January 30, in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Preparations are being made for an interesting program of drills, games and costume dances, and the exhibition bids fair to be as pleasing and as well attended as any yet given. Tickets are for sale at the association.

The Smart Plain Dress Appeals to the College Girl

Checks and Plaids Strong in Fashion's Favor

PARIS says checks are returning to favor, and plaids in great variety continue to meet the approval of smartly gowned women who need at least one such simple and practical dress as they afford. Bright buttons, a bit of contrasted trimming material, or scarcely more than a frill or vestee, gives the style accent. Designers are offering attractive plain models for misses and young women, with novel features to distinguish them from the styles of early winter. For instance, they show one or two patch pockets on a straight skirt with the peg-top fulness. They add a dash, which appeals to the college girl's ambition to get something odd, and unlike her other dresses, although she sticks to serge or cheviot for its durability. One of these late models is No. 8096. It is shown as made up in medium wall navy serge, with contrast pocket flaps, collar and cuffs. Nothing could be easier to duplicate. The skirt has three pieces, and a wide overlapping hem giving a long line in the middle back. The blouse with a deep yoke and low shoulders is one of the newest cuts.

Tartans in the regular clan colorings and in others are having a decided vogue which will extend into spring and summer, there being many cotton and silk fabrics of these designs, and in dark colorings. Cotton ratine is one of the many. It is woven to look like woolen, and hangs softly. Model 8021 is chosen as a type of the newest plaid dresses intended for young girls. It closes at the side front, has full length set-in sleeves; and a three-piece skirt with dart tucks at the back. White cloth with red cording as shown in the picture, is the simple trimming. The total cost of the model is $9.

There are unusually pleasing ways of making up the shepherd checks with plain material, as shown in model No. 8098 on this page. This has a two-piece skirt which may be made as shown with a shaped yoke, or the latter may be omitted. The skirt retains the narrow foot measurement, being one and one-half yards only at the hem. The blouse is made of dark blue serge, and simply brightened up with turnover collar and cuffs of the check; and with blue and white ivory buttons. The shaped facing and buttons on the skirt placket at the side front, lend a novel effect. The actual cost of this dress to one who makes it herself would be less than $9. The price of each pattern on this page, as described above is 15 cents.

LOGICALLY in the reasoning of the French couturiers ripple bottoms follow the straight edges of cutaway jackets, and circular or shaped flounces succeed the tunic effects of the winter. We must next emphasise the peg-top silhouette with ruffles around and below the hip line; though we are admonished not to keep the scant foot width of the former peg skirt. In the trend of spring styles, the cutaway jacket will take on various lines according to the whim of the designer, varying from the tiny bolero with a flaring bottom, to a coat which may be cut to flare in the middle back.

On the right of this page is the newest model for a service coat made of domestic faced material. It has the kimono shoulder with long sleeves, and a circular flare toward the bottom. The fulness is laid in a soft plait held in with a strap of self left, which near the middle front, forms a pocket.

Similar effects will be used in suit jackets. The suit on the left, coat number 7998; skirt 8022, illustrates a smart style of immediate interest for late winter as well as spring occasions. This is developed in one of the beautiful crêpe poplins of olive brown tint, with velvet to match, and ornamental pearl buckles. Anything in pearl, by the way, such as buttons and buckles is fashionable; and suggests those for hidden treasures in some household trifle boxes.

The high cut fronts of the suit reveal a tiny pointed vest, which is a device for introducing rich bits of brocade or embroidery that add to the effect of wintry fabrics. Some handsome models show fur similarly used. The skirt, a peg-top, has a shaped yoke, in the back, where it seems to hold up folds of the material in a modish drapery effect very simple to achieve. Each number of this suit pattern is 15 cents.

MEDAL FOR DUTCHER

God's wild creatures.

"With this token, the club sends its congratulations to you on the great work that you have done, on the place that you have won in the hearts of your countrymen, and its prayers for your complete restoration to health."

Replying for Mr. Dutcher, Samuel T. Carter, Jr., of this city, quoted the recipient of the medal as follows:

"I wish that I might be able to convey to you, and through you to the members of the Camp-Fire Club of America, my very great appreciation of the gift which you have just made me, and of the honor which you have conferred upon me in presenting me with this medal, and in joining my name with those of the distinguished men who have heretofore been the recipients of medals from the Camp-Fire Club.

"It is a double pleasure to receive this medal from the hands of you gentleman of the committee with whom it was my great privilege to work for so long, and whose close and continuing friendship has meant so much to me during these days when I have been laid aside from active service.

"While I am denied the privilege of working with you in the field which is so dear to me, I nevertheless rejoice that the work of conservation is moving steadily forward, and that you—my friends of many years—are having so large and important a part in that work.

"My best wishes go out to you and to the club which you represent. I shall always cherish your thought of me which has its visible manifestation in this medal."

Before the presentation of the medal Edmund Seymon, secretary of the Camp-Fire Club, read letters from Ernest Thompson Seton, Rex Beach and Irving Bachellor, regarding the work of Mr. Dutcher. Mr. Seton's communication was in the form of a telegram, as follows:

"Greatly regret absence in Montana January twenty-third, but I am with you in spirit to honor our great leader in the work of bird preservation. Give him my heartiest congratulations. He has the unmeasured joy of an undisputed crown in a noble kingdom."

Rex Beach wrote as follows:

"I congratulate the Camp-Fire Club of America upon its recognition of the splendid service William Dutcher has rendered for the National Audubon movement. Your tribute is one in which every sportsman joins."

The communication from Irving Bachellor read:

"I can think of no better mark for medals and bouquets than William Dutcher—great defender of the people of the air and the beauty of the world. I should like to go with you and look into his face and assure him of my affectionate regard. But I have to ask you to do it for me as I must go away tomorrow to keep a lecture engagement."

Dr. Hornaday received the medal in 1906 "for his career as a champion of the outdoor life, and for his book, 'Camp-Fires in the Canadian Rockies;'" Gifford Pinchot, 1909, "for distinguished service in the protection of forests and wild life;" Theodore Roosevelt, 1910, "for his work as a protector of wild life and forests, and his contributions to zoology," and Ernest Thompson Seton, 1911, "for his book, 'Life Histories of Northern Animals,' and his promotion of a love of nature."

Beside Dr. Hornaday and Mr. Seymon, the others from New York who were present yesterday were William Edward Coffin, president of the Camp-Fire Club of America, and T. Gilbert Pearson, executive secretary of the National Audubon Societies. From Plainfield, aside from Mr. Carter, those present were Mrs. Dutcher, Mrs Field, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson and Leslie R. Fort.

POLICE TO HAVE LISTS OF LICENSED AUTOISTS

Herron, of this city, treasurer of the Auto Dictionaries Company, of New York, for distribution to the police of Newark, Jersey City, Camden and Asbury Park. The lists will be used in identifying cars coming under the notice of the police.

Mr. Lippincott has written to the police departments of the cities mentioned, suggesting the desirability of keeping these lists available at all times in order that registration numbers may be accessible day and night. The Trenton office of the department is not open at night and frequently there are requests for information that is not immediately available.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT-AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 52.

I ASKED a "high-brow" friend of mine, who is employed in the editorial department of a big newspaper, if he had any ideas on Want Ad. advertising. He said he "sure had" and was a firm believer in the pulling power of that kind of advertising. He said he'd write down what he thought on the subject. He did. Here is the note he wrote:

"The first Want Ad. of which we have record was written by Julius Caesar, who enlivened the dead walls of Rome with announcements of his Gallic victories and who skilfully appealed to his fellow-countrymen to call at his headquarters the next day and enlist for a still greater and grander conquest. Caesar's Want Ad. ultimately brought him the proffer of a crown.

"No less wise than Caesar are the employers and employes of today. They recognize the fact that the most successful way to achieve a definite purpose from an advertising viewpoint is to present your wants in a concise, direct manner. The employer looks upon the Want Ad. columns as an advertising barometer; the employe, as the keystone to the arch.

"In a Want Ad. you reach the man who wants something, and you get into direct and immediate communication with him."

The Housewife's Daily Economy Calendar

FRANCES MARSHALL

Potato Economy.

Potatoes are nourishing, palatable and inexpensive and so naturally form a big part of the daily diet. They ought to be one of the most economical of foods, but because of their comparative small price they are often wasted.

To begin with, a large amount of the potato is often removed with the skin. It is tedious work peeling potatoes, even with a small sharp knife, so that they are not wasted. For most purposes potatoes boiled in their jackets are quite satisfactory, and when they are cooked the skins, of course, peel off without taking any of the editable part of the potato with them. Some persons prefer the flavor of potatoes cooked in this way to that of potatoes boiled after they are peeled.

Another habit of wastefullness among many cooks is that of throwing away left-over potatoes. Even in small amounts, left-over potatoes of any kind can be used. A little creamed potato or mashed potato can be mixed with chopped meat for hash or croquettes. Mashed potatoes, even if there is only a small amount, can be made into tiny cakes to brown in drippings and serve as a garnish to some meat dish. A cupful of mashed potatoes can be made into soup with milk and seasonings. Any bits of potato too small for other uses can be added to the soup kettle. The flavor and texture of soup of which potatoes are a part is very good.

A meat and potato loaf is another good dish. Any left over meat can be chopped and mixed with any left-over potatoes—creamed, mashed, or chopped boiled potatoes. Seasoning and a raw egg should be added and the mixture formed into a loaf and covered with crumbs and baked with frequent bastings of hot water, until it is brown.

Chowder.

Potato chowder is a nourishing, satisfying and savory dish for cold weather eating. To make it, fry an onion and a quarter of a pound of salt pork, cut in small pieces. Pare six large potatoes and cut them in dice. Put a layer in the bottom of a large kettle, and then put in a layer of pork and onion. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and chopped parsley. Fill the kettle with alternate layers of potato and pork and seasoning. Pour on the fat from the frying pan and a pint of water. Cover and cook slowly for twenty minutes. Thicken, in the meantime, a pint of milk with a tablespoonful of flour mixed with the same amount of butter, and add this to the potato mixture. Stir carefully, in order not to break the pieces of potato. Serve hot.

Left-over potatoes are considered worthless by many persons. But they can be made into the most delicious creamed potatoes imaginable. There is a mealiness and a flavor to baked potatoes that are especially good in creamed potatoes.

MOTHERS' WORK

Contributing Staff.

Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Herbert Parker.

The Daily Press for Thursdays containing the column on Mother's Work will be sent by mail for one dollar a year, in advance.

School Lunches.

The public is cordially invited to hear Miss Klaer, who will speak to the Mother's Association tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Public Library on school lunches, of which she is supervisor in New York city.

Meeting in Garwood.

Miss Melvin, supervisor of public recreation, spoke on the "Ideals of Public Recreation" to the Parent-Teacher Association of Garwood on Thursday of last week. The new school building in Garwood has the only large assembly room in the town and it is hoped the work may be introduced there. There was a good attendance and much interest was shown.

North Plainfield Meeting.

The Parent-Teacher Association hold its monthly meeting this afternoon in the Somerset School.

Mental Drugs.

The New York Times' "Review of Books" has the following on objectionable reading: "Public opinion averse to the circulation of books of bad tendencies and magazine literature of an obnoxious sort can be exerted most effectually if the books are left unsold on the booksellers hands and the magazine publishers are brought sharply to understand that filth does not pay. * * * The author of a book of immoral tendency is culpable, and the publisher shares his culpability. But blame also is due to people who read the book, discuss it and encourage others to read it. He who touches pitch is defiled, and the idea that some of us are immune from defilement is erroneous." The druggist who sells dangerous drugs to irresponsible persons is sent to jail. The publisher of literary poison should be dealt with also.

Longer Hours and Shorter Years.

A resolution has been sent to the Board of Education of New York city asking for an investigation of the present course of study used in the elementary school that the hours of the school day and year may be lengthened in order to shorten the years necessary to complete the course. The sponser of the resolution says: "In the end it is hoped that many useless studies now in vogue may be entirely eliminated and the course of instruction be confined to the real essentials of proper education. Under the present system the average boy and girl are deprived in part of their opportunity for beginning their life work and the taxpayer is being forced to pay for unessential features in education that are worth less to the children. * * * For instance, what is the good of teaching shop work to children if they are taught to make toys and playthings and other useless articles which cannot have any bearing on their life work. * * * Some of the professional men graduating today have whiskers, and the girls are close to old maids and both are too old to make a proper start in any career."

By Alice Gibson.

Number 7618 shows an excellent three-quarter length coat for women and misses. It is suitable for double faced coating material, one of the new light weight wools, serge or ratine, which may be interlined with a thin lamb's wool and lined with a heavy satin or one of the brightly colored figured silks that are so popular for that purpose just now.

If a double faced coating is used the collar and cuffs may be of the plaid or stripe of the reverse side, but if a plain material is used these may be faced with silk, satin or a contrasting fabric.

This model has an inverted plait down the center back, a set-in sleeve and an attractive collar.

To make this coat in size 36 it requires 3½ yards of 42 inch material.

The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 34 to 42.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Some Cookery Suggestions

WALNUT MEATS NUTRITIOUS.

An authority on diet in discussing the food value of various viands says that few people appreciate the nutritiousness of the meats of English walnuts. Thirty of these, he says, is equal in food value to a pound of steak.

This, of course, is good news for the vegetarians, who have been proclaiming the superiority of a meatless diet. However, a well balanced bill of fare should consist of all foods. For those who wish to try the merits of walnut meats the following recipes may be of value:

Wholesome Nut Breads.

Nut Bread.—Scald a half cupful of milk and add a half cupful of boiling water. Add three-fourths of a cake of compressed yeast which has been soaked in three tablespoonfuls of water. Then stir in one-half tablespoonful of butter, two tablespoonfuls of molasses, one cupful of chopped English walnut meats, one-half cupful of white flour, three cupfuls of entire wheat flour. Knead and bake as ordinary bread.

Graham Nut Bread.—Take a cupful each of bread sponge, graham flour, chopped or ground walnuts, one-third cupful of sugar and one-fourth of a cupful of butter. Knead until rather soft with white flour. This may be baked in baking powder cans. Grease the cans well and let the bread get light before baking.

Roast Nuts.

Nut Roast.—Take a pound of stale brown bread, one large cupful of shelled walnuts, an egg, a tablespoonful of olive oil, a small quantity each of grated onion, chopped parsley, mixed herbs and salt. Put the nuts through a mincing machine. Soak bread, squeeze dry, mix all the ingredients together, put in a buttered baking dish and bake in slow heat for two hours, standing the dish in a larger dish of water.

Nut and Vegetable Loaf.—Take enough carrots and white turnips to make a pint when chopped and mixed. When this has been done parboil them; cook in salted water until tender. Drain and mix them with a cupful of mashed potato, a cupful of chopped walnut meats, a half cupful of fine breadcrumbs, chopped parsley and salt and pepper to season. Add one beaten egg and mold in loaf. Lay on a buttered pan, brush with butter and bake in a moderate oven for half an hour, basting once with a little melted butter or dripping. Serve with it a good tomato sauce.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Elephants' Return to The Circus.

"Let's escape," said one of them.

"An elephant named Johnovan had lived for many years with a circus," began daddy, "and one day he made up his mind he was tired of circus life. The traveling at night in close cars along rough roads he hated, and the walking in a parade every morning when he'd not had nearly enough sleep annoyed him very much. Then, of course, there were always two circus performances each day, and, in short, Johnovan thought life was very tiresome and that he'd like to run away. It made him very cross to smell the pot of vegetable soup which was put on to cook during the performances, so that afterward the performers would have something ready to eat. Johnovan always wanted a taste of that soup.

"So he said to the other two elephants who belonged to the circus, 'Let's escape.'

"'How?' they both shouted in amazement.

"'Well,' said Johnovan, 'I'll think it over during the performance this afternoon, and this evening we'll leave in the middle of another act.'

"After the afternoon's performance Johnovan said: 'It's all arranged. We'll meet back of the big tent just after our march inside. Then all the circus people will be in the tent, and we'll be able to escape.'

"Of course the one thing in their minds was that they could always do just as they pleased and at the right time they all met back of the big tent.

"'Follow me,' said Johnovan, and they linked their trunks together and followed Johnovan for what seemed a terrific distance. Finally he stopped and said, 'I think we're safe enough now.'

"So they settled down for the night, and pretty tired they were, for the long tramp had been as tiresome as the train trip.

"The next day the circus they'd belonged to pitched the tent not far from the elephants' new home.

"Now, you know that elephants have wonderful memories, and they knew exactly the time the vegetable soup would be put on for cooking. So at the right time, when the circus was going on, they quietly went to the back of the tent and took the vegetable soup off the fire. But one of the circus performers came out and saw the missing elephants. The elephants hadn't enjoyed 'camp life,' and they rejoiced at being captured.

"'You like vegetable soup, do you?' said the circus performer. 'Well, you shall have all you want.'

"So the elephants had a splendid meal, the first they'd had since they'd left the circus, after which they performed their tricks during the last act, and all the applause they got made them very happy."

TRY A PRESS WANT AD

In every respect our nation is a goodly heritage, and he who has the good fortune to live in it should stand for its welfare at any cost, for it will prosper only as her citizens listen to God's truth and continue to build on principles that have given her the place of pre-eminence among the nations. History repeats itself, and the causes that have produced death to the nations that are now only history, will reveal to us the perils that threaten our national life. True, they may be moral, but some one has rightly said, "A moral degeneracy is followed by a physical degeneracy, and a physical degeneracy by death."

That being true, let us for a moment consider some of the things that threaten us. Wilbur F. Crafts, of the Reform Bureau of Washington, D. C., states that since the Civil War thirteen clouds have increasingly darkened the American sky, and in nine of these evils we beat the world. More might be mentioned, but these should arouse us. We have neither time nor space to discuss all of them, so I have selected but three.

First—The growing tendency to desecrate the Lord's Day. Every session of our State law-makers sees the introduction of bills, legalizing amusements and demanding liberal Sundays. The demand, argued for the working man come not from him but from the one who sells amusements for his own profit, on the day we bid trade halt. Amusements are not only a privilege but a duty, but when they become dissipation rather than recreation, they should be checked.

Now from a patriotic point of view. Has any man a right to do anything that would produce more harm than good if all followed his example? Just one illustration, can we not see in the Spanish republics south of us the result of liberal Sunday laws? We must be on our guard and see to it that nothing is allowed to be legalized that will be an entering wedge to split wide open. If we would attain the noblest in life we must have one day in seven to turn from selfishness and greed to the development of the noblest things within, for the nation can only be what the individual is.

The second peril that threatens us as a nation is the evil of the divorce courts. Marriage is a sacred rite and should be guarded as such. We are loud in our condemnation of Mormonism as a menace to our national life, but the consecutive polygamy that comes from the divorce courts is infinitely more perilous, because society everywhere recognizes it as legitimate. It strikes at the very foundation of our national life in that it strikes the home; destroy the home and you destroy the nation. In no white nation can we find so many homes wrecked by this evil as in our own: Japan, of all civilized nations, exceeds us. There is but one remedy, that includes more than law, it is to accept the ruling of Christ himself and make marriage not experimental, but a sacred union dissolved only by death, or "by that criminal lust that murders love."

Just one more from the many perils that have not been mentioned, but that one would include many of the others. Eliminate it and the others would soon die a natural death. I refer to the legalized saloon. This is the greatest because it's so all inclusive, and is permitted to do its degrading, destroying work by the payment of a few paltry dollars. God help the nation that legalizes the saloon, and thus makes of our young mankind on whom the nation must depend in a crisis morally, mentally and physically weak. It makes criminals statistics show that nine-tenths of the crime in court is traceable to the saloon. Eighty per cent. of the inmates of our insane asylums are there directly and indirectly through the liquor traffic.

Don't these suggest that the time has come to do something to save the nation.

Man may use the argument of personal liberty in all these, but restriction in these evils, interferes no more than does all civilization. Education and commercial law. All civilization demands a sacrifice of personal liberty for good of community.

No, it's not Puritanism that is demanded, but it's a business proposition to save the State, and let us carry the fight into every stronghold of the enemy until they are completely eliminated, and our nation be perpetuated. E. C. CONOVER.

FOR QUEEN VICTORIA.

London, Jan. 22.—The customary observances were held today to mark the thirteenth anniversary of the death of Queen Victoria. King George and Queen Mary, with other members of the royal family, this morning attended the annual memorial services in honor of the late Queen, which was held in the Frogmore Mausoleum at Windsor.

"RED SUNDAY" ANNIVERSARY.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 22.—The St. Petersburg authorities adopted extraordinary precautions to prevent disturbances today, this being the anniversary of "Red Sunday," when Father Gapon led a demonstration of the people before the Winter Palace and many were killed by the troops. Because of the many recent signs of discontent on the part of the masses the prefect of police kept the reserves under arms the whole day and strong military patrols were kept in all sections of the city to prevent disorderly demonstrations.

A few cents for a Press want ad and some one who needs the very article that lies rotting in your garret will call and pay you for it.

You are better off—new owner is pleased—and the article itself is contributing to the reduction of the high cost of living.

"Sportdom Tips"

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET.

Now that we have established interscholastic leagues for male and female basketball players and one for baseball, why not start a revival of the old time interscholastic track meets? Five or six years ago in Plainfield the annual four-cornered meet between Westfield, North Plainfield and Plainfield High Schools and Leal School held in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium was a thing looked forward to by the track and field men of each institution from one end of the year to the other. While the running and jumping sport has died down considerably in all of these four institutions it would not be a difficult matter to bring about a revival this winter. Plainfield High School sports a team (at least a manager) and the numerous meets being planned with out of town aggregations would prove excellent preliminary contests for the interscholastic meet. Westfield has some good track athletes and the boroughites and Leals also have a few, but good, men in their midst. Get busy.

THAT FEMININE CLASH.

For the first time this season the feminine basketball representatives of Plainfield and North Plainfield High Schools will meet in a court battle tomorrow afternoon. The initial game of the Interscholastic League will be staged on the Saengerbund Hall court and the contest will probably bring out a record crowd of followers from both sides of the brook. The N. P. H. S. girls have an excellent record to their credit this season and the P. H. S maidens, who have played fewer contests, will have their work cut out on the large Saengerbund Hall court on this occasion. Each team has its individual star and the scoring for the most part will fall on the shoulders of a chosen few. In the guarding department the boroughites are decidedly the stronger and the shots that the red and blue players are able to bag will without a doubt be of the sensational variety.

FITZ STILL AT IT.

Bob Fitzsimmons and his husky son had a sixteen-round workout in their training quarters yesterday afternoon and the old man is gradually getting back into the form that he hopes will make him famous "over again." Not having seen him in action for over a week we noticed a decided change in his style of fighting and he appears to have at last mastered his old time aggresiveness and ability to hit with sledge hammer power. Bob is still optimistic of his chances of securing a decision over the commission and all hands are awaiting the court's reply.

South Orange High School has set the pace in still another line of sport. The Orangers have organized a crackerjack gym team and are planning a busy season of competition with other club and college contingents.

In your daily wanderings about the town just take a glance about you and notice some of the "usterwas hasbeens." There was no Federal League when these stars were in their prime.

This season, more than ever before, rough house tactics have become prominent in the indoor game of basketball. Seldom is a game played these days without the calling of from fifteen to forty fouls by the official in charge. A number of the contests staged on local courts this year have been mixed in bits of soccer, pedestrianism, catch-as-catch-can wrestling and a dansant.

The Deaf Mute basketball team of Trenton is scheduled to play the local Y. M. C. A. team on the Association court one week from next Saturday night.

RUSHMORE IN FAVOR OF HAND AUTO GEARS

Manufacturer Declares Electrical Transmission is Not Advantageous.

That the present form of hand actuated sliding gear transmission is fully adequate for automobile requirements, is the opinion of Samuel W. Rushmore, owner of the Rushmore Dynamo Works on South avenue. He takes the view that it is a mistake to further complicate the present chassis.

This applies, in his view, not only to the addition of electric or other means of operating the mechanical change gear, but also to the electrical transmission, which some people think has a promising future.

"It is not necessary," says Mr. Rushmore. "The advantages of electrical transmission are not sufficient to warrant the added weight and complication in this particular case. This thing of putting in an extra plant and destroying half the horsepower to shifting gears is needless."

ABEL KIVIAT WON ELKS' DERBY IN BORROWED SHOES

Paterson, Jan. 22.—Abel Kiviat, the sturdy little runner of the Irish-American A. C., won the feature race of the night, styled the "Elks Derby," at the second annual diamond meet of the Paterson Elks, held at the armory last night. The race was at a distance of 1,000 yards and had as starters the cream of the Metropolitan district, as well as runners from Boston.

Kiviat's running shoes were lost and he borrowed those of Jack Gardner, the fiery-topped sprinter of Central High School, and breezed in an easy winner. Second to Kiviat was Ollie De Grucby, of the New York A. C., who was closely followed to the tape by Oscar Headlund, wearing the silks of the Boston Athletic Association.

Y. W. C. A. DIRECTOR PLANNING ANNUAL GYMNASIUM EXHIBIT

Preparations are being made for the annual gymnasium exhibition of the Plainfield Y. W. C. A., which will be held in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Friday night, January 30. The feature event of the evening will be the annual basketball game, North Plainfield High School furnishing the opposition for this year's match.

Prior to the basketball contest a program of calisthenics, folk dancing drills and other physical department activities will be given under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Wetherell, the physical director. Special classes have been conducted in folk dancing during the past year and those who have taken these courses will give demonstrations of the work accomplished.

It is the annual custom to hold the exhibition in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, the women's association centre being inadequate for an event of this nature, which is annually attended by a large gathering of friends and relatives of the participants.

GET TWO POINTS IN FIRST HALF BUT WIN THE GAME

The junior class team of the Plainfield High School Interscholastic League defeated the sophomore class team by the score of 18 to 12 in the school gym yesterday afternoon. In the first half the sophomores had everything their own way, rolling up ten points to their opponents two.

The second half began with McNamee shooting a goal. This started things going and a few more goals by McNamee and Canter tied the score. The sophomores were unable to hold the juniors and they soon forged ahead.

TIGHT GAME WON BY HOME FIVE AFTER HARD STRUGGLE

Although playing with a patched lineup the Scotch Plains Parish House second team, on their own court last night, nosed out the North Plainfield High School juniors by the close score of 35 to 33. The juniors got most of their points in the first half when Townley made the majority of points for his team.

Townley was the main point-getter for the visitors with twenty-two points to his credit. Anson made several pretty shots from difficult angles.

NETHERWOOD NOT A MATCH FOR SPEEDY GRACE FIVE

Playing the husky Netherwood A. C. representatives on the Grace church court last night, the Grace church boys' basketball quintet hung up a one-sided victory at the expense of the rival clan, the final score being 42 to 23. The scoring of individuals featured the contest and nine out of the ten performers hung up field goals at one time or another.

Speedy passing and accurate field goal shooting proved a great asset to the churchboys' team and the chances of the home five were never in danger. McNamee led the home team in scoring while Coughlan did the best shooting for the visiting five.

FITZ HAS ANOTHER WEEK TO CONDITION

Club Postponed Bout With Tom Daly Until a Week From Tonight.

Bob Fitzsimmons, who is training vigorously for his come-back fight, has been granted another week of preparation for the initial bout. Not that he needs the time to get limbered up—far be it from such—but the club which was selected as the place for the scrap could not be secured for tonight, as was originally planned, and the fight has been deferred to one week. Next Wednesday afternoon, Fitz will wind up his training work and set sail for Williamsport, Pa., where he will meet Tom Daly, a 206 pound white hope, Thursday night, January 29.

Johnny Moel, the ruler's nephew, manager, will move his personal effects to this city sometime during the next few days in order that he may be in close touch with the Cornishman at all times. The "grand old man of the prize ring" had an unusually fine workout yesterday afternoon and although it was one of the most strenuous of his training routine he did not appear the least fatigued after it was all over. After punching the bag for eight rounds he bounced his burly son about the training quarters for six furious rounds and then wound up by throwing a ton and a half pound medicine ball for five minutes.

BOROUGHITES CHERISH GREAT COURT RECORD

Plainfield and North Plainfield Feminine Stars to Meet in First League Game.

The first game of the feminine Interscholastic Basketball League is scheduled to be played on the Saengerbund Hall court tomorrow afternoon, the girls' fives of North Plainfield High Schools sending their strongest lineups to the fore for the opening battle. While the Plainfield lassies have competed in but three games this season they are optimistic of their chances of downing the speedy boroughites and the natural rivalry that exists between these two factions will probably serve to make the issue interesting no matter what the score may be. The North Plainfield team has won eight out of the last nine games played.

Miss Marjorie Burtis, who was one of the mainstays of the team last year, has again been the individual star in the scoring line. Because of her size, she has fooled many opposing guards and has scored 67 field goals in the twelve games which gives her the exceedingly high average of 5.58 goals per game. Being the chief foul shooter of the team she has in that way added thirty points to her list, making the total number of points 164, an average of 13.6 points a game. Miss Burtis has always had the ability of shooting from any point on the floor and has proved herself one of the most accurate forwards the High School has ever had.

Lillian Spencer has made 22 field goals so far for an average of 1.8 per game. Lucy Douglas has scored six baskets from the center line. Captain Debele has made two baskets while playing boys' rules.

The Canadians have scored 235 points against opponents' 162 and four members of the team have the honor of taking part in all of the games. There have been 97 of the two-point variety and 37 fouls scored while four points have been awarded. North Plainfield's high score is 48, made in the Scotch Plains game. The low score is 8 for the school girls. Miss Burtis has the record for individual points per game making 27 in the game against Scotch Plains on the latter's court.

The scores by games follow:

SENATOR HUGHES PEEVED.

Failing to Get Federal Patronage, He Goes to Arkansas.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Senator William Hughes of New Jersey has left Washington for Arkansas and says he will not return soon. He has a grievance against President Wilson and will take no further part in the dispensation of federal patronage in his state.

Senator Hughes espoused the candidacy of J. Warren Davis for United States district judge of New Jersey, but President Wilson, on the recommendation of Attorney General McReynolds, appointed Thomas G. Haight.

But this is not the first time that Senator Hughes' recommendations have been ignored. His friend, former Representative Cravens of Arkansas, was a candidate for United States district attorney for that state. Mr. Hughes was one of Mr. Cravens' most ardent supporters, but Cravens was not indorsed by either of the Arkansas senators and failed of appointment.

STORK IS TOO BUSY.

Activeness Will Cost Florence Township Taxpayers $100,000.

Roebling, N. J., Jan. 22.—An active stork will cost taxpayers of Florence township an outlay of $100,000 according to plans for a new school building submitted to a town meeting here.

The new building is made necessary by the refusal of the John A. Roebling Sons company to continue paying the expenses of educating all children of the town, a plan adopted when the firm established this as a "model town."

Roebling several years ago won a national reputation as a town especially favored by the fabled bird, and its record birth rate has never diminished. The size of the school has grown to such an extent that the firm has notified the township board of education that it must take over the care of the pupils. In the plans for the proposed building, costing $75,000, ample provision was made by the architect for the expected rapid growth of the classes.

SULZER LINKS MURPHY'S NAME

Declares Senator O'Gorman Accused Tammany Leader.

IMMUNITY WAIVER SIGNED

Asserts That Stewart Sandbagger Was Gaffney, Murphy's Aid—Ex-Governor Says Tiger Boss Threatened to Bring About His Ruin.

New York, Jan. 22.—William Sulzer, former governor of the state of New York, removed by impeachment, told at the John Doe graft hearing what he knew of the attempt made by one James E. Gaffney to hold up for $150,000 James C. Stewart, a wealthy contractor, who when he declined to be "sandbagged" found his canal contracts blocked and lost.

He declared that the cause of the war on him by Charles F. Murphy was because of the state graft which he started to investigate and was the cause of him losing the governorship.

First the ex-governor signed a waiver of immunity from the consequences of his testimony. This was at District Attorney Whitman's request.

When still only governor elect, Sulzer testified, he first roused the ire of the leader of Tammany Hall by sending the telegram that prevented the rejection of the Stewart (the lowest) bid for barge canal work.

"Did O'Gorman put you up to that?" Sulzer swore Murphy asked him. The controversy ended with Murphy crying, "You'll make a h—l of a governor."

Attired in a black cutaway coat and trousers of the same color, with a high wing collar flaring out at either side of his chin, the former governor took the stand. He was entirely self possessed and almost indifferent. After the oath had been administered by Chief Magistrate McAdoo the ex-governor sank down in the witness chair and nonchalantly crossed his legs. He looked bored to death to all appearances.

Sulzer directly connected Charles F. Murphy with the now famous barge canal contracts Nos. 71A and 72A, which James Stewart put in bids for in the fall of 1912, but didn't land. Sulzer swore that Charles F. Murphy sent for him and censured him for trying to aid Stewart.

Stewart has sworn that a man representing himself to be James E. Gaffney called on him after the election of 1912, said he had been assigned to solicit campaign "contributions" and demanded 5 per cent on the value of the contracts, which totaled about $3,000,000. Stewart refused to give up.

Murphy Denounced Him.

On the next day, Sulzer swore, Murphy sent for him through John Delaney. He went to Delmonico's and saw Murphy, who accused him of "butting in on a good thing" and told him he would regret it if he did anything like that again. Later on, Sulzer swore, Murphy urged him to appoint Gaffney state commissioner of highways.

Sulzer swore that he asked Senator O'Gorman about making Gaffney highways commissioner. O'Gorman replied, according to Sulzer:

"If you appoint Jim Gaffney you'll appoint a crook."

"I am here," said Sulzer in beginning his story, "to give whatever information I can. On the 18th of December, 1912, I received a telegram from G. H. McGuire that the canal board had been called in a special meeting to inspect the bids of the Stewart company. It was told me that their bid was thousands of dollars under all other bids, and a great injustice would be done if their bid was rejected.

"As governor elect I felt it my duty to save the money of the taxpayers, so I sent a telegram to the board asking them to withhold action until I could confer about the matter.

"My recollection is that it was sent the day I received the message from McGuire.

"On Dec. 19 John H. Delaney called me by telephone. He was connected with a New York morning newspaper. He seemed very much excited—in fact, I'd never seen him so perturbed.

"He came to my office and said, 'My, God, congressman, what have you done?'

"I asked him what I'd done.

"He said: 'Congressman, you have spilled the beans. The "Chief" (meaning C. F. Murphy) is wild. I've never seen him so worked up. I'm afraid all is off between you. My God, congressman, why did you do it?'

"In explaining his demeanor he asked me: 'Why did you send that telegram to the canal board. It's angered the chief, and he wants to see you right away.'"

Federals Marched to Battle, but Rebels Had Disappeared.

Laredo, Tex., Jan. 22.—The force of 1,000 federals under General Arturo Alvarez, who marched down the river to engage a body of several hundred Constitutionalists camped near San Ignacio, found no signs of the Constitutionalists when they reached the town, the entire camp having departed for Matamoros some time before the arrival of the federals.

FIND LOST SUBMARINE 33 FATHOMS DOWN

Eleven Men Are Undoubtedly Dead In A-7.

Plymouth, Jan. 22.—The lost submarine A-7 was found in Whitsand bay in thirty-three fathoms of water.

The A-7, with two officers and nine men aboard, was lost during naval maneuvers on Friday last. It was thought for a time that the craft had sunk in the quicksand. A naval hydroaeroplane was ordered here from Sheerness to join in the search for the missing vessel.

The admiralty officers declined to make any statement concerning the finding of the A-7 and as far as possible stopped all leaks whereby details might be learned. Although no official word was forthcoming, it was reasonable to suppose that all the officers and men on the submarine were long since dead.

The destroyer Earnest found the A-7 through the efforts of a diver. The Earnest and the destroyer Zeal immediately were ordered to stand by the place overnight and allow no craft to approach.

It was near 6 o'clock when the Earnest, which had been assisting in the search for the A 7 since last Saturday, the day after the disappearance, signaled that she had found something. The Zeal, also engaged in dragging Whitsand bay, at once hurried over to the Earnest.

The word went around that the missing submarine, the supposed tomb of eleven British sailors, had been found. At once the docks and waterfront buildings were crowded with people and craft of all kind, some of them bearing relatives and friends of the lost men, hurried in the direction of the Earnest.

Naval officers, however, signaled them back and announced that under no circumstances would any vessel except the Earnest and the Zeal be allowed to approach the spot beneath which the A-7 was supposed to lie.

$15,000,000 OFFER TO FIGHT CANCER

Flannery Tells House of Radium Cure Scheme.

PLAN TWENTY INSTITUTES

Pioneer Producer of Rare Metal Refuses to Reveal Name of Philanthropist—Death of Relative Started the Search by Him, Is Statement.

Washington, Jan. 22.—A rich philanthropist whose identity is withheld for the present is willing to expend $15,000,000 to erect and equip with radium twenty institutes in various sections of the United States for the treatment of cancer victims. This announcement was made by Joseph M. Flannery of Pittsburgh, who appeared before the house committee on mines and mining in opposition to the Lane-Foster bill reserving lands containing radium bearing ore from public entry.

Each institution would have five grams of radium.

He indicated that neither Rockefeller nor Carnegie was the man involved.

Flannery's announcement was made in the course of an appeal that the government not undertake to regulate radium extraction. His exact words were:

"There is a philanthropist who has a plan to put up twenty institutions in the centers of population, such as New York, Chicago, Boston and the rest, at a cost of $15,000,000, so that all cancer victims may be treated free of charge. He wants to have five grams of radium for each of those twenty places."

"That's a lot of money," interrupted Representative Austin. "We're from Missouri, and I'll have to be shown."

"That wouldn't be the first time Missourians have been shown real money," the witness retorted. "This offer isn't so remarkable when we consider all that the country's millionaires, such as Carnegie and Rockefeller, have undertaken."

Caused by Relative's Death.

Mr. Flannery, who is president of the Standard Chemical company, pioneer in America's radium business, told the romantic story of his struggle to upbuild it, how he had secured claims and the valuable secret extraction process as the result of a lifetime of earnest effort.

Inspired by the death of a relative from cancer, Flannery declared that he set about to discover a cure for cancer. Experts he sent to Europe returned with the report that radium was an effective remedy. Then with a small plant he started to manufacture the mineral salts.

He found miners in Colorado who were willing to sell for a song their carolite ore filings. The witness said it took 350 or 400 tons of ore to produce a gram of radium. Flannery declared that Colorado has enough radium to supply "the entire world's cancer victims five times over." Two hundred grams he estimated as the amount needed for sufferers in the United States.

"I'd be willing to contract to furnish this amount in five years to the government at a price lower than the government could manufacture it—at a maximum figure of $80,000 a gram," he asserted.

Radium, he declared, was twenty-five times more valuable in other diseases than cancer. It is a positive cure for rheumatism and other painful diseases.

SAVED IN BREECHES BUOY.

Chatham, Mass., Jan. 22.—After high seas had driven back life savers attempting to reach the two masted schooner General Adelbert Ames, wrecked off Monomoy point, Captain Hart and his crew of seven men were rescued by the use of the breeches buoy. The masts were swaying and the vessel threatening to break up momentarily as the thrilling rescues were made.

The schooner was bound from St. John, N. B., to Philadelphia when she struck on Bear shoal. When located by life savers she was about 200 yards off shore. After all attempts to reach the schooner in lifeboats had failed the beach gun was mounted on a hill opposite the schooner and a line shot to her. Captain Hart was the last man to be brought ashore.

BRADY ESTATE TAX $2,584,000

Inheritance Duty Paid by Traction Magnate's Son In New York.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 22.—A check for $2,584,000 was paid to the state comptroller by Nicholas F. Brady, son of the late Anthony N. Brady, as payment on the estate of his father. This sum represents the inheritance tax on a sum estimated at $70,000,000, which represents approximately the total value of the estate of Mr. Brady.

A discount of 5 per cent was allowed by the state for payment of the inheritance tax within six months of the death of the traction magnate.

$750 Paid For an Old Coin.

London, Jan. 22.—A Roman gold coin with a representation of Diadumenian as the Prince of Youth standing between three military standards fetched $750 at Sotheby's.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Adv.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Y. M. C. A. CENTER FOR LOCAL WORK

Association Has Been a Rendezvous for Many Activities During the Year.

ROOM FOR PROGRESS

Need of New Building Making Itself Felt More Than Ever Before—150 Attended Annual Meeting—Talk On Business Basis.

Men prominent in the commercial and civic affairs of Plainfield who are members of the local Y. M. C. A. gathered in the association auditorium last night, the occasion being the annual banquet and meeting of the Y. M. C. A., the event being another of the yearly successes planned and carried out by the association directors. Previous to the business session 150 diners enjoyed a banquet and informal gathering in the auditorium, during which the various activities of the association work were discussed by those interested.

William D. Murray, president of the Y. M. C. A., acting in the capacity of toastmaster, presented a brief review of the year's work. This showed marked progress in every department of endeavor and statistics presented by him showed the senior department to have a membership of over 400 and the boys' department to have 169 on its roster, a large majority of whom are active in the association work. He commented briefly on the routine of work being conducted in all departments and showed by comparison the remarkable growth and development of the numerous activities. Mr. Murray stated that the association building had become a centre for work along many lines and hundreds of individuals and numerous organizations have taken advantage of the opportunities and conveniences the local building has to offer.

The president of the association outlined the urgent need for a new building which has gradually made itself prominent during the rapid growth in the classified department. He stated that the income derived from the present building is inadequate, the arrangement of the interior does not cope with modern needs and there is a growing need for a transfer of location to some other portion of the city. Mr. Murray stated that the only remedy for these present deficiencies is a new building and while the building campaign was dropped a short time ago, it was only laid aside temporarily and will be taken up again when the directors so decide.

Mr. Murray then introduced Dr. Isaac J. Lansing, of Ridgewood, who delivered the address of the evening on the "Basis of Business," holding the close attention of the throng of women present from start to finish and dealing with his subject from a practical business standpoint, which appealed to the audience there assembled.

Dr. Lansing said in part:

"The government of the United States has its standards for weight and measure and these standards are kept closely guarded in a chamber at the National Capitol. After these models all of our measurements are patterned but the business man who deals with the units of weight and measure has to possess a degree of moral obedience or they will count for naught and the government's careful efforts to preserve them will be worthless. Moral measure is therefore a needed asset to twentieth century commerce and honesty and virtue are the two most important essentials of business today.

"Neighborly care and interest in the welfare of our fellow men is a law of mankind and is as necessary in business as the standards of weight and measure, as man is standardized by his relations with his fellow men. Man is the law of God and he alone governs markets and standards and in order to make the market sure and safe he has to meet God. He alone can make the laws for markets and standardize methods and the man who wants to do business and do it on a legitimate basis must be profound in the religion on which it rests. Being earnest in trade and careless in religion is like building with one hand and tearing down with the other. Some men claim they are too busy to think of religion and cannot find time to attend to their religious obligations but they little know that their business future and success depends on their fidelity to Christ.

"It is equally as important to standardize the man as it is to standardize the yard. Unfair competition in business is driving the honest man to the wall. He is forced to compete against dishonest business rivals and they push him into bankruptcy or retirement.

"We want the standard man to standardize manhood and if this is to be done the business man must pattern his methods after the one and greatest standard of all. Condi-

HOLY CROSS CHURCH KETTLE DRUM SOCIAL

Second in Series of Delightful Events is Thoroughly Enjoyed.

The Kettle Drum Social held in the parish house of the Church of the Holy Cross last night, the second one in the series, proved to be even a greater success than the first one, and there was a large attendance of members and friends of the parish. The affair was arrange by the Women's Guild and vestry, Mrs. J. O. Stevens being the general chairman.

The large kettle, recently presented to the church by Herbert Langford, was placed in a prominent part of the room and those present were given an opportunity to contribute whatever sum they saw fit and in this way a substantial amount was received for the benefit of the church. Mrs. Samuel Townsend had charge of the program, which was unique.

As each person arrived a large card was placed on their back, bearing a name, and everyone but themselves was able to read it. Some were very amusing and there was much merriment as the people went here and there asking "Who are you?" Some of the names on the cards included Caruso, President Wilson, Mother Goose, Little Bo-Peep, Senator James E. Martine, General Villa, who, by the way, was represented by Samuel Townsend. It was noted that President Huerta failed to appear at the gathering.

One of the delightful features was the songs by Mrs. William Townsend, soprano. Included among her selections were several Norwegian songs, and being a native of that country, she sang them in the true spirit, and adding to the interest she gave a brief sketch of each song. George O. Stevens added to the pleasure of the guests by giving several recitations in his inimitable style. Mrs. J. O. Stevens and Mrs. Frank Ball received the guests and refreshments were served under the direction of a committee comprising Mrs. A. M. Abbott, Mrs. Herberf Langford, Mrs. J. W. Coddington and Mrs. Joseph Brandt. Similar affairs will be held on the third Thursday in each month.

CITIZENS MASS MEETING ON WHOLESALE LICENSES

Under the auspices of the Federation of Men's Church Clubs and Federation of Men's Bible Classes a mass meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A., tonight, for the purpose of getting a fair expression of opinion as to whether it is advisable for the Common Council to grant any additional wholesale liquor licenses in this city. The Council has already decided not to grant any new retail liquor licenses, but no decision has been reached as to wholesale licenses. There are now five new wholesale applicants before the Council.

Those who have arranged tonight's meeting are especially anxious that everyone interested shall have full opportunity to express an opinion either for or against the granting of additional wholesale licenses, and those who may be in favor will be given an equal chance with the opponents to give their views on the subject.

The members of the Common Council have been invited to attend the meeting and it is expected that everyone will be present to get a concensus of opinion on the license question so that they may be guided somewhat by public opinion in their future actions. As president of the Federation of Men's Church Clubs, Walter H. P. Veysey will preside at tonight's meeting, explain the purpose of it and direct the discussion.

Hams, both cured and fresh, are also at their best now, and none better are to be found in Plainfield than those in the big Smalley refrigerating plant. As usual, the "own make" Smalley lard is kept constantly in stock, and it is second to none. —Adv. ***

MOTHERS HEAR TALK ON MODEL SCHOOLS

Feature of Boro Parent-Teacher Association Meeting Held Yesterday.

An address on matters of interest to mothers and their children by Mrs. William M. Sandford, a member of the Board of Managers of the New Jersey Congress of Mothers, featured the regular meeting of the North Plainfield Parent-Teacher Association, held yesterday afternoon in the Somerset School. Mrs. Sandford also told of the system of school buildings now in vogue in Middletown, Conn., where each class room is an "open air" one, modelled after the fashion of the rooms at anti-tuberculosis institutions. After highly praising the action of the School Board of that city in making possible this improvement, Mrs. Sandford gave a statistical account of the good the plan has accomplished.

The "Parent-Teacher Banner" was awarded to the 2-A class, of which Miss Edith Deers is the teacher. This banner is an emblem indicating that the mothers of pupils in that class attended the meetings of the association in largest numbers. The balance of the meeting was spent in a business session, during which the reports from the various committees were received and approved.

No discussion took place as to any attempt to be made by the association to have a woman appointed on the Borough Board of Education next March, although several members have said that they personally would like to see such an appointment made.

THIRTY EMPLOYES ENJOYED FIRST ANNUAL GATHERING

The baking of bread, cake and pastry was forgotten last night by over thirty employes of the Zeek Baking Co., who enjoyed their first annual banquet at 629 South avenue. It proved to be an inspiring testimonial to the harmony and co-operation with which the men perform their daily duties for the concern, which bakes 10,000 loaves of bread daily. James McKenzie, sales manager, acted as toastmaster.

After the demi tasse had been served at the culmination of a delightful repast, Mr. McKenzie, after making a short speech, presented the members of the firm with a large floral piece in the shape of a horseshoe and which bore the inscription, "Success." Each employe in turn was also presented with a souvenir watch fob.

ARCANUMITES INSTALL AND ENJOY SOCIAL SESSION

Assisted by Grand Guide Robert Barr, the district deputy of the Royal Arcanum, installed the officers-elect of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, last night, in connection with which there was a smoker, refreshments and a social time. While refreshments were being served there were short speeches by the visiting and newly-elected officers. E. A. Marsh, the retiring regent, gave his fellow-members a surprise when he presented six applications for membership as his last act in office, which he said he hoped would prove an incentive to others. The officers follow:

Regent, Robert A. Pruden; vice regent, W. DeWitt Stanford; past regent, Edwin A. Marsh; orator, D. W. Littell, Jr.; secretary, L. V. P. Wilson; collector, Edward T. VanWinkle; treasurer, D. W. Littell; chaplain, Thomas B. Titsworth; guide, J. M. Mackenzie; warden, Abram Devine; sentry, Oliver R. Pearson; trustee, A. I. Littell, Jr.

The new regent then made the following appointments: Organist, Charles J. Anson; auditing committee, R. G. Hudson and W. McD. Corlell; entertainment, R. G. Hudson, C. L. D. Smith, George M. Banks, J. J. Mackenzie, DeWitt Stanford and A. I. Littell, Jr.; membership, E. A. Marsh, J. A. Bremble, DeWitt Stanford, G. P. Vanderhoef, W. H. Headley, John F. Dobson; attendance, Robert A. Pruden, L. V. P. Wilson, George M. Christian, W. S. Lowry and A. I. Littell, Jr.

A CHURCH EVENT.

At a meeting held last night, arrangements were completed for a euchre and dance to be held Friday night, January 30, in Debele's Auditorium, by the united societies of St. Joseph's church. Progressive euchre and five hundred will be played until about 10:30 o'clock, after which dancing will be enjoyed until a late hour. Suitable souvenirs will be given to the contestants.

POLICEWOMAN TELLS OF A SUMMER'S WORK

Mrs. Nannie Melvin, Mother of Recreation Supervisor, Had Unique Position.

Mrs. Nannie Melvin, of Baltimore, who enjoys the distinction of being the only police-woman on the Atlantic Coast in New Jersey, having served in that capacity, last summer, is visiting her daughter, Miss Anna Melvin, who is supervisor of the public recreation work in this city, and yesterday afternoon she was invited to address the members of the W. C. T. U. on the subject of "The Police-woman Movement."

Mrs. Melvin, who has a charming personality, and has always been active in civic affairs, confined her remarks chiefly to her work in Baltimore, where she has been engaged in investigating social conditions, and at the same time she related some of her experiences as a police-woman at Asbury Park, where she was known as "Mother of the Beach."

The speaker said that it was absolutely necessary that a woman should be employed to investigate social conditions whether it be in a large city or a small village and only in that way could the best results be obtained. Mrs. Melvin gave a number of interesting incidents in connection with her work at Baltimore, where she has accomplished so much in the way of bettering social conditions.

Referring to her work last summer at Asbury Park, Mrs. Melvin said that she was appointed a police-woman by the Mayor, given a regular badge, which was "No. 12," and both the Mayor and the police chief gave her a free rein in adopting her own standard of proper conduct along the beach front. She said that she did not find it necessary to make a single arrest. Whenever she saw people acting in a way that she did not consider proper she would walk up to them and quietly remark, "I would not do that," and in every case she was treated with respect and her suggestion proved effective.

"I thoroughly enjoyed the work," said Mrs. Melvin, "and I hope to take the same position next summer if the Mayor will appoint me. In my work I received the hearty support of the Civic Department of the Women's Club of Asbury Park, through whose influence the appointment was made. I certainly felt very proud of the honor conferred upon me by the Asbury Park authorities and deeply regretted the day when I had to turn my badge in to the police chief. I hope that I may be able to get the same badge next summer."

Mrs. Melvin expects to remain with her daughter for the present at least. Miss Melvin has been considerably handicapped in her work through a sprained ankle, but it is now much improved and she hopes to be able to get about as before within a short time.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL FOSTER NEW COUNTY IDEA

A special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held in the new quarters in the Babcock building last night, the principal business being a discussion of the proposed plan for a new county and the following committee was appointed to take definite action on the proposition: Newton B. Smalley, W. S. Angleman, Joseph Osborne, Henry McMenimen and Charles Hand. This committee will probably meet Monday night for the purpose of organization.

It is the intention of the Chamber to foster the idea and to formulate definite plans for the bringing about of the proposition.

ENDEAVORERS ELECT AND ENJOY SOCIAL EVENING

Officers were elected and a social and entertainment enjoyed at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Netherwood Reformed church, last night. There were about fifty young people present. During a short business meeting these officers were chosen: President, Everett Marsh; vice-president, Miss Ella Adams; secretary, Horace Adams.

During the evening there was an informal program, piano selections being given by Miss Mary Cooper. Coffee and cake were served following the entertainment. The committee in charge of the affair comprised Miss Ida Apgar, Miss Ella Adams, Miss Edith Adams and Miss Ethel Adams.

FIRE WARDEN INSPECTION.

William Lindsey, division fire warden, of the State, having charge of ten northern counties, made an official visit in the vicinity of Warrenville, today. This trip by Mr. Lindsey is part of his annual inspection of conditions throughout his territory.

JUNIOR MUSICIANS ENTERTAINED MANY

Audience Filled the Auditorium of the Washington School Last Night.

Members of the Junior Municipal Orchestra gave the second of their public concerts in the auditorium of the Washington School, last night, a large gathering of friends and relatives of the juvenile musicians attending the affair, which was a pronounced success in every way. A feature of the event was the presence of a number of small children, a portion of the auditorium being reserved for the younger members of the recreation work and much enthusiasm was manifested from this quarter of the auditorium over the rendition of special numbers.

The affair was attended by about 250 persons and the orchestra was made up of twenty-two players who played various instruments. Especially prominent among the numbers was the "Cathedral Chimes," a piece which is an imitation of the Trinity chimes in New York city and this met with great favor when presented.

The program was as follows:

Part I—March, Playmates; overture Titania; reverie, Apple Blossoms; cornet solo, from Samson et Delilah, played by Alfred Korff; vocal solo, Mr. Hubach; Spanish serenade, Anita. Part II—Medley of Irish airs; Romance, orchestra; vocal solo, Mr. Hubach; trombone solo, selected; The Cathedral Chimes (an imitation of Trinity chimes with orchestra); march, Prince Imperial.

MR. AND MRS. M'KELVEY GREET THE CONGREGATION

The monthly "at home" held at Warren Chapel, last night, under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. Joseph O. McKelvey, was a delightful occasion, being attended by more than one hundred members and friends of the chapel. During the early part of the evening Mr. and Mrs. McKelvey received the guests and there was a happy exchange of good wishes.

The program of the evening was quite informal, including violin selections by Dyckman Winckler, who gave among others, one by Victor Herbert, accompanied by Mrs. J. O. McKelvey. Miss Anna Martin also entertained by giving a number of humorous recitations and there were bass solos by John Richards. The social features were then continued during which refreshments were served by the social committee of which Mrs. John Higgins is chairman.

FIND NO TRACE OF THIEF WHO LOOTED HIRSCH SAFE

Detective Sergeant John J. Flynn who is endeavoring to apprehend the burglar who stole $3,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry from the home of Syman Hirsch, a tailor, on Watchung avenue, Wednesday night, has not found a trace of the criminal, as yet. The daring of the burglars in dragging the safe from near a window to another room, turning it upside down and crow-barring their way into the inside, has caused considerable comment in the city, and it is probable that private detectives will be hired to run down the miscreants.

Mr. Hirsch said today that he will be unable to compile an accurate list of the stolen goods which consisted largely of jewelry belonging to his wife. The large crow-bar used by the men in prying loose the bottom of the safe was evidently made purposely for the "job," as the color of the metal shows that it had been but recently welded, and the police are endeavoring to locate the blacksmith who made the instrument. It is an unusual affair, having a joint in the middle, making it possible to fold it so that it could easily be placed in a small suit case. At the same time it can be made rigid by the insertion of bolts at the joints.

FRIENDS GAVE SURPRISE PARTY FOR CHAS. ALLEGAR

As a testimonial for his services as a member of the Commuter's Five, a local basketball team, Charles Allegar, of Elm street, was given a surprise last night at his home. About forty friends of the young man walked into his home about 8 o'clock as he was about to leave on an evening's visit.

The evening was spent playing games and dancing and a delightful repast, which had been secretly prepared, was served at midnight. The table decorations consisted of a color scheme of blue and gold. The event was arranged by Burt Mason and other members of the court quintet.

PROTEST AGAINST RAJOTTE BRICKYARD

Seven-eighths of Property Owners Appeal to Various Authorities.

Through their counsel, William B. Lundie, of North Plainfield township, property owners of about seven-eighths of the land in the vicinity of Albert Rajotte's brick plant, have sent petitions to State and county officials and to the local Boards of Health, asking that the brick manufacturer be prevented from making any further excavations of land on his property. They claim that by digging on the land to obtain clay for the manufacture of the building material, the waters of Green brook are made to spread, forming stagnant pools with no outlets, that make breeding places for mosquitoes and other insects and is in other ways a detriment to the health and welfare of the community.

The property where the alleged nuisance is being committed is situated along the border of Dunellen and Green brook, Middlesex county; North Plainfield township, Somerset county, and this city. The petition citing the alleged nuisances has been sent to the Board of Trade, other civic bodies, councils and Boards of Health of each community affected; to the Board of Freeholders of the three counties and to the State Board of Health and Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission. Those owning the alleged affected land in this city are Frank Marianchek, Walter R. H. Hardingham, James C. Manning, Francis G. Crawford, Joseph G. Pierson, D. T. Heaume, E. A. and S. R. Craig, D. F. Stites, N. Harris, James Craig, C. W. and E. E. Milliken, Charles E. Rocap, E. L. Morgan, E. W. Weeks, John A. Shay, H. R. Thain, John R. Roman, E. A. Whitman, Mrs. Minnie Lude and J. N. Dunham.

R. W. Gies, chief inspector of the Mosquito Extermination Commission, in a letter to Attorney Lundie, promises to take action regarding the matter next spring, and adds that last summer no mosquito breeding spots were reported on the Rajotte property. Mr. Lundie in answering volunteered to furnish affidavits to the effect that pools with a green scum on their surface, existed during the warm weather on the Rajotte property and that they found a breeding place for the pests. He also mentions other alleged violations on the Rajotte propert.

PLAINFIELD BOY A NEAR-SUICIDE

Herbert Hoover Changed His Mind After Arriving in Newark Hospital.

TOOK MERCURY TABLET

Tired of Life Victim Swallows Four of the Deadly Pills and Goes For a Walk Shortly After Midnight—Afflicted With Wonderlust.

Declaring that he was about to die, Herbert Hoover, formerly of 504 Madison avenue, this city, left the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Casterline, on 228 Mulberry street, Newark, shortly after midnight Wednesday and twenty minutes later a message arrived at his home notifying his parents that he was in the City Hospital, in that place. Young Hoover, who is just twenty-five years of age, walked into a room where several boarders were playing pinochle shortly after midnight Wednesday, and is alleged to have said: "I'm tired of this world; I just took bichloride of mercury." Nothing more was thought of the announcement as the young man had made several similar threats and the idea was ridiculed until the message was received twenty minutes later and the occupants of Mrs. Casterline's boarding house rushed in confusion to the Newark hospital where they found the would-be suicide in a serious condition.

It was later learned that Hoover walked into Bauerle's saloon at Green and Market streets and pleaded for a glass of milk, stating that he had swallowed four bichloride of mercury tablets the night before. Milk and sugar was supplied to him by the proprietor who in the meantime summoned Patrolman Clark who forced a glass of salt water down the suffering man's throat before an ambulance from the hospital arrived.

He was removed to the institution in a serious condition and his stomach was pumped out in the hope of saving his life. Hoover rallied quickly to the treatment but he was not declared out of danger until this morning when the authorities in the hospital said that he would live.

Realizing the step he had taken Hoover pleaded with the physicians to save his life and his remarkable reserve strength is thought to have enabled him to live, when others in a similar state have died.

While in this city Hoover was well known as a boy, attending the Whittier Grammar School on Madison avenue and working as a delivery clerk in the afternoon for S. S. Scheuer & Company. He was prominent on amateur baseball teams in this section and devoted much of his spare time to athletics. Hoover was afflicted with wanderlust when a boy and he was frequently missing from home for weeks at a time. While a boy in this city he took long trips to nearby towns with other youths. Hoover returned home September 1 and said that he had just completed a hike from New York to San Francisco and back.

CAPTAIN DALY BORNE TO GRAVE BY LATE COMRADES

The funeral services for James H. Daly, a late captain of the fire department, were held in St. Mary's church this morning, Father Daniel F. Hogan officiating. The funeral was largely attended by friends of the late fireman and the floral tributes were large and numerous.

The set pieces included an emblem from the Plainfield Lodge of Elks, another from the Elizabeth Aerie of Eagles and a large one from the firemen of Plainfield in the shape of a captain's shield, bearing the fireman's trumphet and the number of Captain Daly's company.

The pall bearers were Captain George Mehl, Captain George Feiring, Captain William Townley, Captain William Addis, Acting-Captain James Fitzpatrick and Private Martin Connaughton. Chief Doane and other members of the department attended the funeral. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

IN POLICE COURT.

Theodore Mendel, of 965 West Fourth street, and Christian Eskerson, of 222 New street, were arrested in West Front street, last night, charged with being intoxicated and disorderly. As City Judge DeMeza went to Elizabeth this morning to testify in a case being tried in the Common Pleas court, no session of the police court was held and the two prisoners will be arraigned late this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

RADIUM OFFER STILL REMAINS A MYSTERY

Not Made by Frick or Phipps, Is Declared.

Washington, Jan. 23. — With the house mines committee almost solidly against him. President J. M. Flannery of the Standard Chemical company of Pittsburgh, who made the declaration that an "aged millionaire," whose name he was not at liberty to divulge, had a plan to establish twenty radium hospitals for the cure of cancer at a cost of $15,000,000, admitted that his opposition to the radium conservation bill was selfish. Heckled by the committee, Flannery came out flatly with with his admission and a statement that the government ought not to compete with private manufacturers in producing the element.

Several committeemen went squarely on record as ready to vote favorably on the bill and as strictly opposed to any law whereby Flannery or others can "grab" all of Colorado's valuable carnolite lands which bear radium.

Before he testified Flannery authorized the statement that the millionaire philanthropist who, he says, is ready to give $15,000,000 for radium hospitals, is neither Henry Phipps nor Henry C. Frick.

Chairman Foster inserted in the record further details of Flannery's attempt to use the United States consular service as an advertising medium for his radium products. Outside of the committee room Mr. Foster declared that he foresaw vast fortunes for radium pioneers unless the government took a hand in controlling the carnolite lands.

Flannery was the first witness. He acknowledged that he had tried to get Colorado newspapers to start a propaganda against the radium conservation plan.

"I think selfishness is admitted to be part of the game in this life," Flannery flashed back at Representative Foster when the chairman asked sarcastically if Flannery meant that he was seeking to help Colorado rather than himself.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Twenty-seven, yes nearly 28 years of continuous success marks the history of the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels. Time tried and time honored it is an organization that has so strongly entrenched itself in the favor of the amusement public that the bare announcement of its coming insures a capacity attendance. Every year Mr. Field produces a new entertainment. Musically, at least, no similar organization has ever attained the excellence that distinguishes the Field company. Even in the early days before this company attained the popularity now enjoyed, the musical program presented by the Field Minstrels was more meritorious. In the heydey of their pre-eminence, musically, the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels compare favorably with the high-class musical attractions that rely entirely on musical numbers to satisfy their audiences. Combined with gripping comedy and spectacular scenes, a more enjoyable entertainment is rarely offered than that presented by the Field Minstrels. The great show will appear here Wednesday afternoon and evening, January 28.

WONDER DOGS AT PROCTOR'S.

"The Kiddies Delight" is Burton's Dog Circus, in which twenty clever canines perform amazing tricks at Proctor's this week. There are big dogs and little dogs, long dogs and lean dogs, dogs that jump, dogs that box, in fact they do everything. There are the big leaping greyhounds, three in number who leap over hurdles at great heights, there are the two clown dogs who are always annoying their master, there is the ballet girl, the two boxing dogs, who go to it in three rounds. It is some circus and well worth seeing. LeRoy and Cahill, the bonton entertainers in novel singing, talking and dancing act, are most excellent. They have special scenery, which adds materially to the act, they have good music and a great line of talk. Ivy and Ivy, the comical musicians, had the house in a continual road of hearty laughter by their funny actions and the tangle talk. Jennings, Jewell and Barlow, "The Dope, the Dutchman and the Girl," is somewhat out of the ordinary line of skits. The "Dope" is played in a most effectively and realistic manner. The girl is a good singer and a graceful dancer. The Reeves Sisters in a refined singing and piano act went strong. They both possess excellent voices and rendered a popular and semi-classical program. Tom Kuma, the Japanese lightning ring artist, is a wonder. Photo plays are changed every day, and only the best subjects are shown.

DECISION PREVENTS SUNDAY "MOVIES" IN LONG BRANCH

Trenton, Jan. 23.—For the second time Vice-Chancellor Backles refused yesterday to grant a preliminary injunction restraining the police of Long Branch from interfering with moving picture shows Sunday nights at the Broadway Theatre.

Upon the application for the preliminary injunction the complainant, Walter Rosenberg, asked only that the police be restrained from reading the riot act on removing the audience from the theatre.

The theory of this application was that even though the police might lawfully close the place, they had no right to read the riot act when there was in fact no riot.

"The statement carried with it its refutation," said the vice-chancellor, in disposing of this point. "If, in the enforcement of the law, the police, without warrant in fact, employed an inappropriate measure, it was clearly incidental to a lawful act, and no harm was done to the complainant, of which he had complained."

Continuing, the vice-chancellor held that moving pictures and the accompanying music come within the meaning of the vice and immorality act which prohibits "worldly employment or business, interludes and plays, fiddling or other amusements for the sake of merriment on Sunday."

To grant the relief asked for by Mr. Rosenberg would assist him in carrying on an unlawful business, according to the view expressed by the court in dismissing the application.

The departure of the cook or maid does not prostrate the lady who knows the efficiency of Press want ads.

And want ad-reading servants are of the desirable class.

WILL PRINCE OF WALES WED PRINCESS TATIANA OF RUSSIA?

The Prince of Wales in Coronation Robes.

PRINCESSES OLGA AND TATIANA ELDEST DAUGHTERS OF THE CZAR.

The Prince of Wales, heir to the throne of Great Britain has fallen in love with the Princess Tatiana according to reports in court circles.

Gossip has it that the young son of King George has been captivated by the beauty of the Princess, the second daughter of the Tsar, and regarded as one of the most beautiful girls in Europe.

It is known that King George and Queen Mary will visit St. Petersburg next Easter, and that the Prince will accompany them. The engagement, according to the reports, will be announced at that time.

Diplomats are certain that such a alliance would vastly strengthen the Anglo Russian entente, none [illegible] other country at the present time.

ACTORS' UNION HAS NOW BEEN FORMED

New York, Jan. 23.—In the not far distant future Uncle Tom, Simon Legree, Marks the Lawyer and the rest of the "U. T." players may go out on strike because the bloodhounds do not belong to the union. For the actors have a union—a full-fledged, simon pure protective labor organization fit to stand side by side with the latest model of International Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers' Union of America or the International Association of Heat and Frost Insulators and Asbestos Workers.

The actor folk have long felt the need of a protective organization to aid them in securing higher salaries and the more regular payment thereof and better working conditions in general. An organization of vaudeville performers flourished for some years, but the Actors' Equity Association, which has just been given birth, is the first regular union formed by the so-called legitimate players.

Officers of the new organization have been duly elected and a membership campaign is in full swing. Before long it is expected that every actor in America will carry a union card in the inside pocket of his fur-collared coat. The union will have regular organizers, but they will not be known as walking delegates. Many of the actors object to the term of walking delegate because it is too suggestive.

Just to show that they knew the raison d'etre of a labor organization the first act of the organized Thespians was to appoint a wage committee to confer with the managers.

The "joint scale conference" was held today at the offices of the managers' association and was voted a success by all parties concerned. The committee of the Actors' Equity Association presented the players' demands and the same were respectfully taken under consideration by the managers. In case of a failure to reach a satisfactory agreement the matter may be left to the settlement of a board of arbitration composed of one actress, one manager and one press agent.

The income tax, the high cost of living and the "movies" have hit the actors hard and they must receive compensation in the way of boosted salaries. They must also be guaranteed transportation back to New York when the company hits the rocks in some one-night stand in the far West. A limit on the period of free rehearsals, elimination of extra performances without pay and an adjustment in regard to the cost of women's gowns are also included in the demands of the actors' union.

The managers must comply with the demands or face the alternative of a general strike. So says Francis Wilson, the president of the union. Mr. Wilson, by the way, has taken pains to deny that he was elected head of the organization simply because the members thought that "President Wilson" would sound good.

In his direction of the affairs of the union Mr. Wilson will be assisted by Vice-President Henry Miller and an executive council composed of Wilton Lackaye, Robert Edeson, George Arliss and Holbrook Blinn. Prominent among the members of the women's auxiliary are Ethel Barrymore, Elsie Ferguson, Janet Beecher and Christie Macdonald.

CENTER FOR LOCAL WORK

[illegible] exist in this country today that fairly reek with dishonesty and are a disgrace to the nation. The prison in Sing Sing is worse than the dungeons of 400 years ago, which have been depicted so vividly in history, and the jail in Paterson is a 'hell on earth.' Ten liquor licenses in a town are ten too many and it behooves you to join with those who will protest against the issuance of further licenses in the meeting tomorrow night. It would be a great thing accomplished if we were to get rid of these evils in the United States for they are the cause of physical blindness and it is up to the man of today to produce light. The standardized man is the one who will do this and assist those who have been bruised to take a fresh start. Help your fellow men, that is business."

A board of directors composed of the following members was elected to serve during the coming year: Ernest R. Ackerman, Samuel Bingaman, Joseph W. Gavett, Frank J. Hubbard and C. W. Spicer, to succeed themselves, and F. O. Dunning as a new member.

DECIDE TO FORM HOUSEWIVES' LEAGUE

Plans Being Made to Hold Public Meeting in the Near Future.

The plan to form a branch of the Housewives' League in this city was enthusiastically discussed at a preliminary meeting held for that purpose at the home of Mrs. J. Kirtland Meyers on East Seventh street, yesterday afternoon, and it was finally decided to form such a branch. There were about fifty women present and all showed themselves to be strongly in favor of forming a branch of the national association. Mrs. Meyers was the temporary chairman and she was empowered to name a nomination committee to present a list of officers to be voted upon later.

The women decided to arrange for a large meeting to be held within the next two weeks, when it is hoped to have present some of the State officers who will more fully explain the objects and purposes of the league. The women in charge of the preliminary organization are especially anxious that the widest publicity be given to the local movement and due notice will be given of the next meeting.

In a general way, the purpose of the league is to insure a sale of pure foodstuffs under proper sanitary conditions and to obtain full weight, and the merchants who comply with the requirements of the league are given a card for display in their store indicating that the proprietor deals in pure foodstuffs, handled under sanitary conditions and gives full weight. Judging by the result of yesterday's meeting the branch of the league to be formed here will be a success.

ATTEND TONIGHT'S MEETING.

The meeting to discuss the liquor license question, called by the Federation of Men's Clubs and Federation of Men's Bible Classes, to be held tonight at the Young Men's Christian Association building, should attract every man who is interested in the civic welfare of Plainfield. It is indisputable that the large majority of the people of this city are opposed to any more retail licenses being granted, and the members of the Common Council recognized that fact when they voted to not even consider any applicants for that class of license. On the wholesale question, however, there is an entirely different feeling among a great many men who are opposed to more retail places; but we doubt whether any of them will have the nerve or disposition to make their feelings known at tonight's gathering.

Those who favor another wholesale place feel that under the present conditions that branch of the liquor trade is conducted in what is practically a monopolistic manner. As Councilman Calkins, whose position on the subject is too well known to require comment, has said, there is a great question in the minds of many as to whether or not another wholesale license should be granted, and the members of the Common Council want to try to find out how the sentiment really stands on that subject. Tonight's meeting should settle the matter once for all, as the retail question was settled by a similar meeting last year.

MR. DUTCHER'S WORK.

William Dutcher received a well deserved honor on Wednesday, when the medal of honor of the Camp-Fire Club of America, which has only been bestowed upon five men, was presented to him. But it is not only for his work in connection with the Audubon Society that he deserves praise. He was one of those who were largely instrumental in getting through the New Jersey Legislature the law which made it possible for Union county to erect the Bonnie Burn Sanitorium for Tubercular Diseases, and he gave liberally of his time to that worthy legislation. All who were at Trenton during the days occupied by the passage of that act recall his untiring zeal, and persistent pleading for its being made into law. There was no hour of the day or night that he was not seen at the capital, if it was necessary to further the bill in which he was so interested. He followed its passage, pleading the cause of those afflicted with the "white plague," and whose cases were too far advanced to enter the State Institution, finally having the pleasure of seeing the act become a law. It has proven a boon to the afflicted not only in Union county, but all over the State. His enforced retirement, at least temporarily, from active life has deprived the State and Nation of one of those workers in the ranks whose place it will be hard to fill, and hundreds hope to see him restored to health, that he may again take up the reins in the many good causes in which he is interested.

From Elizabeth comes the report that the political gossips are beginning to talk about candidates for Congressman at the election next fall, and that "in some quarters Congressman William E. Tuttle's handling of patronage has not been entirely to the satisfaction of some voters." Perhaps Mr. Tuttle has not pleased the practical politicians, but his work in securing fit men for office has been generally satisfactory to the average man that one meets on the street, and he could win the Democratic nomination from any of the men who have been mentioned as possible candidates, without making a campaign. Congressman Tuttle comes about as near being a real representative" as anyone who has been sent from the Fifth district since long before the day of Charles Newell Fowler.

John F. Zerega's declination of a $1,200 post in the income tax service of the government is not surprising. Mr. Zerega is entirely too capable a man to be expected to give up everything else, and devote himself to a job with a picayune salary, such as this. As Senator Martine says, trained men are needed for this work, and to get the right kind of men to serve for $1,200 a year is no easy task. There are plenty of politicians and incompetents who would be glad to take the place, but mighty few of the character and ability of Mr. Zerega are to be found in this part of the country, even in these hard times.

The Republicans are said to be thinking of former Senator Ernest R. Ackerman as their candidate for Congress this fall. If he should be chosen we know of no better plan than for the Progressives to endorse him, for his record while in the State Senate was one of which any man might well be proud. It begins to look as if some of the leaders in the Republican party were going to display unusual common sense this year.

Mayor Stewart's timely warning that more police are needed, and needed in a hurry, is receiving ample confirmation in the burglaries, large and small, which are occurring nearly every night in Plainfield. The force cannot be increased too soon, and Chief Kiely is to be congratulated on the excellent work which he is doing with the few men at his command.

In the list of recipients of Carnegie hero medals awarded this week, we fail to note the name of Edward Jasper Stokes, for his valiant efforts to save the Republican party in New Jersey last fall.

Former Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, Plainfield's greatest globe trotter, will be the writer of the contributed editorial in the Daily Press tomorrow.

Somerville seems to be getting a generous amount of front page space on account of the decidedly mysterious Ellis case.

NEWTON SPENCER HOST OF BOROUGH FRATERNITY

Newton Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Spencer, of Lincoln place, entertained his fellow members of the Phi Pi Psi, a North Plainfield High School fraternity, at his home, last night. Every member was present and Ashley Burner presided at a short business meeting. Among other things, Roy Love presented his resignation as treasurer of the club to go into effect next week. After the meeting a general social time was enjoyed, the features being a violin solo by the host and piano selections by Charles Beckman. At the next monthly meeting the election of officers will take place. Those who were present last night were Newton Spencer, Ralph Smalley, Duclos Van Mater, Ashley Burner, Roy Love, Charles Beckman, Franklin Lowe and Frank Dunning.

Joseph Chamberlain Closes His Career In Political Life

JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN has announced his intention of retiring from parliament at the next general election so that his followers in Birmingham may elect a younger man to the Unionist service at Westminster. He has been condemned to the seclusion of an invalid's life for the past eight years and has taken no active participation in affairs. He has left London and gone to the south of France.

Joseph Chamberlain at the outset of his political career was a radical, and he served under the late William Ewart Gladstone in several cabinets as president of the board of trade and president of the local government board. He became a Unionist at the time of the break in the Liberal party over the home rule for Ireland question, and he was secretary of state for the colonies at the time of the Boer war. He is seventy-eight years old, and has been married three times, his third wife, to whom he was married in 1888, being Mary Endicott, only daughter of the late W. C. Endicott, secretary of war during President Cleveland's administration. Mr. Chamberlain was the chief commissioner for the settlement of the North American fisheries dispute in 1887. His career was threefold—commercial, municipal, political—and in his day he rose to very high place in each.

Joseph Chamberlain happened by chance to be born in London, but he was a Birmingham man all through. He went from London, where his father was a wholesale leather and metal merchant, to Birmingham at the age of sixteen, having just left school. There was a firm of screwmakers in Birmingham Nettlefold by name, to whom the elder Chamberlain had given credit for a large amount in the way of metal. The firm had fallen behind in payments and the father sent young Joseph to look into the affairs of the firm and advise.

The son advised his father that the firm was perfectly good, but short of working capital, and further advised his father to take out the debt in a share in the business and continue the credit. The father agreed, and Joseph Chamberlain was launched upon his business career.

He needed only that much introduction to get the chief partner's stool in record time, and soon he made a decision that led to the making of his vast fortune.

One day a workingman walked into his office with a patent to sell. The patent was a screw with a sharp end. Up to that time all screws were blunt nosed. The man had hawked it about to all the other manufacturers, and they had all refused to buy it. Some one finally told him Joseph Chamberlain was a pushful, progressive man and advised that the patent be shown him.

In a flash Joseph Chamberlain saw the chance all his rivals had refused to take, and he purchased the patent at the man's own price, $500.

That decision delivered the whole trade in screw making into his hands. He bought or smashed every other screw making business in the country. If the firm would sell he bought; if they would not he swamped their market until they gave up in despair.

Chamberlain was now in his late twenties, and later, when he retired from the firm, he took as his share of the business $3,000,000, which, together with what he had saved, allowed him, he said, "enough to live upon."

But during the years he was establishing himself he devoted himself to municipal politics. He became the chief power in Birmingham, and in the eighties, when a deputation from the United States studying municipal government visited that city, they described it as "the best governed city in the world."

From municipal politics he entered national politics at the age of thirty-seven and soon became a national figure. His chief characteristics were his courage as an opponent and his loyalty as a friend.

He told of the most approved system of caring for those suffering with broken limbs and from bullet wounds and described the scenes of the battlefield. Mr. Brodziak's talk proved highly interesting to those present and he responded to an invitation to give another talk at the next meeting.

PLAINFIELD SCHOOL MAY ENTER LEAGUE

Plan to Reorganize Union Co. Organization and Add Locals and Westfield.

A movement has been launched to bring about a reorganization of the Union County Athletic League and efforts have been made by those at the helm to interest the High Schools of Plainfield and Westfield, two institutions that have heretofore refused invitations to join the league. In the even of these schools enlisting in the work it is probable that a flourishing league will be formed and every branch of sport promoted, not only during the school year, but in the summer recess as well.

The Union county league has been barely existing during the past year with Rahway, Cranford, Battin and Roselle High Schools in the circuit. If the officers have come to the conclusion that Plainfield and Westfield are needed to make the project a success and unless these schools can be interested and tempted to join, the league idea will probably be dropped.

Football, baseball, hockey and basketball will be the leading sports promoted by the organization and a championship schedule will be drawn up in each of these major sports to decide the title each year.

LEALS VS. N. P. H. S. IN LEAGUE MATCH

Interesting Battle Will Be Waged on Somerset Street Court Tonight.

Interscholastic League hostilities for the male basketball quintets will be resumed on the Saengerbund Hall court tonight, when the North Plainfield High School and Leal School aggregations face each other for the first time this season in connection with the league schedule.

Both teams have been putting in extra sessions of practicing this week and are in fine fettle for the big match. While North Plainfield is decidedly the favorite in games played on the Somerset street court, the private school youths will without doubt make them hustle to pile up any kind of an advantage tonight.

The teams will face each other with the following players:

LEAL SCHOOL.		N. P. H. S.
Stewart	forward	Van Mater
Dickerson	forward	Love
Koom	centre	Dunning
Schneider	guard	Abrams
Harrington	guard	Burner

COMBINATION FIVE WILL PLAY HOPE CHAPEL BOYS

The Combination five, of Newark, will visit Plainfield tomorrow night to lineup against the Hope Chapel basketball quintet on the latter's floor here. Blick and Wurth will look after the forward positions for the visiting five with Ford in reserve. The guarding department of the Newarkers has been strengthened for this contest but the rival manager has not announced his new men as yet.

It is likely that Hope Chapel will have its regular lineup back into the fray tomorrow night with the exception of Snyder, who will play with P. H. S. on the Y. M. C. A. court.

ANOTHER POSTPONEMENT IN N. P. H. S. INTERCLASS LEAGUE

The North Plainfield High School freshman girls' basketball team will meet the Stillman Grammar School girls in Saengerbund Hall tomorrow afternoon. This is the second game of the year for the boroughites and they expect to make this a victory.

For the third time in two weeks the championship game between the Juniors and Sophomores was postponed unti next Tuesday, because the boys' and girls' first teams used the floor in preparation for today's games.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW.

As in previous years the main exhibition will be held in the Coliseum, with the Coliseum annex and the First Regiment army used to accommodate the overflow exhibits. Every available foot of space in the three buildings is filled with the display of motor cars representing all of the leading American and foreign makes, or with exhibits of accessories and automobile parts.

TOOK BAD START BUT CAPTURED A SERIES

Brandywine Bowlers Tripped up Their Rivals After a Poor Start.

Brandywine bowlers took two out of three from their Gettysburg rivals rolling in the Columbus Club League schedule on the club alleys last night, hanging up some good scores in the second and third encounters after a bad start in the initial match. Good pinning on the part of George Taylor who set up a mark of 201 in the first game brought down a victory for the Gettysburg quintet and although he boosted his mark to 206 in the second his teammates fell down and a 238 by McInerney gave the Brandywine bowlers the second argument by twenty-four pins.

The rubber game was featured by McInerney's pinning and the consistent work of Kyle, Strappe and Pasch who upheld the fighting end for their respective teams. McInerney's 238 was high score for the series.

Following the games a social time was enjoyed during which refreshments were served. The growing interest in this league has made itself prominent during the last few games and last night both aggregations had a large band of rooters on hand to root from the sidelines.

The scores:

Relics of Savagery.

Many marriage customs observed at the present time are relics of the time when women were simply the chattels or slaves of their husbands. The wedding ring is but a substitute for the chain or fetter or perhaps the metal badge of the female slave of the past. Then there is the custom of throwing an old shoe. In ancient times a ruler would signify his dominion over a place by casting his shoe across it or over a serf by touching the serf's head with his shoe. The casting of a shoe therefore signifies the transfer of authority over the woman to the bridegroom. In the "good old days" a man who wanted a wife sometimes went with a companion to a neighboring tribe and carried a girl off by force. It was then necessary for him to take a hurried journey to escape the vengeance of the pursuing friends of the girl. So today the bridegroom has a comrade in the shape of his best man, and his honeymoon trip commemorates the flight from the wife's friends.

Oddities of Color Blindness.

Color blindness, or the inability to distinguish certain colors, is by no means rare. Incomplete color blindness is when a person cannot distinguish one of the fundamental colors, red, green or violet. If a person is told to select colors resembling violet, he will if red blind usually select blues as well as violets. If he is green blind, he will select green or gray, with possibly some blues and violets of the brightest shades. Violet blindness is rare. To a red blind person the American flag appears to have green and white stripes, while the white stars appear on a violet field. To a green blind person the stripes have the proper colors, but the field for the stars is red violet. To a violet blind person the stripes are normal, but the stars appear to be set in a dark brownish gray field. To a person who is totally color blind the blue of the flag appears a light yellowish brown, while the red stripes seem to be a darker brown.

Saved by a Photograph.

A passenger on board one of the large liners took a photograph of the harbor. It included a small yacht which had sailed in the morning with two men in her, but returned in the evening with one only. The survivor said his companion had fallen overboard, but his statement was not believed. He was tried and sentenced to death. The matter had by this time come to the ears of the photographer, who remembered that the picture had been taken on the day of the "crime" (or accident) and that the scene embraced a yacht. On examining the print more carefully he noticed a small speck on the sail and in order to determine what it was had an enlargement made. It proved to be the figure of a man falling. It was shown to the authorities at once, and the condemned man was released.

THE PARIS STORE

NOTES FROM LABOR FIELD

Detroit is to have a $100,000 labor temple.

Bavaria plans a system of unemployment insurance.

Boston Typographical Union has declared in favor of Government ownership of the telegraph and telephone.

The Belgian chamber of deputies has passed a bill granting a pension of 360 francs a year for miners 55 years of age, who have worked in a mine.

Sir Charles Louis, Bart., who has been appointed treasurer of the British National Union of Masters and Mates, is thought to be the first baronet to be connected with a labor union.

The New England District Council of Electrical Workers' Unions has undertaken a campaign for the immediate organization of employes of every electric light and power company in New England.

In 61.7 per cent. of the cases of women factory workers in the State of Washington, investigated by the Industrial Welfare Commission, the wage was less than $9 a week. The average was kept up by the pay of employes of fish canneries, who are permitted to work more than eight hours a day.

Tailors' union, No. 89, of Minneapolis, is one of the oldest labor unions in the Northwest. It was first organized forty-one years ago and has ever since been an important factor in all organized labor movements in Minneapolis.

If a measure just introduced in the New York State Senate is enacted it will become unlawful for any grocery store employe in the first-class cities to be permitted to work more than 70 hours a week or more than 11 hours a day except Saturday, on which day he may work 15 hours in order to eliminate work on Sunday.

One of the largest single orders of groceries on record was given a Chicago wholesale firm recently by the Western Federation of Miners. The order was for $60,000 worth of staple groceries to be distributed among the families of the striking copper miners in the Calumet region.

Boston Telephone Operators' Union has received official notice from President McNult, of the American Federation of Labor Electrical Workers' Union, that it has been granted Charter, No. 1, of the new women's branch of the international organization.

In Texas the State industrial accident board has held that street railway companies do not come within the purview of the Texas workmen's compensation act; that they are exempt from the clauses which provide that common carriers are not subject to the new law, thus making all steam and electric roads exempt.

Records for membership were broken in the United Mine Workers' organization during 1913, according to the reports of the international officers. The paid up membership on December 31, as announced, was 415,142. The previous record, at the end of August, 1913, was 409,158 members. The paid up members on December 31, 1912, was numbered 386,965.

An appeal to the members of every local union of organized labor in Canada has been issued by the British Columbia Miners' Liberation League, asking that on January 30 a 48-hour "holiday" be inauguratede as a gigantic protest against imprisonment of the 39 miners new in jail, at New Westminster in connection with the recent big strike on Vancouver Island.

THE DAILY PRESS IN SOMERVILLE will be found on sale or delivered to any address every afternoon after 4:30 by Jacob Gernert, the Main street newsdealer and stationer.

TOO MANY CHILDREN, TOWN MUST NOW PAY FOR SCHOOL

Roebling, Jan. 23.—A too consistent maintenance of the record for births, established a few years ago, has caused the John A. Roebling's Sons Company to give up the maintenance of the town school. The company announced Wednesday at the Board of Education of Florence township that it would have to look out for the tutelage of Roebling's juvenile population.

When the company established Roebling as a model town it undertook to educate all the children, but the population has grown too rapidly.

ASSEMBLY DISTRICT BILL ARRANGEMENT

How Union County Would Be Divided in Event of Its Passage.

Trenton, Jan. 23. The McGinnis primary election Assembly district bill divides Union county into three districts for the nomination of candidates for the House of Assembly. It cannot affect the general election in November, because the election of members of Assembly by districts was declared unconstitutional by the courts several years ago, hence it will require an amendment to the Constitution to bring about this reform. Senator McGinnis, in his measures, provides for the nomination of Assembly candidates at the primary election by districts in every county which has more than one member of the Assembly. This will prevent all the Assemblymen in a county from coming from the same section, even though they be elected by the county at large in November. The districts provided by the bill in Union county are as follows:

First District—Springfield township, Union township, the first, second, third, fourth and fifth wards of the city of Elizabeth; the first and second election districts of the eleventh ward and the third and fourth election districts of the twelfth ward of said city.

Second District—The borough of Kenilworth, the borough of Roselle Park, the township of Clark, the city of Rahway, Roselle borough, Linden borough, Linden township, the sixth ward of the said city of Elizabeth; the third and fourth election districts of the seventh ward of said city, the ninth and tenth wards of said city, the third and fourth election districts of the twelfth ward of said city.

Third District—The city of Plainfield, Fanwood township, Fanwood borough, New Providence township, New Providence borough, the town of Westfield, Cranford township, Garwood borough, Mountainside borough and city of Summit.

A few cents for a Press want ad and some one who needs the very article that lies rotting in your garret will call and pay you for it.

You are better off—new owner is pleased—and the article itself is contributing to the reduction of the high cost of living.
